PREFACE TO FIRST EDITION.

THE object of this Manual is to exhibit the extant orders of the Local Government, classified under the several departments into which the proceedings of the Government are divided. The subjects in each department are arranged in alphabetical order, and a general index, irrespective of departments, is given at the end. Orders and notifications of the Government of India and departmental orders are printed in small type; but, as a rule, circulars and instructions issued by heads of departments subordinate to the Local Government, or by the High Court, have been omitted. The Board of Revenue's circulars, the Excise Manual, and the circulars of the Commissioners of Excise and Stamps should be consulted in all matters relating to land revenue, inland customs and excise, registration and stamps. In the Jail Manual and the revised edition of police circulars the departmental orders relating to prisons and to police will be found. The several Codes of the Financial Department, the Treasury Manual, and circulars of the Comptroller-General and Accountant-General must be referred to in all matters of pensions, leave, treasury work, travelling allowances, &c. These subjects do not properly come within the scope of this compilation, although some of the more useful orders are given.

As this is the first attempt yet made to bring together the orders of Government, omissions and mistakes are inevitable, and the arrangement might probably be improved. Officers are requested to communicate all corrections or suggestions they may have to make to the Assistant Secretary to Government in charge of the Allahabad office.

The Manual has been brought as nearly as possible up to the 1st April. A few additional circulars will be found in volume II.

T. W. HOLDERNESS,

The 30th April 1878.

PREFACE TO SECOND EDITION.

IN this edition the arrangement of the orders is in the main the same as that adopted in the first edition. Obsolete orders have been omitted and recent ones added, and the collection corrected up to 31st December 1881. A slight change has been made in the method of binding, and guard-slips have been left between the orders in each department. In future, orders issued during any quarter will be collected and issued in pamphlet form as soon as possible after the close of that quarter. These when received should be broken up, and the collection in each department inserted on the guard-slip immediately following the department in question. Every care has been taken to make this edition as complete as possible, so far as the orders of Government are concerned, but in such a collection omissions and mistakes cannot but have occurred.

Officers detecting such should bring the matter to notice, so that the mistake may be, if necessary, rectified in the succeeding quarterly supplement. All such communications should be addressed to the Assistant Secretary at Allahabad.

This edition was nearly completed before the receipt of the recent orders about deprovincialization, which will necessarily lead to important changes in many branches of the administration and the procedure which in some departments at present obtains. Some time, however, will probably elapse before the full effect of the measure will be realized, and as the greater part of this Manual will not be affected, its issue in its present form has been directed.

F. BAKER,

The 31st January 1882.

PREFACE TO THIRD EDITION.

THE chief alteration in this edition is in the numbering of the departments. The fourteen departments and the subjects dealt with in each have been re-arranged in accordance with their classification in the Secretariat, which is explained at page 7, Department III, of this Manual. Obsolete orders have been omitted, recent ones added, and the collection corrected up to 31st December 1888. It has been found necessary to include orders issued during the last quarter of 1888 in supplements, and guard-slips have been provided as hitherto for the insertion of supplements which may be issued in future.

The lists of rules and notifications having the force of law in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, (Appendices I, II, and III of the previous edition) have been omitted, as the issue of a separate publication containing them has been directed.

ALLAHABAD :
14th February 1889. }

W. H. L. IMPEY,
Under Secy. to Govt.,
N.-W. Provinces and Oudh.

PREFACE TO FOURTH EDITION.

THE chief alteration in this edition is in the numbering of the departments. The numbers have been again rearranged for convenience in the Secretariat, and follow the order described on pages 14-16 of Part III of this Manual. The main reason for issuing a new edition is to remove the great mass of supplementary orders and to insert them in their proper places, as well as to bring the Manual up to date generally. Corrections have been made to the beginning of 1895, and supplementary orders up to June 1896 will be issued as soon as possible.

P. HARRISON,

No. I.—REVENUE AND SCARCITY DEPT.

ADMINISTRATION.

Commissioners of divisions are authorized to remit on their own authority all balances of land revenue accruing on release (by competent authority) of mulsh lands which, having been resumed and assessed, have subsequently been released, giving notice of such action to the Board of Revenue and the Accountant-General. Commissioners are likewise empowered to grant remission of nominal balances caused by sanctioned reduction of the revenue demand; giving due notice, as above, to the Board and the Accounts Department.

Land Revenue. Release regarding—
Resolution No. 1057A,
dated 26th August 1876, (G.O.).

Collectors of districts are required, when passing orders for attachment of estates (on accrual of arrears) under section 154, Act XIX of 1873, to make immediate report to the Commissioner of the division.

Commissioners are authorized to write off on their own authority the extent of 5 per cent. of the rental, the Board of Revenue may direct the arrears to be written off. In all other cases the sanction of Government will be necessary.

In regard to nazul property (the property of Government by confiscation, escheat, or otherwise) the following principles will be observed:—

(1)—Nazul property within municipal limits will remain as hitherto under the supervision of Commissioners, who will submit direct to Government any proposals for the disposal of such property.

(2)—Of nazul property beyond municipal limits, all consolidated landed property (i.e., of land capable of being assessed to land revenue), will in future be placed under the management of the Board of Revenue, through whom all references on the subject will be submitted. Such extra-municipal nazul property will not come under the foregoing (houses, shops, bazars, &c.) but will be dealt with in accordance with the orders in Dept. XII (Miscellaneous).

Irrigation—Stoppage of water-supply.
 Resolution No. 1676A,
 dated 26th September
 1876. (Genl.)

UNDER no circumstances should stoppage of water-supply be resorted to as a punitive measure. Such a measure is virtually prohibited by law, inasmuch as it is not included in any of the cases in which stoppage is directly authorised; but attention cannot be too prominently drawn to its illegality.

The general power of directing stoppage of water-supply is reserved under the Act to divisional canal officers, but it rests with the sub-divisional officer to authorize temporary stoppage in cases of "pressing emergency." When a sub-divisional officer has occasion to act upon this authority, he should at once report the fact to his departmental superior, giving his reasons in full for the action thus taken.

It is understood that the rules above referred to will provide for the service of notice on the parties concerned of any stoppage of water-supply. When the duration of such stoppage extends to a period of ten days or more, the canal officer will forward to the Collector of the district in which stoppage occurred a copy of such notice, with brief résumé of the grounds on which the stoppage was directed. This measure is a very desirable one on many grounds, and if properly carried out it will tend to strengthen the hands of both district and canal officers in the discharge of their respective duties.

Extensions and changes of canal system.
 Resolution No. 1676A,
 dated 20th September
 1876. (Genl.)

UNDER existing practice the civil officers of Government are usually consulted, in connection with proposed extensions and changes of the canal system, in regard to works of greater importance. This principle should be extended so as to bring within the sphere of its operation all irrigation matters in any way affecting the various districts of the province. In this view reference will be made to the civil officers concerned in regard to all questions, large or small, connected with proposed changes in the canal system. Necessary changes in position of, or in distribution from, a village watercourse may be communicated by the Executive Engineer through his Superintending Engineer to the Commissioner of division, but all changes of greater extent and importance should be reported through the Secretary to Government for the opinion of the Board of Revenue and local officers.

Canal officers should bear in mind the great importance of their maintaining a proper understanding and cultivating a proper relationship with the civil officers who represent in the various districts the Executive Government; and district officers must recollect the very responsible position they occupy, and the importance of affording to canal officers on every occasion the benefit of their advice when consulted, and the support of their authority when required.

BREEDING STOCK.

THE following rules have been sanctioned by the Government of India for dealing with applications for breeding stock from the Hissar cattle farm:—

Applications for breeding stock from Hissar cattle farm

No. 1120, dated 21st July 1893.

1.—Officers in charge of districts wishing to have bulls or rams sent to their districts should submit requisitions to the Director of Land Records and Agriculture through the Commissioner of the division before the 1st October each year. The requisitions should show—

- (i) the number of bulls and rams received from the farm remaining in the district;
- (ii) the number and date of those last received,
- (iii) the breed of cattle and sheep preferred in those districts, showing whether the cattle and sheep are large or small;
- (iv) the column of remarks should show the result of the breeding from the Government bulls and rams in the district during the past year, and the name of the person who has been entrusted with the duty of

2.—The Director of Land Records and Agriculture after satisfying himself that the supply of the animals is desirable, and that their use for breeding will be carefully supervised and promoted, will, on receipt of the requisitions from district officers, draw up a consolidated indent for the whole province, for transmission direct to the Commissary-General, Panjáb Command, Rawal Pindi.

No. 1121, dated 21st July 1893.

3.—The requisitions should be submitted early in October, so that the bulls and rams may be despatched from the farm in the cold weather.

4.—Pro forma credits in accounts will be given, viz.,—

				Rs.
For bulls	...	...	...	150 each.
" rams	...	...	...	20 "

5.—In the case of private individuals, whether native zamindars or others, or Europeans, cash payment at the above values will be required, and the sale of bulls or rams will be at the discretion of the Superintendent of the Farm and the Commissary-General, Panjáb Command.

6.—About 62 bulls and 125 rams will be reserved annually for supply from the farm for breeding purposes, and they will be held available in the first instance to meet the requisitions of officers in charge of districts, of which there are 30 in the North-Western Provinces and 32 in the Panjáb; but as it is not expected that anything like the number of bulls and rams to be held in reserve, with reference to the number of districts, will be applied for annually, a large number will be left for private parties.

7.—The Superintendent of the Farm will publish annually (in November), in the Lahore and Allahabad papers, the number of bulls and rams that will be available for breeding purposes after meeting the requisitions of officers in charge of districts, and the terms on which they can be obtained by private individuals.

8.—On applications being received, a memorandum of the terms, which should be printed and held in readiness in the Superintendent's office, on which the bulls and rams are available from the farm, will be sent in duplicate to the applicant if a private individual. One copy of the memorandum will be kept, and the other sent back to the Superintendent of the Farm accepting the terms, when the cattle will be sent off as may be requested, at the risk of the applicant.

CATTLE SHOWS.

With the object of stimulating private efforts in the direction of an improvement in the breed of cattle in these provinces, the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner will be prepared to allot from provincial revenues Rs. 100 for every Rs. 300 subscribed in any one district, and spent bonâ-fide on prizes awarded for cattle at shows or fairs got up with this object. All references in connection with the subject and all applications for the subsidy should be submitted through the Director of Land Records and Agriculture.

Commissioners should also forward to the Director extracts from the reports of agricultural and cattle shows bearing on matters that concern his department.

Whenever it is proposed to hold such a fair or show in any district, the Collector will send timely notice thereof to the Director, forwarding (with any other information) a prospectus of the proposed meeting. On all such occasions, whether he can arrange to be present or not, the Director should be constituted an ex-officio member of the managing committee. In this capacity he will have the best possible opportunity of assisting with advice in matters of cattle-breeding, agricultural implements, improvement of staples, and other subjects concerning which his department has acquired special knowledge.

The Government prizes at district cattle shows should be distinct from those provided from district funds.

Taking Rs. 100 as the unit, the following are the classes of animals to which the Government prizes should ordinarily be awarded; the amounts to be given in each case being as noted below:—

- |   | Rs. | a. | p. |
|---|-----|----|----|
| (1) For the best pair of locally-bred bullocks for bonâ-fide agricultural purposes, 3 years old not less than      inches in height      ...                   | 15  | 0  | 0  |
| (2) For the second best pair of locally-bred bullocks for bonâ-fide agricultural purposes,    years old, not less than      inches in height      ...      ... | 10  | 0  | 0  |
| (3) For the best pair of locally-bred bullocks for the purpose of being used for agricultural purposes, 3 years old      ...      ...                                 | 20  | 0  | 0  |

(8) For the best bullocks, locks, 3 in height	...	...	15	0	0
(9) For the second best	...	...	10	0	0

In cases where a limit of height has been suggested, the exact limit should be fixed by the district committee with regard to the particular circumstances of each locality. All winners should receive a certificate showing the names of the breeder and owner and the place where bred, and stating that no prize has been previously awarded to the animal.

No animal should win a money prize more than once; but in case of a second success an honorary certificate can be given. Prizes for locally-bred cattle should be given to zamindars and cultivators only.

The above directions are not to be considered as hard-and-fast rules. The details should be settled by the district officers in consultation with the Director of Land Records and Agriculture. If in any one of these classes none of the animals exhibited are considered worthy of a Government prize, the sum allotted may be given by the committee as a special prize to any animals that are considered worthy of special encouragement, but the prize should be withheld if there are no animals exhibited that are considered by the judges to be really deserving of reward.

The award of all prizes should be arranged for by the district authorities in communication with the Director, to whom they should look for aid and advice, and whose opinion on these matters should carry great weight.

Crop and Weather Reports.

No. 116, dated 21st August 1879.

In times of scarcity or famine the number will be temporarily increased.

Every one of the appointed districts should send its telegram regularly without fail. Summaries of all the facts which have an important bearing on the character of the season and the crops of the province are telegraphed by the Local Government for the information of the Government of India. The summaries (for compilation of which the district reports should contain proper material) are to indicate the general character of the rainfall of the week, and the tracts in which the rainfall up to date has been insufficient. They are to describe the progress of agricultural operations, the state of the standing crops, and the prospects and probable outturn of the harvests. A brief account is to be sent of any serious damage done to crops by insects, blights, hailstorms, floods or other natural calamities, and the condition of agricultural stock, any failure of pasturage or fodder and water, and marked fluctuations in the price of food-grains, are to be stated. In times of scarcity, particulars are also required regarding the areas affected, the number of people under relief, and the state of the food-stocks. The condition of the opium crop is at all times to be specially noticed, and information may be given in regard to other crops of commercial importance. The appearance and movements of locusts should also be noticed in such detail as may be convenient. Any further agricultural matters, judged of interest or importance, may be reported when thought advisable.

dated 11th August 1879.

The district telegraphic reports will be published in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh Gazette. The Government of India has called special attention to the fact that the main object of these telegrams is to show from week to week, in a brief and succinct form, the actual conditions and prospects of agriculture in each district, and that they are not intended to contain a notice of any facts which have no connection with, or bearing on, agricultural circumstances and prospects.

The use of vernacular terms in these reports is to be carefully avoided, except when they are indispensable to convey the meaning.

DRAINAGE.

I.—In canal-irrigated districts.

WHEN a Collector considers that a tract of land (outside of municipal boundaries) requires drainage, he shall communicate his views, and the reasons and facts on which they are based, in writing, to the Canal Executive Engineer, and request him to examine the scheme:

Drainage Rules regarding projects for—
Circular No. 20 A., dated
8th June 1875.

After necessary discussion with the Collector, the Canal Engineer shall (unless the Collector, in writing, may modify or withdraw his request) with all convenient expedition, examine the proposal and draw up a report on the causes of obstruction, the means by which relief can be afforded, and the approximate estimated cost of carrying it out; but detailed estimates will not be prepared at this stage. The Executive Engineer shall further record his opinion on the expediency of the project.

The report shall be furnished to the Collector, who shall forward it to the Commissioner for consideration. If, in the opinion of the Collector, the proposed drainage work has not been rendered necessary in consequence of the obstruction of drainage caused by works undertaken in the Irrigation Branch, and he is of opinion that the case is one in which a rate on lands benefited might properly be imposed under section 59 of the Northern India Canal and Drainage Act (VIII of 1873), he shall furnish an approximate estimate of the sum which such rates might be expected to yield.

The Commissioner shall send on the report with his opinion to the Superintending Engineer, who shall deal with it as follows:—

(a).—Return the project to Commissioner for necessary orders, if Superintending Engineer agrees with the Commissioner that the execution of the project is not advisable.

(b).—Sanction the project, with such professional amendments as may be requisite, and return it to Executive Engineer for execution when funds are procured, if approved by both Commissioner and Superintending Engineer, and within the limit of powers of sanction of the latter officer.

(c).—Submit the project for the orders of Government in the Irrigation Branch in all other cases.

In all cases under (b) and (c) Superintending Engineer will communicate copy of his proceeding in the case to the Commissioner.

All cases submitted to Government will be considered in the Irrigation Branch in the usual way, if either the Commissioner or the Superintending Engineer, or both, recommend that the land should be drained. After consideration in the Irrigation Branch and with the concurrence of the Revenue Department, the orders of Government will issue in the former department to the Commissioner and to the Superintending Engineer for the information and guidance of all concerned.

In forwarding these papers no copies should be taken, in any office through which they pass in progress to Government, of any documents, save such as are added by such office as the papers go through it.

II.—In districts which are not irrigated by canals.

The Collector will in this case report his proposal, with all needful details, to the Commissioner direct, with the opinion of the District Engineer, and an estimate of cost, for transmission to Government in the Revenue Department in which orders will issue after consultation with the Irrigation Branch.

EDUCATION AT ROYAL AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, CIRENCESTER.

from societies and
-vernment for candi-
-nd for the purpose of studying agriculture at the Royal Agricultural College, Cirencester, and in two instances such aid has been given. It may be anticipated that other applications will be made, and it is therefore advisable to lay down a definite mode of procedure in such cases, both as to the number of students to be aided by the Government and the method of selecting them.

Method of selection of candidates
G. O. No.  $\frac{798}{1745}$  dated 26th
May 1886.

The following rules have been sanctioned and circulated for the information of Commissioners and district officers —

- (1) The Government will undertake to pay one-half of a candidate's total expenses under all heads, including travelling expenditure to England and back, provided that its liability is limited to a maximum of Rs. 4,000. The remaining share of the expenses must, before the candidate leaves India for England, be deposited by him or his friends in the Government treasury, or be otherwise secured to the satisfaction of the Government. Periodical remittances will be made by the Government.
- (2) Selection of a candidate will be made once in two years, not oftener.
- (3) The selection of the candidate for recommendation to the Government shall rest with the Director of Public Instruction and the Director of Land Records and Agriculture, who shall be required to obtain medical testimony to the physical fitness of the nominee, and shall satisfy themselves of his good character, and fitness generally to be sent to England.
- (4) The candidate must ordinarily have obtained the degree of B A.; but an exception may be made in regard to this educational qualification on very special proof that the candidate possesses a good knowledge of the English Language. Possession of the degree of B A. in physical science will give a candidate a preferential claim to selection over all other graduate candidates.
- (5) The selected candidate shall, before proceeding to England, work as an apprentice at the Cawnpore experimental station, or at a demonstration farm, for 10 months, from June to April, i.e., through both the kharif and rabi seasons.

- (6) It must be clearly understood that education at the Royal Agricultural College, Cirencester, does not constitute a claim to Government service in India, and that the Government does not guarantee employment under itself to students assisted under these rules; also that the rules are liable to be varied hereafter.

EMIGRATION.

The following instructions were issued by the Local Government on the subject of the Emigration Act of 1883.

Under section 16 of Act XXI of 1883 the North-Western Provinces and Oudh are to be included in the local area to which the authority of the Protector of Emigrants at Calcutta extends. But the instructions and control of that officer are necessarily confined to the recruitment, registration and despatch of emigrants to depôts rests with Magistrates of districts, who are responsible for seeing that the provisions of the law and rules are duly observed, and that abuses are prevented or remedied.

The Act does not provide for the appointment of a Provincial Inspector, and it does not seem necessary at present to make any such executive arrangement. References to the Government on the subject of colonial emigration by officers serving under this Government should be addressed, through Commissioners, direct to the Chief Secretary, unless for any particular reason it is thought necessary to submit them through the Protector of Emigrants at Calcutta.

Recruiters are licensed by the Protector of Emigrants, who will, before granting a license, require satisfactory evidence of character from the Magistrate of the district in which the recruiter resides. The license must be countersigned by the Magistrate of the district. As the law now stands the recruiter must himself, before countersignature, that the recruiter is a person of proper character, and that he has provided suitable accommodation for the emigrants whom he may collect. The rules (chapter II, section 2) lay down the nature of the accommodation required and the supervision to be exercised over sub-depôts, and define the officers by whom it is to be exercised. The Magistrate is further empowered by section 24 of the Act to cancel his countersignature, should he find that the recruiter is unfitted, by character or otherwise, for the discharge of his duties, or that suitable accommodation is not available.

It will be observed that the reasons for refusing or cancelling countersignature should be reduced to writing, and the fact communicated to the Protector of Emigrants. A judicious exercise of these powers will enable District Magistrates to prevent misconduct on the part of recruiters, and to secure proper treatment of the labourers recruited, without imposing any unnecessary hindrance on the proper and legitimate work of recruiting.

Under Act XXI of 1883, the local Government is empowered to appoint any person or class of persons by name or virtue of Emigration beyond the limits of British India

G O No <sup>819 and 1076</sup> <sub>1-103</sub>, dated 22nd May and 2nd December 1886, respectively.

office to be registering officers. The Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner has accordingly been pleased to appoint the following classes of persons :—

Magistrates of districts.

Magistrates in charge of a sub-division of a district.

All Joint and Assistant Magistrates exercising the full powers of a Magistrate.

The Civil Surgeon of Meerut.

The Civil Surgeon of Azamgarh.

The Civil Surgeon of Sitapur.

The Civil Surgeon of Gházipur.

The Special Sub-Registrar of Benares

The proceedings of all registering officers will be under the District Magistrate, and the subordinates, should, as far as possible, be performed by a senior and experienced officer.

A formal agreement has to be executed after the register has been filled up and signed. This agreement will be on a form (No. 5 of the rules) to be supplied by the Emigration Agent; and full directions for its execution and disposal will be found in the Act and Rules. The directions for the registration of emigrants and their dependents should be carefully observed.

The functions which may be exercised by a Magistrate specially appointed under section 99 of the Act are—

- (1) to call on a recruiter to produce his license [section 20 (3)];
  - (2) to call on a recruiter to produce the terms of agreement which he is authorized to offer [section 26 (3)];
  - (3) to approve the person placed in charge of emigrants and to certify such appointment [section 47 (2 and 3)];
  - (4) to sanction prosecutions under section 93 [section 96(b)].
- According to the definition of the Act [section 1(4)], these powers can be exercised by any District or Sub-divisional Magistrate; and the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner has been further pleased to confer them on—

Register of emigrants recruited (Form No. 4).

Supplementary Directions and Instructions, dealing with the preparation of Forms Nos. 4 and 6, and with other matters

Attention is drawn to the fact that the register (Form No. 4) and the index (Form No. 6) prescribed by Rules 13 and 35 respectively of the rules made by the Governor-General in Council under the Indian Emigration Act are annual forms. New forms should be opened on the 1st January of each year, the returns of the previous year being recorded. A separate register in Form No. 4 must be maintained for each colony for which emigrants may be recruited, or if more convenient, a certain number of pages in a single register may be reserved for the entries relating to each colony. In column 1 there will be a separate series of numbers for each colony, commencing with Serial No. 1 in the new registers at the commencement of each year. A separate alphabetical index must be maintained in similar manner for each colony.

G. O. No. 135
12-108, dated
27th January 1900.

Care should be taken to fill up the entries in columns 18—21 of Form No. 4, in accordance with the provisions of Rule 33 (page 27) as by this means a coohee who has emigrated can generally be traced. A coohee's colonial address is always known in the colony where he may be settled so long as his indenture lasts. This is secured by an elaborate set of "ship numbers". For example, if a coohee was recruited in the year 1882, in the ship named "Hermione", that he was No. 46 in the list of that ship, his ship number will be 46, "Hermione," 1882 (of columns 18—21), and if a letter be addressed—

HARPANS, SON OF MADARI,

46, "Hermione," 1882,

Care of Emigration Agent for Trinidad, Calcutta, and posted, it will in all probability find the emigrant, if he is alive.

If the district in which an emigrant was registered is not known, the emigrant's colonial address can probably be obtained from the Emigration Agent at Calcutta, provided the name of the colony to which the emigrant proceeded can be furnished.

Emigrants frequently make remittances of money to their friends at home, or emigrants dying in a colony leave their property to their next-of-kin in India. Again, emigrants returning to India frequently take home their savings in the shape of pay orders on treasuries. Remittances are made in some cases by the Agent or Protector, who sends the money due to the District Officer for payment to the payee: in others the emigrant forwards to the payee an order for the amount of the remittance payable at a treasury (vide Civil Account Code, Volume I, chapter 32, section 8). As it is advisable that these remittances should be encouraged to their fullest extent, District Officers are requested to use their best endeavours to see that payments are made with promptness or with as little inconvenience to the payees as possible.

In order to save the expense of postage to the relations of emigrant coolies, who may wish to write to them, it has been arranged that letters for coolies, forwarded to the care of the Emigration Agent in Calcutta for any of the colonies, with the exception of Natal, will be forwarded by him free of cost to the colony which the Agent represents. District Officers should therefore make it widely known that any person, wishing to write to a friend in the colonies, can have the letter forwarded on bunging it, stamped with a half-anna postage stamp, to the Magistrate of the district.

4.—Persons dependent on persons described in paragraphs (2) and (3), shall be entitled to a free return passage along with the person on whom they are dependent.

FAMINE AND SCARCITY.

... applicants for relief at British works, or at British relief reference to their nationality. British subjects and immigrants from native territory would not only be easily frustrated, but if it were practicable it would probably lead to the disorganisation of our own system of relief.

Famine Code.

A DETAILED set of instructions as to the measures to be adopted in the event of a scarcity or famine was circulated as a Famine Code with G. O. No. <sup>350S</sup><sub>1-8</sub>, dated 5th March 1886.

Relief works.

G. O. No. <sup>858-861S</sup><sub>1-8</sub>, dated 6th May 1887.

The Code divides famine relief works into four classes:—

- (1) (Section 24A).—Works of a comparatively simple character which the district authority can carry out with his ordinary staff.
- (2) (Section 24B).—Large works for which professional assistance is required.
- (3) (Section 25).—Works for the relief of the agricultural population in the neighbourhood of their villages.
- (4) Professional agency works (chapter IV).

Lists of relief works in the first two classes should be prepared and submitted to the Commissioners of the district offices so as to contain projects of a less important character than those entered in the fourth class, which are intended to provide employment for a period of six months to the maximum number of persons who may need relief, and the works should be selected with the view of giving employment to comparatively small numbers of labourers for limited periods. In many cases, when the famine is not very severe or prolonged, it may be expected that the civil agency works will provide all the relief that is required; and as in any case they are of primary importance in the earlier stages of a famine, it is necessary that they should be prepared, and all the projects to meet

ness in section 25 of the Code. (See also G. O. No.  $\frac{10188}{1-8}$ , dated 6th July 1889). They will ordinarily consist of small agricultural improvements in the immediate neighbourhood of a village, and be such as can be effected by private agency assisted by takiri advances. It does not seem necessary to prescribe any form for general adoption; but the probable expense, and the total number of days' labour which would be provided, should be roughly estimated in the case of each work. No separate divisional list is required; but the lists for all the districts in a Division should be collected and sent to the Director of Land Records and Agriculture under one cover.

It seems to the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner that the distinction between works under sections 24 and 25, respectively, is mainly as between works of a generally useful character and works having for their aim the benefit of a particular village; and that the "test," as to the class under which a work falls, is the local area benefited. Thus the test for a work under section 25 is that it should be, ordinarily, for the benefit of a specific village, or a very limited area, not for several, nor for the public generally. In this view, a project to drain a swamp in villages A and B would be a "supplementary work;" and still more so if it was intended to benefit either A or B separately. But to drain a swamp covering half a pargana would, on the other hand, constitute a project falling under section 24B: while a project to drain a swamp covering part of the area of three or four or more villages would fall under section 24A, or section 24B, according, or not, as it could be done without professional assistance.

Immigrants on relief

No. 705-707-1., dated
26th February 1884.

ALL applicants for relief at British works, or at British relief houses, should be treated without any reference to their nationality. Any attempt to discriminate between British subjects and immigrants from native territory would not only be easily frustrated, but if it were practicable it would probably lead to the disorganisation of our own system of relief.

Famine Code.

A DETAILED set of instructions as to the measures to be adopted in the event of a scarcity or famine was circulated as a Famine Code with G. O. No.  $\frac{3508}{1-8}$ , dated 5th March 1886.

Relief works,
G. O. No.  $\frac{359-3513}{1-8}$ , dated 6th May 1887.

The Code divides famine relief works into four classes:—

- (1) (Section 24A).—Works of a comparatively simple character which the district authority can carry out with his ordinary staff.
- (2) (Section 24B).—Large works for which professional assistance is required.
- (3) (Section 25).—Works for the relief of the agricultural population in the neighbourhood of their villages.
- (4) Professional agency works (chapter IV).

Lists of relief works in the first two classes should be prepared by District Officers, and after having been submitted to the Commissioner for sanction, will be maintained in the district offices so as to be immediately available in case of necessity. They should usually contain projects of a less important character than those entered in the fourth class, which are intended to provide employment for a period of six months to the maximum number of persons who may need relief, and the works should be selected with the view of giving employment to comparatively small numbers of labourers for limited periods. In many cases, when the famine is not very severe or prolonged, it may be expected that the civil agency works will provide all the relief that is required; and as in any case they are of primary importance in the earlier stages of a famine, it is necessary that the lists should be carefully prepared and maintained, and they should contain a sufficiently large number of projects to meet all the probable requirements of the district.

The supplementary lists of works of the third class should be forwarded in original, after having been carefully revised by Commissioners, to the Director of Land Records and Agriculture, who will submit them for the sanction of Government. The character of work to be included in these lists is indicated with sufficient clearness in section 25 of the Code. (See also G. O. No.  $\frac{10188}{1-8}$ , dated 6th July 1889). They will ordinarily consist of small agricultural improvements in the immediate neighbourhood of a village, and be such as can be effected by private agency assisted by takāvi advances. It does not seem necessary to prescribe any form for general adoption; but the probable expense, and the total number of days' labour which would be provided, should be roughly estimated in the case of each work. No separate divisional list is required; but the lists for all the districts in a Division should be collected and sent to the Director of Land Records and Agriculture under one cover.

It seems to the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner that the distinction between works under sections 24 and 25, respectively, is mainly as between works of a generally useful character and works having for their aim the benefit of a particular village; and that the "test," as to the class under which a work falls, is the local area benefited. Classification of relief works under sections 24 and 25 of the Famine Code—

dated 20th June 1901.

The distinction between the several classes would appear to be well marked: but a question has arisen as to the works which should be classed under section 25. In the Government order of 6th July 1889,* it was explained that the distinction between works under sections 24 and 25 respectively is, mainly, "as between works of a generally useful character and works having for their aim the benefit of a particular village; and that the 'test' as to the class under which a work falls is the local area benefited. Thus the test for a work under section 25 is, that it should be ordinarily for the benefit of a specific village, or a very limited area, not for several villages, nor for the public generally. "In this view" it was said, "a project to drain a swamp in villages A and B would be a 'supplementary work;' and still more so if it was intended to benefit either A or B separately. But to drain a swamp covering half a pargana would, on the other hand, constitute a project falling under section 24B; while a project to drain a swamp covering part of the area of three or four or more villages would fall under section 24A or section 24B, according or not as it could be done without professional assistance."

It has become clear that these explanations have been more or less misunderstood and projects have been sent up from some districts under section 25, which are estimated to cost not less than Rs. 80,000 or Rs. 90,000 each. It is necessary, therefore, to repeat that the classification laid down in the Famine Code was intended to confine works under section 25 to agricultural projects likely to be carried out by zamindars and other private persons, assisted, if necessary, by tahsils advances. It was intended that projects in this category should only be under taken at the public expense and carried out under official management when the advantage to be derived from them would be shared by a considerable number of the community; but for purposes of classification it will be more convenient to place works of the kind which it is proposed to construct at the public expense or which are not likely to be taken up by private enterprise under section 24A or 24B, according to their magnitude. Commissioners will see that the district lists of works under section 25 are revised accordingly.

It is at the same time evident that some large works of the kind which have been hitherto classed under section 25 may not only be useful, but absolutely necessary, in time of famine. For famine relief purposes it is necessary to have works in the neighbourhood of the population likely to require assistance, and in some districts it may not be always possible to secure this by means of roads, arterial drainage schemes, or other works of the ordinary type. The works projected for famine relief under section 24 may therefore lie quite outside of the normal field of public works schemes and budgets. But if they are so admitted on the register of civil projects, it is also obviously prudent that proposals of this nature and size should receive careful examination while there is time for it to ensure that they are not only practicable but useful, and that the estimate of the cost is reasonably approximate. The need of some such criticism is the more apparent from a project for dams, which has been recently before the Lieutenant-Governor, in which the proposals, however beneficial to one village, would have been ruinous to its neighbour.

The Lieutenant-Governor has accordingly decided that schemes prepared by District Officers for execution as works of famine relief under the supervision of the civil agency shall receive in the circumstances now to be the officers of the Public admitted on the register of section 24 works.

Works under section 25 will ordinarily have a maximum limit of Rs. 5,000. This general rule will not exclude projects of a higher value, when a reasonable anticipation exists that the work will in a famine year be undertaken by private persons either with or without Government advances; and in view of the anticipation that there will be private works, no professional inquiries or sanctions will be required.

Works under sections 24A and 24B will ordinarily be placed in the former or the latter lists, according as they fall below or exceed a money limit of Rs. 5,000. Projects estimated to cost more than Rs. 5,000 will ordinarily be grouped under section 24B. To this general rule two exceptions will be made. Under section 24A may be provided for each district a lump allotment, without regard to the money limit above fixed, for the construction of laekcha wells. Further, Commissioners are authorized to admit into the category any works of a very simple nature, the cost of which is over Rs. 5,000, of the utility of which they are satisfied, and in which from the simplicity of their character professional advice is unnecessary.

Under section 24B should be ordinarily classed all those works to be undertaken by the civil agency at the public expense in case of famine the cost of which is over Rs. 5,000. The projects for these should, as a general rule, be examined in the Public Works Department before the Commissioner admits them on the register. No detailed criticism will be expected, but the Public Works officer should generally satisfy himself and the Commissioner that the project is a practicable one; that it is a useful one and will be in the result not only beneficial in the locality for which it is designed, but productive of no harm to the neighbouring country; and lastly that the estimate of cost is reasonably approximate. In this class may be placed repairs to 2nd and 3rd class roads, an extremely important and useful scheme of relief work. District Officers should, it may be observed, endeavour, as far as possible, to repair and improve existing roads rather than make new ones which the District Boards may find it impossible to maintain efficiently. But it is most desirable that before they are finally accepted as relief projects they should receive the summary criticism of the professional adviser of the District Officer to ensure that the scheme does not block drainage to the possible injury of the country and danger to existing bridges.

Administrative and final sanction to famine relief works to be carried out by "professional agency," Buildings and Roads Branch, Public Works Department. Public Works Department Circular No 121-W, dated 7th September 1891.

Rough projects for famine relief works, to be executed by professional agency, will be submitted in the first place to Government in the Public Works Department. The Secretary to Government in the Public Works Department will (after they have been professionally scrutinized) forward them to Government in the Revenue (Scarcity) Department, where they will, if approved, be administratively sanctioned, after reference (if necessary) to the local civil authorities.

When the project has been administratively sanctioned, the fair project will be disposed of and sanctioned in the Public Works Department.

No project administratively sanctioned as a famine relief work can be removed from the list of famine works without the consent of Government in the Revenue (Scarcity) Department; nor can it be brought on to the list of ordinary district works until fresh administrative sanction has been given by Government in the Public Works Department.

Public Works Department, Irrigation Branch, No. 21021, dated 10th September 1891.

I.—The works will be divided into two classes, viz.—

(i) Ordinary works, which will be carried out in the ordinary course.

(ii) Special works for famine relief.

Works in class (i) will be liable to change, old ones being struck out when executed and new ones added; but those in class (ii) will be brought forward year after year until they are completed or are transferred to class (i).

II.—Separate lists, prepared in the form at present in use will be submitted for each class, and estimates will be got out for all the works entered in the lists. The estimates for works under class (i) will be dealt within the Chief Engineer's office in the ordinary course. Those for works under class (ii), before submission to Government, will be forwarded by the Executive Engineer to the Collector of the district and by Superintending Engineer to the Commissioner, for their opinion on the suitability of the work for famine relief and the incidence of cost. After scrutiny by Chief Engineer and approval of incidence of cost by the Financial Department, the estimate will be forwarded to the Revenue Department for approval, and on its return will be sanctioned in Irrigation Department and sent back to Superintending Engineer to be held in abeyance till such time as it is found necessary to carry out the work.

III.—No work will be removed from class (ii) without the consent of the Revenue Department.

Beginning with the year 1893, the annual statement showing the number of persons for whom employment could be found on relief works in case of famine should be submitted in the form given below.

The return should be timed to reach this office not later than the 1st May in each year.

GRANTS OF LAND TO NATIVE OFFICERS.

Grant of land to Native Officers for distinguished military service
Government of India, Military Department, No. 867B
dated 27th February 1893
and No. 3293B, dated 24th
October 1893.

THE Government of India have laid down the following instructions for dealing with applications for the grant of land and other rewards to Native Officers for distinguished military service.

The principle of awarding grants of land to Native Officers has been advocated on the ground that it gives them a status in the eyes of the community which is not given by a pension. The value of the grant is not the value of the land, but the value of the pension which is proposed to be substituted for the substitution of swords of honor, khillats, and special pensions, for grants of land as rewards to deserving Native Officers.

After a careful consideration of the subject in all its bearings, the Government of India have decided that it would not be advisable to continue the present system of giving grants but are of opinion that assignment of land in lieu of pensions would be substituted with advantage for

It has been observed that the average income of the jagirs granted between 1869 and 1887 was about Rs. 1,000 in each case. The grants in these cases, however, consisted of waste lands, upon which after a short period the full land revenue was to be taken. It is not easy therefore to estimate their value as compared with that of grants under the orders of 1888 and 1889, which, though placed at only Rs. 300 per annum, were to yield a permanent income of that amount "clear of all charges and deductions." Taking, however, all the circumstances into consideration, the Governor-General in Council thinks that reasonable requirements will be met by deciding that the maximum amount of the reward shall be fixed in future at the equivalent of Rs. 400 per annum, clear.

Applications for such grants on behalf of Native Officers of the Bengal Army should be submitted by the Commander-in-Chief in India, the annual value of the reward being specified in each case. When the Local Government is prepared to provide a grant of land and the grantee accepts this form of reward, it will be open to the Local Government to arrange for the bestowal of the privileges connected with the grant in such a way that the difference between the value of the grant on the terms given and the market value may be ascertained.

above. Should the Local Government not be prepared to give land, or the grantee be unwilling to accept his reward in this form, the grantee will be given an assignment of revenue from any village or estate that may be selected. If an assignment of revenue be given such assignment will be for three lives only, the maximum amount of revenue assigned to the original grantee being Rs. 600, to the first heir Rs. 300, and to the next heir in succession Rs. 150. The method in which the assigned revenues are to be paid, i.e., whether from the State treasury or by the landowners direct, will be left to Local Governments to decide, but the amount should be fixed in cash and not in terms of the land revenue. When the grantee is a landholder, the assignment may take the form of a remission of a specified amount of the revenue due from himself.

On the death of the original holder, one-half of the grant, whether it consists in an assignment or remission of revenue, should descend integrally to a single heir; the heir will be selected by the District Officer, but will ordinarily be the eldest male heir in the eldest branch of the deceased's descendants. On the death of the selected heir one-quarter of the original grant will descend integrally to one of his heirs similarly chosen by the District Officer. The selection made by the District Officer will, in all cases, be subject to confirmation by the Commissioner of the Division, or in Madras by the Board of Revenue.

In addition to the grant of land, or assignment of land revenue, the title of "Bahádur" will be conferred on all grantees who are not already in possession of it as members of the Order of British India. A khilat and a sword of honor, not exceeding Rs. 300 in total value, may also be given in very special cases, if recommended by the Commander-in-Chief in India.

The maximum number of such grants of land or assignments of land revenue to be given annually shall be limited to nine for all India, to be distributed as under.—

The desired report should be in all cases promptly furnished.

Government of India Revenue and Agriculture Department.

Circular No. <sup>4</sup><sub>21</sub>, dated 5th February 1895, circulated to Commissioners and District Officers with G.O.

No. <sup>475</sup><sub>1-28/11</sub>, dated 21st

February 1895.

Cases have recently come under the notice of the Government of India in which, owing to the division of authority between civil and military officers, the measures that have been taken upon the occurrence of an outbreak of contagious disease among animals, have not been as prompt and effective as they might and should have been. In outbreaks of disease it is especially important that all concerned should co-operate in the fullest manner, as the powers of the executive in the matter are at the best extremely limited, while the evil spreads so rapidly that whatever can be done to check it should be done at once.

The following procedure should in future be observed whenever contagious disease makes its appearance among animals:—

- (1) When any contagious or infectious disease appears among animals at a horse or of a cantonment, or the district or sub-divisional officer shall immediately report the fact and the nature of the disease to the nearest military authority, who will be responsible for communicating the information to any other military authorities whom it may concern.
- (2) When such disease appears in a camp or cantonment, or among animals under military authority on a line of communication, the facts shall be immediately reported by the military authorities to the district or sub-divisional officer within whose charge the disease has appeared.
- (3) The principal local authority, whether civil or military, within whose jurisdiction the disease has appeared should keep the local military or civil authority (as the case may be) informed of the preventive or repressive measures that he has adopted, so that the action taken by the one may be, as far as possible, continued by the other. Any suggestions that either authority may have to make for action on the part of the other, with a view and act upon them.

- (4) The direct communication between the local authorities enjoined in the above rules in no way supersedes the necessity of reporting the fact of an outbreak for the information and orders of superior authority, under any rules or practice that may be from time to time in force.

The following rules have been laid down by the Inspector-General, Civil Veterinary Department, for reporting the illness or death of Government horse and donkey stallions.

1. Reports intimating the death of Government stallions, to be invariably accompanied with documents furnishing, in detail, full particulars concerning the disease and cause of death, duration of the disease, steps taken to obtain veterinary advice and treatment, and the post mortem examination of the Veterinary Surgeon or Assistant, or Saluti attending.

Reporting the illness or death of Government horse or donkey stallions.

G. O. No. 1225
dated 4th September 1925

2. Such reports to be submitted to the officers concerned within twenty-four hours of the death of the animal.

3. In verification of the reported death, the branded portion of the skin, and the tail of the deceased animal, should be forwarded, packed up with ashes in a cloth and securely fastened up, to the officer of the Civil Veterinary Department.

4. In the event of a Government stallion dying from anthrax or any other kind of contagious disease, the following precautions are to be observed in the presence of a responsible officer :—

- (a) The carcase to be slashed with a knife.
- (b) The carcase should not be buried underground but cremated (reduced to ashes by burning) by the most inexpensive and effective means. All gear and clothing belonging to the horse should likewise be completely destroyed by fire.
- (c) The stall occupied by the horse to be thoroughly disinfected; the flooring to be dug to a depth of 18 inches; all the walls thoroughly scraped and thickly white-washed with lime, and the stall should have its doors and windows closed and be fumigated with sulphur. No animal should be allowed to occupy the building until the lapse of two months from date of disinfection.
- (d) The branded portions of the skin and tails of horses that die from contagious diseases should, after being carefully inspected and compared with the register by the officer of the Civil Veterinary Department, be invariably burnt to ashes.

Stallion-keepers, ziladars, and Salutris of the Civil Veterinary Department have been directed to send in their reports regarding the sickness or death of Government stallions, through the tahsildars, to the Magistrate of the district, who will forward them, with any remarks he may have to make, to the Superintendent, Civil Veterinary Department.

Rain-gauges. (Symon's pattern.) Supply of—
G. O. No. <sup>206-2</sup><sub>1-775</sub>, dated 20th
February 1856.

RAIN-GAUGES of Symon's pattern should in future be substituted for the float-gauges (Fleming's) in use in these provinces, as the latter wear out and become unserviceable. It must be clearly understood that the object of this instruction is not to condemn the float-gauges at present in use and at once introduce Symon's gauges, or even to accelerate the process of substitution, but merely to secure that the present gauges as they from time to time become unfit for use shall be replaced by gauges of the Symon's pattern. The Meteorological Reporter will submit the district indents for rain-gauges to the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India for compliance.

venue and Agricultural De-

dated 25th January 1862,

11th April, 1862, to Inspector General, Civil Hospitals,
North-Western Provinces and Outh.

No observatory shall be opened at any civil hospital or dispensary until the Meteorological Department has first obtained the sanction or permission of the Local Government.

When an observatory has been opened at any civil hospital or dispensary, the Meteorological Department shall correspond with the medical subordinate acting as observer through the Civil Surgeon or other officer appointed to act as Superintendent of the observatory, or with the observer directly if there be no Superintendent, about all matters respecting the work of observation.

When sanction is given to the establishment of an observatory at any civil hospital or dispensary, and the employment of a medical subordinate as observer, it includes sanction to the employment of the successors to that subordinate until the permission of the Local Government is withdrawn. In other words, the permission to utilize the service of a subordinate holding a certain office is not personal, but applies to all individuals appointed from time to time to the office.

At all observatories established at hospitals or dispensaries in accordance with these rules, the meteorological work will form a part of the recognised duties of the subordinate medical officer. When it has been found practicable to establish such an observatory, the subordinate medical officer employed will not be allowed to object to the arrangement, except by referring the matter to the Local Government or Administration. The Local Government or Administration will either disallow the objection or refer it for the opinion of the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India; and in the latter case it will not decide, until it has considered the Reporter's opinion, whether it is desirable or necessary to withdraw the permission to have the observatory at the civil hospital or dispensary. Whenever such permission is determined to be withdrawn, sufficient time must be allowed for the Meteorological Reporter to make other arrangements.

The Local Administrative Medical Officer will, when making any change in the Subordinate Officers employed as observers, endeavour, so far as he can consistently with departmental requirements, to provide men at such offices who can do the meteorological work properly. The Local Government or Administration will request Civil Surgeons to see as far as possible that when a change is made the new observer is instructed in his meteorological work by the outgoing observer, and that the latter does not hand over charge until the new observer can do the work of observation correctly and satisfactorily.

MINES.

Rules for the grant of licenses to explore and prospect for minerals and of mining leases—

Government of India, Revenue and Agriculture Department, Resolution No.

—, dated 12th December

The following rules regulating the grant by Local Governments of licenses to explore and prospect for minerals and the grant of leases of mines and minerals have been made by the Governor-General in Council, and sanctioned by the Secretary of State for India in Council.

No such license or lease can be granted by any Local Government otherwise than in accordance with these rules, except with the previous sanction of the Secretary of State for India in Council, or with that of the Governor-General in Council under any general or special authority which he may have received in this behalf from the said Secretary of State in Council.

In these rules—

1. A license to explore land for minerals or mineral oil, called hereinafter an exploring license, will authorise the licensee to search the surface of the land specified in the license for minerals of every description and for mineral oil, and, subject to such restrictions as the Local Government may from time to time impose, to remove any specimens or samples found by the licensee in or upon such land.*

2. Such license shall only be granted with respect to land in which the mines, minerals, or mineral oils are the property of the Government, and (subject to the provisions of any law or rule having the force of law, for the time being in force with reference to such land) shall not authorize the licensee to enter upon any land in the occupation of any person without the consent of the occupier.

3. Such license shall not authorise the licensee to mine or quarry but he may be permitted to turn up to a depth not exceeding two feet the surface of unoccupied lands, or, with the consent of the occupier, that of land which the Government has granted for agricultural purposes, reserving only the right to minerals.

4. Such license may be granted by such person and under such rules as the Local Government may prescribe.

5. Every such license shall run for one year, and there shall be paid for each license such fee, not exceeding Rs. 10, as the Local Government may prescribe.

* Note.—The surface of unoccupied and unreserved land which is the property of Government may be freely searched without a license, but the Government does not object to granting a license to explore when one is applied for.

6. A royalty shall be payable to Government on the value of all precious stones found and removed by an explorer, whether he has taken out a license or not. In the case of licenses such royalty shall be at such rate, not exceeding 30 per cent, as shall be fixed by the licensee, and in the case of an unlicensed explorer shall be 30 per cent. on the value of the stones removed. Neglect to report the discovery of any such stone within a reasonable time shall involve the forfeiture of the license and of all claim to have an application for a mining or prospecting lease favourably considered.

7. Such license shall give no exclusive or preferential rights, but in considering rival claims for a prospecting license or mining lease, due regard will be had to operations conducted under cover of an exploring license.

8. (1) A license to prospect for minerals or mineral oil, called hereinafter a prospecting license, shall confer on the licensee the sole right, subject to the conditions contained in the license, to mine, quarry, bore, dig and search for, win, work, and carry away any mineral or mineral oil specified in the license, and lying or being within, under, or throughout the land specified in the license.

(2) A prospecting license shall only be granted with respect to land in which the mines, minerals or mineral oils are the property of the Government, and which is comprised in a compact block, the area of which does not exceed the area specified in Schedule A, and the length of which does not exceed four times its breadth.

9. When any area has been explored, and its value as a field for mining sufficiently ascertained, the Local Government may refuse to grant prospecting licenses and may order such area to be demarcated into blocks, and may, subject to such rules as the Governor-General in Council may from time to time prescribe, sell by public auction or private contract the right to win and carry away minerals in and from all or any of such block for such term or terms not exceeding 30 years, and subject to such conditions as it may think fit, or may grant mining leases thereof as provided in rules 13 and 19, as it may think fit:

Provided that no such sale as aforesaid shall be made without the previous sanction of the Secretary of State for India in Council if the estimated value thereof exceeds 12 lakhs of rupees.

10. (1) No prospecting license shall be granted except to a person approved by the Local Government, and such person shall, before the license is granted, deposit as security in respect of each license such sum, not being less than Rs. 500, as the Collector may determine, or give security to the like amount to the satisfaction of the Collector. Subject to such deduction on account of compensation for surface damage or otherwise as the Collector may order, the amount of any deposit made under this rule, should the depositor afterwards become the lessee of any mining lease, will be carried to his credit as part of the rents and royalties payable under his lease, and should he decline or fail to obtain any such lease as aforesaid, will be returned to him.

(2) No prospecting license shall be granted to any Company or to any Syndicate on behalf of a proposed Company without the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council.

11. (1) Every application for a prospecting license shall, unless the Local Government shall in any case otherwise direct, be made to the Collector of the district in which the land or some part of the land with respect to which the license is required is situate.

(2) Every such application shall contain the following particulars, namely:—

(a) the name, residence, and profession of the applicant;

(b) a description, as accurate as possible, and illustrated by a rough sketch, of the situation, boundaries, and area of the land with respect to which the license is required; and

(c) a specification of the mineral or minerals for which the applicant desires to prospect.

(3) Every application shall be accompanied by a certificate of approval signed by a Secretary to the Local Government.

12. On receipt of any such application the Collector shall, as soon as practicable, enquire whether the grant of the license applied for is inexpedient either on the ground that the land described in the application is required for a public purpose, or otherwise.

13. (1) Should the Collector be of opinion that it is not expedient to grant the license, or should he find that the licensee has not been approved by the Local Government, he shall refuse to grant the license, and shall forthwith report the matter through the proper channel to the Local Government, which may pass such orders as it may think fit.

(2) Subject to the control of the Local Government, the Collector, if he finds that there is no objection to the grant of the license applied for, and if the applicant has been approved by the Local Government, may grant to the applicant a license in such form as may be prescribed, and shall report the matter to the Local Government or such other authority as the Local Government may direct.

14. No licensee shall, while his license is in force, be granted a prospecting license with respect to any other land which lies within such distance, of the land covered by his license as is specified in Schedule A :

Provided that the Local Government may, for special reasons, dispense with or modify this condition.

15. A register of applications for prospecting licenses shall be kept in English in the Collector's office, specifying—

1. Number of application.
2. Date.
3. Name and residence of applicant.
4. Situation of the land.
5. Boundaries.
6. Estimated area.

16. Every prospecting license shall contain such conditions as may in any particular case seem necessary, and shall in all cases contain the following conditions :—

- (i) The term for which the license shall be granted shall be one year or such shorter term as the applicant may desire. The license may be renewed by the Collector for a further term not exceeding one year, whenever he is satisfied that the licensee has been prevented from completing his search of the land by any cause other than his own default.
- (ii) A moderate rent not exceeding one rupee per acre shall be paid for the land covered by the license.
- (iii) The licensee shall pay a royalty at a rate not exceeding 30 per cent of the value on all precious stones won and carried away, and a royalty at the rates specified in Schedule C on all other minerals won and carried away over and above such quantity as the Local Government may allow to be taken free for purposes of experiment.
- (iv) No land in the occupation of any person shall be entered upon without the consent of the occupier, and no trees, standing crops, or other private property shall be cut or in any way injured without the consent of the owner thereof.

- (v) The licensee shall make and pay reasonable satisfaction and compensation for all injury which may be done by him in exercise of the powers granted by the license, and shall indemnify the Government against all claims which may be made by third parties in respect of any such damage or injury.
- (vi) The licensee shall not cut or injure any tree on unoccupied and unreserved land without the permission of the Collector in writing.
- (vii) Neither the licensee nor any one claiming through or under him shall grant or assign any interest under the license to any person without the previous consent in writing of the Local Government, or to any Company without the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council.
- (viii) In case of any breach on the part of the licensee of any of the five last preceding clauses, the Collector may summarily revoke the license, and thereupon all rights conferred thereby or enjoyed thereunder shall cease.
- (ix) The licensee shall, within six months next after the determination of the license, or the date of the abandonment of the undertaking, whichever shall first occur, securely plug any bores and fill up or fence any holes or excavations that he may have made in the land to such extent as the Collector may require, and shall to the like extent restore the surface of the land and all buildings thereon which he may have damaged in the course of prospecting; Provided that this clause shall not apply to any land held under a mining lease.
- (x) Should any question or dispute arise regarding the license, or any matter or thing connected therewith, or the powers of the licensee thereunder, or the amount or payment of the rent or royalty made payable thereby, the matter in difference shall be decided by the Local Government, whose decision shall be final.

17. On or before the termination of his license, the licensee hereinafter contained, and satisfied that the prospect-

- (b) in the case of precious stones, to the first offer of such mining lease (if any) as the Governor-General in Council may think fit to grant.

Such lease may include so much land, whether comprising the whole or a part only of the area for which the prospecting license was granted, as shall not exceed the area specified with respect to mining leases in Schedule A annexed to these rules.

Mining Leases.

18. (1) Every application for the grant of a mining lease, not being a lease of a mine of precious stones, shall be presented to the Collector in whose district the land or some part of the land with respect to which the lease is applied for is situate. The Collector shall forward the application through the proper channel to the Local Government

20. No such lease shall be executed until it has been approved by the Advocate-General or other legal adviser, if any, appointed for the Province.

21. Without the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, the length of a block shall not be allowed to exceed four times its breadth, nor shall the same lessee be granted either in the same lease or in separate lease more than one block unless the distance between each two of such blocks is not less than that mentioned in the last column of the said Schedule A.

22. The term for which a mining lease may be granted shall not exceed thirty years, and no covenant for renewal may be inserted in the lease without the sanction of the Governor-General in Council.

23. Every such lease shall contain such conditions and stipulations as the Local Government may in each case consider necessary but shall in every case contain the following conditions, namely:—

- (i) the lessee shall pay a royalty at the rate specified in the lease, which rate shall be that fixed for the particular mineral in Schedule C; and if any other mineral shall be discovered, then royalty shall be paid therefor at such rate, not being less than 20 per cent. of the value thereof, as the Local Government may determine, until a mining lease has been obtained in respect of such mineral; but the lessee shall be entitled to require and obtain such lease for the term then unexpired of his original lease upon the terms hereinbefore mentioned in rule 17;
- (ii) the lessee shall also pay for every year after the first year a fixed yearly dead rent at a rate not less than that laid down in Schedule B; provided that no lessee shall pay both royalty and dead rent in respect of the same lease, but only such one of them as may be the greater in amount;

- (vii) neither the lessee nor any person claiming through or under him shall assign the lease, or underlet the whole or any portion of the premises comprised in such lease, without the previous consent in writing of the Local Government; and no such assignment or under-lease shall be made to a Company without the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council;
- (viii) the lessee shall commence operations within two years from the date of the execution of the lease, and shall thereafter carry them on effectually in a proper, skilful, and mining-like manner, unless prevented by unavoidable cause,
- (ix) the lessee shall keep correct accounts showing the quantity and particulars of all minerals obtained from the mine and the number of persons employed therein, and also complete plans of the mine, and shall allow any officer authorised by the Local Government in that behalf at any time to examine such accounts and plans, and shall furnish the Local Government with such information and returns in respect of the aforesaid matters as it may prescribe;*

- (xiii) in case of any breach on the part of the lessee of any covenant contained in the lease, the Local Government may determine the lease and take possession of the said premises;

* Note.—All information and returns obtained or furnished under this clause shall be treated as strictly confidential.

(xiv) at the end or sooner determination of the lease, the lessee shall deliver up the said premises and all mines (if any) dug therein in a proper state for working ;

(xv) should any question or dispute arise regarding the lease or any matter or thing connected with the mines and minerals leased or the working or non-working thereof, or the amount or payment of the royalty or rent reserved or made payable by the lease, the matter in difference shall be decided by the Local Government, whose decision thereon shall be final.

General Provisions as to Licenses and Leases.

24. No license or lease shall authorise the commencement of any exploration, prospecting or mining in a reserved forest unless previous notice of such intended commencement shall have been given to the District Forest Officer, and such exploration, prospecting, or mining shall be subject to such conditions as the said officer may prescribe.

25. Should the applicant for a prospecting license or mining lease desire the Collector to prepare for him the sketch required by rule 11 (2) (b) or the map required by rule 19 (c), or should the sketch or map presented by the applicant be insufficient, the Collector may prepare the sketch or map required, and may, if he so order, recover the cost from the applicant at a rate not exceeding 4 annas per acre. If the Local Government has prepared a map of a tract of country specially for the convenience of intending applicants for licenses and leases under these rules, and if any applicant makes use of such map for the sketch or map aforesaid, it will be open to the Local Government to recover as above such share of the cost of preparing the map as it may consider to be equitably due from such applicant.

26. If a license or lease is not executed within six months after leave has been granted for it, the right of the applicant to such license or lease shall be held to have lapsed, unless the Local Government, for special reasons, consents to grant the same notwithstanding the delay.

Government of India Revenue and Agricultural Department, No. 2115, dated 25-4-21, 21st September 1892.

With reference to the last clause of rule 20, the following form of mining lease should be adopted so far as it may be applicable to any particular concession. The form has been drafted as for the lease of a coal mine, but, with slight alterations, can be adapted for any other species of mining.

No clause has been inserted answering to rule 23 (vi) of the mining rules, which provides that a lessee shall not cut or injure any tree reserved in the lease. Such a reservation will be of rare occurrence; and when made, must necessarily involve the insertion of a special clause for the protection of the trees in question.

PUBLIC PROPERTY.

State property. Rules regarding—
No 132, dated 10th January 1865.

A case has recently been brought to the notice of the Government of India in which the civil authorities had proposed to cut a railway embankment with the object of letting off flood-waters the overflow of which threatened to cause much damage and loss. District Officers should not order the destruction of any railway embankment or bridge or other large work, whether it be the property of the State or of a private company, without first taking the advice of some responsible professional officer. As a rule, the engineering authorities charged with the control of the work concerned should be consulted.

Land. Acquisition of—for public purposes
No 100, dated 13th December 1879 and
No. 1246
T-133B, dated 4th
May 1893.

WITH reference to para. 3, part I of Board's Circular No.  $\frac{VIII-541}{2}$  dated the 10th December 1875, and to Board's Circular No.  $\frac{VIII-17}{2}$  dated the 28th February 1879, and annexure, it is laid down that before application is made for the acquisition of land for public purposes, the necessity for the appropriation must be clearly established, and an estimate framed of the compensation to be paid and of the revenue to be remitted. It should also be stated that formal acquisition under the Act is considered preferable to purchase by private contract, or that the latter course has been found impracticable. Where easements are found to exist, purchase by private contract should not be adopted, and inquiry should invariably be made into the existence of easements, the result of the inquiry being mentioned in the application for acquisition.

This rule must be observed in every case. Until this information is supplied a notification cannot be issued.

G. O. No. 95
T-593, dated
13th January 1885.

WITH reference to the orders contained in Financial (Decentralization) Department No. 304, dated 2nd June 1884, declaring (i) that it was not the intention of Government to authorize Local Boards, under the orders issued in paragraph 3 of Financial Department Resolution No. 66, dated 29th January 1883, to initiate and carry out projects which cost not more than Rs. 1,000 and which involved appropriation of land entailing remission of land-revenue) and (ii) that the sanction of Government should be obtained to such projects, Commissioners of Divisions are reminded that under orders since issued by the Revenue Department of this Government in a letter (No. 2474, dated 22nd November 1883), to the address of the Board of Revenue, North-Western Provinces, the power of according sanction to the remission of revenue and payment of compensation on account of lands acquired for public purposes by the several Department Revenue.
with the Government as heretofore.

In future all applications for the appropriations of land for public purposes involving remission of revenue will be dealt with in the ordinary manner, i.e., if no objection exists, the applications will, as usual, be sanctioned in the first instance, the necessary notification will then issue, and reference should thereafter be made by the local officer to the Board of Revenue through the Commissioner of the Division, for sanction to the remission of revenue.

With the view of enabling the Board of Revenue properly to check receipts from the alienation of Government land, all Heads of Departments should report to the Board whenever any land taken up for a public purpose is relinquished by their department. In so reporting it will be sufficient to specify the situation and area of the relinquished land.

Relinquishment of land Intimation of—to be given to Board of Revenue.
Circular No 10, Financial, dated 2nd March 1881.

In a recent case it was found necessary to resume from a local body certain land which was originally the property of the State but which had been transferred to the local body free of charge. On its resumption by the State the full value of the land was claimed by the local body as compensation, although the land was no longer required for the purposes for which it had been transferred. As the land had been absolutely vested in the local body the claim could not be resisted.

Transfer of immovable
authority.
Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce, No.
4374, dated 23rd October
1881 and No 549, dated
29th February 1882.

It is expedient to prevent the recurrence of such cases, and the Governor-General is directed that, in future, when any land is transferred to a local body on authority for public purposes, the condition, in addition to any others that may be settled, that, should the property be at any time resumed by the Government, the compensation payable therefor shall in no case exceed the amount (if any) paid to the Government for the grant, together with the cost or their present value, whichever shall be the less, of any buildings erected or other works executed on the land by the local authority.

In cases in which the land is sold to a local body for its full market value as a business transaction, no concession to the local body is involved in the above need not be insisted upon however, no objection to the Local Body being willing to accept the land subject to such a condition.

RATS.

Rats. Destruction of—
No. 34, dated 5th July
1880.

DISTRICT officers should use their utmost influence to induce the zamindárs and cultivators, in whose villages damage is sustained, to eradicate the rats, as far as possible, at the commencement of the rains. It should be explained that, unless they exert themselves then, they must not look for remissions or suspensions of rent or revenue afterwards.

The commonest modes of destroying these animals are as follows :—

(1) Drowning or flooding out (vide memo. from Allahabad Commissioner's office, below).

Where water is available this seems to be the most effective plan.

(2) Smoking them out with charcoal, &c., also effective when properly carried out.

(3) Digging out : easily done in the rains (vide memo. quoted above).

(4) Traps. Some of those found most effective are described below. Further details, if desired, can be obtained from the Collectors of districts in which they have been used.

(5) Poisonous preparations. These are not popular with natives, and have been generally found to be of little use.

(6) Hunting with dogs, &c.

Collectors should advocate the use of such of these as are best suited to local conditions and to the tastes of the people. Castes with special aptitude for the work should be encouraged by the zamindárs to assist, and every endeavour made to ensure that extermination is, as far as possible, complete. Giving rewards is not recommended, and would be unadvisable, except in very extreme cases as a last resource.

I.—REPORT BY THE COLLECTOR OF AGRA, DATED 22ND MARCH 1880.

The zamindárs and cultivators have devised the following means for their destruction :—

A pit in the field was dug, in which an earthen pot with a broad mouth was placed and filled with water mixed with cowdung. Two cross sticks were placed above it, and a piece of bread smeared with asafoetida suspended over it in the middle.

When the rat attempts to spring for the bread, he loses his balance and falls into the pot and is drowned.

This plan, which was adopted in the Pinahat tahsil, was very successful, and 50 rats were estimated to have been destroyed in each trap every day.

I cannot find that there are in this district any class like the Musahars of the eastern districts, whose trade is the destruction of rats and mice, as their name shows. These men have a most effective method of destroying rats. They fill a common ghata with moist straw or dried leaves moistened with water. They then place a live coal among the moistened leaves or straw and make a small hole on the side of the gharak. The mouth of the gharak is placed over the entrance of the rat's burrow, and the Musahar blows with as much strength as he can through the small hole on the side of the gharak. The smoke caused by the live coal acting on the moistened grass is driven through the mouth of the gharak into the rat-holes, and they must either rush out or be suffocated. The confederates of the operator strike them down as they rush out with arhar branches, and kill sometimes twenty and thirty in as many minutes.

II.—MEMO. BY MR. MORE, HEAD ASSISTANT, COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE, ALLAHABAD.

The rains came on, and I then found it very easy to track these pests and destroy them.

I subjoin a diagram showing roughly how field-rats burrow. The circles in the diagram represent the openings on the earth's surface from which the rats issue to feed :

I must explain that a field-rat is not satisfied with digging a single hole from which it issues to feed and to which it returns after feeding. But its onward progress is effected by burrowing. Thus, after destroying the crops within the circle formed with A as centre and  $\frac{1}{2}$  AB as radius, it burrows, in order to proceed to B, from F to G and from G to B, and so on as it advances to C, D, and E.

I found the rains the most suitable time for tracking these vermin, because almost all the holes, except the one in which the rat happens to be at the time, get filled up either by the earth subsiding from the damp and wet or by the surface earth carried by the rain into the holes.

Thus, supposing the rat to have made only the three openings A, B and C on the earth's surface when rain falls and that the rat is at P, he quickly shuts off the channels at H and T, to prevent himself being swamped. He then waits for the rain to cease and the earth to become somewhat dry, when he again commences to burrow from T to S and from S to D. It is always easy in the rain to know with some degree of certainty where a rat is, from the fact that the earth (in the above exemplar) thrown up at D looks fresh and moist. Now is the time to dig at D up to (say) S. Have a chatty of water ready, and having come to S pour in water. Very little is required to bring the rat to the surface when he is easily killed. I killed by these means about 28 rats in a week.

III.—LIST OF TRAPS.

(a) The Deputy Commissioner of Lalitpur brings to notice a plan which some of the zamindárs say they adopted with great success. A large earthen vessel is sunk in the ground, the mouth or top being level with it. This is filled with water to within about six inches of the top, and into this water some "kojon bhusa" or juar husk, to form a sort of raft, is thrown, and on this freshly roasted till spread. The rats, attracted by this bait, jump on to the bhusa or husk and are drowned.

(b) The Collector of Cawnpore reports that some cultivators have used a trap consisting of a flat earthen platter or disc supported by a piece of stick to which is attached a piece of bread.

(c) A trap used in the Agra district is described above.

(d) The Deputy Commissioner, Rae Bareilly, gives the following description of a rat-trap used in his district and said to be very successful:—

It consists in an application of the bow and arrow to rat-catching. The arrow is tied by a string, and so fixed by two small holes through which it passes as not to fly beyond a certain point or except in a certain direction. The line of its short flight lies exactly through the body of any rat that nibbles at the bait. The trap is set by drawing back the string till the mouth of the hole, at bottom of which the bait is placed, is quite open. The arrow and string are braced back by passing the little stick at the other end of the trap over the bowstring at the place where it is tied round the arrow, and fixing the other end of the little stick lightly against the opposite end of the lower and longer stick to that at which the bait is attached.

SCIENTIFIC TERMS TO BE USED IN BOTANIC- ECONOMIC REPORTS.

HIS MAJESTY'S Secretary of State, in drawing attention to the great inconvenience due to the occasional employment in botanic-economic reports published under the authority of Government of obsolete scientific names of plants, desired the uniform use in all such official reports in future of the nomenclature established by Sir Joseph Hooker's "Flora of British India" and the official "Dictionary of the Economic Products of India." Considerable inconvenience has also been caused to the Government of India by the use in official reports generally of vernacular and unscientific names in describing or referring to natural and economic products. His Excellency the Governor-General in Council has therefore issued instructions that economic products, whether plants or not, should be described by the scientific name adopted in the official Dictionary, either used alone or written in brackets after any English or vernacular name which may be employed. The nomenclature of economic plants dealt with in the Dictionary of Economic Products is practically based on the "Flora of British India," to which no further reference need be made in such cases. In the case of economic products, and not, therefore, included in the Dictionary, reference should be made to the Agricultural Department or the botanical authority of the province.

Copies of the Dictionary of the Economic Products of India have been supplied to every district library, and it is hoped that the possession of this work of reference will encourage district officials and those engaged in the compilation of reports in the employment of correct scientific nomenclature.

Use of scientific terms in reports published under the authority of Government.

STATE LANDS.

Lands.

Government of India's
No. 144, dated 6th February 1872.

LANDS to be disposed of will necessarily divide themselves into two classes :—

First—Those which are the property of the State.

Second—Those which, under competent authority, have been constituted the property of a municipality or other local body.

Lands of the first class may be disposed of in various ways :—

First—By sale or exchange for land which is private property at full market value.

Second—By sale on favourable terms to a public body or association or to an individual for a public purpose.

Third—By gift or grant to—

(a) a public body or association or to an individual for a public purpose ;

(b) private individuals in remuneration for public services to be performed ;

(c) by gift, grant or sale to private individuals for their private benefit, without reference to future services.

Government of India's
No.  $\frac{1}{648}$ , dated 31st August 1877.

As regards lands falling into the second of the above classes, which have been under a competent authority constituted the property of a local body, the Government of India will exercise no interference. It will be the duty of Local Governments and Administrations to satisfy themselves that the lands in question have been transferred under proper authority, and this having been ascertained, the sanction of the Local Government or Administration will be sufficient for the disposal of the lands.

As regards lands the property of the State, such of them as are governed by the rules for the grant of waste lands will continue to be dealt with under the rules on this subject in force for the time being.

Government of India's
No 243, dated 22nd March

As regards lands the property of the State (other than waste lands), which are sold for full value or exchanged for land which is private property of equal value, no reference to the Government of India need be made where the full value does not exceed Rs. 10,000. Up to this amount the sanction of the Local Government or Administration will in all cases be sufficient. The amount realized by the sale of the land should invariably be credited to the general revenues, and the sale should be duly noticed in the proceedings of the Local Government or Administration ; but the Local Government may sanction the sale of nazul lands situated beyond the municipal limits in those provinces, and credit the sale proceeds to local funds: provided (1) that the authority thus given shall apply only to the sale of those lands the proceeds of which have, under proper sanction, been hitherto credited to local funds; and (2) that all sale proceeds in excess of Rs. 100 shall either be funded or invested in reproductive works.

As regards the sale of lands on favourable terms for a public purpose, in no case should the recipient pay less than half the full market value of the lands granted; and whenever such full value exceeds the sum of Rs. 1,000 the sanction of the Government of India should be obtained. The amount realized by the sale should be paid to the revenue, and the Local Government or Administration.

As regards the gift, grant, or sale of lands, the previous sanction of the Government of India should be obtained in cases where the value of the grant exceeds Rs. 3,000 when given as a site for the construction of Government schools, hospitals, dispensaries, or other public works, at the cost of recognised local funds; where it exceeds Rs. 500, when given for any other public purpose or to a private individual for

TRIGONOMETRICAL SURVEY STATIONS.

As a rule, the simple measures explained below are sufficient to keep trigonometrical survey stations in a practically efficient state; and the expenditure should not average more than Rs. 4 or 5.

Trigonometrical Survey Stations. Repairs of—
Circular No. 25, dated 20th May 1869 (N.W. P)

It is only special cases—as, for instance, when a station is liable to be wholly swept away by a torrent—that a considerable outlay for its protection would be considered justifiable.

Repairs should be limited to the base line and astronomical stations.

The stations consist of two essentially distinct portions—the central pillar, which contains the mark-stones and on which instruments are placed for observations, and the external walls or platform, which are intended to carry the observatory tent and observers. The pillar is usually from three to four feet in diameter, and is invariably built of pukka materials, and intended to last as long as possible; but the external walls, or platform, are usually constructed of the cheapest materials procurable, for the sake of economy.

The cheaper structures are, of course, liable to give way during the rainy season, but the mass of débris acts as a natural protection to the central pillar and effectually conceals the ground-level markstone from view, which is no small advantage.

The mischief is, that, when an accident of this nature happens, people are liable to fancy that the station is destroyed; and instances have been brought to notice in which, under this supposition, not only the débris of the fallen platform, but the pillar itself, which is usually unaffected by the fall of the platform, have been broken up and carried away for building. But so long as the markstone in the centre of the basement of the pillar remains undisturbed, the utility of the station as a point of reference for surveying purposes remains unimpaired. Hence it is important that a station, even when apparently in ruins, should be cared for and protected from wilful injury.

But though it is not necessary to repair the stones, it is very desirable to take a few simple and inexpensive steps for the protection of the pillars and existing platforms from the weather and the markstones from mischief. Cracks through which water may percolate into the centre of the station should be stopped up with earth and mud; open passages leading to the markstones should be closed with stones or kutchra masonry; and pyramidal piles of earth and stones, with a diameter of about six feet at base and rising to a height of from four to five feet, should be built over the markstones of the stations which are placed on hills and mounds where it has not been necessary to erect towers.

tions should be taken to conduct all rainfall away from the stations; these measures may easily be carried out by the police or the village Chaukidars, under the order of the District Officers. They will probably not cost more, on an average, than Rs. 4 for each station, and will be paid for as the bills are received.

Paras. 711, 712, Oudh Digests. Circular No. 74 of 1867 (Oudh only).

Injury to the markstones should be reported to the Superintendent, Trigonometrical Survey, to whom an annual report on the state of the trigonometrical stations should also be submitted.

dated 23rd December 1893.

The grant of furlough to Cantonment Magistrates holding office under the new rules will, during the first five years of the period of their substantive service, be regulated by military rules, as in the case of Cantonment Magistrates under the five years' rule. After the expiry of five years, they will become subject to the civil leave rules. Officers appointed to the Judge-Advocate General's Department under the new rules will again become subject to military furlough rules.

Officers will be allowed to serve up to the age of 55 years.

G. I. H. D. No. 824,
dated 27th July 1894.

Those who were appointed to the Civil Department on or after the 1st November 1887, and have been removed from the effective list of the Army under Article 230, Army Regulations, India, Volume I, Part I, will, in accordance with Article 1353 of the same Regulations, be required to retire from the service on being superannuated under the civil rules.

Officers appointed to the Civil Department between 1st April 1884 and the 1st November 1887, and removed from the effective list of the Army under article 230, Army Regulations, India, Volume I, Part I, will, on superannuation from civil employ, be allowed the option of electing to remain in the service under the terms of that article.

All other officers will come under article 346, Army Regulations, India, Volume I, Part I.

The new rules of pay apply to the following officers from the date of their election. EXISTING orders require that a military officer seeking employment as a Cantonment Magistrate should be a member of the Staff Corps, and before appointment to the Staff Corps he must have qualified by the higher standard in the vernacular. Candidates for appointment as Cantonment Magistrates are required to pass a preliminary test examination, and after appointment the prescribed examination by the higher standard (vide Department VII, Judl. THE Governor-General in Council is pleased to lay down the following rules regarding the examinations to be passed by candidates for appointment to the Department and by Cantonment Magistrates:—

Government of India, Home
 Department Resolution
 No. <sup>15</sup> 1508-77 dated 23rd
 November 1894.

I.—The Preliminary Examination which was prescribed in Home Department Resolution No. <sup>7-Judicial</sup> 1095-1106, dated the 10th August 1889, will be retained. This examination is the same in all Provinces, and is equivalent in difficulty to the corresponding portion of the Lower Standard for junior members of the Indian Civil Service; it consists of the following subjects only:—

The Indian Penal Code	...	} with books.
The Indian Evidence Act	...
The	...
of Civil Procedure	...
first Schedule of Act X of 1858	...	} without books.
The Police Act	...
The Cantonments Act and Rules	...

It will be held as hitherto under the orders of the different Local Governments. It must be passed in the province in which the candidate is serving either temporarily as a Cantonment Magistrate or with troops at the time of the examination.

II.—An officer who has not passed the Preliminary Examination will not be appointed to act as a Cantonment Magistrate for a period of more than three months unless in exceptional circumstances.

III.—The Preliminary Examination is hereby declared to be equivalent to the Departmental Lower Standard Examination. A candidate for the Cantonment Magistrates' Department who passes the Preliminary Examination previous to appointment will not be required to pass the Lower Standard Examination; he will on appointment be treated for purposes of pay as having passed that standard. Any officer who may be appointed to act as a Cantonment Magistrate without having passed the Preliminary Examination will be required to pass the Lower Standard Examination.

IV.—In Home Department Resolution No. 7-Judicial 1095—1106, dated the 10th August 1889, it was left to Local Governments to decide upon the character of the Higher Standard Examination to be passed by Cantonment Magistrates subsequent to appointment. This arrangement, in qualifying for the Higher Standard which he is serving, he must pass by the Higher Standard, or by such other test as may have been specially sanctioned by the Government of India, in the vernacular of the Province. A Cantonment Magistrate who has passed the language examination in one province, will, on transfer to another province, be required to pass in the language* of the province to which he is transferred. Should a Cantonment Magistrate fail to pass within 18 months of his transfer, he will be entitled to no increase of salary until he does pass.

Military Officers. Temporary services of—how to be obtained? Home Department No. 1076, dated 5th August 1891.

Paragraph 276 of Army Regulations, India, Vol. II, directs when Local Governments require the services of a Military Officer to fill a temporary civil vacancy such as that of Cantonment Magistrate, for any period not exceeding three months, they may apply to the General Officer Commanding the district in which the officer is serving, who, before giving the officer's services, will refer to Army Headquarters for approval. In emergent cases, however, General Officers Commanding are empowered to place an officer's services at the disposal of a Local Government without previous reference to Army Headquarters; a report being made to the Adjutant-General of the name of the officer thus placed at the disposal of the Local Government.

No person, other than a native of India,* shall be appointed to an office † carrying a salary of Rs. 200 a month, or upwards, without the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council in each case, unless the proposed appointment falls under one or other of the following conditions, namely :—

(a) that the person to be appointed belongs to the Covenanted Civil Service or to the Staff Corps.

(b) that the person to be appointed was originally nominated to the—

(1) Financial Department by the Governor-General after examination ;

(2) Forest Department by the Secretary of State, or by the Governor-General, after examination ; or

(3) Educational Department by the Secretary of State :

(c) that the person to be appointed entered the branch of the Department in which he is now to be promoted before the 1st January 1879.

(d) that the office to which appointment is to be made belongs to—

(1) the Opium Department,

(2) the Salt or Customs Department,

(3) the Survey Department,

(4) the Mint Department,

(5) the Public Works Department, or

(6) the Police Department.

* The words "native of India" include any person born and domiciled within the dominions of Her Majesty in India of parents habitually resident in India, and not established there for temporary purposes only : provided that "persons born and domiciled," &c. within the territories of Indian Princes tributary to, or in alliance with, Her Majesty, shall also be considered to be "natives of India" (33 Vic. Cap 3, sec. 6)

Appointment of Europeans, &c.

Art. 773 (a), chap. 35, Vol. II, C.A. Code.

No person, other than a member of the Covenanted Civil Service, shall be appointed for the first time to any office which is usually reserved for the members of that service without the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council.

When sanction is sought to a proposed appointment under either of the two foregoing paragraphs, the application for such sanction should show—

- (a) the education and past history of the person whom it is proposed to appoint; and
- (b) the reason why a native of India (or in the case of appointments under paragraph 4, a member of the Covenanted Civil Service) cannot conveniently be appointed to the vacant office.

Though the six departments named under clause (d) above are excluded from the operation of the present orders, the Governor-General in Council does not wish that offices in these departments should be filled by Europeans; and hopes that it may be possible to fill them more and more freely with natives.

G. I. H. D. No. 11, dated 25th January 1893.

Local Governments may make temporary appointments of Europeans on an emergency without obtaining the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, but the discretion as to confirming an order making such a temporary appointment is vested in the Governor-General in Council, and any temporary appointment made on the ground of emergency should be reported for his confirmation immediately on its being made.

G. I. H. D. No. 4, dated 20th May 1884.

Under standing rule the appointment of persons not being natives of India to the superior graded service of the Educational Department rests with Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India.

Service in India. Engagement of individuals in the United Kingdom for—

Home Department Circular No. 33-1884 74, dated 25th November 1875

Ditto No. 14, Education, dated 11th January 1872.

In all cases in which it is desired to engage individuals in the United Kingdom for service in India the nomination must rest with the Secretary of State. In any case, however, where there are special reasons why a particular person, who is in England, should be selected by him for appointment, the proper course is for the Governor-General in Council or the Secretary of State in Council interested to communicate officially of the circumstances in India to the Secretary of State in Council in the event of a Local Government proposing a particular candidate. The matter should be represented demi-officially to the Government of India, in order that they may communicate in the same way with the Secretary of State.

No Medical Officer who entered the service before 1864 or after the 1st April 1867, is allowed to obtain civil employment, either temporary or permanent, until he has passed in Hindustani by the Lower Standard.

Assistant Surgeons on the Imperial or Supernumerary list (i.e., those who have not been provincialised) are in all matters, except those connected with their temporary employment under a Local Government, under the orders of the Government of India; and all questions regarding them, with the above exception, should be referred by the local Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals to the Surgeon-General with the Government of India.

In the event of the resignation of an Assistant Surgeon being accepted, the fact will be notified by the Surgeon-General with the Government of India in Part II of the Gazette of India.

Government of India No. 275, dated 21st May, 1881.

Transfers of Assistant Surgeons to other provinces should not be made without the sanction of the Government of India.

THE Bengal Medical Regulations, 1851, Chapter XL, paragraphs 6-11, ruled that Assistant Surgeons were to be professionally examined on the completion of septennial periods of service, to test their fitness for advancement to the higher grades. Appointments. Distinction between gazetted and non-gazetted. Home Department Resolution No 35 Pub 1701—1718, dated 8th November 1893.

No general principle has hitherto been prescribed to regulate the distinction between gazetted and non-gazetted appointments, but the term "gazetted officer" is generally held to apply to an officer whose appointment is gazetted by Government and not by the Head of a Department.

It has been decided by the Governor-General in Council that the broad line of demarcation between gazetted and non-gazetted officers should be that which separates the Provincial from the Subordinate Service (in Provinces, should be held to be gazetted officers within the meaning of the Civil Service Regulations; while members of the Subordinate Service should not come within that category, even if their appointments are published in the Gazette. It is accordingly directed that as a general rule, and except in very special cases, such as that of Munsifs in the Madras Presidency, who are gazetted by the High Court, all appointments which it is decided to include in the Provincial Service shall be gazetted by the Local Government, and ng of the Civil

partments who Local Govern-

ment. In Provinces where the powers delegated to Heads of Departments elsewhere in respect of the latter class of appointments are exercised by the Head of the Administration himself, appointments of officers in the Subordinate Service shall, if gazetted, be notified in that part of the Gazette in which notifications of heads of Departments appear. Thus Tahsildars would be gazetted in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh by the Board of Revenue and in the Panjab by the Financial Commissioners, while Mamlatdars would be gazetted in Bombay by the Commissioners. On the other hand, in Bengal and the Central Provinces, where the correspondents (Tahsildars) themselves, the Government, will be notified under a separate heading relating to the Subordinate Service, together with appointments made by Heads of Departments.

The case of officers serving in other Departments, such as Medical, Registration, Police or Jails, should be governed by the same rule; that is to say, where Government makes the appointment it should gazette, and only appointments so made should be recognised as gazetted. Civil Service Regulations should gazette appointments subject to the orders of the Local Government which it may think it expedient to lay down.

1. Director General of the Post Office.
2. Commissioner of Northern India, Salt Revenue Department.
3. Surveyor-General of India.
4. Director-General of the Geological Survey of India.
5. Inspector-General of Forests.
6. Director-General of Railways.
7. Director-General of Telegraphs.
8. Accountant-General, Public Works Department.
9. Surgeon-General with the Government of India.
10. Director-General of Military Works.

It is the practice for the Heads of Imperial Departments named in the margin to issue notifications relating to officers serving under them in Part II of the Gazette of India. These orders are not intended to take away these powers; nor do they render officers so gazetted non-gazetted officers.

Uncovenanted Ministerial appointments.
Gazetting of—India's No 2127, dated the 30th November 1877.

Local Governments and Administrations shall not gazette any uncovenanted ministerial officers below the rank of chief of the Secretariat—that is, Assistant Secretary or Assistant to the Secretary, but not Registrar or Departmental Head Assistant.

G. G. O. No. 221, dated
6th February 1878.

The object of this rule is to prevent the gazetting of the ministerial head of an office by whatever name he may be called. For the purposes of this resolution the term Assistant Secretary or Assistant to the Secretary should be understood to refer only to special appointments other than the ministerial head of an office which may be created under either of those names by the authority of the Government of India to meet exceptional cases.

DEPUTY COLLECTORS.

Deputy Collectors.
Appointment and recruitment of—
Resolution No. 1889

dated 12th July 1893.

WITH reference to the rules to regulate admission to the North-Western Provinces and Oudh Provincial Civil Service on pages 5 to 8 of this Manual, the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner is pleased to issue the following additional instructions regarding the appointment of Deputy Collectors, whether by promotion from the Subordinate Service or by recruitment of persons not already in Government service

In making appointments under this rule, the Lieutenant-Governor is prepared to receive nominations from the following Heads of Departments :—

The Board of Revenue.

The Inspector-General of Police.

The Director of Public Instruction.

The Chief Engineer, Irrigation Branch.

The Accountant-General.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor does not propose at present to restrict the number of nominations which the Board may make in any year. The Board should, however, bear in mind that the total number of appointments by average of nine, and of these the nomination of the other Heads. The Board will ordinarily select their nominees from Tahsildárs, but they may include in their list a few Head Clerks of English offices and Treasury Head Clerks whose knowledge of office routine is considered specially to qualify them for service as Treasury Officers.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor will for the present receive one nomination a year from the Inspector-General of Police and from the Director of Public Instruction, and one nomination every second year from the Chief Engineer of the Irrigation Branch of the Public Works Department and from the Accountant-General. In the case of the latter officer, the appointment of his nominee will be subject to the understanding that he will give promotion in his office to a Treasury Clerk selected by him from one of the district treasury offices.

5. Candidates nominated for service as Treasury Officers either by the Board of Revenue or by the Accountant-General will, on nomination, be allowed to appear at the departmental examination in Vernacular and in Treasury Procedure and Accounts, and will be required to pass by the prescribed standards in those subjects before they are appointed.

6. The qualifications indispensable in the case of candidates who are not already in Government service are enumerated in Rule 6. As an experimental measure, in order to provide an opening for graduates of the Universities, the Lieutenant-Governor is prepared for the present to set apart three probationary Deputy Collectorships (vide rule 8) yearly to be filled by selection from graduates nominated by the Principals of Government and aided colleges in accordance with the following rules.

7. The six largest colleges in these provinces will be divided into the two groups—

 Meer Central College
 Queen's College, Benares
 Muhammadan Anglo-Oriental College, Aligarh.

 Canning College.
 Bareilly College.

Every alternate year six nominations will be received from each group, each Principal nominating two candidates. Nominations will be received from group (a) in 1894 and from group (b) in 1895. In addition to the colleges named above, the Principal of St. John's College, Agra, and of any other college or collegiate school in the provinces educating up to the degree of B.A. may every alternate year nominate one candidate. The candidates must in all cases be graduates of an University, and must have proceeded to their B.A. degree from the college by the Principal of which they are nominated.

8. Printed forms of nomination will be furnished on application to the Principal of each college, which will enable Government to ascertain that the candidate possesses the qualifications required by the rules. Nominations will be submitted by the Principals in January of each year to the Secretary to Government in the Appointment Department, and will be referred to a Committee of Selection consisting of one Member of the Board of Revenue, the Chief Secretary to Government, and the Director of Public Instruction.

The nomination committee is to the names of but it is open to the Principals of their colleges to nominate again, provided they are not disqualified by age or other cause. It shall be open to the Committee to refuse to select any of the nominees if they consider them all to be unsuitable candidates.

Deputy Collectors.
Procedure for administering the staff of—

No. <sup>1762</sup> II-62811 dated 19th
May 1894.

The following instructions explain the mode in which the Government desires to deal with the appointment, posting, transfer, leave, promotion and retirement of Deputy Collectors.

The sanctioned staff of permanent Deputy Collectors is 140. Assuming that there will be at the least 12 vacancies each year, these permanent posts will be filled as follows :—

Three posts will be reserved for Probationary Deputy Collectors who have passed the departmental examination.

Three posts a year will be reserved for nominees of Heads of Departments, other than the Board of Revenue, who have completed their probation and passed the departmental examination.

In both these cases Government will ordinarily, before confirming a Probationary Deputy Collector, consult the Commissioner of the Division in which the probationer has been employed.

The remaining six posts or more will be filled on the nomination of the Board of Revenue. The Board will select from Probationary Deputy Collectors those who are entitled to promotion to the permanent grade.

The Board will each year in February, and oftener if necessary, prepare by divisions a list of Tahsildárs, Head Clerks and other Revenue officials, whom they consider fitted to act as Deputy Collectors for each Commissioner, and to act as Deputy Collectors unless his name appears in the list of the knowledge of English and Clerks whom the Board consider likely to become efficient Treasury Officers are permitted to present themselves at the departmental examinations in order to qualify in treasury and accounts, and their names should not be included in the Board's list until they, by passing the examination, are fitted to hold charge of a treasury.

Department of the Secretariat will, in correspondence with Commissioner of the Division, keep a list of the staff of increase of the sanctioned scale. But it must be remembered that there is no reserve of Deputy Collectors. The reserve of the Provincial Service consists of those Revenue officials who have been approved by the Board as candidates for acting appointments. The Board will, as heretofore, apply for the conferment of second class magisterial powers on Tahsildars admitted to their list, and these officers will ordinarily receive first class powers soon after their appointment to act as Deputy Collectors but it may not be practi-

Commissioners to recommend transfers of their own divisions or outside them.

Commissioners can conveniently consider during their cold weather tours whether for reasons of health, long residence in one district, or other cause, the transfer of an officer to another part of the province is desirable. Exchanges will then be arranged. Transfers may also be proposed in October and in urgent cases at any time. In making recommendations, Commissioners will consider the home of the officer and the districts in which he has previously served, so that he may be posted to a division in which he will be most useful. Frequent transfers should be avoided: it is to take the necessary action.

Covenanted Officers are directed to send demi-official intimation to the Secretariat of their intention to apply for leave during the

All applications for exemption of Tahsildárs officiating as Deputy Collectors from the departmental examination must be made to the Board through the Collectors and Commissioners.

Deputy Collectors are forbidden to address Government direct on the subject of their leave, transfer or promotion. Communications on these matters must be addressed through the Collectors concerned to the Commissioners of Divisions, who will submit them to Government.

The selection of Deputy Collectors or Tahsildárs for settlement work or special duty connected with the land revenue will, as heretofore, remain in the hands of the Board.

LEAVE AND TRANSFERS.

APPLICATIONS for leave should be submitted by officers in letters, post paid, through the Accountant-General.

Under article 590 of the Civil Service Regulations, 2nd edition, an application for privilege leave should not be made more than six weeks before the leave is wanted. Covenanted officers who purpose to ask for privilege leave in the hot season or the rains, should apprise the Chief Secretary to Government demi-officially of their intention by the 1st April of each year, and should submit their official applications at least one month before the leave is wanted.

The Government of India has ruled that as frequent changes in a Magistrate-Collector should, as a rule, be kept in the same district for not less than five years; that, except in special circumstances, an officer on return from furlough should ordinarily be posted to the same district to his rank and on his return from furlough should be allowed to weigh in the question of how his services can best be utilised with the least possible disturbance of existing arrangements; and that more power should be given to Local Governments to regulate the times of the leave with that officers, mutually, when upon any officer the Local Government

ADDRESSES AND TESTIMONIALS.

THE Governor-General in Council desires to invite renewed attention to the subject, and to impress on all concerned the duty of exact obedience to these regulations.

The rules do not apply to receipt of addresses by the Head of any Government or Administration.

Rules regarding—
Home Department No.
1023 45, dated 22nd July
1897.

RULES.

SAVE as in these rules otherwise provided, all servants of Government, covenanted or uncovenanted, are forbidden to receive complimentary or valedictory addresses in any form; or to accept testimonials of any kind; or to attend public meetings or complimentary entertainments of a formal and public character held in their honor.

2. The Government views with disfavour all similar manifestations in the case of retired officers, when following immediately upon their retirement from active service, and designed as an acknowledgment of acts done by them while in the service of Government.

entertainment supported by his personal friends, even though some of these may be his official subordinates. But it is expected that the proceedings on such occasions will be substantially of a private and informal character.

4. Local Governments and Administrations are authorised to forward to an officer who has left a station or district the resolution of any local public body recording a vote of thanks to him for help and advice afforded during his official connection with the station or district.

5. Medical officers are not prohibited from receiving pecuniary recognition of their services from a community or body of persons which may desire to acknowledge these, but the previous sanction of the Local Government or Administration must be obtained by medical officers before receiving any public complimentary address.

6. Nothing in the above rules is meant to prohibit compliance with the request of a public body that a Government officer should sit for his portrait, bust, or statue in recognition of his public services : provided that the portrait, bust, or statue is not intended for presentation to the officer concerned.

7. The participation of Government officers in the raising of funds for the foundation of scholarships, or for procuring a portrait, bust, or statue as a spontaneous recognition of the services of a Government officer is not forbidden ; but it should be clearly understood that any solicitation on the part of officers of Government for subscription from any person who does not voluntarily come forward to contribute is disapproved by the Government of India.

8. The previous sanction of the Government of India must be obtained to the relaxation of these rules in any special case in which the Local Government or Administration may think this desirable.

ADMINISTRATION.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

COPIES of all orders passed on the remarks recorded by Commissioners and Collectors on progress reports will invariably be sent to these officers for information.

Resolution No. 1676A,
dated 26th September
1876.

In considering the claims of Executive and District Engineers to promotion, His Honor desires that promotion-rolls be first sent to Commissioners, who should record on them their opinion of the administrative (as distinguished from the professional) qualifications of the officers concerned.

When projects, the outlay on which is debitable to local funds (municipal or otherwise) are submitted to Superintending Engineers for professional approval, no alterations or modifications involving any increase of expenditure beyond the amount proposed to be allotted should be allowed by them without the express consent of the committee (or other local authority) concerned.

MISCELLANEOUS.

To the Magistrate and Collector of a district will in future be delegated full authority as to appointment, promotion, suspension and dismissal, in regard to all subordinate employes whose salary does not exceed Rs. 30 per mensem. Orders of appointment and promotion will be subject to veto on special grounds by the Commissioner; suspensions and dismissals will be made subject to appeal to Commissioner, except where (as in the case of kanungos) the express sanction of higher authority is required. In all cases of over Rs. 30 per mensem, the sanction of the Commissioner is essential.

Extended to Outh by Circular, No 514, dated 10th September 1877.

The Commissioner of Excise will be authorized in his own department to sanction the appointment, promotion, suspension and dismissal of ungazetted excise subordinates drawing more than Rs. 30 per mensem, and to exercise in regard to all others a power of veto; an appeal lying from his orders to the Board of Revenue.

ARCHÆOLOGY.

Antiquarian remains.
Instructions for preservation of—in India.
No 924, dated 21st April 1879.

THE subject naturally divides itself into two branches—

I—the protection of buildings which are still standing, or the ruins of which are above ground and visible ;

II—the preservation of antiquarian remains now buried in the ground, which are discovered in the course of excavation.

In regard to objects of the first class, the duty of district officers is clear ; but to prevent any misapprehension, the following instructions are issued for their guidance :—

(a) District officers should at once assure themselves that the list of old structures of interest is complete, and that every object is entered in them, which, as a specimen of ancient work, it is desirable to protect.

(b) Definite arrangements should be made for the protection of each work entered in the list.

(c) In some cases, there are special guardians interested in the protection of the buildings to whose care they may be left. But where there are none, the district officer should endeavour to enlist the services of the principal proprietor or proprietors of the land on which the building or the ruins stand ; should impress on them the importance attached by the Government to their preservation, and

(d) There may be special cases in which these measures will not be adequate to prevent injury of the building may justify :
ement for due protection.
submit his recommendation, through the Commissioner, for the orders of Government.

(e) The more important buildings should be inspected and reported on annually by an officer of the Public Works Department, in order that, if necessary, suitable measures may be taken to prevent their falling into a ruinous condition.

In regard to remains of the second class, other arrangements must be made. Valuable remains of old buildings or objects of art, which are buried in the ground, may properly be held to come within the scope of the definition of treasure, under Act VI of 1878 ; and when they are discovered, they ought to be dealt with under the provisions of that Act, as far as they are applicable. It is impossible to catalogue all the places in which excavation is likely to lead to the discovery of interesting remains; but there are certain well-known places in many districts, the sites of old ruined cities and buildings, which have this character. A list of such sites should be prepared, and unauthorized excavation should be prohibited and steps taken to prevent it. The proprietors of the soil and the chaukidars of neighbouring villages should be informed of the prohibition, and required to give information of any attempts to disregard it. It should be made generally known to the police, the revenue officials, and the people generally, that Government considers it of importance that old works of art, sculptures, inscriptions, &c., discovered in excavating the soil, should be reported and preserved, until at least they have been examined by competent persons; and further that, if they are found to be of value, a small reward or some mark of the favour of Government will be bestowed on the finder or the informer.

When contracts are given for making excavations for large public works, special care should be taken to remind contractors of their responsibility for reporting the discovery of any such remains and preserving them from injury.

THE following rules are to be strictly observed whenever carriage is supplied to regiments on the march by the civil local authorities:—

I.—When a regiment or detachment is about to march, not less than 15 days' notice is to be given to the district officer, with a full detail of the quantity of carriage required. Carriage is not to be supplied by the district officer except on a regular indent countersigned by the commanding officer.

II.—The indent for the carriage required for that portion of the men's baggage for the conveyance of which Government is responsible must be invariably distinct from the indent for the carriage required for the rest of the men's baggage and for that of the officers. Each indent must state distinctly whether the charges for the carriage indented for will be paid by the State or by the troops themselves, so that there may be no question as to the quarter from which payment is to be claimed. The indenting officer is

V.—A uniform rate of 7 annas a day for each bullock employed shall be charged in all divisions except that of Kumaun, to be calculated from the date on which the carriage is taken up to the date of discharge, both inclusive. There will be no charge for return hire, and full hire will be charged for halts.

He will also be responsible that the carriage is not overladen; that the animals are not overdriven; and that the parties in charge are properly treated.

Supply of forage for troops on march.
Circular No. 33A, dated 19th August 1870.

DISTRICT officers should arrange that the grasscutters of regiments on the march may, on arrival at encamping-grounds, be directed to the best places in the neighbourhood for cutting grass.

Private property must of course be respected, but there is usually abundance of grass on the sides of the roads and other public places which can be made available for the regimental grasscutters.

On receiving the move, the officer commanding Collectors or Political date on which the corps or detachment will arrive at each stage on the march, noticing the places at which it will halt for one or more days; this communication will be accompanied by an indent for supplies in the prescribed form.

Officers indenting for more than is required for the use of their camp will be held responsible for any loss which may accrue to the suppliers.

CARRIAGE should not be supplied except to commanding officers, and strictly in accordance with the standing orders on the subject.

THE attention of all district officers is requested to the rules . . . Passages, 151, and . . . Carriage is to be obtained by regimental authorities from the Commissariat, and permit, under the conditions therein laid down (paragraph 96), of the Commissariat applying to the civil authorities for assistance.

The position of the Commissariat Department is that, on occasions of this sort, it utilises all Government carriage that may Beyond . . . and hence . . . able to . . . The Commissariat Department is, however, bound to make its own arrangements for carriage when this is possible, the aid of the civil authorities being called in only when difficulty is experienced in its provision.

Provision has been made in the Army Regulations [paragraph 96, clauses (f) and (g)] for the ease of troops leaving one district for another, and arrangements should be made for the relief of the carts, if necessary, by the civil authorities passing on the requisition to those in the adjoining districts.

THE Government of India, under instructions from the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, having sanctioned the gradual introduction of young men of family and of warlike races into the Native Army with direct commissions, it was directed that all applications for such direct commissions be submitted to Government through the Commissioner of the Division; and that, when called on by the Military authorities, the District Officers should furnish direct the descriptive rolls of candidates for direct commissions.

In quoting any Government Order under reply, great care must be taken to give the numbering correctly in full, e.g., G. O. No.  $\frac{21}{x-10-5}$ . If former correspondence is referred to, a Government order should, if possible, be quoted, and not the last letter from the corresponding officer.

It having come to the notice of the Government of India that Government officials in India have addressed official communications direct to (1) officials in the United Kingdom, Continental Europe, and the Colonies, and (2) communications being irregular, the persons mentioned should be made through the channel of the Government of India and Her Majesty's Secretary of State.

These orders do not refer to the Local Government, nor to correspondence with Consular or Diplomatic officers; nor do they supersede the orders contained in Financial Department Resolution No. 3512 of the 16th October 1883 (vide pages 104—XII, Miscellaneous, Vol. II of this Manual) regarding correspondence with the Director-General of Stores at the India Office.

Circular No. 796

dated 10th November 1881.

The following instructions have been issued for filling up the printed form of docket and letter which is prescribed for use in all correspondence with the Government:—

- (1) The Government should invariably be addressed by letter and not by docket or endorsement.
- (2) On page 1 of the docket, the following particulars only should be entered:—
  - (a) the designation of the correspondent officer;
  - (b) the number and date of his letter, and the number of enclosures or spare copies, if any;
  - (c) A carefully prepared abstract of the contents of the letter, which should be as full as is consistent with brevity.
- (3) Nothing should be written below (this space being reserved for office notes and orders), i. e., on the lower half of page 1 and the whole of page 2 of the docket.
- (4) On page 3 the letter of the correspondent officer should be written, and in cases where the matter extends over this page, it should be carried on to the next. Extra pages may be stitched on when the communication is of great length, but care should be taken to provide a margin as in the printed form.

A form is also prescribed for all applications for leave. No special instructions for filling it up are necessary. The entries on the docket (page 1) will be the same as those on the ordinary docket form. All the forms are to be procured from the Government Press on indent.

Packing. Method of—India's No 3721, dated 24th
October 1881.

WAXCLOTH is often used for the outer covering of articles intended for transmission by post. The postage stamps are affixed either to this outer covering or to the inside covering, which is generally of paper. In the one case the stamps do not adhere properly to the covering material, and are therefore liable to fall off; and in the other the outer covering is required to be cut open by the post-office at the point where stamps are affixed, for the purpose of defacing the stamps under the rules of the Postal Department, and thus the object of protecting the article from rain or damp by the use of waxcloth is frustrated.

In some parts of the country, especially during the rains, the use of waxcloth for the transmission of articles by post may be indispensable. But when in such cases it is used, its use as an inside covering only is desirable.

THE Governor-General in Council has decided that all letters or communications addressed to Her Majesty the Queen-Empress of India, or to members of the Royal Family, or to high officials of Her Majesty's Government in England, by public bodies or associations in British India, or by individuals resident in British India, shall in future be sent through Local Governments and Administrations to the Home Department for transmission to their destination.

Home Department Notification No. 1377, dated 23rd June 1887.

The receipt of letters otherwise transmitted will not be acknowledged.

THE following instructions are issued regarding correspondence with Government:—

Correspondence with Government

In all cases in which correspondence comes before the Government, it is desirable that there should be no difficulty in ascertaining who the actual writer of each letter is. The name of the writer as well as his official designation should therefore be specified in all cases in which the letter is not actually signed by him. This principle should be acted on not only in the cases referred to below, but universally. For example, copies of letters are frequently forwarded to the Government by Commissioners, or Heads of Departments, headed "copy of letter from the Collector of C——." In such cases the name of the Collector should be given.

Circular No. 177
dated 20th February 1885.

These directions should be observed in correspondence generally, and not only in correspondence with Government.

(For correspondence regarding building see "Public Buildings")

All officers must consider themselves responsible for the matter and style of official letters issued in their names, and are expected to sign their letters with their own hand and not with a rubber stamp. The only exceptions to this rule are when an officer is physically incapacitated from writing his name, or when he is absent from headquarters, in which latter case, to save delay, a subordinate is allowed to sign for him.

dated 18th May 1882.

THE following rules are prescribed regulating the issue of circulars to subordinate officers by Heads of Departments:—

1. All circulars addressed to subordinate officers by Heads of Departments must, before issue, be submitted to Government for sanction, unless—

- (1) they deal with matters of mere routine ;
- (2) they call attention to existing rules or orders ;
- (3) they give effect to specific instructions of Government, and are issued in pursuance of such instructions.

2. Copies of all circulars issued by Heads of Departments on their own authority should be submitted to Government for information at the time of issue.

DISTRICT OFFICERS.

Confidential memorandum to be prepared by officers giving over charge of a district.

Circular No. 53, dated 22nd May 1879.

EVERY officer who shall leave a district of which he has been in charge for more than a year, on transfer, furlough or retirement, shall record, for the use of his successor, a carefully prepared and exhaustive memorandum, noting therein all points of which it is important that his successor should be informed.

The remarks will be recorded in a confidential book to be kept for the purpose; additions being made by each successive officer who shall have held charge of the district for the prescribed term.

Although an officer, whose tenure of charge has not exceeded one year, is not required to record a memorandum of the kind referred to, there is no bar to his doing so; and he should not fail to do so if he is in possession of information which will, in his opinion, prove of value to his successor in office.

The subjects to which attention should be specially directed in these memoranda are the working of the police; the manner in which the incidence of the land revenue assessment affects the district; the portions which require particular care on the occurrence of drought or high prices; any special offence to which any portion of the ordinary population or criminal tribes of the district are addicted; and the working of municipal and district committees.

In addition to this, should be carefully recorded the names and character of the more important native gentlemen or headmen of the district; their activity or supineness in the suppression of crime, and any special services which they may be fitted to render to the Government in case these should be required of them. Existing rules provide for a record of the qualifications and services of the ministerial officers of a district, and this record must be duly kept up.

Official business by—Transaction of—
No. 146, dated 5th October 1879.

ALL judicial work should be taken up and disposed of at kutcherry.

2. Reports at the hearing of which parties may appear or which affect the interests of particular individuals should be heard in kutcherry.

3. All other reports may be heard and disposed of as may be found most convenient by district officers, but as far as possible the attendance of a particular ministerial officer at private residences should be discouraged.

4. District officers should make it a rule to attend kutcherry daily at some fixed and known hour, as far as this is possible with reference to their duties generally.

In regard to points (1), (2) and (3), Commissioners should observe the same procedure as district officers; and they should satisfy themselves from time to time that the practice of their district officers conforms to the instructions now issued.

Much of the work devolving on district officers is of such a kind as can best and most conveniently be done at home; and in view of the onerous duties devolving on them, no hard-and-fast rules are laid down for rigid observance. But the above instructions—if carried out in their spirit and intention—should not seriously incommode any officer in the discharge of his duty.

DOGS.

Killing of—
dated 17th July 1874.

COMPLAINTS having reached Government that dogs are not unfrequently killed in a manner which offends the humane feelings of the people, it is intimated to Magistrates that while it is not the wish of Government to interfere with their discretion in the matter, it is trusted that care will be taken that no cause for such complaints will be given in future.

General rules applicable to all candidates.

I.—A candidate for admission to compete in England for the Indian Civil Service is required before leaving India to obtain a certificate of age and nationality signed, should he be a resident in British India, by the Secretary to Government of the province, or the Commissioner of the division, within which his family resides; or, should he reside in a Native State, by the highest Political Officer accredited to the state in which his family resides.

If resident within a Native State, he must signify his desire, in like manner, to the highest Political Officer accredited to the state within which his family resides. The officer to whom the application is made shall forward it for the purpose of enquiry to the Magistrate of the district or Political Officer of the state in which the applicant's family resides.

IV.—The Magistrate or Political Officer to whom such application has been forwarded shall call upon the candidate to appear and give evidence of the date and place of his birth and of his nationality within one month. He will carefully examine into the value of the evidence given, and forward a summary of it, with certified copies of all documents tendered, and his comments and opinion, to the officer who forwarded the application to him for enquiry.

V.—The documentary evidence which a candidate may, be expected to produce comprises—

- (a)—The horoscope.

(d)—The record of admission in the registers of the school in which the candidate was educated, and record of the candidate's age at various periodical school examinations.

(e)—If the candidate is matriculated, a certified copy of his application to the Registrar in Form A.

Oral testimony of persons acquainted with the candidate's family, or otherwise able to give relevant evidence, will also be taken; and the candidate is required to comply, to the best of his power, with any requisition the Magistrate or Political Officer, as the case may be, may make in order to clear up any doubt as to the purport of the documentary proof.

VI.—Any declaration of age made after the application of these rules on the occasion of seeking admission to any university examination, educational institution, or Government office, or otherwise recorded in a formal and deliberate manner, will be taken as conclusive evidence in disproof of the subsequent assertion by the same person that he is of different age to that so declared or recorded.

Rules to apply to candidates born in Her Majesty's dominions.

VII.—If the Secretary to Government, Commissioner of a division, or the highest Political Officer accredited to the state, as the case may be, shall be satisfied by the papers submitted that the candidate has stated the date and place of his birth correctly, he will issue a certificate declaring that the candidate has submitted the proofs of his birth to the Magistrate of the district or the Political Officer of the state, as the case may be, and has satisfied him that he was actually born on or about the date stated by him, viz., the                      day of                      18                      , at a place within Her Majesty's dominions. Such certificate shall be given in the following form:—

I hereby certify that                      , who is a candidate for the Indian Civil Service, has submitted the proofs of his birth and has satisfactorily shown that he was actually born on or about the date stated, viz., the                      day of                      18                      , at                      , a place within Her Majesty's dominions.

VIII.—If the Secretary to Government, Commissioner of a division, or the highest Political Officer accredited to the state, as the case may be, finds reason to disbelieve that the candidate was born on the day or at the place ascertained by him, the certificate will be refused, and the candidate will be unable to obtain admission to the competitive examination for the Indian Civil Service.

IX.—Where the date and place of birth have been formally registered in a register kept by any public officer in British India, an extract from the register duly certified by the proper official shall be accepted as sufficient proof of the date and place of the birth.

Rules to apply to candidates not born within Her Majesty's dominions.

X.—In addition to the particulars required by Rule II, a candidate not born in Her Majesty's dominions must also prove that he is the son or grandson of a person born in those dominions.

XI.—If the Secretary to Government, Commissioner of a division, or the highest Political Officer accredited to the state, as the case may be, shall be satisfied by the papers submitted that the candidate has stated the date and place of his birth correctly and has established the fact that, though born without the limits of Her Majesty's dominions, he is the son or grandson of a person born in those dominions, he will issue a certificate in the following form :—

I hereby certify that _____, who is a candidate for the Indian Civil Service, has submitted the proofs of his birth and has satisfactorily shown that he was actually born on or about the date stated, viz., the _____ day of _____ 18____, and that he was born at a place without Her Majesty's dominions, but that he is the <sup>son</sup> ~~grandson~~ of a person born in those dominions.

XII.—If the Secretary to Government, Commissioner of a division, or the highest Political Officer accredited to the state, as the case may be, finds reason to doubt that the candidate was born on the day asserted by him, or that he is the son or grandson of a person born in Her Majesty's dominions, the certificate will be refused and the candidate will be unable to obtain admission to the competitive examination for the Indian Civil Service.

In the case of those groups containing a text-book or books of which a revised edition is under preparation (see italicized entries in the list appended), the group of text-books hitherto adopted will continue to be used until the new edition has been issued.

Due notice of such issue will in each case be given and also of the date on which such book, and the group of text-books to which it may belong, shall come into force.

I.—The standards of examination and donations to be given to successful candidates will be as follows:—

II.—Subject to the condition that an officer serving in the Upper Provinces will not be eligible for examination in Bengali or Uriya, until he has obtained a certificate in one of the other languages, candidates may present themselves for examination in any of the languages enumerated in Rule I. A Civil Servant attached to the Upper Provinces who may have obtained a certificate of High Proficiency in Urdu, Hindi or Persian under the rules of the 2nd October 1861, or the rules of the 24th March 1870, will be deemed to have satisfied the foregoing condition.

IV.—No Civil Servant will ordinarily be permitted to appear more than twice as a candidate at any examination; but if a special recommendation be made by the examiners, a candidate will be allowed to appear a third time.

V.—No Civil Servant will be permitted to present himself for the Higher Standard, High Proficiency, or Honor Examinations after the expiration of five, ten and fifteen years, respectively, counted from the date of his first arrival in India. No exception to this rule will be made on account of leave or any other cause. Civil Servants may be permitted to attend the examinations after the expiration of the periods specified in this rule, but no reward will be granted to them if they pass; and their leave must be limited to such time as may be necessary to enable them to attend the examination, and no extra expense must, under any circumstances, be caused to the state. In such cases it will be within the competence of Local Governments to refuse applications for permission to attend any particular examination when compliance with such application would involve inconvenience to the public service.

Home Department Resolution No. <sup>1 Exam.</sup> 27-C-1, dated 20th January 1891.

A question having been raised as to the date from which the periods specified in Rule V above should be counted in the case of Statutory Civilians, to whom the rules were extended by the orders of the 8th November 1881 read above, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to decide that the periods in question shall be counted in their case from the date of their confirmation in the Statutory Civil Service.

VI.—Civil Servants who may have passed examinations under the rules of 1861 (cancelled in section VII of the rules of 1870) or of 1870 (cancelled by the present rules) will not be eligible to compete at corresponding examinations in the same language or languages under the rules now passed.

Government of India, Home Department Resolution No. 2501, dated 14th December 1871, and letter to Government of Pondichy, No. 1814, dated 21st November 1881.

VIA.—Civilians who are Natives of India and who have entered the service by competition should not receive the donations prescribed, when such Native Civilians merely pass in the vernacular of the district in which they were born or educated. It is left to the Local Government to determine in each case what languages come within this definition.

This rule applies also to the cases of Native Civilians appointed under the Statutory Rules after their confirmation in the service.

Probationers are not allowed to appear at these examinations.

MARRIAGES.

THE Governor-General in Council is advised that no person can claim to have his banns published in any particular church, except so far as may be arranged by the ecclesiastical authorities for the convenience of residents in particular districts. His Excellency in Council is further advised that, although a marriage solemnized in India without banns or a license is not invalid on that account, no person can claim to be married by a clergyman of the Church of England without either a license or the publication of banns and that if a clergyman abstains from solemnizing a marriage unless one or other of these two conditions is fulfilled, no person can compel him to solemnize it.

GOVERNMENT will gladly see Magistrates doing what they can, without the exercise of any official pressure, in the way of aiding the various societies formed throughout the country with the object of reducing Hindu marriage expenses.

So far as, without official interference, aid can be given, it may with advantage be done. No pressure in any form must be brought to bear; but if Magistrates can enlist the sympathies of the people on the side of reform, they will be acting unobjectionably and usefully.

Circular No. 13A, dated 3rd May 1875.

THE marriage of an East Indian (domiciled in British India) with his deceased wife's sister is not void; but such a marriage is illegal, and may during the lifetime of both parties be annulled by an Ecclesiastical Court.

Marriage with a deceased wife's sister in the case of East Indians. Illegality of—

G. O. No. 1737-43A, dated 2nd July 1875.

If therefore marriage with a deceased wife's sister in the case of East Indians is not annulled by the sentence of an Ecclesiastical Court in a suit instituted during the lifetime of both the parties, the survivor, either the husband or the wife, will succeed to the proper share in the estate of the deceased, which, in the case of intestacy, devolves on such survivor, as the lawful husband or wife of the deceased under the Indian Succession Act.

The above remarks apply only to the case where the husband is domiciled in British India. If an East Indian be domiciled in England, the law of his domicile would prevail, and if he married his deceased wife's sister, the marriage, though celebrated in India, would be void.

The Board of Enquiry referred to in paragraph 2439, Army Regulations, India, Vol. II, Part II, will consist, in the case of a member of the police force, of a Superintendent of Police as president and two subordinate police officers as members, and, in the case of others, of a senior officer of the department as president, and two subordinate officers as members.

MEMORIALS.

EVERY officer wishing to address a memorial to Government shall do so separately, and not in concert with others; but this prohibition against the submission of joint memorials is not intended to apply to or affect the private interchange of individual opinions.

II.—No officer in the employment of Government may submit any memorial in respect to any matter connected with the official position which he occupies in which he is not personally interested, except as the agent of some person or persons unable to act in their own behalf. The personal interest referred to in this rule may be indirect.

The general prohibition against submission of joint memorials does not affect the case of any correspondence which the Managers of Service Funds, as such, may have to conduct with Government.

III.—No officer in the employment of Government shall submit a printed memorial.

IV.—No memorial shall be submitted in a form set for general adoption, but shall be couched in the memorialist's own words and in temperate and respectful language.

V.—Any memorial contravening these rules will not be taken into consideration by the authority to which it is submitted, and the officer or officers submitting such memorials will incur the serious displeasure of Government.

The following are the rules for the submission, receipt and transmission of memorials and other papers of the same class, addressed to Her Majesty the Queen-Empress of India, or to the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for India, by private persons or by officers of all civil departments:—

II.—Every memorial should be accompanied by a letter requesting its transmission to the authority to which it is addressed.

III.—Every memorial addressed to Her Majesty or to the Secretary of State for India should be forwarded through the Local Government under which the writer is residing or is employed.

IV.—Memorials to Her Majesty or to the Secretary of State from persons in the Madras and Bombay Presidencies, should be forwarded direct by the Local Government, with a full statement of facts and an expression of opinion, except in the case of memorials which relate to any rule or standing order of the Government of India, or which, if granted, would cause expenditure for which the Imperial and not the Local Government would be primarily responsible, or which relate to any legislative proceeding of the Governor-General in Council or to an Act to which the Governor-General has assented, or which relate to a case which has been previously under the consideration of the Government of India, whether on appeal or otherwise. Such memorials should be forwarded with a covering letter containing a full statement of facts and an expression of opinion to the Government of India in the department having cognizance of the subject-matter of such memorials, by which department the memorials will be transmitted to the Secretary of State.

* Appeals by private persons from the orders of Lieutenant Governors lie in the first instance to the Governor-General in Council. An appeal to the Secretary of State will lie only in the event of an appeal to the Governor-General in Council having been rejected.

V.—Memorials to Her Majesty or to the Secretary of State from persons in Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, or the Panjāb, should be forwarded by the Local Government, with a full statement of facts and an expression of opinion to the Government of India in the proper department for transmission to the authority addressed.*

VI.—Memorials to Her Majesty or to the Secretary of State from persons in the minor Administrations†, the Central Provinces, British Burma, Berar, Mysore, Coorg and Assam, should be forwarded with a full statement of facts and an expression of opinion, by the Chief Commissioner, or other officer charged with the administration of the province, to the Government of India in the proper department for transmission to the authority addressed. †

VII.—No limit is fixed to the time within which an appeal from an order of the Government in India must be preferred to the Home Government, except in the case of appeals from a judicial decision in which the Judge is a political officer, and in which the appeal ordinarily lies to Government in the Political Department. Such appeals must be preferred within a period of twelve months from the date of communication to the persons concerned of the order to which objection is taken.

VIII.—Memorials may be transmitted either in manuscript or in print, but must, with all accompanying documents, be properly authenticated by the signature of the memorialist on each sheet.

IX.—Memorials, together with their accompanying documents, should be in English. If the accompanying documents must necessarily be forwarded in the vernacular, an English translation should be appended, which should be attested by the signature of the memorialist.

N. B.—It will be well for the transmitting office to examine such translations, and if they are found to be incorrect or faulty, to notice the fact in sending on the memorial.

X.—It is not necessary that memorials should be forwarded in duplicate or triplicate. The originals will invariably be transmitted to England; a copy being made and retained by the Government of India, if necessary, for record.

XI.—As a general rule, the transmission to England of a memorial duly forwarded through the proper channel will not be delayed by the transmitting Government in India beyond a month after the receipt of such memorial.

XII.—Governments and Administrations in India are vested with discretionary power to withhold the transmission of memorials addressed to Her Majesty or to the Secretary of State in the following cases :—

- 1.—When a memorial is illegible or unintelligible.
- 2.—When a memorial contains disrespectful or improper language.
- 3.—When a second memorial is presented after a decision has already been given by the authority to which it is addressed, and when no new facts or circumstances are adduced which afford grounds for a reconsideration of the case. A memorial addressed to Her Majesty by a person whose appeal to the Secretary of State has already been rejected shall be held to be a second memorial to the same authority and shall not be transmitted.
- 4.—When a memorial is a mere application for pecuniary assistance by a person manifestly possessing no claim.
- 5.—When a memorial is an application for employment under one of the Governments in India from a person not belonging to the covenantal service.
- 6.—When a memorial is a mere appeal from a judicial decision.

G. G. O. No 2061, dated
30th October 1839, Home
Department.

7.—When a memorial is addressed by an officer still in the public service and has reference to his prospective claim to pension.

8.—When a memorial is an appeal against an order of a Local Government regarding the dismissal, removal, reduction or other punishment of a Government servant whose salary was not more than Rs. 100 a month; or when it is an appeal against similar orders of a Local Government confirmed by the Government of India from a Government servant whose salary was not more than Rs. 250 a month.

9.—When a memorial is a mere appeal against the non-exercise by one of the Governments or Administrations in India of a dispensatory discretion vested in such Government or Administration by law or rule.

10.—When a memorial is an appeal against a decision by any local, municipal or other authority, which by any law or rule having the force of law is declared to be final.

11.—When a memorial is an appeal against the action of a private individual, or of a body of private individuals, regarding the private relations of the memorialist and such individual or body.

XIII.—The Government of India may withhold the transmission of a memorial addressed to Her Majesty or to the Secretary of State, unless the memorialist has previously memorialized the Government of India and the Local Government concerned on the same subject.

XIV.—A list of memorials withheld under the discretionary power conferred by Rule XII will be forwarded quarterly to the Government of India in the case of memorials withheld by Local Governments under the same discretionary power, and by the Government of India in the department concerned to the Secretary of State.

No 1438, dated 24th September 1890.

The discretionary power of withholding petitions under clause 9, Rule XII of the rules for the submission, receipt and transmission of memorials and other papers of the same class addressed to Her Majesty the Queen-Empress of India, or to the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, by private persons or by officers of all Civil Departments, should be used with caution, and only after a full regard to the services, dismi

distress, if not actual ruin, to them, and it is right that, under such circumstances, every opportunity should be allowed to them for making themselves heard. Further, when, as sometimes happens, their representations reach the Secretary of State through non-official channels, it is convenient that he should be in a position at once to deal with them, instead of being obliged, as may now be the case, to refer for information to this country. Such petitions, therefore, should not be withheld when there is any reasonable prospect of difference of opinion as to the orders passed on them by the Government of India, or when they contain anything to which the attention of the Secretary of State is likely to be specially directed.

Having

The following Despatch from the Right Honorable the Secretary of State for India, No. 13 (Political), dated 14th March 1889, is published for information and guidance.—

Rules for submission of
to Parliament.

"A case having recently occurred in which a memorial addressed to the House of Commons was withheld under Rule XII, clause 3 of the rules for the submission of Memorials to Her Majesty the Queen-Empress of India, or the Right Honorable the Secretary of State for India, His Lordship, while expressing the opinion that memorials addressed to Parliament cannot be withheld under the rules above referred to, which do not properly apply to such memorials, has decided that if a petition against the orders of the Secretary of State for India in Council is prepared for presentation to Parliament, it should be submitted to the House of Parliament to which it is addressed through the medium of some unofficial member of the House, and not through the Secretary of State."

1. Every petition to the Government of India, whether it bears immediately on a matter of imperial policy or has reference to the orders or the general policy and action of a Local Government, should be forwarded through the Local Government under which the petitioner is residing or is employed. But there is no objection to the petitioners forwarding simultaneously a duplicate copy of the petition to the Government of India, if he so desires, provided that he marks it as a "duplicate."

1-A. A petition from a person who has been removed from, or has left, the service of Government, relating to his removal from the service or to claims arising out of his service, should be forwarded through the Local Government under which the petitioner was employed.

SECTION II.

Special rules regulating the submission of petitions by officers in civil employ.

1. Every officer wishing to petition the Government of India should do so separately.

3. No officer may submit a petition in respect of any matter connected with his official position unless he has some personal interest in such matter.

SECTION III.

Rules for observance by Local Governments in regard to the transmission or withholding of petitions.

3. Local Governments are vested with discretionary power to withhold petitions addressed to the Government of India in the following cases :—

- (6) When a petition is an appeal from a judicial decision with which the executive has no legal power of interference.

NOTE.—If the Government has reserved any discretion of interference, or is concerned as a party to the suit, or if the appeal is practically an appeal for mercy or pardon, the petition must be transmitted. But in the last mentioned case the transmission of the petition will not affect the discretion in regard to capital sentences allowed to Local Governments by the Home Department Resolution dated 14th October 1885.*

- (7) When a petition is an appeal against an order of the Local Government upholding on appeal the dismissal, removal, reduction, or other punishment of a Government servant whose salary was not more than Rs. 100 a month.
- (8) When a petition is an appeal against a decision which by any law, or rule having the force of law, is declared to be final.

Rules for submission of to and their disposal by, the Local Government.

Notification No. 1697
III—753B
dated 12th July 1893.

The following rules have been prescribed for the submission of petitions to, and their disposal by, the Government:—

1. A petition must be properly authenticated by the signature of the petitioner; it should be submitted through the head of the office or department to which (if any) the petitioner belongs, and be forwarded by him with an expression of his opinion through the usual official channel.

2. A petition must be written in intelligible, respectful and temperate language.

3. If a petition is an appeal from, or is connected with, an order passed by a subordinate authority, copies of the orders passed in the case must be submitted; similarly if the petition is one for mercy or pardon, or is connected with a judicial decision, copies of the decisions of the Courts should, except in the case of capital sentences, be submitted.

4. Petitions against orders punishing or upholding orders of punishment of Government servants must be submitted, unless satisfactory explanation is given of the delay, within six months from the date of such orders.

5. A petition will not ordinarily be accepted from one person on behalf of another, except when the person on whose behalf the petition is submitted is a prisoner, or is in duress, when the sender, if he be other than the Superintendent of Jail, must file a duly stamped power of attorney (vide Schedule I, Art. 50, Act I of 1879).

6. A petition presented to the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces does not require to be stamped under Article 1 (c), Schedule II of Act VII of 1870. As it is not possible to make a distinction in the case of petitions presented to the Chief Commissioner of Oudh, every petition presented to the Government will be accepted on plain paper.

7. A copy of a document referred to in article 6, 7 or 9 of Schedule I, Act VII of 1870, or in article 22 of Schedule I, Act I of 1879, and accompanying a petition to Government must bear the stamp of the value indicated in the above articles.

8. Section 6 of Act VII of 1870 absolutely prohibits the receipt of documents not duly stamped. Every such document will be returned to the sender. A petition enclosing a copy not duly stamped will ordinarily, if the consideration of the unstamped document is essential, be returned to the sender with a direction that orders cannot be passed unless it is resubmitted with the copy duly stamped.

9. A petition of any of the following descriptions will also be ordinarily returned to the sender :—

- (a) one in which the provisions of Rules 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 have not been observed ;
- (b) when the petition relates to a subject on which the petitioner can apply for redress to the courts of law, or order of a the execu-
- (c) when it relates to a subject on which local authorities or the head of a department are competent to pass orders, and no previous application has been made to them.

10. An officer forwarding a petition under Rule 1 should see that the orders regarding authentication, stamping of documents, &c., are observed.

11. Rule 7 applies to copies accompanying petitions to the Government of India, submitted to this Government for transmission to the Government of India.

METEORITES.

Disposal of—

Circular No. 31, dated
1st September 1866, and
8A, dated 21st June 1869
(N.W. P. only).

METEORITES should be forwarded to the trustees of the Indian Museum, Calcutta, with observations upon the points mentioned in the subjoined note, prepared under the orders of the trustees of the British Museum :—

There are two varieties of aërolites or meteorites that have been seen to fall from space. The one consists of stony masses, often containing particles of iron, and of these many have been observed in their fall: the other variety is composed for the most part of iron. The actual fall of iron aërolites has been but rarely witnessed, though many masses of metallic iron have been found on the earth's surface of the meteoric origin of which there can be no doubt.

It is a matter of great interest, and of importance to science, that as many as possible of these bodies should be collected for comparison, and that all the circumstances accompanying their fall be carefully recorded; and persons who, in the event of a "fire-ball" being seen or of a mass having fallen in their neighbourhood, will carefully collect facts regarding them, may make a very valuable contribution to science.

For this purpose enquiries should be instituted at once into the circumstances accompanying the fall of any meteoric mass and into the state of any such mass when it has fallen; and as regards any meteoric appearance in the sky, it will be found advisable, after noting carefully the points in the heavens at which the meteor made its appearance, to give, as accurately as possible (see note), the direction of its track and the point at which it disappeared.

Where it is possible, this track should be delineated on a diagram, as explained in the note.

The points to which especial attention is invited are enumerated in the following two series of enquiries. The first series relates to meteoric phenomena in the heavens, and their association with the fall of aërolitic matter to the earth :—

- (1) Note the exact position of the observer, according to latitude and longitude.
- (2) Give the hour, day of month, and year.
- (3) Give the apparent size of the luminous ball as compared with the full moon.
- (4) Its shape; whether round, pear-shaped or otherwise; and if elongated, in what direction.
- (5) It is particularly important to note the place where the meteor is first seen (as at A, see note) like a star and from which, as it moves, it may appear to be increasing in size.

- (6) State the duration of the phenomena ; and
- (7) Whether the ball again dwindles away to the semblance of a star and then disappears, or whether it retains to the last its full size, or then, as is often the case, divides into several balls or stars.
- (8) Give the colours.
- (9) Record any facts that can be gathered concerning detonations or noises accompanying the other phenomena.
- (10) Endeavour to collect statements relating to the actual fall to the earth of any solid bodies.
- (11) Do they consist of stone or iron, and is there anything peculiar in their structure ?
- (12) Was the body red-hot, or warm, or did it exhibit evidence of having been warm outside and cold within ? as for instance, by being hot at first and intensely cold afterwards.
- (13) It is desirable further to notice the depth to which, and the direction in which, the aërolite has penetrated the earth ; also to state the nature of the soil, the effect produced on it by the aërolitic mass, the position in which the aërolite was found to be lying on the ground.

The second series of enquiries has for its object the acquisition of a more precise knowledge regarding the aërolites themselves. For this it is important to preserve, and to collect for the purposes of analysis and of scientific comparison, as many of these bodies as possible ; and the following suggestions are offered in the hope of promoting this object :—

- (1) Endeavour to get the meteorolites as soon as possible after their fall, to prevent them from being injured, fractured or wetted.
- (2) If not entire, try to procure fragments.
- (3) Should persons or museums not be willing to part with them for the British Museum, then procure drawings, photographs, models or casts, accompanied by an accurate description of their colour, their external lustre, and, if broken, the nature of the substance or substances exhibited by the fracture ; and especially be careful to describe the form of the aërolitic mass, whether angular or rounded, whether prismatic, or otherwise exhibiting an approximation to any geometrical figure. Also state whether its surface be smooth or marked by any peculiar kind of roughness or pitted with hollows.

- (4) Catalogues of the meteorites in local museums are very desirable, with statements of their weights, and also the time of and other facts accompanying their fall, as detailed above.
- (5) From masses of iron or stone still lying on the earth, and too large to be measured in situ.

- (6) Iron meteorites should always be cut with a steel saw and emery.

The collection of aerolites in the mineral department of the British Museum is now, as regards the mass and size of the specimens, the finest in the world, and any person who may be in a position to contribute additional specimens is requested to accompany them with an attestation as to the weight of the specimen and facts regarding it, such as the senders may be in a position to state on their own authority, or as may have come to them on authority which they have reason to accept as reliable.

meridians and parallels of latitude. The accompanying sketch expresses that to an observer turned towards the east the meteor appeared in the N. N.-E. at an elevation of  $85^\circ$ , and fell down to the S.-E., where it disappeared only  $10^\circ$  above the horizon.

OFFICIAL DOCUMENTS.

COPIES of official letters are not to be given as a mere matter of course. In a judicial case, a party to the suit is generally entitled to a copy of the proceedings as a matter of right, but in executive matters this is not the case.

When recommendations for the grant of jagirs, assignments of land revenue, political or charitable pensions, and the like, are made, the

to be given to the party concerned; it may raise false hopes, and it may, on the other hand, give rise to petitions and memorials protesting against the views of the reporting officer.

Neither should copies of official letters from supreme authority be ordinarily given. In most cases it is quite enough to inform the parties concerned of the nature of the order that has been passed. Should any one of them require a copy of the letter, he should be referred to the superior officer by whom the order was passed, and from whose office the letter issued.

THE universal use of English figures in all official accounts of whatever kind is very desirable, and all heads of departments are requested to take the necessary steps to ensure their adoption.

THE admixture of Persian and Arabic words in the language of official records is ordinarily so profuse as to make them scarcely intelligible to those whose interests are concerned, and every effort should be made to avoid such terms, and every effort should be made to avoid such terms.

should be rigidly forbidden, and the official style should be assimilated as far as possible to the ordinary Urdu of conversation.

This change of style is of the greatest importance, when it can most easily be made, in recording the depositions of witnesses; and the evidence of each deponent should be taken down as nearly as possible in his own words. In reading over the deposition, care should be taken to correct those words which the witness is not likely to understand. The style of subhars depends upon the superior officer himself, and although a little difficulty may at first be felt in avoiding the cant official phraseology, the trouble will in time be amply repaid by the increased facility of expression and independence of the narrow official vocabulary.

"I take this opportunity of directing your attention to the inconvenience attending the use of vernacular terms in reports sent home to this office, and I desire that whenever it is considered desirable to make use of them in such reports or in official correspondence, their English equivalents may also be given."

OPIMUM SETTLEMENTS OR WEIGHMENTS.

THE annexed rules have been laid down by Government in a particular case in which the Magistrate of a district, in view of the prevalence of cholera at the headquarters station, considered it necessary to temporarily prohibit opium settlements or weighments being conducted there. As such a prohibition seriously disturbs the operations of the Opium Department, and may inflict great hardship on opium cultivators, it is only justifiable in very exceptional circumstances.

Interference by District Magistrates in the matter of—

■ O No <sup>177</sup>~~XII-187~~, dated 14th August 1888, Sep.
Rev. Dept (Excise).

RULES.

I.—The District Magistrate will not interfere with the practice of conducting the opium settlements or weighments at the sadar station, except in the special circumstances and under the conditions stated below.

II.—When, by reason of the prevalence of epidemic cholera or other serious epidemic disease in some particular section of the district, the District Magistrate is of opinion that the opium settlements or weighments for the cultivators of such section should be conducted elsewhere than in the sadar station, he shall communicate his proposals in writing to the Opium officer of the district.

III.—If the Opium officer makes no objection to the proposals, the District Magistrate may issue orders accordingly, sending a copy to the Commissioner of the division for information.

IV.—If the Opium officer does not concur as to the necessity for conducting the settlements or weighments elsewhere, the District Magistrate shall report the matter to the Commissioner for orders, and shall stay action until he receives them.

PRESENTS FROM, OR SALE OF PROPERTY TO, NATIVES.

Acceptance of presents from natives by Government officers.

G. G. O. No. 1299G, dated 20th June 1876 (Foreign Department).

The main provisions of the law on the subject are contained in 13 Geo. III, chapter 63, sections 23-24; 33 Geo. III, chapter 62, sections 62-63; 3 and 4 Wm. IV, chapter 85, section 76.

The prohibition of the receipt of presents from native chiefs and others does not extend to the receipt of a few flowers or fruits and articles of inappreciable value, although even such trifling presents should be discouraged.

It does not extend to the exchange of presents between Governors, Lieutenant-Governors, Chief Commissioners, Agents to the Governor-General, or Political Officers generally in their ceremonial intercourse with native chiefs, on which occasions the presents from the chiefs are deposited in the Government toshakhāna, and return presents are given at the Government expense.

It does not apply to presents to medical officers made bona fide for services rendered.

The general prohibition extends to all servants of Government, Native or European, covenanted or uncovenanted, in whatsoever department they may be serving.

Where presents cannot absolutely be refused without giving offence, they must be delivered up to Government, and to this rule no exception whatsoever is permissible, save with the express sanction of His Excellency the Governor-General in Council, which will only be given under very special circumstances.

The above rules should be strictly observed and no deviation therefrom permitted, except with the previous sanction of the Government of India.

Acceptance of presents from natives by retired officers.

Home Department No. 41, dated 15th December 1888.

ALTHOUGH, strictly speaking, the rules on the subject of the receipt of presents from natives apply only to officers in the actual service of the Government, the Secretary of State in Council thinks that it is clearly objectionable that retired officers or their wives should receive presents. If such a practice were to be approved, it might obviously lead to the violation of the spirit, if not the letter, of the law and rules, and to aspersions on the character of public officers.

Notes regarding sale of property to natives by British officers. No. 1667, dated 30th September 1863 (Foreign Department).

The following rules are applicable to European public servants of all descriptions, civil, military and uncovenanted:—

Whenever a public servant wishes to dispose of or purchase a house, bungalow, elephant, horse or carriage, or other valuable property to, or from, any native within his jurisdiction, or within the limits of the district in which he is employed on the public service, and from which he is not about to remove, he must report his intention to the Local Government to which he is subordinate, stating facts and circumstances and the price offered for the article to be sold. The Local Government will then pass such orders on the reference as may seem fit and proper.

Whenever a public servant is about to quit his station or district permanently or for a considerable period, and wishes to dispose of his house, bungalow, elephant, carriages and horses, and the like property of value to native purchasers, he shall report his intention to the Commissioner or the head local authority to which he may be immediately subordinate, and that authority will use its discretion in allowing the transaction or in reporting the circumstance to the Local Government for further orders.

Whenever a public servant wishes to dispose of his property amongst the community, he is at full liberty to put up to public auction, without reference to any authority whatever. All that is necessary is that the transaction should be open and patent to everybody on the spot.

The above rules are not applicable to bond fide transactions with regular dealers.

PRINTING PRESSES.

Advertisements inserted in local newspapers. Circular No. 34A, dated 19th March 1878.

WHENEVER occasion arises for the issue of advertisements for which more extensive publicity is desirable than can be secured by publishing them in the Government Gazette, heads of departments are at liberty to advertise in the local newspapers at the public expense, charging the cost in their contingent bills.

Annual return of— Circular No. 1, dated 17th January 1876.

COMMISSIONERS should submit on the 1st. June in each year a return in the subjoined form of the printing presses in their divisions as they stood on the 1st of the preceding April, and of the newspapers and periodicals published by them :—

Appropriation of Government translations of Acts by private presses. Circular No. 25, dated 1st March 1878 (Rev.).

PROPRIETORS of vernacular presses are at liberty to make whatever use they may deem proper of Government translations, as published in the North-Western-Provinces and Oudh Urdu Gazette, of Acts of the Legislative Council.

The Government Press will print only very few more copies of Acts of the Legislative Council than may be absolutely required for the use of Courts of Justice and public offices, the requirements of the public being left to be met by the enterprise of private presses.

Vernacular newspapers. Better control of— Circular No. 25, dated 8th April 1878. Circular No. 2269 680B dated 12th August 1892.

It is part of the duty of all Magistrates and Deputy Commissioners to keep themselves fully cognizant of the tone of the vernacular papers, &c., published in their districts.

All Magistrates and Deputy Commissioners are authorized to purchase one copy of each vernacular newspaper published in their respective districts, but the purchase should be effected through the Superintendent of Stationery, Calcutta. The expenditure incurred on this account is adjusted by the Superintendent in the manner prescribed in rule IV of the Government of India Resolution No. 5,967, dated the 1st November 1888, printed at pages 3 and 4 Department XII of the Manual of Government Orders, Volume II.

District officers should see that all the provisions of Act XXV of 1887 are scrupulously attended to by the printers and publishers of vernacular papers. Any cases of non-observance should be at once reported to Government.

Circular No. 65, dated 4th June 1879.

Although Acts IX and XVI of 1878 (for the better control of publications in oriental languages) have been repealed, Magistrates of districts should continue to scrutinize the vernacular papers published in their districts and to bring to the immediate notice of Government through the Commissioner of the division anything demanding attention. With this view Magistrates have been authorized to subscribe for one copy of each vernacular paper published in their districts.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

Correspondence regarding public buildings dealt with departmentally.

Circular No.  $\frac{489}{11-149}$ , dated 5th August 1884.

It is explained that the public buildings referred to in Circular No.  $\frac{85}{111-149}$ , dated 16th April 1884, are only those of which the Government is the provincial head. As, under existing orders, heads of departments communicate with the Government on the subject of the public buildings belonging to their respective departments, such correspondence will, for administrative purposes, be dealt with departmentally in future, and should be addressed to the Secretary of the department concerned (e. g., correspondence about judicial and jail buildings should be forwarded to the Secretary in the Judicial Department; about revenue buildings to the Secretary in the Revenue Department, and so on.

Fire. Rule as to reporting occurrences of—

G. O. No. 2577, dated 27th July 1882.

IMMEDIATELY on the occurrence of a fire in any public building, whether imperial, provincial or local, the department concerned should at once inform the police, who will forward a special report to the Magistrate of the district.

Office Memo. No.  $\frac{555}{111-307}$ , dated 22nd August 1894.

PUBLIC OFFICERS.

The head of a department, or Magistrate of a district, may grant to an officer under orders of transfer an advance not exceeding one month's pay, and also not exceeding the amount of expenditure which he is likely to incur by reason of his transfer. Such an advance should be notified upon the officer's last-pay certificate, and recovered from the salary of the officer in three equal instalments.

Advance to officers on transfer.

G. G. O No. 1075, dated 9th March 1881, and Circular No. 30, dated 16th May 1881.

OFFICERS of Government are prohibited from accepting the office of arbitrator in any civil action without the permission of the Government being first obtained. In any application for such permission the circumstances of the case and the names of the parties must be stated, and the special reasons which may have led the officer to entertain a request for his services as an arbitrator must be specified.

Arbitrators. Condition of appointment

G. O No. 2224, dated 12th September 1863 [Judicial (Civil)].

Subject to the following rules public officers may act as arbitrators for the settlement of disputes :—

- (1) An officer shall not act as arbitrator in any case without the sanction of his immediate superior, or unless he be directed so to act by a court having authority to appoint an arbitrator.
- (2) No public officer shall act as an arbitrator in any case which is likely to come before him in any shape in virtue of any judicial or executive office which he may be holding.
- (3) If an officer act as arbitrator at the private request of disputants, he shall accept no fees
- (4) If he act by appointment of a court of law, he may accept such fees as the court may fix.

Home Department No. 544, dated 12th February 1875.

ON occasions of State ceremonial or when a rapid or long official journey has to be made exceeding the capabilities of a reasonable private establishment, and when no other means of locomotion are available, officers of the Government may occasionally avail themselves of the proffered assistance of native gentlemen or of the resources of estates under their charge. This procedure should, however, be resorted to as seldom as possible, and only under circumstances in which one English gentleman would accept similar civilities from another without incurring an inconvenient obligation.

Circular No. <sup>32</sup> 111-74A, dated 7th April 1886.

As regards trading and lending or borrowing money, members of the Native Civil Service are under the same rules as Covenanted Civil Servants generally. The rules upon these subjects, which at present apply to members of the Covenanted Civil Service, apply also to natives of India appointed to the Civil Service under the provisions of 33 Victoria, Chapter III, section 6.

Trading and money lending by Native Civil Servants.
Home Department Notification No. <sup>11</sup> 428-37, dated the 17th March 1882.

His EXCELLENCY in Council is pleased to direct that the rules in force of 1793, on the subject of lending money to any proprietor or farmer of land, or to any other farmer, or raiyat or their sureties, which apply to Covenanted Civil Servants and were extended by Government of India, Home Department, Resolution of the 17th March 1882 above, to the members of the Statutory Civil Service, shall be extended to all Uncovenanted Officers in the subordinate executive and judicial services of the Government. Such officers are hereby prohibited from lending money at interest, whether directly or through relatives or other agents, to landholders, with or without security, within the province in which they are employed.

Home Department Resolution No. <sup>2A</sup> 87-103, dated 16th January 1880, and G O No. <sup>120</sup> 111 SJTA, dated 30th January 1880.

In Home Department Resolution No. 100, dated the 12th January 1856, heads of offices having establishments in the pay of Government were directed to impress upon their subordinates the discredit attaching to a resort to the Insolvent Court, and to warn them that such a proceeding would be considered as of itself constituting a sufficient cause for exclusion from the public service, unless it should appear that the embarrassments of the insolvent had been the result of unforeseen misfortunes, or of circumstances over which he could exercise no control, and had not proceeded from dissipated and extravagant habits. By a circular Memorandum, No. 67-2816 to 2521, dated the 19th November 1874, heads of departments under the Government of India were requested to hold the Registrar or head of the office responsible for reporting to the Secretary in charge or to the chief of the department the insolvency of clerks or other assistants.

As there is reason to believe that the operation of these orders has to some extent been lost sight of, the Governor-General in Council in reproducing them desires to direct the attention of all Local Governments and heads of departments to the imperative duty which devolves upon them of taking severe notice of the misconduct of clerks and other employes, who allow themselves to fall into embarrassed circumstances. It is no valid excuse for hopeless indebtedness to show that it has been caused by standing security for friends, the plea which is frequently put forward in such cases. Assistants in Government offices should clearly understand that, if they voluntarily contract debts or obligations which they are unable to meet, they render themselves liable to summary dismissal.

Uncovenanted officers exercising independent judicial or revenue functions, whether of European, Eurasian or native descent, are not debarred from acquiring or possessing landed property in British India for agricultural purposes, provided that they must not hold landed property in the districts in which they are employed. Although uncovenanted officers are not precluded from holding land, it is inexpedient that appointments which necessarily confer a considerable amount of power and influence on their occupants, such as those of Munsif, Deputy Collector and Tahsildár, should be filled by persons holding landed property within their jurisdiction.*

The purchase or acquisition by a public officer, in any other manner than by inheritance, of landed property, or of any interest in land within the limits of the district in which he serves, will subject him to dismissal. Immediate report must be made of acquisition of land or interest in land by inheritance for the orders of the superior authority of the department in which they are employed. These orders do not apply to ground purchased or acquired for the purposes of residence and of gardening or other recreation. All such cases are, however, to be also immediately reported for the information of the local superior officer.

Whenever an application is received from any uncovenanted servant of Government for permission to purchase lands situated within the district in which such servant may be employed, intimation is at once to be given to the Chief Commissioner through the Commissioner. Possession will not be given without the Chief Commissioner's express sanction, so long as the applicant continues in the district in which the land applied for is situated.

Ordinarily arrangements will be made for transferring such officers to another district or province.

THE following instructions are issued for the preparation and maintenance of registers of landed property held by all officers in the superior service of Government—

At present registers of Deputy Collectors holding landed property are maintained in the Secretariat office from returns furnished annually by Commissioners.

Under a Resolution by the Government of India, Home Department, No. <sup>10R</sup><sub>637-646</sub>, dated 14th March 1890, it has been directed that the rule which requires the registration in the public offices of all possession or acquisition of land by public officers (paragraph 5, Home Department letter No. 21, dated 13th May 1885), shall hereafter apply to all officers in superior service. Superior service is all service on pay exceeding Rs. 10 per mensem. In view of this extension in the scope of the standing orders, it will no longer be possible for all these registers to be maintained in the Secretariat, and it has been decided that the register shall be kept up, in the form appended to this letter, by certain heads of departments, Commissioners of Divisions, and District Judges for the officials detailed below:—

Rules for loan of—
Native States, municipalities, &c.—

III—G. A. Dept.
dated 15th May 1889.

It having been brought to notice that an officer was under the to a company he was at remuneration, and that he was not bound by the rules prohibiting Government officers from speculating or investing in commercial undertakings in the districts where they were employed, Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, in his Despatch No. 16, dated 7th February 1889, deemed it desirable that the rules concerning the loan of Government officers to Native States, municipalities, and railway or other companies, should be so modified as to make it clear—

- (1) that the officers lent shall receive only the remuneration agreed upon or sanctioned by the Government of India in their behalf;
- (2) that the officers so lent remain, while on outside service, subject to the general and disciplinary rules which apply to officers on active Government service.

Official information.
Not to communicate—
North-Western Provinces
order of 25th March 1917.

It is contrary to the duty of every officer, civil or military, to make public or to communicate to individuals, without the previous sanction of Government, any document, papers or information of which he may have become possessed in his official capacity.

Government of India Circular dated 11th January 1889 (Home Department).
G. G. O. No. 70, dated 11th August 1889.

The above applies as much to printed official papers as to those copied by hand, and especially to communications to newspapers.

No official papers should be sent to individuals or public bodies in England, except through the India Office.

Civil and military servants of the Government are prohibited from entering into pecuniary arrangements with members of the service or department to which they belong in connection with the resignation of any appointment held by them. On proof of any appointment, civil or military, having been resigned under such circumstances, the nomination consequent on such resignation will be cancelled, and the violation of orders severely visited on the offender.

Public officers are reminded that the employment of public servants in making purchases, or in any private matter in which receipt or expenditure of money is concerned, is most strictly prohibited, and that every breach of this order which is brought to the notice of Government will be severely dealt with.

It is not intended that the prohibition contained in the resolution above cited should preclude officers from employing public servants to procure for them conveyance or necessary supplies while they are travelling upon duty, though in all such transactions constant vigilance is needed to prevent cheating and extortion. But a recent case has compelled the Government of India to repeat with emphasis the standing order against employing public servants in any private business, more specially in any private bargain or money matter. His Excellency in Council believes that the distinction is patent, and that the wording of the resolution thus interpreted cannot in practice interfere with administrative exigencies.

His Excellency the Governor-General in Council desires that the following—

Such sanction will only be given in the case of newspapers or publications mainly devoted to the discussion of topics not of a political character, such, for instance, as art, science or literature. The sanction will be liable to be withdrawn at the discretion of the Government.

Officers in the service of Government are not prohibited from contributing to the public press, but their position makes it incumbent upon them to confine themselves within the limits of temperate and reasonable discussion, and they are prohibited from making public, without the previous sanction of Government, any documents, papers or information of which they may become possessed in their official capacity. (The communications so prohibited are not confined to matter still under discussion, but include also the unauthorized disclosure of matter finally decided on, but as to which the manner and the time of publication may not be less important than the matter itself.) In case of a departure from these rules, or if the Government should consider the connection of any officer with the press to be contrary to the public interests, his liberty to contribute will be withdrawn.

The Government of India will decide in case of doubt whether any engagements of officers with the press are consistent with the discharge of their duties to the Government.

Nothing in this resolution is intended to relax the provisions of any regulations on this subject which now apply to the army.

India's No. 3121, dated
25th August 1872.

No officer attached to any Secretariat of the Local Government, or to any of its connected offices, shall in future become the accredited correspondent of any newspaper without the permission, in writing, of the Chief Secretary to Government, as well as that of the head of the office in which he is serving.

As a general rule, there is no objection to servants of Government holding shares in mining or other companies having for their object the development of the resources of the country. It is a necessary restriction that public servants shall take no part in the management of such institutions and shall not be employed in the districts where the operations of the company may be carried on. Speculation in the public funds, or in the shares of joint stock companies, is prohibited to public servants in India; and the Government is empowered to mark its sense of such conduct either by withholding promotion or in any other way it may deem fit.

It is a standing order that servants of Government are required to abstain from speculative investments, but no

the management of a company applies†† to public servants on extend†† to officers who, with the consent of the Government of India, take service under railway companies working under concessions from Government, nor does it apply to the management* of Associations which are established bona fide for the purpose of mutual supply and not of trade and profit (provided in this latter case that the interests of Government do not suffer by the double employment of the officer concerned). Although the prohibition against taking part in the "management" of a company cannot, taken literally, be held to debar an officer from taking part as a promoter or as one of the applicants for registration in the memorandum of association, the Governor-General in Council has held that the danger against which the prohibition was aimed, namely, that of official influence being abused or official trust betrayed, is, under such circumstances, not much less than if the officer took part in the management after the company has been started. Government servants are therefore distinctly forbidden to take any part in the promotion or registration of companies.

The standing orders as to the connection of Government officers with trading companies apply only to gazetted officers of the Government of the covenanted and uncovenanted services, and do not apply in the case of clerks and other ministerial officers in Government employ. It is sufficient to see that they give to Government the whole of the time for which they are paid, and do not involve themselves in pecuniary difficulties or disreputable associations. The supervision of heads of departments will in it is always at the discretion of a employment which in its opinion should undertake.

In the rules for the supply of carriage to troops Manual of Government Orders, Department III, page 6, it is laid down that a uniform rate of 7 annas a day for each bullock employed shall be paid from the date on which the carriage is engaged to the date of its discharge, both inclusive, and that full hire should be charged for halts. The same rule should be observed when carriage is collected through the tahsildar for the carriage of the baggage of civil officers on tour, for the despatch of treasure or other public service.

G. O. No. <sup>1541</sup>/<sub>111-78A</sub>,
dated 5th December 1884.

Many civil officers arrange without the intervention of any official agency to hire carts by the month during the tour season. Such arrangements need not be interfered with: it would be well if they were generally adopted; but Collectors and Commissioners of divisions should satisfy themselves that cartmen employed by civil officers to carry baggage by stages are paid, from the date of their engagement to the date of their discharge, at full rates. If anywhere there is a practice of paying only half rates between the date of engagement and the date of actual marching the practice should be abandoned. This practice is unfair, for carts detained are prevented from earning a full wage from the date of their detention, and it is not possible for the cartmen to keep themselves and their cattle in good condition on half rates.

Every precaution should be taken to ensure that coolies and artisans who are called on to work for civil departments are paid at the full market wages of labour current at the place at which they are engaged.

Supply of provisions to—on tour.

G. O. No. <sup>600</sup>
111—4482, dated
18th June 1894.

Every Collector should at the beginning of the tour season issue instructions to his tahsildars to regulate the collection and furnishing of supplies to the camps of civil officers on tour. A copy of these instructions should be given to all officers in charge of camps in the district. Commissioners in the course of their cold weather tours should see that proper instructions are issued by Collectors and that supplies are paid for. A careful and considerate Collector hardly requires government looks confidently to its all kinds. It is not proposed to is applicable to the entire province, but the instructions issued by Collectors should conform to the following general principles:—

(1) Officers in charge of camps should inform the Collector, or if they are officers of the district staff, the tahsildar, of the number of persons belonging to their camp, and should not permit persons who have no duty in the camp to accompany it.

(2) Indents are not required for ordinary articles of food, flour, grain, sugar stuffs, oil, tobacco, which are sold by shopkeepers, and the consumption of which can be estimated by the tahsildar. For the sale of such articles a shop will be opened in the camp: but no bania should be required to open a camp shop at a place where there is a bazar, nor should a camp shop be kept open after sunset. No purchases at a camp shop should be permitted except for ready money. When a camp is large it may be possible to follow the practice in the Tarai district, namely, to get a bania to go with the camp and supply it at fixed rates, making his own arrangements for the supplies.

(3) If eggs, milk, vegetables or other perishable articles are required, an indent should be sent to the tahsildár, as well as for fowls and other articles of food which are not sold in village shops. The quantities indented for should be taken over and paid for on arrival of the camp. If the persons from whom these supplies are obtained cannot be present to receive payment, arrangements must be made for their receiving it.

(4) The labour of carpenters in splitting wood, and of coolies employed in cutting grass, putting up tents, loading carts, or carrying loads, should be paid for. Chaukidárs who watch the camp should always receive at least one anna a night for their services.

(5) The use of metal water vessels will obviate the necessity for earthen vessels, but when earthen vessels are supplied they should be paid for, and the potter himself or one of his family should be encouraged to attend and sell them.

(6) Wood for fuel and straw for spreading in the tents, for bedding, for camp followers and as litter for horses are, by the ancient custom of the country, provided free of charge by the landowners. There seems no reason to interfere with a custom sanctioned by immemorial usage, so long as the people concerned do not object to it. Wood has, as a rule, no marketable value in a rural village, and the straw which is used as bedding is not removed. The Collector should fix the amount of straw and wood required according to the size of the camp, and more than the fixed amount should not be supplied. In damp districts more straw and wood are needed than in dry districts. The straw and wood should be provided by the landowners and should not in any case be taken from tenants. If the landholder desires to charge for straw and wood he can do so by informing the tahsildár previously of his desire.

(7) Fuel will not be supplied free at places where there are wood stores and wood is offered for sale.

Annual reports. Data for submission of—
Circular No. 20, dated
19th April 1891.

THE annexed list of annual reports and returns shows the dates for their submission to Government, which have been fixed after full consideration, so as to allow ample time for the preparation of the reports from the materials furnished by subordinates.

The reporting officer should, after due consideration, fix the dates on which his subordinates should submit their reports, in order that while on the one hand they are not unnecessarily hurried in the preparation of their returns, on the other, he may have sufficient time for the preparation of the departmental report within the period fixed.

These dates, when once laid down, should be strictly observed, and failure on the part of any officer to submit his report on or before the appointed date, should be duly brought to the notice of Government.

The immediate object of an annual report is to lay before the Government a complete record of the year's operations. The Government during the year has, from time to time, been kept fully informed of most questions requiring its orders, and instructions have been given as their need arose. The report puts before the Lieutenant-Governor little that is new, but brings before him, as a whole, the statistics and facts with which, during the past twelve months, he has dealt singly or in smaller groups. In the limited though important class of questions which cannot be disposed of otherwise than on review of the whole year's experience, a report requires comment from the officers writing it, and instructions from the Government. Comparative analysis and special explanation of abnormal results are, in fact, its only immediate administrative objects, and abnormal results are necessarily few. Accurate facts and figures (so far as in India accuracy may be attained), with concise and intelligent criticism, are what His Honor looks for.

Subordinate reports should invariably be condensed and their substance embodied by the head of the department; extracts only being given where they are absolutely needful to the understanding of the figure tables.

The other main and the principal use which an annual report serves is that of a permanent record. In India, changes of officers are so numerous that the need of such a record is felt to a degree unknown in Europe. It is very essential that there should exist a reliable and easily accessible record of the experience and working of past years, and thus the annual reports supply. It is no less essential that the record should be in reasonable compass; in this the annual reports too often fail.

The record of the writer's views on points cognate with the subject-matter of the report, or the introduction of discussions, in themselves useful and possibly interesting, are wholly out of place in annual reports, and are, in the true sense of the word, impertinent.

In the preparation of reports intended for publication, officers should be careful invariably to refrain from the expression of censure or criticism of officers of other departments of the Government. Cases in which such seem called for should be reserved for special and separate report, if it is thought necessary that they should be brought to the notice of Government.

In preparing annual reports, the reporting officer should show on the title page the day and the month on which the year of report ends. They should invariably be designated as "for the year ending 31st March 18—, 30th June 18—, 30th September 18—, 31st December 18—," and so on, as the case may be.

April 1881.

THE responsibility for the correctness of all figures in reports submitted to Government rests with the submitting officer, and as soon as a report is printed, he should at once obtain a copy from the Press and have the figures carefully checked in his office, so as to guard against misprints or other errors that may have crept in. In the case of every report it should be certified that this has been done, and the figures found correct, or the necessary corrections made. Where reports are received direct by Government from the Press, the result of the checking should be communicated separately with as little delay as possible.

It is requested that any representation which any officer of Government may wish to make in his official capacity to the English Royal Humane Society, with reference to the grant of the Society's medals and certificates, may in future be forwarded through the Local Government to Her Majesty's Secretary of State for transmission to the Society. The practice of forwarding such applications direct to the Society should be discontinued.

Circular No 23A, dated 27th May 1937.

It should be a rule with all authorities that no information calculated to give alarm should be passed on without due consideration of its nature, character and probable credibility, and without such information being placed in a clear and distinct manner before the authority for whom the communication is intended.

SHOOTING PASSES.

The following rules are issued by His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in India for regulating the grant of shooting passes to British soldiers (paragraphs 749 to 751C, Army Regulations, India, Volume II).

Commissioners of divisions and Magistrates of districts, on receiving intimation of shooting passes having been granted to soldiers, should at once communicate the fact to local subordinate officials in the tracts to be visited. Villagers should also be told to make their complaints, in all cases where soldiers infringe these rules, to the Magistrate or local official empowered to receive them, instead of taking the law into their own hands. The rules should be explained to villagers in the neighbourhood of cantonments.

Rules relating to the grant of shooting passes to British soldiers (paragraphs 749 to 751C, Army Regulations, India, Volume II).

Passes for shooting purposes are only to be granted to steady, well-conducted men, who are known to be competent to handle a gun.

2. Not less than three men should go out shooting together.

3. At least one of the party should have sufficient acquaintance with the language to be able to converse with the inhabitants.

4. Men out shooting are to keep together as much as possible, and not to separate into parties of less than three.

5. On no account is any member of a shooting party to address or enter into conversation with native women.

6. Soldiers are prohibited from entering any village, house, temple, mosque or enclosure, or from shooting within 500 yards of them.

7. They are forbidden to trespass upon, or shoot over, crops, to molest dogs or any of the animals and birds referred to in paras. 11 and 12.

8. Shooting under any circumstances at night is forbidden.

9. Shooting with ball is strictly prohibited, except in forests or rucks or in thinly-populated tracts at a distance from cantonments.

10. Officers commanding stations will communicate with the civil authorities, in order to ascertain in what tracts of country shooting should be forbidden, either on account of the sacredness of the localities or for other reasons.

11. The civil authorities should also be asked to give a list of such animals and birds as are looked upon as sacred by the inhabitants.

12. A list giving the names of the birds and animals which are forbidden to be shot in any barrack room, or in any other place, is to be kept up in every barrack room.

Government of India, Home Department, No. 20 Pub. 1027 dated 14th August 1893.

13. When shooting passes extending over three days are granted to non-commissioned officers or men, the Commanding Officer will send to the Magistrate of the district, or in the case of soldiers obtaining passes to districts other than that in which the regiment they belong to is quartered for the time being, then to the Magistrate of the district to which the men are about to proceed, a notice stating the rank and names of the party, and as nearly as possible the part of the district to which they are going.

14. Care should be taken that passes are only given for localities where shooting can properly be pursued.

15. Paragraphs 1 to 9 will be read to every man to whom a shooting pass is granted; and it will be ascertained that he is aware of the localities that he is prohibited from visiting, and of the animals and birds whose killing is forbidden.

16. Any non-commissioned officer or soldier found shooting without a pass or disobeying these rules will be severely punished and deprived of the privilege of shooting during the remainder of his Indian service. In the event of an affray with natives arising from disregard of the rules or of injury to person or property being caused by the reckless or inadvertent use of firearms by soldiers, all shooting passes will, if the actual offenders cannot be identified, be prohibited for one year in the corps or, at the discretion of the General Officer Commanding, in the district to which they belong. The prohibition, with a short statement of the circumstances, will in each case be published in District Orders, and reported for the information of the Commander-in-Chief and the Government of India.

17. Shooting passes to non-commissioned officers and men are not to be given for more than fourteen days at a time.

18. They may be given which the men belong, or, out of the district, by the they may be attached for the time being (vide paragraph 1885A, Army Regulations, India, Volume II).

19. Officers granting shooting passes will take care that all rules in force regarding the close season of the district concerned are explained to the men, who must be cautioned not to infringe them.

20. Before granting passes to shoot at outstations, Commanding Officers will ascertain that there is no local objection and no unusual sickness in the district.

21. In the case of passes for shooting in Native States the same rules will apply, except that application will be made to the Political Agent or equivalent officer, where existent, for the information required under clauses 10, 11 and 19.

Soldiers marching through Native States will not be permitted to shoot beyond a radius of 10 miles from their camp.

It is unnecessary to fix the number of apprentices; but the following are the main principles to be observed by Collectors and Deputy Commissioners, the working out of the details being left to them (subject, of course, to revision by the Commissioner of the division on his annual inspection).

Apprentices, unpaid.
No 332A, dated 7th April 1879, and No. 1, dated 7th January 1882.

Apprentices should not be entertained in the treasury, the record room, or the nazarat: none but fully paid and responsible employes should be allowed admission to these departments—affording, as they do, opportunities for fraud which have more than once been taken advantage of. Nor should they be employed in posts the duty of which is such that if it be not properly performed, embezzlement is thereby rendered possible: e.g., the making up, check and comparison of accounts and other similar duties. In no case, where embezzlement or neglect of orders causing loss to Government is brought to notice, can it be accepted as an excuse that the work had been made over to an apprentice, and this must be clearly understood with regard to all matters entrusted to them. VII.—All orders of promotion, and of suspension or dismissal will be entered as indicated by the annexed form. Resignations of office connected with no cause of censure on the conduct of the officer may be entered in a separate footnote.

IX.—On all occasions of an officer, an extract from his entries, will be attached to his file and will form a necessary requisite under the established rules, to higher authority.

X.—No officer who has served in one district shall obtain employment in another district without an extract from the character book being filed with the proceeding of appointment; and on his appointment in the new district taking place, the extract will be incorporated in the character book of that district.

Such extract shall be claimable by the officer as of right, and shall be given without expense, under the signature of the head of the office. But the extract shall be complete, so as to comprehend all entries, whether of approval or the reverse. The practice of issuing commendatory parwanas or separate certificates of good character in the case of officers is strictly prohibited. Opinions as to peculiar ability and good character may be recorded on the extracts in cases in which they may be thought to be specially called for under the provisions contained in Rule VI.

XI.—It is the duty of Commissioners, on their annual tours, to see that the present rules are regularly and carefully observed by the several officers responsible for their execution.

THE orders contained in the above circular should be strictly observed. If they are not, it might become necessary for Government to consider whether the Accountant-General should not be desired to instruct treasury officers to stop payment of their salaries to men over 25 years of age whose appointments have not been sanctioned by Government.

Punishment of subordinate officials.

1. In all cases of punishment other than dismissal, a formal proceeding embodying a statement of the offence or fault, the explanation of the person concerned, and the reasons for punishment, shall invariably be recorded.

2. In all cases of dismissal, the charge against the subordinate official, his defence and the order thereon, should be reduced to writing. In the cases of public servants who are dismissed in consequence of facts or inferences elicited at a judicial trial, or in the case of persons who abscond with an accusation impending, this procedure may be unnecessary or impossible; but in all other cases of the dismissal of public servants it should be strictly observed.

officer on the spot, but the officer empowered to pass an order of dismissal should in all cases call for the offending official and give him a hearing before passing the final order of dismissal.

4. If the offence punished by dismissal or lesser punishment be one for which a criminal prosecution might have been ordered, the reason why it was considered unnecessary or inexpedient to adopt that course should be recorded.

Extract paragraphs 3 to 9 of a Despatch from the Hon'ble Court of Directors No. 42, dated 6th August 1851.

In regard to the rules of conduct which should guide the relations of superior officers with their subordinates, the following directions should be observed:—

“When persons are appointed to permanent situations in any department, they should not be dismissed upon light grounds. Fraud and dishonesty, continued and wilful negligence, and all offences involving moral disgrace, meet with their appropriate punishment in dismissal, and in every case in which that punishment is inflicted upon just grounds, the individual should be considered to be permanently excluded from Government employ. With regard, however, to instances of arbitrary dismissal for slight reasons, we can neither recognise their propriety nor see the advantage accruing to Government from the practice. It may be doubtful whether the punishment of temporary suspension under the name of dismissal, “with the intention of reappointment,” has any beneficial operation as regards the supposed offender. But we cannot doubt that it must tend to impede the business of the office by raising fears in the minds of the other native officials that the caprice of their superiors may inflict upon them the same penalty. We consider it more likely that Government will be well served if it is distinctly understood that probity and diligence are the conditions of continued employment than if the subordinates work in slavish dread of their official superior, knowing that his whim, prejudice, or passion may at any hour eject them from their situations and reduce them to destitution. In our opinion, moreover, the knowledge that gross misconduct will altogether exclude from the service of Government will operate as an additional inducement to the honest and attentive discharge of duty on the part of the subordinate. The offence which a subordinate may commit of his office to merit severe punishment, one of dismissal, the circumstances should be reported to higher authority, and, if necessary, to the Government for their judgment and decision.

The salutary tendency of the proposed rule will therefore be to make subordinates more faithful in the discharge of their duties, and superiors more cautious in inflicting punishment upon those under their control. Necessary as it is that the power of dismissal should be vested in the chiefs of departments, it is equally desirable to check and, as far as may be practicable, to regulate that power.

There is, however, a class of cases which does not come within the intention of our order: we mean cases of ineptitude for the particular branch of occupation to which a native servant may have been originally appointed, as well as cases of physical incapacity. The latter must be treated according to rule, and with regard to the former we cannot but think that in the majority of cases the difficulty might be overcome by a readjustment of duties without recourse to the harsh steps of removal from office.

We have taken into consideration the position of the native official on the subject of men placed in subordination to them."

It should be impressed on subordinates that culpable neglect of duty renders them liable to dismissal from the service of Government, apart from the question whether they are convicted of any criminal offence or not. The two questions are entirely distinct. Incompetence, which may not amount to a criminal offence, justifies dismissal in the case of an official who has been prosecuted in a criminal court, and has, after trial on the merits of the case, been declared innocent of the charge brought against him, the verdict should be accepted as final, and the man should not be punished departmentally when the offence for which he was tried constitutes the sole ground for punishment. If, however, the official be acquitted on technical grounds, or if the facts established by the judicial investigation show that his conduct or character as an official has been such as to make it undesirable that his services should be retained by Government, the head of the office to which he belongs may, in the exercise of the authority vested in him by the rules of the department, and after making a full record of the reasons, take departmental cognizance of such character or conduct.

Relationship among native Government Officials
Circular No 38A, dated
16th June 1865.

The following are the views of Government in regard to relationship amongst native Government officials:—

No objection need be taken to relationship amongst treasurers and their subordinates or between kingdos in the same district. In the former case the treasurer, being responsible for the honesty of his subordinates, is justified in having confidence in the character of the appointments. In the latter case, the appointments are unavoidable, and they are not necessarily attended with evil.

In other cases the employment of relatives in Government service in the same district is not very objectionable if they are in departments which have no connection with each other, but is objectionable if they are in the same or connected departments; still more so if in the same office.

The most objectionable of all is the employment of relatives of the head of an office either in a similar department or in the same office. Government interference is not required in the case of officials who are related only to wakils.

There is no objection to the employment of the relatives of Honorary Magistrates in the district in which the latter have power. The fact of the relatives of such employes being Honorary Magistrates vouches for their respectability.

In directing the transfers of officials where necessary—

Relatives of the heads of offices should be transferred to as great an extent as possible, unless they are employed in departments where their presence cannot facilitate mischievous combination.

As a general rule, no two relatives should be left in the same office, and as seldom as possible in the same department.

When it is necessary to transfer some members of a party of relatives, the last employed should be the first transferred.

In making appointments, the greatest care is to be taken to prevent the natural tendency to permit the formation of family cliques of officials. District Officers, when reporting a nomination for approval, should state in the "remarks" column of the statement the relations of the nominee who are in Government employ in the district. This will enable Commissioners to judge if the nomination is objectionable on the score of relationship.

This order applies to clerks employed in the office of the Board of Revenue.

India's No 1806, dated 28th October 1885.

G. O. No  $\frac{1270}{111-723}$  dated 6th November 1885.

It has come to the notice of Government that the above orders have in a recent case been lost sight of. The Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner calls strict attention to the Resolution marginally quoted and directs that no subscriptions for new objects are to be invited or encouraged by District Officers until such objects have been intimated to, and have received the approval of, the Local Government. District Officers will be held personally responsible for the observance of these instructions.

It has been brought to the notice of the Government that officials have without themselves in collecting subscription political character. It should be permitted to interest themselves in the same; and His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner is pleased to direct that public servants shall not participate in the collection of subscriptions intended to promote political purposes of any kind whatever. Infringement of these orders will entail very serious consequences.

G. O No. III—952B.

dated 1st June 1894.

THE Government of India have ruled that it is undesirable that army transport animals should be used for religious processions, though under the Regulations quoted in the margin such animals may be lent for State and private purposes to civil and military officers.

A similar rule should be observed in the case of Government elephants of which civil officers may have the use.

TRESPASSING ON STANDING CROPS.

DISTRICT OFFICERS should take every opportunity of warning Englishmen and others against entering on standing crops for sporting purposes, unless they first obtain the permission of the owners so to do.

THE Government of India having ruled, with reference to clause 25 of the India Army Circulars of 1883, that the power of granting privilege leave to the Adjutants of the Administrative Battalions of Volunteers to the extent of three months, shall be exercised by the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner as Honorary Colonel of Volunteers in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, it is directed that, in future, applications from such officers for privilege leave should be submitted through Commandants of Corps for sanction. Where the battalion is composed of several scattered corps, the application should be countersigned by the Commandant of each corps under which the Adjutant is employed.

Privilege leave to Volunteer Officers other than Adjutants will be granted by Commandants without reference to higher authority.

Encouragement to be given to volunteer movement.

Circular No. 2656A, dated
5th November 1873.

It has been brought to the notice of the Lieutenant Governor and Chief Commissioner that some heads of departments, if not actively hostile to the volunteer movement, at least regard it with lukewarm indifference, and are consequently indisposed to allow their subordinates those little concessions in regard to time without which it is hardly possible for them to become efficient members of the force.

His Honor would therefore wish it to be understood that he thinks the volunteers ought to be encouraged as much as possible; and he trusts that, after this intimation of his opinion, heads of departments, so far from putting any obstacles in the way of their subordinates, will afford them every facility for serving as volunteers, so long as the concessions asked are not absolutely inconsistent with the performance of their ordinary and legitimate duties.

The Government of India, in the Military Department, has granted to volunteer corps in India the following privileges:—

G. O. No. 1624A, dated
2nd April 1880.

(a) The supply, when practicable, of tents and commissariat elephants and carts to bring volunteers daily to their offices on occasions when camps of exercise may be applied for and specially allowed. The Government of India will also, on these occasions, sanction the grant of free rations and the entertainment at the expense of the State of a complement of cooks.

(b) The right of all efficient volunteers to travel (on State Railways only) in the class of carriage next above that to which their tickets would ordinarily entitle them, on production of passes signed by their Commanding Officer provided that only Commissioned Officers can, under this arrangement, travel 1st class with 2nd class tickets—all other ranks travelling 2nd class with 3rd class tickets.

The Governor-General in Council has also been pleased to sanction the grant of a medal for the best shot amongst the volunteers of each Presidency, the competition being conducted strictly under rules laid down by the Assistant Adjutant-General for Musketry.

certificates granted by selected indigo planters, who not only grant certificates, but are also generally empowered to pay the rewards and recoup themselves by bills supported by the certificates as vouchers. This system meets with the entire approval of the Government. The General in Council trusts that attention to this matter, as it is of great importance, will lead to the extermination of the snakes which are likely to be a great nuisance. The Government should take such means as may be necessary for the destruction of snakes, such as the use of aloes, cactus, thorn hedges, ruined houses and walls, and the like, which harbour and afford cover to these reptiles.

The following is the scale of rewards—in the several divisions of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh—for the destruction of wild animals. No deviation from the scale prescribed can be permitted without the sanction of Government.

The same reward will be paid for live animals sent to the Calcutta Zoological Gardens as would have been paid had they been destroyed. District Officers should, however, first communicate with the Committee should they hear of any specimens being available, as it often happens that the Committee have a sufficient supply of certain animals, and do not at the time require additional specimens. The Committee have also made arrangements with the East Indian Railway for the transport, free of charge, of animals intended for the Zoological Gardens; and on receiving intimation of any animals having been secured, they will be able to send a free pass for its carriage to Calcutta. If the animals require an attendant, the Committee will generally be able to send an experienced keeper to take charge of them during the journey.

Should any very young and hairless be brought, it is a sign they have been cut out of mother, and then, unless they bring the mother also, is a sure sign they are not wolves: as if a pregnant wolf were captured, a reward for her would certainly be claimed. It is understood that by far the largest proportion of cubs for which "Kanjars" claim reward are jackals.
	Wolf.	—es.—Breeding season from about middle of February to middle of March. When quite young, with closed eyes, they are of a very light brown, somewhat of the shade of coffee and milk, darker on the back. Their coat is soft, and the tail compared to their body is very long , almost twice as long as that of the young jackal of the same age. When older their colour becomes lighter, being only slightly dark on the back. The lower part of their abdomen becomes completely covered with a short and soft white down and their ears become white edged.
Tiger.	Still older,	their coat becomes very soft and of a yellowish taw, with numerous projecting silky black hairs. At this period on their paws (that part which corresponds to the anatomical wrist) are developed a few white hairs, and their face becomes quite foxy, with a pointed muzzle.
	Leopard.	their teeth are fine.
The scale of rewards prescribed above for the destruction of animals in the Jhānsi district having proved insufficient, the following special rewards are sanctioned for the Jhānsi district, and the Lalitpur sub-division:—

Ditto wild dog (either sex) ...		2 0 0

special reward of Rs. 2 for every wild dog killed in the Jhānsi Division is sanctioned.

Darbar Lists.

No. 45, dated 21st May 1873 (N.W.P.), extended to Oudh by G. O. No. 418, dated 21st June 1879, and amended by Circular No. 33, dated 21st July 1880, and G.O. No. 777-85, dated IV-600

1894, and IV-652, dated

4th November 1894.

Darbar lists (in the form appended) should be maintained by District Officers with the greatest care, the names of all gentlemen entitled to a seat in the darbar of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor places. On receipt of prepare annually a darbar headed "divisional number" as column 1, assigning to the district darbars their respective places in the general divisional list, and recording his opinion on each recommendation for the admission of new names, the omission of names now on the list, or the change in position of darbars.

This divisional list should be submitted to Government for sanction by the 1st February in each year. It can conveniently be compiled by amending a copy of the last printed divisional list supplied by Government.

Applications for additions to or omissions from the list may, for special reasons, be submitted at any time other than that specified above.

As regards the compilation of these lists, the following general observations and orders are communicated for information and guidance :—

(a) The darbar lists of the Lieutenant-Governor are formed of the following classes :—

- (1) Native gentlemen of good family or local influence.
- (2) Men who have rendered conspicuous service to Government.
- (3) Men distinguished for public spirit, evinced by the construction of works of general utility and convenience.
- (4) Men distinguished for learning or professional attainments.

Darbar lists (in the form appended) should be maintained by District Officers with the greatest care, the names of all gentlemen entitled to a seat in the darbar of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor being recorded in their proper places. On receipt of the district lists, the Commissioner should prepare annually a darbar list for his division in the same form, with the addition of a column headed "divisional number" as column 1, assigning to the district darbars their respective places in the general divisional list, and recording his opinion on each recommendation for the admission of new names, the omission of names now on the list, or the change in position of darbars.

(a) Of the first class alone is the right to a seat in darbar hereditary. As a rule, the eldest son of a darbari of this class, on the death of his father, will succeed to his position in darbar. This rule, however, is not absolute; and when, on the death of his father, the estate has been largely reduced, or if the character and influence of the son do not appear to warrant his taking his father's place, the case will be considered and decided on its merits.

(c) It must be remembered that the right to a seat in darbar only belongs to one member of an undivided family. In the case of a divided family, the heads of each separate branch are eligible for seats. Subordinate members, uncles, cousins or brothers in an undivided family are only eligible for seats if they possess special claims to consideration.

(d) The second class includes many who will naturally find their place in the first class as well as many ex-officials of Government of the civil and military services. The succession of the son to his father's place in darbar is not hereditary in this class; but if the services rendered have been great, and the character of the son be good, his claims will be favourably considered.

(e) In the third and fourth classes recommendations should be made very sparingly, and only for conspicuous public spirit and liberality or very distinguished attainments.

(f) Honorary Magistrates and members of Municipal Boards should not be entered by name in the darbar lists, unless otherwise entitled to attend.

Honorary Magistrates are ex officio entitled to seats in the Lieutenant-Governor's darbar.

The following members of Municipal Boards are, ex officio entitled to seats in the Lieutenant-Governor's darbar:—

(a) Members of Municipal Boards at district head-quarters.

(b) Chairmen of Municipal Boards other than those at district head-quarters.

If the Chairman of any such Board be an official, the Vice-Chairman, if not an official, should be invited to attend.

Members of Boards other than those at district head-quarters are not ex officio entitled to seats; but if on other grounds they have any title to be admitted, the fact that they are members of Municipal Board will be considered to enhance their claim.

(g) Government officials need not be entered in the lists, as they are constantly transferred from one district to another. It may, however, be noted for the guidance of officers that—

I.—A classification of officials can best be arranged on the basis of salaries; and in this view there will be two grades:—

A.—Those drawing Rs. 250 per mensem and upwards.

B.—All others.

II.—In both classes the ranking will primarily be by salary; officials drawing the same salary being arranged according to seniority in gazetted service.

III.—Officials drawing under Rs. 100 per mensem will not, as a rule, be admitted to darbars; but no hard-and-fast line can be drawn, and each case must be considered and decided on its own merits.

THE Subordinate Medical Service has been divided into two distinct branches—one for military and the other for civil employ.

The military branch will consist of so many of the hospital assistants as are required for military hospitals with a reserve of 25 per cent. on that strength. The assistants forming this reserve, when not required for military duty, may be employed in the Civil Department, but under such circumstances they will only be lent to the Local Government or Administration for the time being; they will continue to receive from the Civil Department their military rate of pay with any special allowances attached to independent and important charges and any personal allowances for exceptional good service, and will be always in readiness for immediate transfer to military work whenever their services may be needed. The list General of the I will be preserved. . . . .
number of vacancies annually under the same system as that now in force. The Surgeon-General will also regulate the distribution of the reserve among the various Local Governments.

The civil hospital assistants will constitute a separate class in each province sufficient for the entire civil medical work of that province. The list of the civil hospital assistants belonging to each province will be kept by the Local Government or Administration. The conditions of service will be as follow:—

In addition to the above scale of pay, special allowances of from Rs. 10 to Rs. 25 will be granted to hospital assistants for independent or other charges of more than ordinary importance, or when local circumstances, such as reputed unhealthiness or dearth of provisions, may give just grounds for increasing the emoluments and Administrations within their respective spheres and the amount in each case. The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals will publish in Part II of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh Government Gazette the names of hospital assistants found qualified for promotion, and this will be accepted as sufficient authority by the Accountant-General, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, for purposes of audit of increased pay and allowances.

G. O. No. 215 of 1863.

THE qualification in the English language which will entitle hospital assistants to the increased rates of pay is as follows:—

- I—the ability to read fluently and intelligently ordinary English prose—for instance, a page of any standard History of England or India;
- II—a fair knowledge of orthography and the ability to write from dictation with a reasonable amount of correctness;
- III—a competent knowledge of simple arithmetic as far as the rule of three;

IV—the ability to read and write English prescriptions intelligently.

The admission to a hospital assistant of the increased rate of pay after seven years' service, and again to a 1st class assistant of that after fourteen years' service, can only be sanctioned on the certificate of the medical officer under whom the candidate may be serving that he has not only maintained his previous knowledge but also made fair progress in his acquaintance with the English language.

Local Governments and Administrations have the power to exempt hospital assistants from their septennial examinations, but this power is to be very cautiously exercised and exemptions are to be granted only for very special reasons.

WHENEVER it is considered necessary by local officers to suspend a civil hospital assistant, the approval of the Magistrate of the district must first be obtained. No. 4-Medical, dated 19th
July 1894.

2. All hospital assistants employed in sanctioned appointment, whether under Government or Local Boards or Municipalities, should be granted by the authorities paying their salaries, free quarters or house-rent in lieu. It is to be distinctly understood, however, that the grant of house-rent is conditional on the hospital assistant concerned providing himself with quarters within a convenient distance of his duties or of the hospital or dispensary in which he may be employed. The quarters thus rented should be approved by the authority under whom the hospital assistant is serving. In places where free quarters are not provided, and where suitable quarters within a convenient distance are not obtainable, it will be the duty of the Government or the local body concerned, as the case may be, to build free quarters.

3. This Resolution only applies to those hospital assistants who are Government servants.

INSPECTOR-GENERAL OF CIVIL HOSPITALS.

THE following are the arrangements in connection with the duties of the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals as the head of the Civil Medical Department in these Provinces :—

He will arrange for transfers and postings of all civil medical employes under the rank of Civil Surgeon, and will be vested for this purpose with the authority hitherto exercised by the Government.

He will also be competent to pass orders on applications for leave by such employes (subject always to Standing Orders), and to arrange for filling vacancies consequent on the grant of leave.

Applications for extra native doctors or hospital assistants in connection with outbreaks of cholera or other epidemics will be made to him, and he is authorized to pass the necessary orders as to appointment, pay, &c., of such, but not of those entertained for duty in a regularly sanctioned appointment and on the fixed establishment.

In supersession of all previous orders on the subject, applications for leave by Civil Surgeons will be submitted, through the Magistrate of the district, to the Inspector-General (no duplicate is now necessary), who will forward them with his recommendations to the Government through the office of the Accountant-General.

He is also appointed to be ex officio Visitor of all jails and lock-ups in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

The dismissal of a hospital assistant of the regular establishment should be reported for the confirmation of Government, but men of that class may be degraded by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals without reference to Government, and he may also accept resignation of appointment.

THE Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals has been directed to examine and inspect the charitable dispensaries during his cold weather tour, and to call for returns of expenditure, number of patients treated, operations performed, &c., &c., in the form which will be received from his office, and which, together with the annual reports and returns to be submitted in the forms prescribed by that officer, will enable the Government to obtain a correct view of the expenditure, usefulness and comparative value of the working of each institution.

I.—A Medical Officer in visiting charge of a second civil station should, as a rule, visit it once in every two months.

II.—Such visiting Medical Officer should remain in the station under inspection for not less than 48 hours, and should fully and thoroughly inspect all the medical work and institutions, reporting the results of his inspection to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

1. A case having recently occurred in which compensation was claimed for the destruction, by order of a Government Medical Officer, of bedding, clothing, &c., belonging to certain individuals who occupied quarters in which a man had died of cholera, the Governor-General in Council considers it desirable, in order to prevent the unnecessary destruction of property and the submission of claims for compensation, that some definite instructions should be laid down for the guidance of officers in such cases. His Excellency in Council is accordingly pleased to direct that the procedure prescribed for adoption among European troops as given in the * rules appended to this Circular shall, with the addition of the foot-note, in future be carefully observed.

2. It should be impressed upon all Government officers that if destruction of property as calculated to cause infection is ordered, and inquiry subsequently shows in any particular case that such destruction was not absolutely necessary, but that purification would have sufficed, the officer ordering such destruction must be held personally responsible for the loss occasioned thereby to the owners of the property.

October 1894 (Financial).

WHEN necessity arises for summoning Civil Surgeons from one station to another to afford medical aid to Government officers, application should be made to the Magistrate of the district or chief civil officer in the station, when a reference can be made to him without undue delay. He, if satisfied of the propriety of the step, will, through the Magistrate of the district to which the medical officer belongs, request him to come, and the request should then be complied with, unless serious inconvenience will be caused thereby.

A certificate by the Magistrate of the district to which the Civil Surgeon is attached, to the effect that the procedure above laid down has been followed, or stating the exceptional circumstances under which it was departed from, must in all cases be appended to the Civil Surgeon's travelling allowance bill.

Position of Civil Surgeons in District and Municipal Boards.
G. O. No. 1X-737, dated
13th November 1894.

SECTIONS 31 and 32 of the Local Government Act, No. 1 of 1893, provide that the Civil Surgeon shall be entitled to attend any meeting of the District Board on any matter affecting the health of the district.

The object of this provision is not in any way to relax or sever the connection between Civil Surgeons on the one hand, and District Boards and Municipal Committees on the other; but rather to place the Chief Medical Officer of the district in a position where he will be better able than he was before (when he was only one of many members) to draw authoritative attention to the health, sanitary and otherwise, of the various localities and towns. The position of the Civil Surgeon now occupies is practically that of an inspecting officer, representing the general administration of the district in the Medical and Sanitation Departments. Magistrates are directed to bring prominently to the notice of all Civil Surgeons the functions that now devolve upon them, and to invite their co-operation in all questions connected with the medical and sanitary improvement of the districts and municipalities with which they are connected. When the Civil Surgeon has any suggestion or advice to offer to a board, otherwise than at a public meeting, or when correspondence follows discussion at a meeting, he should place himself semi-officially in communication with the Chairman.

The following rules are laid down in regard to the inspection visits and duties of Civil Surgeons placed in visiting charge of a second civil station :—

I.—A Medical Officer in visiting charge of a second civil station should, as a rule, visit it once in every two months.

II.—Such visiting Medical Officer should remain in the station under inspection for not less than 48 hours, and should fully and thoroughly inspect all the medical work and institutions, reporting the results of his inspection to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

III.—When possible, the visiting Medical Officer should time his visit so as to be present at a meeting of the district board in case of his advice being required on medical and sanitary matters.

The stuffing of mattresses and pillows used by cholera patients in hospital will be opened out, exposed to the air and beaten, and, when practicable, submitted to a dry heat of not less than 250° Fahrenheit for at least an hour (in an oven or *otherwise) before being again used; the remainder of the barrack and hospital bedding, clothing, &c., and such of the clothing worn by patients on their admission as is not liable to injury thereby, shall be boiled, exposed to the air, beaten, and afterwards washed with soap and water.

Cots and punkah fringes which have been used by cholera patients or in wards set apart for them, should also be subjected to the action of boiling water when they are no longer required for such cases.

Such articles of a soldier's kit as cannot be treated in the above manner will be removed to hospital and there fumigated and exposed to the air and sun for a week, beaten and washed.

Burning only to be resorted to when purification cannot be at once carried out.

57. When circumstances are such that the above processes of purification cannot be at once carried out, such articles as body linen, bedding, cots and punkah fringes may be burnt, but with proper arrangements the necessity for their destruction will rarely arise.

SEVERAL instances having recently occurred among the native medical students proceeding to England to compete for appointments in Her Majesty's Indian Medical Service of candidates who were unable to procure testimonials of character in accordance with the regulations for examinations for that service, i.e., certificates "from a magistrate or minister of the religious denomination to which the candidate belongs, who has personally known him for at least the two years preceding the date of his application," I have to request that you will cause the attention of the authorities in the various colleges in your Government to be drawn to this regulation, and the necessity of intending candidates complying with it, as far as possible, by obtaining certificates of character of a date immediately preceding their departure from India.

MEDICINES.

Medicines should be given from a charitable dispensary only to bona fide patients of the dispensary and to menial or inferior servants of Government to whom the Civil Surgeon does not give from his supply.

Medicines should not be given to any person (not being a dispensary patient) not in Government service if there is a druggist's shop in the station at which medicines can be procured of good quality and at reasonable rates. If there is no such shop, the Civil Surgeon may be authorised to supply medicines from his official store on payment of the value at cost price.

All Government officials and their families enjoy the privilege of gratuitous supply; but at places where there are good shops and where the charges are reasonable, Civil Surgeons should do what they can to induce patients who are able to pay to resort to those shops instead of to the official stock.

ABSCONDED OFFENDERS.

THE following opinion of the Honouable the Advocate-General for Bengal as to the procedure which should be adopted to secure the return of fugitive offenders is published for general information:—

"I will now proceed to state shortly what, in my opinion, is the proper procedure to be adopted in British India when the return of a fugitive offender is desired.

"Evidence should be taken that the person against whom the warrant is applied for has absconded; then evidence that an offence has been committed by such person should be faithfully and minutely recorded under section 512 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. If the Court upon such evidence issues a warrant, the warrant should be in the form prescribed by section 75 and directed as required by section 77. Evidence should be taken showing clearly that the offence charged is one to which Part I of the Criminal Code applies and that at least a certificate from showing rigorous imprisonment for a term of 12 months or more (see section 9 of 44 and 45 Vic., Cap 69). All the evidence should be taken, if possible, in the presence of the police officer to whom the warrant is addressed, and to whom it is desired that the fugitive offender should be delivered.

"A copy should be made of every deposition and every documentary exhibit; and each copy should contain a declaration, signed by the Magistrate as such, that it is a true copy of the deposition taken by himself, or an exhibit produced to him, as the case may be. The whole of the copy of the record thus made to whom the warrant is addressed should be attested every portion which the fugitive offender is."

"When the presence of the police officer who is to execute the warrant cannot be obtained at the proceedings referred to, then each copy must, before being entrusted to the police officer, be sealed with the seal of the Governor or Lieutenant-Governor of the province in which the proceeding was held. Although when the documents can be authenticated by the oath of a witness in the possession from which it is desired to procure the delivery of the offender the seal of the Governor or Lieutenant-Governor is not essential, I think it expedient that the seal should be affixed whenever it can be conveniently done.

"If the police officer entrusted with the execution of the warrant is unable to identify the accused, he should be accompanied by some person able to identify the accused to the possession from which the return of the accused is desired."

SECTION 88 of the Criminal Procedure Code provides that the property attached thereunder shall be at the disposal of Government, but that it shall not be sold till the expiration of six months, unless it is of a perishable nature or the Magistrate considers that the sale would be for the benefit of the owner; but it does not prescribe that the property must be sold, and unless the circumstances are very exceptional (such, for example, as involve treason against the State), sale ought not to take place in the case of immovable property, such as land, houses, &c.

When the accused person does not appear at the end of six months, immovable property attached should continue to be held under attachment until the expiration of the two years contemplated in section 89; and should he then fail to appear, the orders of Government for the final disposal of the property should be solicited, with a statement of the facts of the case.

Sale of property of—
Circular No. 18A, dated
6th January 1874.

SECTION 88 of the Criminal Procedure Code provides that the property attached thereunder shall be at the disposal of Government, but that it shall not be sold till the expiration of six months, unless it is of a perishable nature or the Magistrate considers that the sale would be for the benefit of the owner; but it does not prescribe that the property must be sold, and unless the circumstances are very exceptional (such, for example, as involve treasure against the State), sale ought not to take place in the case of immovable property, such as land, houses, &c.

When the accused person does not appear at the end of six months, immovable property attached should continue to be held under attachment until the expiration of the two years contemplated in section 89; and should he then fail to appear, the order of Government for the final disposal of the property should be solicited, with a statement of the facts of the case.

ACCUSED PERSONS.

It is the duty of the Magistrate of the district, or the Magistrate having jurisdiction, on the delivery by the District Superintendent of Police of a charge-sheet with prisoners, to acknowledge and accept the case at once, and to commit the prisoners to confinement (if the offence be not bailable, or if the bail be not furnished) in the hawalat, not in the city police station; and even if the case should be received on a close holiday, there should still be no difficulty in getting the requisite warrant prepared on the same day.

showing the duration of each case in his court from "the hour and date of delivery," as shown in column 7 of the form prescribed for the observance of the District Superintendent of Police.

MAGISTRATES are responsible for making arrangements with their District Superintendents of Police for the necessary supply of funds to the subordinate police for dieting arrested persons until their arrival at the sadar station.

The following are the rules in force in regard to the provision of funds for the dieting of prisoners, accused persons and criminal lunatics whilst in transit under charge of the police to the sadar station, and also to meet the cost of transporting corpses and wounded men to the sadar station—

I.—The Magistrate will furnish to every police officer in charge of a divisional station Rs. 5, and to every officer in charge of a sub-division Rs. 3, as a permanent advance.

II.—The officer in charge of the station, when forwarding prisoners or accused persons to the sadar station, will advance to the police officer in charge of the party a sum sufficient to cover the

III.—In the same manner, in despatching a corpse or wounded person, he will advance to the accompanying officer a sum sufficient to pay the bearers or coolies from station to station, with a cheque in the same form showing the number of bearers or coolies employed.

IV.—On arrival at the sadar station, the police officer in charge will take the cheque to the Court-Inspector (or in Oudh to the Headquarters Inspector), who, after checking it with the papers in the case, will enter on the back the date of arrival at the sadar, the amount to be refunded to the police officer in charge, and the name of that officer, and sign it. The cheque will then be laid before the Magistrate for signature, and, that obtained, will be taken by the police officer in charge himself to the Magistrate's nazir for payment. The nazir will be careful to pay only to the police officer whose name is on the cheque; and on payment being made, he will obtain that officer's signature, or in the event of his being illiterate, his seal on the cheque and in his register. The cheque will be filed in the nazir's office.

V.—The nazir will keep up a register by stations (thánawár) in which he will record the cheques when paid. This register will show the number of the cheque, its date, date of payment, purpose for which payment is made, person to whom paid, amount paid, signature or seal of payee.

VI.—On the 2nd or 3rd of each month each officer in charge of a station will submit to the District Superintendent of Police a memorandum for the previous month of the cheques issued by him during the month. The memorandum will give the number of cheques. The District Superintendent will file the memorandum with the nazir's register and VII.—In the case of prisoners or accused persons sent to Sub-divisional or Honorary Magistrates, or of corpses or wounded persons sent to branch dispensaries, the police officer of the court, or in the event of there being none, the officer in charge of the police station, will record on the back of the cheque the date of receipt, the amount due, the name of the police officer in charge, and his own signature. He will then send the cheque through the Court-Inspector to the nazir, who will remit the amount to the despatching station, through the office of the District Superintendent of Police.

VIII.—On receipt by the District Superintendent of Police of the Magistrate's written order to despatch accused persons, criminal lunatics, &c., to another district, an English memorandum in duplicate of charges for the railway fare and diet of such persons will be sent to the Magistrate, who will return the duplicate memorandum with the money required to the District Superintendent of Police. No officer under the rank of Reserve Inspector shall sign such memorandum or receive the money sent by the Magistrate.

IX.—Officers in charge of stations will thus always have in hand the permanent advance of Rs. 5 and Rs. 3, and need keep no accounts.

X.—The cost of dieting prisoners, &c., will be charged at the end of the month in the Magistrate's contingent bill.

XI.—The diet-money shall not exceed one anna per head per diem. The rate of payment for kahars and coolies will be fixed by the Magistrate.

APPEALS AND REVISIONS.

G. O. No. 3589
VI-517C, dated
26th September 1934

1. THE following procedure will be followed in all cases in which a District Magistrate considers that—

- (1) an appeal should be preferred by Government under section 417, Criminal Procedure Code, from an original or appellate judgment of acquittal passed by a Sessions Judge or from a judgment of acquittal passed by a subordinate Magistrate;
- (2) an application should be preferred for revision, with a view to enhancement of sentence or otherwise, of a judgment passed by a Sessions Judge. [Applications for revision of judgments of subordinate Magistrates are made to the High Court by the District Magistrate without reference to Government.]

2. The Magistrate will submit a brief narrative of the facts of the case, with his reasons for considering an appeal or application for revision advisable, to the Commissioner, along with all the original records and police diaries connected with the case. A certified copy of the judgment in question should also be forwarded, as it will be required by the Public Prosecutor if the Government accepts the Magistrate's recommendation. No marginal notes or underlining should be made on the certified copy.

G. O. No. 5111
VI-517C, dated
4th September 1935.

Note.—[A "certified copy" of a judgment means a copy duly certified and sealed as required by section 76 of Act I of 1873.]

3. If the Magistrate wishes to examine the record of a case decided by the Sessions Court, in which he thinks that an appeal or an application for revision is probably expedient, before he submits a recommendation to this effect to Government, he may apply to the Commissioner to obtain for him the record from the Sessions Court, by requisition under High Court's Circular Order No. 5 of 1875.* The Commissioner will forthwith comply with this request.

* High Court Circular Orders (Criminal), page 52.

4. When the Commissioner receives a recommendation under Rule 1 from a District Magistrate, he will forthwith submit it and the connected records to Government with his own opinion upon the case, whether he agrees or not with the Magistrate. If it be a Sessions case and the Sessions record has not already been obtained from the Sessions Court, the Commissioner should ordinarily obtain it before forwarding the Magistrate's recommendation to Government. But he may submit the recommendation without it, when delay seems inadvisable, or when he is of clear opinion that the Magistrate's recommendation is not made out.

5. District Magistrates should bear in mind that the Government is unwilling to exercise its right of appeal in petty or unimportant cases, and that it will not exercise it merely because the judgment sought to be set aside is not in accordance with that of the lower Court. The Magistrate must show that the recorded evidence clearly warranted a conviction, and that an avoidable failure of justice has manifestly taken place. Similarly, the Magistrate should not recommend an application for revision with a view to enhancement of a sentence, if the only enhancement permissible by the law would be comparatively small.

6. A recommendation under Rule 2 should be made by the Magistrate as soon as possible after the judgment to which it relates has been passed, and should be submitted without delay by the Commissioner to Government. The Government will require a full and detailed explanation whenever a Magistrate's recommendation fails to reach it within one month from the date of the judgment.

RULES.

Transport, Import and Export.

1. No cannon, articles designed for torpedo service, war-rockets, or machinery for the manufacture of arms and ammunition, shall be imported into British India or transported over any part of the Governor-General in Council to the Government of India. The license shall be in form of a certificate and shall be at once communicated to the Political Officer of the district.

2. No arms or ammunition or military stores shall be transported in any part of British India without a license in form II appended to these rules. If the articles are despatched from Calcutta, Madras or Bombay, the license will be granted by the Commissioner of Police; in all other cases the license will be granted by the Magistrate of the district. If the articles are to be consigned to a place beyond the jurisdiction of the officer granting the license, the consent of the Magistrate of the district to which the consignment is made must be obtained before the license is issued. Such consent may be obtained by the person applying for the license; or the Police Commissioner, or District Magistrate, to whom application for the license is made, may forward the proposed license to the officer whose consent is required; and, on receiving reply, should either issue the license to the applicant, or inform him that his application for a license to transport arms, &c., had been refused. The fee payable in respect of every such license shall be ten rupees.

dated 25th January 1893.

Home Department Notification No. 1100, dated 10th August 1893.

Every consignment of arms or ammunition or military stores transported in any part of British India by railway shall be conspicuously marked with the words "Arms," "Ammunition" or "Military Stores," as the case may be, in such a manner as to be readily recognizable by the railway authorities. A copy of the license to transport the articles shall be attached to the way-bill when the consignment is booked as a parcel and to the invoice when booked as goods, and no consignment shall leave the railway premises without the contents being verified and compared with the license by the Railway Police at the place of delivery. Telegraphic advice of every such consignment shall be sent to the receiving station by the railway authorities at the forwarding station.

G. O. No. <sup>88</sup>/<sub>2133</sub>, dated 21st November 1893.

[Note.—Although the word "transport," as used in the Indian Arms Act, XI of 1878, would, in a certain sense, include every movement from place to place, yet the Government of India considers that, looking to the general objects of the Act, and the difficulties which might result from construing the word in its widest sense, it is reasonable to be easy to define the removal of arms imported for the removal of ammunition from one magazine and warehouse to another in the same locality.]

3. Persons lawfully entitled to possess arms, or to go armed, are permitted to transport, in any part of British India, arms or ammunition in reasonable quantities for their own use. Any person abusing this exemption, and transporting such articles otherwise than in reasonable quantities for his own use will be held to have contravened this rule, and will, on conviction, become liable to the penalties under sections 18 and 19.

India's Notification No. 474, dated 22nd March 1892.

3(a). A person licensed to possess arms, ammunition or military stores, or who is exempted from the liability to take out such a license, is entitled to transport to his residence, from the premises of a licensed dealer, arms, ammunition or military stores without a separate transport license, so long as the articles purchased are in reasonable quantity and for his own use. A licensed dealer in arms, ammunition or military stores may supply the order of any such person, and may, without a separate transport license, send or despatch, in any way desired, to the residence of the purchaser, the articles ordered by such person, so long as they fulfil the requirements of rule 3, and are legibly addressed to the person for whom they are intended.

4. A person licensed to possess arms, ammunition or military stores, or who is exempted from the liability to take out such a license, is entitled to transport to his residence, from the premises of a licensed dealer, arms, ammunition or military stores without a separate transport license, so long as the articles purchased are in reasonable quantity and for his own use. A licensed dealer in arms, ammunition or military stores may supply the order of any such person, and may, without a separate transport license, send or despatch, in any way desired, to the residence of the purchaser, the articles ordered by such person, so long as they fulfil the requirements of rule 3, and are legibly addressed to the person for whom they are intended.

[Note.—In order to avoid the possibility of transport licenses being used more than once, the time for which such licenses are valid should invariably be entered in the proper column of the Form "A" in the case of rough any part of period as may be Circular No. 140, dated 4th October 1879.

5. No license shall be granted, save by the special order of the Governor-General in Council, certified under the signature of the Secretary to the Government of India in the Home Department, for the importation into British India by sea or river or land, or for exportation from British India by sea, of any cannon or of any rifles or parts of or fittings for rifles, except rifles or parts of or of fittings for rifles of such quality or in such quantity as may reasonably be held to be intended for bona fide sporting purposes.

India's No 1312, dated 10th October 1879.

6. Licenses to import or export arms, other than cannon or rifles not excepted as in the next foregoing rule, ammunition or military stores by sea, may be granted at the ports of Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, Rangoon, Calicut, Karachi, Aden, and for no other ports, *except that at the ports of Akyab and Molmein licenses for the import of saltpetre and lead only may be granted. They shall be granted by the Commissioners of Police in respect of each presidency town, and by the Magistrate of the district in respect of Rangoon, Molmein, Akyab and Karachi. The fee payable in respect of each such license shall be ten rupees, and the licenses shall be in the forms III and IV appended to these rules. It shall be a condition of such licenses that the arms and ammunition or military stores imported shall either be deposited in a warehouse appointed under section 15 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878, or in a warehouse licensed under section 16 of the same Act and sanctioned in this regard under section 7 of the Indian Arms Act, 1878, or that they shall be at once despatched to their destination under a separate license to transport.

Home Department Notification No. 1427, dated 28th August 1894.

6(a). In the case of arms other than cannon or rifles not excepted as in rule 5, ammunition or military stores imported under license into a British port, and exported thence to another British port named in rule 6 or in rule 6B, the necessary licenses for such re-export and import may be granted on payment of a fee of one rupee (each) instead of ten rupees. 6(c). Licenses to import into British India, by land or river, arms (other than arms for which the Governor-General in Council is to issue licenses under rule 5), ammunition or military stores may be granted by the Magistrate of the district to which such arms, ammunition or military stores are consigned; or if such arms, ammunition or military stores are consigned to a presidency town, by the Commissioner of Police. The fee payable in respect of each such license shall be Rs. 5; but officers granting such licenses are empowered to remit the fee when the arms, ammunition or military stores are of a reasonable quantity, and such officers are satisfied that they are required bona fide for purposes of protection of person or property. In the case of arms, ammunition or military stores imported from a native state, a copy of the license shall be sent by the officer granting it to the Political Officer of the state from which they are to be imported. If the district to which the arms, ammunition or military stores are consigned is other than a frontier district, and they are to cross the frontier by road or river, a copy of the license shall also be sent to the Magistrate of the frontier district, who shall, if he thinks necessary, before permitting the arms, ammunition or military stores to leave his district, require the holder of the license to produce them for his inspection. In cases in which the arms, ammunition or military stores are to cross the frontier by rail, a copy of the license shall be sent to the railway authorities at the place to which the arms, ammunition or military stores are to be conveyed by railway. The railway authorities shall in every such instance satisfy themselves before delivery that the arms, ammunition or military stores claimed by any consignee correspond with the description given in the original license, which must be produced by him, and also that the license is identical in substance with the copy sent to them by the officer granting it. If the license is not produced, or the arms, ammunition or military stores claimed do not correspond with the description in the license, the railway authorities shall give immediate notice of the fact to the nearest Magistrate. Nothing in this rule applies to import into the district of Ajmere.

The license shall be prepared in form III-A appended to these rules.

Home Department, Notification No. 847, dated 10th June 1893.

11. Licenses to manufacture, convert, keep and sell arms or ammunition or military stores, may be granted by Commissioners of Police in the presidency towns, and by the Magistrate of the district outside those towns. They shall be in forms VI and VII appended to these rules. The fee payable in stamps shall be twenty rupees in respect of license to manufacture, convert and sell, and ten rupees in respect of licenses to keep and sell arms, ammunition or military stores. Every license-holder under this rule shall keep, in such form as the Local Government may from time to time direct, registers of all arms manufactured or converted, of all ammunition and military stores manufactured, of all stock in hand and of all sales. He shall exhibit his stock and his registers on demand by any Magistrate, or by any police officer not below the rank of Inspector. Magistrates and all police officers not below the rank of Inspector are hereby empowered to enter and inspect any premises within their several jurisdictions in which arms or ammunition or sulphur are manufactured or kept, and to examine the stock and accounts of receipts and sales of arms, ammunition and military stores. Any person licensed to sell arms and ammunition shall affix on a conspicuous part of his shop or usual place of business, a signboard on which shall be painted in large letters in English, or in the vernacular of the district, his name and the words "licensed to manufacture," or "licensed to deal in arms, ammunition and military stores," as the case may be. [When a person who repairs arms is also a maker of arms, it is necessary under the existing law that he should provide himself with a license in the latter capacity. In regard to persons in the position of an ordinary blacksmith or others who may have arms in their temporary keeping for purposes of repair, it formed no part of the intention of the Arms Act to require licenses to be taken out and no license will be required merely for carrying on the business of repairing arms.]

POSSESSION OF ARMS AND GOING ARMED.

12. Licenses to possess cannon shall not be granted, save under the special order of the Governor-General in Council, certified under the signature of the Secretary to the Government of India in the Home Department. A copy of such license, so certified, must be sent immediately on its issue to the District Magistrate of the place where the cannon is to be kept.

13. Licenses to possess arms and ammunition in reasonable quantities and to go armed for purposes of sport, of protection, or of display, may be granted by the Commissioner of Police in the presidency towns, and by the Magistrate of the district outside those towns, in form VIII. Such licenses shall be liable to a fee of eight annas for each weapon in disarmed districts, and to a fee of four annas for each weapon in districts which have not been disarmed. Such a license will authorize its holder to carry the arms described in the license on occasions when they may be reasonably required for the purposes named in the license. But the holder, unless specially authorized by the Magistrate, must not go armed in railway carriages, to fairs, religious processions or other public assemblages.

Licenses granted under this rule shall, on countersignature by the Commissioner of the division, or other officer authorized in this regard by the Local Government where there are no Commissioners, be valid for such districts of the Local Government within the territories of which the license may have been granted as may be specified by the countersigning officer.

Talukdars who hold property in different districts should be granted licenses in one district only, viz. that in which each has his principal residence. When countersigned by the Commissioner the license will hold good for the whole province.

In the case of retainers (unless especially exempted under paragraph 1, clause (D) of India's No 318 dated 6th March 1873), a separate license should be taken out on a separate fee in the case of each servant of a native gentleman who carries arms when working for his master, but who is not in attendance on him.

When native gentlemen of the better class are going on a journey by train to pay personal visits to His Honor, or on occasions when it is reasonable that their followers should be armed for purposes of display or protection, district officers may grant them a special permission for this purpose. This should be in writing, and should specify the places where the holder will stop, the number of armed followers he may take with him, and the time for which the permission is to hold good.

No precise instructions are required as to the class of persons to whom this privilege may be extended, but in no case should it be accorded to any one except those entitled to attend His Honor a darbara.

13A. Licenses to possess and carry arms in places to which section 15 of the Indian Arms Act, 1878, applies, may be granted by the District Magistrate, and in a presidency town by the Commissioner of Police on plain paper and without fee, to the heirs of persons to whom arms have been presented by, or under the orders of, Government in respect of any such arms which they may inherit. Such licenses shall be granted in form VIII prescribed by rule 13.

14. Any Commissioner of Police or Magistrate of the district may grant a license in form IX for a journey, specifying the direction of the journey and the period it will occupy. Such license will be valid in other jurisdictions only for such journey and for such period, and will be liable to a fee of four annas for each weapon. Political Agents may grant licenses under this rule to natives of the state where they may be serving, and such licenses granted for journeys by Political Agents shall be liable to no fee. Holders of licenses under this rule, unless especially authorized by the officer granting the license, must not go armed in railway carriages to fairs, religious processions or other public assemblages.

Home Department Notification No. 2230, dated 29th November 1884.

The following are the rules and orders passed by the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner under the Arms Act, (XI of 1878) —

Arms Act. Local rules under the—
G. O. No. 2294, dated 27th February 1912.

I.—The authority to detain arms and ammunition contemplated in clause 2 of section 6 may be exercised by any Magistrate, Justice of the Peace, District or Assistant District Superintendent of Police, and any police officer being not lower in rank than an officer in charge of a reporting police station.

I (a).—The Conservator of Forests, School Circle, North-Western Provinces, and all Deputy Conservators, Assistant Conservators, and Sub-Assistant Conservators (including probationers) have power to disarm any person going armed without a license or in contravention of its provisions. Patwaris in Jaunsar-Bawar have similar powers.*

II.—Magistrates in granting licenses under rule 11 of the rules framed by the Government of India to manufacture, convert or sell or keep arms, ammunition and military stores, or to keep and sell the same, shall deliver to each licensee two books in the forms A and C or B and D (as the case may be) hereto appended; the one to be kept up as showing his stock-in-trade, and the other for the purpose of showing the sales of each day. The pages of these books should be numbered from beginning to end, and the first and last page of each should be signed by the Magistrate, or some European subordinate, and sealed with his official seal.

The licensee will be required to pay the cost of these books. The Magistrate, in delivering these books to the licensee, will explain to him the necessity for keeping them up regularly, and the penalties attaching to failure to do so.

G. O. No. <sup>2090</sup>
27th July 1893.

In order to ensure that all arms and ammunition received by dealers are brought to account in the store books and subsequently in the day books of licensed vendors, arrangements should be made for the timely examination of consignments on arrival by an Inspector of Police, who should see that the necessary entry is made in the books of the firm. By the terms of the license the articles must be available for exhibition within six days of the arrival of the consignment.

Except in the case of arms of European manufacture which are already numbered and marked, every licensed vendor of arms shall, previous to sale, stamp every weapon in a permanent manner with a number and mark and shall, on sale, enter the number and mark of the weapon sold, whether of European or native manufacture, in column 5 of his day-book (form C or D) forwarding forthwith a copy of the entry to the Magistrate of the district in which the purchaser resides. In addition to the number and mark a full description of the weapon sold shall also be entered in column 5.

The shop, premises and stock of every licensed vendor shall be inspected once in every half-year by a police officer not below the rank of Inspector. A similar inspection shall be made annually by the Magistrate of the district or one of his subordinates in the month of March, and by the District Superintendent of Police or Assistant District Superintendent of Police in the month of October, of all shops situated at the headquarters of districts. In the case of outlying shops, an annual inspection shall be made by a Magistrate before the 1st April in each year, and by the District Superintendent of Police or Assistant District Superintendent of Police before the 24th December (i.e., between October and the end of the year). A memorandum should be submitted on the 1st April and 24th December in each year to the Commissioner of the Division by the Magistrate of the district certifying that the inspections have been duly carried out.

G. O. No. <sup>3047</sup>
VI—175C dated
14th November 1893.

Every officer making such inspection shall initial the stock and sale books of the licensee and at once report to the Magistrate of the district any irregularity or breach of rules which may have come to his notice.

[Note—It is not intended to tie ignorant people down absolutely to these forms. If the accounts of stock are kept accurately in an intelligible manner, Magistrates may dispense with a servile adherence to the form in cases where they may deem it advisable to do so; but in the absence of valid reasons, and especially in the case of those who are not mere makers of fireworks, but really dealers in arms and ammunition, the form prescribed should be adhered to, and neglect to comply with the orders on the subject severely noticed.

Should any person who makes and sells fireworks combine with his trade the ruled in section 5 under the Arms Act
in A or B order

The orders conveyed in the next preceding rule II do not apply to firework-vendors licensed under form VIII by this circular.

The police should watch that the conditions of the license are not transgressed, and to secure this end the police may inspect the premises of the licensees, and, if necessary, examine their books of account; but no special form of account is needed.

III.—A Magistrate or police officer, receiving notice of sale of arms or ammunition under the second clause of section 5, should at once ascertain the correctness or otherwise of the purchaser's name and address as given by the seller. The result of such inquiry will be reported by the police officer to the Magistrate through the Superintendent of Police. If the purchaser live beyond the jurisdiction of the police officer, he shall send a report to the Superintendent of Police, who will order the inquiry to be completed and reported by the police officer having jurisdiction at the place where the purchaser lives. The responsibility for taking out a license rests with the purchaser.

IV.—For the purpose of conducting searches under section 25 the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner is pleased to empower the following persons in virtue of their office—

Justices of the Peace, District Superintendents of Police, Assistant District Superintendents of Police, Inspectors of Police

V.—For the purpose of conducting searches under section 30, the following persons are appointed by virtue of office—

Magistrates, Justices of the Peace, District Superintendents of Police, Assistant District Superintendents of Police, Inspectors of Police, police officers in charge of reporting stations.

VI.—When any arms, ammunition or military stores have been section 14 or 16 of the Act, the shall affix to each weapon or of the depositor, the date of deposit, and a description of the weapon or article deposited. He shall also hand to the depositor a duplicate of this ticket signed by himself, as a receipt, and inform him that the Government will be responsible for the safe custody only of the articles, and not for their preservation from rust and decay.

After the expiry of fourteen days, if the owner has not obtained a license authorizing him to possess them, the arms, ammunition and military stores shall be forwarded to the headquarters of the district, and shall there be kept in the malkhana of the Magistrate or the District Superintendent of Police, at the discretion of the Magistrate. If deposited in the Magistrate's malkhana, the nazir shall be responsible for their custody, and if deposited in the District Superintendent's malkhana, the Court Inspector shall be so responsible.

The Court Inspector (or the nazir, as the case may be) shall keep a register in which the arms and other articles deposited shall be described and entered under serial numbers, and fresh tickets shall be affixed to them, showing the owner's name, and corresponding with the entries in the register.

If on the expiry of the periods mentioned in sections 14 and 16 of the Act the arms and other articles become forfeited to Her Imperial Majesty, the Magistrate shall dispose of them as follows :—

ARMS, ammunition and stores that can be utilized by the police or by any department under Government may be preserved and used.

Arms, ammunition and stores not suitable for use under Government may be sold by the Magistrate to persons who are entitled to possess them. Magistrates should give notice to the public of the articles for sale, and should take care that none but persons authorized under the Act become possessed of them.

No sales should be made by auction.

Any arms not so disposed of shall be broken up, and the materials sold and credited to Government. All ammunition and military stores not utilized or disposed of as above directed shall be at once destroyed.

In the case of gunpowder and other explosive materials, Magistrates must make suitable arrangements for their safe custody, so as to guard against danger to life and property. As a rule, the police magazine should be the place of deposit for such materials.

These orders will apply also to arms, ammunition and military stores confiscated under section 24 of the Act.

VII (a).—When any arms, or other articles, are confiscated under section 24, the convicting Magistrate shall, immediately on conviction, pay a reward of not less than half the estimated value of the confiscated articles to the person or persons who may have given information which led to the detection of the offence, or who may have assisted in the arrest of the offender and seizure of the arms or other articles. Such payments will be charged against Law and Justice, and be drawn by Magistrates in their contingent bills.

(b).—Any Magistrate convicting an offender of any offence under the Act may, at his discretion, grant a reward, not exceeding the amount of fine imposed, in such proportions as he may think fit, to any person or persons who have contributed to the arrest of the offenders or the seizure of the arms or other articles.

(c).—If no fine is inflicted, or if a larger reward than the fine imposed seems needed, and in all cases in which persons are apprehended, or arms or other contraband articles seized—

The Magistrate of the district is hereby authorized to pay rewards, at his discretion, to the persons who have contributed to the arrest of the offenders, or the seizure of the arms or other contraband articles, up to the limit of Rs. 100 in each case, and up to Rs. 500, with the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division. Rewards exceeding Rs. 500 shall not be paid without the sanction of Government.

(d).—If such cases occur before a Subordinate Magistrate, he should at once forward the papers connected with the case, together with his recommendation as to the amount of the reward and the persons to whom it should be paid, to the Magistrate of the district, who will at once pass such orders thereon as shall seem required.

(e).—Provision for rewards under this rule should be made by Magistrates in their district budgets; but rewards to informers who bring to light breaches of the Arms Act should not be provided for under a separate budget head, but charged to the provision made under "Police" for rewards to those who arrest or give information leading to the arrest of offenders against the criminal law generally: the usual reward rolls in these cases will be forwarded to the office of Inspector-General of Police for countersignature and publication in Police Gazette, to enable a check to be kept on disbursements from budget head rewards (section IV, paragraph 10, Regulations and Orders for the Police).

Circular No. 33, dated 21st May 1872.

VIII.—Every Magistrate shall keep a register of the licenses granted by him under rule 11 of the rules framed by the Government of India to manufacture, convert or sell or keep arms, ammunition and military stores. Such register shall be in the form E annexed. A copy of this register shall be furnished by the Magistrate to the District Superintendent of Police.

The District Superintendent of Police will furnish to each officer in charge of a police station an extract, columns 1 to 6, giving the names of the persons living within his jurisdiction who hold licenses: and each Circle Inspector shall receive from the District Superintendent of Police an extract giving the names of all persons living in his circle who hold licenses.

Every Inspector, when making the inspection directed in rule II, shall enter in his copy of the register, in one of the subordinate columns of column 8, the date on which he made the inspection. If the inspection disclose no irregularity or breach of the rules, no report will be made. But if, at the inspection, any fact is brought to light which it is advisable that the Magistrate shall know, the Inspector shall send a special report to the Magistrate, through the District Superintendent of Police, noting in the column of remarks in his register the date on which the report was sent.

Every Subordinate Magistrate, District Superintendent of Police, and Assistant District Superintendent, making an inspection as directed in rule II, shall send to the Magistrate of the district a report of the result of his inspection, for incorporation in the register, column 8(5).

At the close of the calendar year the Circle Inspectors will send their registers to the District Superintendent of Police for transmission to the Magistrate, who will enter in his register the facts recorded by the Inspectors opposite to the name of each licensee.

IX.—A register in the form F shall be kept by the Magistrate of all licenses to keep and sell arms, ammunition and military stores, and the same rules shall, mutatis mutandis, be observed with regard to this register as are laid down in rule VIII for the register in form E.

X—Separate registers in the forms G, H, J, shall be kept by Magistrates of the licenses granted under rules 13, 15 and 16, respectively, of the rules framed by the Government of India.

The Magistrate will supply a copy of each of these to the District Superintendent of Police. The District Superintendent will furnish to each officer in charge of a police station an extract giving the parts that concern his jurisdiction.

XI.—Licenses to possess arms in districts which have not been disarmed, granted under rule 15 of the rules framed by the Government of India, shall be valid for a period of three years.

XII.—Weapons for which licenses have been granted under rule 16 shall ordinarily be inspected by a Magistrate while on tour, or by the tahsildár, if invested with magisterial powers. The fact of the inspection shall be endorsed on the license, and a report sent to the headquarters, to be entered in column 9 of the register opposite the name of each licensee, year by year.

A similar inspection shall also be made of weapons for which licenses have been granted under rule 13 (in form VIII) In both cases the inspecting officer shall compare the weapon produced with the description of it entered in the license.

XIII.—In licenses granted in forms VIII, IX, X or XI, the description of the weapon shall be entered in full detail in the column provided for the purpose. It is not sufficient to enter the word "one gun" without any further particulars descriptive of the article. In the case of licenses granted for the first time, a period of one month should be allowed within which to produce the weapon for inspection and entry of the necessary particulars, failing which the license should be cancelled.

THE following rules are laid down for the treatment of records relating to arms licenses —

I.—Applications for licenses shall, if the license be granted, be kept for one year from the date of the expiry of the license whether the license be annual or quinquennial. Thus an application presented in December 1884, for a license to carry arms in 1885, may be destroyed after December 1886. If the application is refused, it shall be retained for three years from the date of refusal.

II.—Papers regarding the deposit of arms in police stations under the provisions of section 16 of the Act shall be kept for five years from the date of the order of deposit.

III.—Papers regarding the cancelling or suspension of licenses (section 18 of the Act), shall be kept for three years, unless there is any special reason for their retention for a longer period.

It should be understood that these rules do not affect any papers forming part of the record in criminal and police cases, and dealt with as such under the rules of the High Court or Judicial Commissioner, or of the Police Department.

MAGISTRATES and Deputy Commissioners should prepare, at the close of each calendar year, and submit to the Commissioner, a report on the working of the Act during the year. This report should notice briefly the results of the various inspections prescribed by Notification No. 2291,* dated 29th February 1879, convictions and punishments—particularly where special circumstances were held to justify very light or very severe sentences—rewards granted, any great increase or decrease in the number of licenses granted; and generally any facts of importance connected with the working of this Act. The annexed forms should be filled in and submitted with the report, and a subsidiary statement should be added giving

Records of arms licenses

G. O No. 1718, dated 15th December 1891.

Annual Report—Circular No. 123, dated 5th September 1879, No. 226A, dated 3rd October 1880; and G. O. No. 97, dated 17th July 1891, and G. O. No. 3062, dated 10th December 1892.

the names of the gentlemen entered in the list (A) of persons exempted under clause (10), paragraph I of Home Department Notification No. 518, dated 6th March 1879, who have died during the year reported on; and the changes that have taken place in the district list of those exempted under other clauses of that notification, excepting those exempted in virtue of their nationality, or the paid office they hold under Government.

It is the Commissioner's duty to review the district reports of his division, and to pass suitable orders on such matters falling within his province as require them. He should then prepare a divisional report, with the necessary statements, and submit it (and not the district reports) to Government by the 1st of March. If any of the required information is wanting, the Commissioner should call for it before submitting his report. Recommendations for exemption should be made the subject of a separate annual reference; a list of these recommendations should be submitted to the Commissioner at the same time as the annual report, but should not be included in it. Commissioners can then prepare divisional lists and submit them for the orders of Government.

Detail of licenses.

Column 1.—In this will be entered all licenses in force on the 31st December of the year previous to that for which the return is submitted, whether the period of the grant expired on that date or not. The number will correspond with that in column 5 of the previous year's return.

Column 2.—The number of licenses entered in this column is the number of licenses in force on 31st December of the previous year (entered in column 5) which did not expire on that date.

Column 3.—(a) Licenses granted to persons who did not hold similar ones during the previous year. All licenses granted during the year in forms II, V and IX will be entered in this column, whether or no similar licenses were granted to the holders during the previous year.

(b) Licenses granted to persons who held similar ones in the previous year in consequence of those licenses having expired at the end of it.

Column 4.—Will be the total of columns 3 and 5 (a) and (b) minus the number in column 5 (c).

Column 5.—Not to be filled in those cases only held under a license in force at the end of the year are to be entered. Columns 6-7.—Not to be filled in those cases should be ignored in filling up columns 3-7 and noticed in columns 9, "Remarks." Licenses which are in only one of such cases not to be held as "void."

ALL Magistrates are requested to cause the provisions of section 28 of the Arms Act, XI of 1878, to be widely notified in their district, in order that the public may be made aware of the responsibility that the law now imposes on them with regard to giving information of offences under the Act. The rules framed by this Government provide for the payment of rewards to all persons who may give information of the commission of offences, or who may assist in the arrest of offenders or the seizure of contraband articles. These provisions should be notified at every tahsil and police station in each district, that all persons may know the risks that they run by omitting to give information of offences, and the rewards which may be earned by co-operating with the authorities.

All public carriers in each district should be informed of the responsibilities which are now specially imposed upon them by the second clause of section 28, with regard to packages or bales in transit which are suspected to contain arms, ammunition or military stores, in respect of which an offence against the Act has been or is being committed.

named on the margin to duty under the Arms Act, 1878, it has been decided that as a powder flask is a tool employed in loading a firearm, it falls under the definition given in clause 8, schedule II of the Arms Act, and that as shot pouches and capping-machines for muzzle-loaders fall under the same category, they are liable to payment of the duty specified in that schedule.

In regard, however, to bullet-moulds, this decision does not apply, since bullet-moulds are not articles employed in the process of loading, but machines for manufacturing ammunition. Iron droppings or pellets known as "bunda" and used by native shikaris instead of shot, are ammunition within the definition of the Arms Act, 1878.

It has been decided that bird-shot shall not be regarded as ammunition for the purposes either of the Arms Act, or of the Tariff Act. For the purposes of the latter Act it shall, in accordance with the prevailing practice, be classed under the head of the metals. These orders extend to all kinds of shot.

APPLICATIONS for a remission or refund of duty under section 6 of the Act may be made by three classes of persons, viz., (1) persons exempted from the operation of those provisions of the law which require a license for the possession of arms, (2) persons licensed according to law to possess arms, and (3) importers who have sold

A remission or refund of duty, if asked for under section 8 of the Act by an exempted person, should, as a rule, be granted without question by the customs authorities. In such cases the presumption would ordinarily be that the transaction is a bona fide one; but if the amount of the consignment in any particular instance, or the circumstances of the case generally should be such as to render it doubtful whether the articles are imported in reasonable quantity for the private use of the applicant, the Collector of Customs, or other officer empowered by the Local Government in that behalf, should, under section 11 of the Act, detain the arms or ammunition until he receives the orders of the Local Government thereon. A similar procedure should be adopted in the case of applications made by persons who belong to either of the two other classes described. As regards persons licensed to possess arms, the customs authorities should further verify the fact that the arms imported or purchased correspond with the amount entered in the license, and should endorse on the license the amount of the consignment on account of which a remission or refund of duty is granted, referring doubtful cases for the orders of the Local Government under section 6 of the Act.

The following remarks on the working of the penal clauses of the Arms Act and the grant of licenses were made in the resolution on the working of the Act in 1894:—

The Lieutenant-Governor desires that Magistrates of districts will in future act systematically upon the orders given in the resolution of 1892, which are here cited marginally for ready reference. The Government considers that injudicious punishments of petty or venial offences against the Arms Act do much mischief and cause great hardship; and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that Commissioners and District Magistrates will hold themselves responsible for superintending the proceedings of their subordinates in the matter. The Lieutenant-Governor will

Chief Commissioner sees no reason why licenses to possess arms, especially for sport and the destruction of wild animals, should not be granted liberally to respectable landowners and to other persons of property and good repute in the country. And it is a matter of nothing more than commonsense and discretion that inadvertent or immaterial breaches of the Act should receive from Magistrates no more punishment than is necessary to maintain the law.

With a view to enable Commissioners to scrutinise the working of the Arms Act in their Divisions, the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner has been pleased to prescribe the following form for showing the punishments, &c., inflicted by Magistrates for breaches of the provisions of the Act. This statement should be submitted by Magistrates to Commissioner at the close of each month.

District.	Name of person punished.	Section and clause of Act under which punished.	Punishment awarded.	Remarks by Magistrates.

THE following instructions are issued in order to facilitate the annual grant, renewal and distribution of arms licenses in form VIII:—

1. Applications for licenses in form VIII, or for renewal thereof, which are required to be written on impressed paper of the value of eight annas for each weapon in disarmed districts, and of four annas for each weapon in districts which have not been disarmed, should ordinarily be presented to a Magistrate or sent by post registered, so as to reach the District Magistrate by the 15th December in each year.

2. If the application be for the grant of a new license, the applicant should, if necessary, be required to present himself in person; but for

3. If the application be for renewal of license, no inquiry should ordinarily be necessary beyond a reference to the register in form G (page 62 of the Manual of Government Orders); but the District Superintendent of Police should bring to the notice of the Magistrate during the year any irregularity or breach of the Act, and

4. The forms of licenses should be printed on stout, durable paper, procurable at the Government Press. It is not necessary to issue fresh forms annually in case of renewal, but it will be sufficient to endorse the old forms with a stamp bearing the words "renewed up to 31st December 18 ."

5. Licenses should ordinarily be ready for delivery by 15th January at the latest; and it shall be optional for applicants to appear in person and take delivery on that date, or on a date to be fixed by the District Magistrate, or to have them sent through the village chaukidárs. The mode of exercising this option should be stated in the application for grant or renewal.

6. Licenses to be delivered through village chaukidárs should be sent through the officer of Police, accompanied by a list of the officers in charge of the village in which the licensees reside. Each license with its invoice should be made over, for delivery to the licensee, to the chaukidár of the licensee's village, on the occasion of the chaukidár's next periodical visit to the police station after the receipt of the licenses. The date of making over the license to the chaukidár should be endorsed on the invoice, and on the occasion of his following visit to the police station the chaukidár should return the invoice signed and dated by the recipient, and report the date of the actual delivery.

7. The list and invoices should be returned to the Magistrate through the District Superintendent of Police, who should scrutinise them, and bring all cases to the Magistrate's notice in which more than a fortnight's delay may have taken place in the delivery of any license.

8. Copy of the entries in register G should ordinarily be furnished to the District Superintendent of Police by the 1st February, for compliance with rule X, page 59 of the Manual of Government Orders.

Arms license's Grant of—to persons of doubtful character.

G. O. No. 3010
VI—1911B
dated 4th May 1902.

THE attention of Magistrates is drawn to the nonexed circular issued by the Inspector-General of Police, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and they are directed to give their close attention to the matter. The issue of licenses under the Arms Act in localities where the number of dakaitis or crimes of violence has attracted notice, should be reviewed and restricted.

Circular.

It having been brought to the notice of the Inspector-General that licenses to carry arms in form VIII are in many cases granted to men of bad character, who not only are not entitled to them, but actually use them for purposes of crime or assisting criminals, District Superintendents of Police are instructed to issue orders to all officers in charge of police stations to scrutinise very carefully all lists of arms' licenses, and to bring any such cases to their notice.

District Superintendents of Police will, after careful personal inquiry in each case, and after satisfying themselves that the information on which the license-holder is classed as a bad character is correct, bring these cases to the notice of the District Magistrate and apply for the withdrawal of the license.

LICENSES in form VIII should be separated into the following three sub-classes—those granted for (a) sport, (b) protection of self, family or property from danger other than that from wild animals, and (c) display. It should be noted in the annual report for each district how many licenses were granted under each head, the reasons which necessitated the grant for protection being briefly stated.

There is no objection, however, to an arms license in form VIII being granted in respect of a particular weapon for any two or all of the following purpose: (a) sport, (b) protection and (c) display. The classification of the license in such cases for the purpose of the annual return should be made according to the primary purpose for which the weapon is given. The primary purpose should be stated in the license before the secondary one.

one only of the three purposes not be held to have a license should he use the weapon covered by the license on occasions for either of the other two purposes.

OWING to the incorrect view adopted by a Magistrate, that search for arms can only be made when it is shown that the weapons are likely to be used for an illegal purpose, the exact procedure which should be adopted in searching for arms is pointed out for the guidance of Magistrates.

Practically, all the districts in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh have been dis- any exemption, whic of any description, license and in the punishable under sec for a term which may extend to three years, or with fine, or with both. As this offence is one cognizable by the police (vide schedule II of the Criminal Procedure Code), an officer in charge of a police station having reason, from information received or otherwise, to suspect that it has been committed, is empowered (section 157) to investigate the case, and in certain circumstances to search for the article (section 165), the unlawful possession of which he has reason to suspect. Similarly, a Magistrate taking cognizance (section 191) of such an offence might issue a search warrant under section 96, Criminal Procedure Code. In both cases the provisions of section 30, Act XI of 1878, and the orders issued under it, would govern the procedure of the person conducting the search. The search must be made in the presence of one of the persons specially appointed by virtue of office for the purpose (vide rule V, page 55 ante).

Mere speculative searches are not of course authorized by the law. Before taking action the police officer must have reason to suspect the commission of the offence, and the Magistrate must either know or suspect that the offence has been committed, or must receive a complaint or police report of facts which constitute the offence.

In ordinary cases relating to searches for unlicensed weapons possessed in contravention of the provisions of section 14 or 15, Act XI of 1878, section 25 of the Act will not apply. Section 25 would cover the case of a person even lawfully entitled to possess arms who is believed to be about to use them for an unlawful purpose, or who cannot be left in possession of them without danger to the public peace. It appears "refer to cases in which the Magistrate considers that arms, whether under a license or not, are possessed for an illegal purpose or under circumstances such as to endanger the public peace" (vide ruling in case of Queen-Empress vs. Tegha Singh, Indian Law Reports, Calcutta Series, Vol. VIII, page 473). If a Magistrate finds it necessary to take action under section 25, the grounds of his belief that the person whose house is to be searched possesses arms for an unlawful purpose or cannot be left in possession of them without danger should be carefully recorded, as prescribed by the provisions of the section, which have been repeated by the High Court in the ruling in the case of Queen-Empress vs. Sangam Lal (Weekly Notes of March 6th, 1903).

Passes to Colonial
soldiers.

G. O. No. 3311
VI-2511
dated 25th August 1894.

CASES have occurred in which sepoys and native officers serving in the Colonies have obtained passes from their Commanding Officers, under paragraphs 1527, 1528 and 1529 of the Army Regulations, India, Volume II, authorizing them to carry arms and ammunition when returning to their homes in India. The Regulations in question are applicable only to the Native Army of India, and Officers Commanding Colonial Corps (or bodies of police) recruited in India have no power to grant such passes to men returning to this country. The Customs authorities in India have accordingly been instructed not to recognize such passes, and steps have been taken to notify Colonial Governments that they should not be granted. Reasonable consideration should, however, be shown to soldiers to whom they have already been granted.

OFFICERS Commanding regimental centres have been instructed to furnish Magistrates of districts with the names of such reservists as have already been, and may in future be, granted passes under paragraph 1527, Army Regulations, India, Volume II, to carry and bear private arms, together with a description of the arms covered by the passes. A list of reservists who have been granted such passes should be maintained in Magistrates' offices, as the information may on occasions be useful.

THE annexed lists shows what licences can be granted in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh under the Arms and Explosives Acts.

CHEMICAL EXAMINER.

The following rules regarding the transmission of substances to the Chemical Examiner and Government Analyst, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, for analysis and report have been sanctioned.

I.—CRIMINAL CASES.

1. SUBSTANCES ought not to be sent to the Chemical Examiner for analysis when there is neither a reasonable suspicion that poison has been used, nor anything in the post mortem examination of the bodies leading to such a supposition. Magistrates should limit their references to that officer to cases of necessity, and in which the local medical officer cannot afford the information required.

2. Civil — — — — — ber that the d . . . . .
and of requiri . . . . .
sible under section 510 of the Criminal Procedure Code, is one which lies solely within the province of the Magistrate conducting the inquiry for which information on the character of the suspected substance is required. Such references should not under any circumstances be made by them directly.

3. If the Civil Surgeon can give a decided opinion regarding stains supposed to be those of blood, it is unnecessary to refer to the Chemical Examiner; but if the Civil Surgeon is unable to settle the question, and if evidence on it is very desirable, it should be referred to the Chemical Examiner; but there is no trustworthy process for the distinguishing of human blood from that of the lower mammalian animals, and although the blood of birds, fishes, and reptiles can be distinguished from that of man, yet that of the mammalian animals, except the camel, cannot be so distinguished.

4. When in the course of any proceeding under the Criminal — — — — — given of the substance sent or received and of the case in which the reference is made, so that no question as to the identity of the article can be raised.

5. The Chemical Examiner should be furnished for his information and guidance with every detail obtainable from both the medical officer and from deponents which will throw light on the case or afford him a clue.

6. In cases of analysis of portions of a dead body, besides a copy of the post-mortem examination, the Chemical Examiner should be furnished with replies to the queries printed on the annexure (B) to form No. 3.

7. Great care should be used in packing all substances sent to the Chemical Examiner; otherwise the success of the analysis is endangered, while the transmission of decomposed matter through the post in vessels which leak is most offensive and dangerous to the officers of the Postal Department, and might justify the prosecution of the sender under section 42 of the Post-office Act, XIV of 1866. The Chemical Examiner is directed to report the names of any officers who offend against these instructions.

8. The duty of preparing and despatching the subjects sent for analysis devolves on the Civil Surgeon or officer in civil medical charge. The cost of preparation and of packing and postage should be charged in the Magistrate's contingent bill. Despatching officers will be held personally responsible that the subjoined instructions are carefully followed. Whenever practicable, such parcels should be packed under the immediate supervision of the Civil Surgeon or officer in civil medical charge; in subdivisions at the headquarters of which the post-mortem examination of bodies is authorized, the substance shall be despatched by the medical officer of the subdivision, or, if necessary, by the Magistrate—

- (i) The suspected substance or tissue, or other portion of body to be sent for examination, should be enclosed in a glass bottle or jar, properly cleaned with distilled water, and fitted with a glass stopper or sound cork.
- (ii) To each jar or bottle a label should be attached in printed form No. 7.
- (iii) If liable to decomposition, the substance to be analysed should be immersed in methylated spirits of wine, which should be used in the proportion of one-third of the bulk of the material.
- (iv) The use of spirits of wine in packing viscera should be invariable, whether the season is hot or cold, and care should be taken that common hazár spirit is not used.
- (v) The stopper or cork should be carefully tied down with bladder or leather, and sealed with a seal having a distinct device. To ascertain that it has been securely closed, the bottle or jar should be placed for some minutes with its mouth down. Under cover of the letter advising the despatch, an impression of the seal used for sealing the stopper or cork should be sent to the Chemical Examiner.

- (vi) The glass bottle or jar should then be placed in a strong wooden or tin box, which should be large enough to allow of a layer of raw cotton, at least three-fourths of an inch thick, being put between the bottle or the jar and the box.
- (vii) The box itself should be encased in common garah cloth, which should be sealed in accordance with the usual rules of the post-office as to parcels.
- (viii) The number of the letter advising the despatch of the article should be entered on the outside of the box above the sender's name.
- (ix) A declaration of contents to the officials of the Postal Department is unnecessary and should not be made.

II.—MISCELLANEOUS CASES.

9. All officers requiring substances to be analysed in which the quantities of constituents have to be determined, such as potable waters, should remember that such analyses occupy a great deal of time, and that therefore no needless analysis should be called for. Care should be exercised to diminish the number of samples to be analysed as much as possible. A certificate in every case should be obtained from the Magistrate of the district that the analysis is absolutely necessary. Without it, the Government Analyst is empowered to decline undertaking the analysis.

10. Any Municipal Board requiring an analysis to be made shall forward to the Government Analyst, with the letter asking for analysis, the Treasury Officer's receipt for the prescribed fee (vide page 169 XI. Municipal Manual).

11. The result of the analysis of substances other than those relating to criminal cases will be reported in form No. 6.

Procedure to be observed in submitting for the orders of Government the records of cases of women convicted of—
Home Department Reso-

26th September 1879.

5th March 1885

THE records of cases in which women are convicted of murdering their illegitimate children under circumstances that suggest a commutation of the punishment prescribed by the law for murder, shall be submitted for the orders of the Government by Sessions Judges direct, except where the Judge of the court of appeal or reference desires, in a case that has come under his notice, that a recommendation for mercy should be made. The following procedure in such cases is therefore prescribed for adoption :—

- (a) in cases where sentence of death is passed, a copy of the orders of the High Court or the Judicial Commissioner on the reference made to the court should be submitted to the Government as soon as that order has been certified to by the Sessions Judge. The Government will then, if necessary, call for the record;
- (b) in cases where a sentence short of death is passed, the record should be submitted to the Government at the expiration of six months from the date of conviction, with a copy of any order that may have been passed during that period by the High Court or by the Judicial Commissioner.

In order that such cases may not be lost sight of, a register should be kept up in the following form, in which all such cases should be entered :—

Date of conviction.	Submission of record to High Court or Judicial Commissioner.	Order of High Court or Judicial Commissioner. ## DESERTERS.

RETURNS of deserters from British regiments in India are published in the Gazette of India and republished in the gazette of these provinces. These returns should be perused and noted by magisterial officers in order to proceedings being taken, if necessary, under section 34 of the Mutiny Act, the provisions of which section should be carefully observed.

Circular No. 2, dated 10th January 1868.

WHEN a European surrenders himself as a deserter from a regiment, the procedure laid down in the 34th section of the Mutiny Act should be followed by Justices of the Peace, and in no case should a man be committed to take his trial as a deserter, or be treated as such, merely on his own confession. In two recent instances Europeans have been treated by the civil authorities as deserters on the mere confession of the men themselves, and without any corroborative evidence as required by the Act.

Treatment of Europeans suspected to be—
Circular No. 2A, dated 21st January 1870. G. G. O., Home Dept., No. 1657, dated 21st December 1870.

A CASE having recently occurred in which a European was apprehended by the police and made over to the military authorities on suspicion of being a deserter, without having first been duly committed as such by a Magistrate, the attention of all officers is called to the following section, 154 of the Army Discipline and Regulation Act, * 1881 :—

Procedure on apprehension of—India's No. <sup>6</sup>309, dated 17th November 1881.

Apprehension of deserters

“154. With respect to deserters, the following provisions shall have effect :—

“(1) Upon reasonable suspicion that a person is a deserter, it shall be lawful for any constable, or if no constable can be immediately met with, then for any officer or soldier or other person, to apprehend such suspected person, and forthwith to bring him before a court of summary jurisdiction.

“(2) Where a person is brought before a court of summary jurisdiction charged with being a deserter under this Act, such court may deal with the case in like manner as if such person were brought before the court charged with an indictable offence, or, in Scotland, an offence.

“(3) The court, if satisfied either by evidence on oath or by the confession of such person that he is a deserter, shall forthwith, as it may seem to the court most expedient with regard to his

" (4) Where the person confessed himself to be a deserter, and evidence of the truth or falsehood of such confession is not then

... transmit, if sitting in the United Kingdom, to a Secretary of State, and if in India to the General or other Officer Commanding the forces in the military district or station where the court sits, and if in a Colony, to the General or other Officer Commanding the forces in that Colony, a return (in this Act referred to as a descriptive return) containing such particulars and being in such form as is specified in the fifth schedule of this Act, or as may be from time to time directed by a Secretary of State.

" (5) The court may from time to time remand the said person for a period not exceeding eight days in each instance, and not exceeding in the whole such period as appears to the court reasonably necessary for the purpose of obtaining the said information.

" (6) Where the court causes a person either to be delivered into military custody, or to be committed as a deserter, the court shall send, if in the United Kingdom, to a Secretary of State, and if in India or a Colony, to the General or other Officer Commanding as aforesaid, a descriptive return in relation to such deserter, for which the clerk of the court shall be entitled to a fee of two shillings:

" (7) A Secretary of State shall direct payment of the said fee."

EUROPEANS.

Cases against British officers and soldiers which, coming under the 101st section of the Mutiny Act,* may be tried by general courts martial, as involving offences which, if committed in England, would be felony, may be transferred to the civil jurisdiction.

No cases are to be transferred except on the recommendation of the Judge Advocate-General, subject to the decision of the Commander-in-Chief.

Trial of—officers and soldiers.

EXPLOSIVES.

1. In exercise of the powers conferred by section 5 of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to make the following rules to regulate the transport and importation of explosives:—

2. These rules extend to the whole of British India, but the rules relating to the transport of explosives shall cease to apply to any port as defined in the Indian Ports Act, X of 1889, for which special rules made by the Local Government are for the time being in force, in so far as they are expressly superseded by, or are inconsistent with, such special rules.

PRELIMINARY.

Section 14 of the Indian Explosives Act, IV of 1884:—

Nothing in this Act shall apply to the manufacture, possession, use, sale, transport or importation of any explosive—

(a) by order of the Government, or

(b) by any person employed under the Government in the execution of this Act, or as a keeper of a magazine, artizan, soldier, sailor, policeman or otherwise, or enrolled as a Volunteer under the Indian Volunteers Act, 1869, in the course of his employment or duty as such

1. For the purposes of these rules, explosives shall be classified as follows, namely:—

Class 1	...	...	Gunpowder.
" 2	...	..	Nitrate-mixture
" 3	...	...	Nitro-compound.
" 4	...	..	Chlorate-mixture.
" 5	..	...	Fulminate.
" 6	...	..	Ammunition
" 7	...	...	Firework.

Explosives falling within the description of more than one of the above classes shall be classified respectively to the latest of falls.

CLASS 1.—Gunpowder class.

The term "gunpowder" means exclusively gunpowder ordinarily so called.

CLASS 2.—Nitrate-mixture class.

The term "nitrate-mixture" means any preparation other than gunpowder ordinarily so called, formed by the mechanical

Rules for transport and import of explosives—

Home Department No. 1417, dated 24th June 1887.

Home Department Notification No. 1498, dated 2nd August 1890.

mixture of a nitrate with any form of carbon or with any carbonaceous substance not possessed of explosive properties, whether sulphur be or be not added to such preparation, and whether such preparation be or be not mechanically mixed with any other non-explosive substance.

The nitrate-mixture class comprises such explosives as—

Pyrolithe,

Padrolithe,

Poudre saxifragine,

and any preparation coming within the above definition.

CLASS 3.—Nitro-compound class.

The term "nitro-compound" means any chemical compound possessed of explosive properties, or capable of combining with metals to form an explosive compound, which is produced by the chemical action of nitric acid (whether mixed or not with sulphuric acid) or of a nitrate mixed with sulphuric acid upon any carbonaceous substance, whether such compound is mechanically mixed with other substances or not.

The nitro-compound class has two divisions—

Division 1 comprises such explosives as—

Nitro-glycerine, Dynamite,
Lithofracteur,

Dualine, Glyoxiline, Methylic nitrate,

and any chemical compound or mechanically mixed preparation which consists, either wholly or partly, of nitro-glycerine or some other liquid nitro-compound.

Division 2 comprises such explosives as—

Gun-cotton, ordinarily so called.
Gunpaper.
Xyloidine.
Gun sawdust.
Nitrated gun-cotton.

Cotton gunpowder,
Schultz's powder,
Nitro-mannite, Picrates,
Picric powder,

Tonite (or cotton-powder), and any nitro-compound as before defined which is not comprised in the first division.

CLASS 4.—Chlorate mixture class.

The term "chlorate-mixture" means any explosive containing a chlorate.

The chlorate-mixture class has two divisions :

Division 1 comprises such explosives as—

Horsley's blasting powder, Brain's blasting powder—and any chlorate preparation which consists partly of nitro-glycerine or of some other liquid nitro-compound.

Division 2 comprises such explosives as—

Horsley's original blasting powder,	Hochstadter's blasting charges,
Erhard's powder,	Richen's blasting charges,
Reverley's powder,	Tentonite,

Chlorated gun-cotton, and any chlorate-mixture as before defined which is not comprised in the 1st division.

CLASS 5.—Fulminate class.

The term "fulminate" means any chemical compound or mechanical mixture, whether included in the foregoing classes or not, which from its great susceptibility to detonation, in other appliances, or from its extreme sensibility, or from any readiness to explode, is especially dangerous.

This class consists of two divisions :

Division 1 comprises such compounds as the fulminates of silver and of mercury and preparations of these substances, such as are used in percussion caps, and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with phosphorus, or certain descriptions of phosphorus compounds, with or without the addition of carbonaceous matter, and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with sulphur, or with a sulphurate, with or without carbonaceous matter.

Division 2 comprises such substances as the chloride and the iodide of nitrogen fulminating gold and silver, diazobenzol and the nitrate of diazobenzol.

CLASS 6.—Ammunition class.

The term "ammunition" means an explosive of any of the foregoing classes when enclosed in any case or contrivance, or otherwise adapted or prepared so as to form a cartridge or charge for small arms, cannon or any other weapon, or for blasting, or to form any safety or other fuse for blasting, or for shells, or to form any tube for firing explosives, or to form a percussion-cap, a detonator, a fog-signal, a shell, a torpedo, a war-rocket, or other contrivance other than a firework.

The term "percussion-cap" does not include a detonator.

The term "detonator" means a capsule or case which is of such strength and construction, and contains an explosive of the fulminate-explosive class in such quantity that the explosion of one capsule or case will communicate the explosion to other like capsules or cases.

The term "safety fuse" means a fuse for blasting which burns and does not explode, and which does not contain its own means of ignition, and which is of such strength and construction and contains an explosive in such quantity that the burning of such fuse will not communicate laterally with other like fuses.

The expression "safety cartridges" means cartridges for small arms of which the cases can be extracted from the small-arm after firing, and which are so closed as to prevent any explosion in one cartridge being communicated to other cartridges.

The ammunition class has three divisions :

Division 1 comprises exclusively—

Safety cartridges,		Railway fog-signals,
Safety fuses for blasting,		Percussion-caps.

Division 2 comprises any ammunition as before defined which does not contain its own means of ignition and is not included in division 1, such as—

Cartridges for small-arms, which are not safety cartridges,

Cartridges and charges for cannon, shells, mines, blasting, or other like purposes,

Shells and torpedoes containing any explosive,

Fuses for blasting which are not safety fuses,

Fuses for shells.

Tubes for firing explosives,

War-rockets,

which do not contain their own means of ignition.

Division 3 comprises any ammunition as before defined which contains its own means of ignition and is not included in division 1, such as—

Detonators,

Cartridges for small-arms which are not safety cartridges,

Fuses for blasting which are not safety fuses,

Fuses for shells,

Tubes for firing explosives,
which do contain their own means of ignition.

By ammunition containing its own means of ignition is meant ammunition having an arrangement, whether attached to it or forming part of it, which is adapted to explode or fire the same by friction or percussion.

CLASS 7.—Firework class.

The term "firework" comprises firework composition and manufactured fireworks.

Division 1.—The term "firework composition" means any chemical compound or mechanically mixed preparation of an explosive or inflammable nature which is used for the purpose of making manufactured fireworks, and is not included in the former classes of explosives, and also any coloured fire composition.

Division 2.—The term "manufactured firework" means any explosive of the foregoing classes and any firework composition when such explosive or composition is enclosed in any case or contrivance, or is otherwise manufactured so as to form a squib, cracker, serpent, rocket (other than a war-rocket), maroon, star, lance, wheel, Chinese fire, Roman candle, or other article adapted for the production of pyrotechnic effects or pyrotechnic signals.

TRANSPORT.

(a)—Packing.

2. The following general rules shall be observed with respect to the packing of explosives for conveyance:—

I.—Each class of explosive shall be separately packed.

II.—An explosive, not being an explosive of the 5th (fulminate) class or of the 2nd and 3rd divisions of the 6th (ammunition) class or of the 1st division of the 7th (firework) class, shall, if not exceeding 5lbs. in quantity, be contained in a substantial case, bag, canister, or other receptacle made and closed so as to prevent the explosive from escaping.

III.—An explosive of the 1st (gunpowder) class, which is intended to be used for blasting purposes, may be carried in barrels covered with waxcloth or gunny.

IV.—In every other case the explosive shall be contained in a double package. The inner package shall be a substantial case, bag, canister or other receptacle made and closed so as to prevent the explosive from escaping, and the outer package shall be a box, barrel, or case of wood or metal or other solid material, and shall be of such strength, construction and character, that will not be broken or accidentally opened or become defective or insecure whilst being conveyed, and will not allow the explosive to escape: Provided as follows:—

- (a) If the explosive is explosive of the 1st (or gunpowder) class or is explosive of the 2nd nitrate (mixture) class or is gun-cotton or other explosive of the 2nd division of the 3rd (nitro-compound) class, the quantity of explosive in any one outer package shall not, in the case of explosive of the first two classes, exceed 100lbs., and in the case of the last, 50lbs., and if the explosive be gun-cotton, it shall be carried thoroughly saturated with water.
- (b) If the explosive belongs to the 1st division of the 3rd (nitro-compound) class or to the 4th (chlorate-mixture) class, the inner package shall be without any metal in its construction, and the inner or outer package or both shall be thoroughly waterproof. No one of the inner packages shall contain more than 10lbs., and the aggregate quantity of the explosive in any one outer package shall not exceed 50lbs.
- (c) If the explosive belongs to the 5th (fulminate) class, it shall be packed in such manner as the Governor-General in Council may specially direct.
- (d) If the explosive belongs to the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class or is an explosive of the 2nd division, an outer package shall not be required, but it may be contained in quantity not exceeding 100lbs., in a single package, which shall be a box, barrel or case, not less than  $\frac{3}{4}$ ths of an inch in thickness, of such strength, construction and character, as will not be broken or accidentally opened or become defective or insecure whilst being conveyed, and will not allow the explosive to escape.
- (e) If the explosive belongs to the 3rd division of the 6th (ammunition) class, it shall be packed in a double package. The inner package shall not contain more than 2lbs. of such explosive, and no more than 50lbs. shall be contained in the outer package.
- (f) If the explosive belongs to the 1st division of the 7th (firework) class, it shall be contained in a double package. The inner package shall be a substantial canister, case or other receptacle hermetically closed, and containing no more than 1lb. of explosive, and no more than 20lbs. shall be contained in outer package; and

- (g) If the explosive belongs to the 2nd division of the 7th (firework) class, it shall be contained in a box, barrel or case of wood, metal or other solid material, and of such strength, construction and character that it will not be broken or accidentally opened or become defective or insecure whilst being conveyed, and will not allow any explosive to escape, and the quantity of explosive in any one package shall not exceed 100lbs.

V.—Whatever be the amount of the explosive, and to whatever class or division of a class it belongs, the following conditions shall be observed :—

- (a) The interior of every package, whether single or double, shall be kept free from grit and otherwise clean ;
- (b) every package, whether single or double, when actually used for the packing of explosive, shall not be used for the packing of any other explosive of the same or any other class or for any other purpose ;

- (d) on the outermost package there shall be affixed, in conspicuous characters, by means of a band or securely attached label or mark, the word "Explosive," followed by the name of the explosive or other description of the contents, and the name and address of the owner or sender ; and
- (e) the amount of explosive in any single package, or, if there is a double package, in any one outer package, shall not exceed the amount specified in the foregoing rules, except with the consent of, and under conditions to be approved by, an officer appointed by the Local Government in this behalf

3. If any person commits a breach of any of the foregoing rules relating to the packing of explosives for conveyance, he shall be punished with fine, which may extend to Rs. 1,000

(b)—Mode of conveyance.

4. The following general rules shall be observed with respect to the conveyance of explosives.—

1.—No explosive shall be conveyed from place to place unless packed in the manner provided for in the foregoing rules.

(firework) class, or of larger quantities than 5lbs. of any other explosive, the following regulations shall be observed :—

- (1) The person in charge of the carriage or vessel shall not drive or conduct the same in a dangerous or reckless manner, and shall take all due precautions to avoid fire and explosion, and no person shall do any act or thing in relation to the explosive which tends to cause fire or explosion, and is not reasonably necessary for the conveyance of the explosive or for work immediately connected with such conveyance; and a person who is intoxicated shall not have charge of any carriage or vessel conveying explosive, and shall not be permitted to be in, or on, or attending the same.
- (2) A person shall not forward to any warehouseman or carrier a consignment of explosive, unless he has given notice to such warehouseman or carrier beforehand, stating the name and quantity of the explosive proposed to be conveyed, and the name and address of the proposed consignee, and has had an intimation that the warehouseman or carrier is prepared to receive the consignment; and a warehouseman or carrier shall not make such an intimation nor receive such consignment, unless he is prepared to receive it, and forthwith to despatch the same, or to deposit it in a magazine or at a place at which a person is licensed to possess the same.
- (3) The carriage or vessel conveying the explosive shall be in charge of, and constantly attended by, some competent person, or by a sufficient number of competent persons, and such persons shall not, if the amount of explosive conveyed exceed 100lbs., stop or delay for a longer time than may be reasonably necessary, or stop unnecessarily at any place where such stopping would be attended with special public danger.

6. The following rules shall be observed with respect to the conveyance of explosives by public railway :—

I.—No person shall send for carriage upon any railway any consignment of an explosive, unless he has given to the officer in charge of the railway station previous notice in writing which, at the option of the Railway Administration, may extend to 48 hours, of his intention to send such consignment, and stating the true name, description, quantity and mode of packing of the explosive proposed to be conveyed, and his own name and address, and also the name and address of the proposed consignee, and unless he has had an intimation in writing from an authorized officer of the railway that such consignment will be received.

II.—No explosive which a Railway Administration shall, by any notice or regulation for the time being in force, notify that they will not receive, shall be brought, sent or forwarded to or upon any railway of the said Railway Administration.

III.—Consignments of explosives shall be sent to the forwarding station and shall be received by the railway servants only at such times between sunrise and sunset as the Railway Administration may appoint; and every package containing any explosive proposed to be conveyed on any railway shall immediately on arrival at the station be unloaded and placed in a safe place under the special direction of the officer in charge of the station.

IV.—An explosive must be removed by the consignee from the receiving station during the twelve hours of daylight after arrival: if this condition is not strictly complied with, the Railway Administration may return the consignment to the consignor at his risk and expense: and such packages shall in the meanwhile be kept as far away from the station buildings as possible, in the wagon they were conveyed in, or, if unloaded, shall be completely covered with tarpaulins or other suitable material, and, if necessary, shall be protected by a police guard.

V.—The Railway Administration may refuse to receive any packages which they suspect to contain any explosive packed or sent in contravention of these regulations: and in case any package which the Railway Administration suspect, shall be upon any railway, they may open, or require to be opened, any such package, to ascertain the fact, at the risk and expense of the consignor, and may return the explosive contained in the package to the consignor at his risk and expense, keeping the packages pending such return in the manner prescribed in the preceding rule.

VI.—Subject to the exception provided for in clause (c), no explosive shall be conveyed by passenger train except of the kinds and in the manner hereinafter specified in this rule —

India's No. 1121, dated
20th June 1870.

- (a) Safety cartridges and percussion-caps and safety-fuse (for blasting), also fog-signals for railway use, which may be conveyed in ordinary wagons or carriages.
- (b) Dynamite which may be carried in the form of cartridges up to the limit of 5 lbs., provided that no detonators are carried in the same compartment.
- (c) Detonators which may be carried to the number of 200, provided that in no case the amount of fulminate of mercury in the package or packages containing the detonators exceeds in the aggregate 3oz. (a certificate to this effect being given by the company, firm or person tendering the detonators for transport or by its or his agent) : provided also that no dynamite is carried in the same compartment.

(d) Sporting gunpowder or non-safety cartridges packed in double cases as before, provided so long as the gunpowder is contained in one-pound tin canisters packed in a stout wooden case with an outer covering of tin or zinc completely spark-proof, or in metal-lined cases of a pattern approved by the Railway Administration. But no outer case shall contain more than 25 lbs. of gunpowder, and the total consignment of gunpowder or non-safety cartridges by one train shall not exceed 80 lbs.

(e) Explosives may be carried by mixed trains on any line on which goods trains are not running, subject to the conditions that not more than one vehicle containing explosives is forwarded at any one time by a mixed train ; that the precautions prescribed for conveyance by goods trains are observed, and that directly a wagon containing explosives arrives at a section on which goods trains are running, it is detached from the mixed train.

VII.—Not more than five carriages containing explosives shall be loaded or unloaded at any railway station, or be conveyed by any one train at any one time ; and the quantity of explosive to be contained in any one carriage shall not exceed two-thirds of the normal load, unless the carriage shall be specially built and approved of by the Government of India for the conveyance of explosives. But nothing in this clause shall be held to apply to separate consignments of small-arms ammunition.

VIII.—There shall not be conveyed in the same carriage with any explosive any lucifer or other matches, fuzes, pipe-lights, acids, naphtha, paraffine, petroleum to which the Petroleum Act or any Act repealing or amending the same applies, or any other volatile spirit or substance liable to give off an inflammable vapour or liable to spontaneous ignition, or to cause or communicate fire or explosion.

IX.—The consignor shall attach to the consignment note a certificate signed by an officer authorized by the Local Government in this behalf that explosive, if it is gun-cotton, dynamite or blasting gelatine, is of the standard purity, and has undergone no deterioration since its manufacture, and that in the case of dynamite, there are no signs of exude

that the cartridge

X.—In the case of dynamite the outer package shall be marked with the date on which the dynamite was packed, and be secured with a leaden seal in token of the inspection having been made.

XI.—The certificate referred to in rule IX shall be valid for six months after date, if the examination has been made between the 15th October and 31st March; but any Railway Administration which accepts dynamite for transport may demand a fresh certificate for dynamite presented for conveyance between 1st April and 15th October (both inclusive).

XII.—Packages containing dynamite shall be stowed in one layer only and secured so as to prevent movement during transit. The gross load in any one wagon shall not exceed three tons.

XIII.—No explosive belonging to the 5th (fulminate) class or to class VI, division 3, shall be carried in the same train with dynamite, or with any other explosive belonging to class III, division 1.

XIV.—Wagons used for the carriage of explosives shall be examined to see that they are spark-proof, and have been cleaned out before they are loaded. Hair-cloth, hides, or other suitable material shall be spread on the floor of the wagon and between each layer of packages, except when packages are covered with gunny or felt, or contain small-arms ammunition packed in tin-lined service pattern boxes.

XV.—Wagons containing explosives shall be loaded and unloaded on sidings distant as far as possible from the station buildings.

XVI.—More than three layers of packages containing explosives shall never be packed one above another, except in the case of small-arms ammunition packed in tin-lined service-pattern boxes, when such a restriction is unnecessary. Subject to the provisions of rule 4(III), the loading and unloading of explosives when once begun shall be diligently proceeded with until the same is completed.

XVII.—When the train is being marshalled, wagons loaded with explosives may be shunted by a locomotive, provided that they are separated from the engine by not less than three wagons containing no explosive nor easily inflammable substance. This precaution is not necessary with wagons specially constructed for the carriage of explosive. The speed of these movements will be restricted to five miles an hour, they will be superintended by a duly authorized officer, who will be held responsible for the observance of these orders. Flying shunts are strictly prohibited.

XVIII.—Wagons containing explosives shall be placed at the end of the train away from the locomotive, and shall be coupled to one another as well as to the adjoining wagons, and must be preceded and followed by three wagons not loaded with explosive or other traffic of an inflammable nature.

If the wagons employed in the transport of explosives are provided with brakes, the brakes thereon shall on no account be worked while the wagons are running with a train, nor shall brakes other

11. If the explosive is gunpowder or an explosive of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class or an explosive of the 7th (firework) class, the license to import the same may be granted at the ports of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay by the Commissioner of Police, and at the ports of Rangoon, Calicut, Karachi and Aden by the District Magistrate.

12. The fee payable in respect of each such license shall be Rs. 10, but if any explosive imported under a license into a British port is exported thence to another British port named in rule 10, the necessary license for such re-import may be granted on payment of a fee of one rupee instead of Rs. 10.

13. Licenses for the importation by sea of any explosive other than those specified in rule 11 shall be granted by the Local Government or by some officer specially authorized by the Local Government in this behalf.

14. No license for the importation of any explosive of the description referred to in rule 13 shall be granted unless samples of the explosive taken, as hereinafter provided, are certified by the Chemical Examiner, or some other officer appointed by the Local Government in this behalf, to pass the test which may from time to time be prescribed for such explosive by the Government of India.

Such certificate should be valid for six months after date if the examination has been made between the 15th October and 31st March; but in the case of dynamite, a fresh certificate may be demanded if the consignment is imported between the 1st April and 15th October (both inclusive).

16. The period for which a license to import an explosive, granted under rule 13, shall continue in force shall not exceed such period as may seem necessary to the authority granting the license.

17. The fee payable on a license granted under rule 13 shall be Rs. 10, but if an explosive is imported under a license into a British port and is exported thence to another British port named in rule 10, the necessary license for such re-import may be granted on payment of a fee of one rupee instead of Rs. 10.

18. Every license granted under rules 11 and 13 shall be in form A in the schedule hereto annexed, and shall be subject to the conditions therein prescribed, and also to such additional conditions with respect to the time and place of unloading, landing, delivery and conveyance of the explosive, and such other conditions as may in each case be thought by the licensing officer to be necessary for the public safety or in the interests of the state.

21. If a person licensed to import an explosive dies or becomes bankrupt, or becomes mentally incapable or otherwise disabled, the person carrying on the business of such licensee shall not be liable to any penalty or forfeiture under the Act or the rules made thereunder for acting under the license during such reasonable time as may be necessary to allow him to make an application to the authority granting the license for a new license in his own name during the currency of the unexpired portion of the original license. Such new license shall be granted on the payment of one rupee.

22. The fees leviable under these rules shall be taken in the shape of "impressed stamps." Ordinarily the applications for license or renewals of licenses, shall, if not otherwise provided, be written on "impressed stamps" of value equal to the amount of fee leviable in respect of such licenses or renewals, the licenses themselves being issued on plain paper. But when the licenses themselves are written or printed on impressed stamps, the application may be on plain paper. When an application for license is written on an impressed stamp and the license is refused, the value of the stamp will, on application, be refunded to the applicant.

23. When a license granted in accordance with these rules is lost, or accidentally destroyed, a duplicate may be granted to the licensee on payment of a fee of eight annas.

24. Any person holding a license, or acting under a license, granted in accordance with these rules, shall be bound to produce the same when called upon to do so by any Magistrate, or by any police officer in charge of a police station, or by any police officer of higher rank.

Testing of Explosives.
India's No. 1418, dated
24th June 1887.

WITH reference to rule 14* of the rules to regulate the transport and importation of explosives, published with Home Department Notification No. 1417, dated the 24th June 1887, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to make the following rule on the subject of the tests which certain explosives shall be required to pass before their importation is permitted:—

Rule.

The following explosives and none others shall be liable to be tested under these rules:—

- (1) All nitro-compounds included in class III, division 1.
- (2) Nitro-compounds containing gun-cotton included in class III, division 2.
- (3) Chlorate-mixtures containing nitro-glycerine included in class IV, division 2.
2. To nitro-compound mixtures included in class III, division 1, except methylic nitrate, the following tests are applicable:—
  - (a) heat test for nitro-glycerine contained in dynamite and analogous nitro-glycerine preparation;
  - (b) heat test for nitro-glycerine preparations;
  - (c) heat test for blasting gelatine and gelatine dynamite;
  - (d) test for liquefaction of blasting gelatine and gelatine dynamite;
  - (e) test for liability to exudation of blasting gelatine and gelatine dynamite

3. To those nitro-compound mixtures included in class III, division 2, which contain gun-cotton, the heat test for nitro-glycerine preparations in clause (b) of the preceding paragraph is applicable.

4. To those chlorate-mixtures contained in class IV, division 2, which contain nitro-glycerine, one or more of the five tests contained in paragraph 2 above are applicable, but the precise test or tests to be applied shall be regulated by the composition of the explosive.

5. The tests specified above shall be applied in the following manner:

HEAT TEST FOR NITRO-GLYCERINE CONTAINED IN DYNAMITE AND ANALOGOUS NITRO-GLYCERINE PREPARATIONS.

Apparatus required.

1. Test tubes from  $5\frac{1}{2}$  inches to  $5\frac{1}{2}$  inches long, and of such diameter that they will hold from 20 to 22 cubic centimetres of water when filled to a height of 5 inches.

2. The test-tubes to be fitted with perforated corks, which should be conical so as to fit all the tubes equally well. The perforations hold glass rods provided with a hook of glass or platinum to hold the test-paper.

3. The heating apparatus, as prescribed with the original Government heat test.* This apparatus is described at page 112 of the Report of the Special Committee on Gun-cotton, 1871 to 1874.

Materials required.

(a). Test-paper.—The test-paper is prepared as follows:—45 grains of white starch, previously washed with cold water, are added to  $8\frac{1}{2}$  ounces of distilled water, the mixture is stirred, heated to boiling, and kept gently boiling for 10 minutes, 15 grains of pure potassium iodide (i.e. which has been re-crystallized from alcohol) are dissolved in  $8\frac{1}{2}$  ounces of distilled water. The two solutions are thoroughly mixed and allowed to get cold. Strips or sheets of white English filter paper, previously washed with water and re-dried, are dipped into the solution thus prepared, and allowed to remain in it for not less than 10 seconds; they are then allowed to drain and dry in a place free from laboratory fumes and dust. The upper and lower margins of the strips or sheets are cut off, and the paper is preserved in well stoppered or corked bottles and in the dark. The dimensions of the pieces of test-paper used are about  $\frac{4}{10}$ ths inch by  $\frac{8}{10}$ ths inch (10 mm. by 20 mm.).

*A globe of copper or other suitable material may be used instead of the glass globe, and any efficient gas regulator, such as a Page's regulator, may be substituted in place of Scheibler's regulator.

(b.) Standard tint-paper.—A solution of caramel in water is made of such concentration that, when diluted one hundred times (10 cc. made up to 1 litre), the tint of this diluted solution equals the tint produced by the Nessler test in 100 cc. water containing 0.000075 grm. of ammonia or 0.00023505 grm. of chloride of ammonium. With this caramel solution lines are drawn on strips of white filter paper\* by means of a clean quill-pen. When the marks thus produced are dry, the paper is cut into pieces of the same size as the test-paper previously described in such a way that each piece has a brown line across it near the middle of its length, and only such strips are preserved in which the brown line has a breadth varying from  $\frac{1}{2}$  mm. to 1 mm. ( $\frac{1}{60}$ -th of an inch to  $\frac{1}{25}$ -th of an inch).

a. Apparatus required.—A wide-mouthed bottle (a) of about 8 oz. capacity, to which is fitted an india-rubber stopper (b) having two perforations. Through one of these passes the bent tube (c), through the other the filtering tube (d). The latter should have sufficient capacity to hold about 500 grains of dynamite. Within the bottle is placed a small test-tube (e) to receive the nitro-glycerine filtering through (d).

b. Mode of operation.—About 400 grains of dynamite, finely divided, are placed into the filtering tube (d) (small pieces of cottonwool having previously been pushed into the contracted part of the tube) and made to fill it as evenly as possible by shaking and tapping; the upper surface is smoothed by gently pressing with a wooden rammer.

Water is then poured on the top of the dynamite and allowed to sink into it by its own weight until a sufficient quantity of nitro-glycerine has been displaced. The bent tube (c) may then be connected with the filtering pump or other means of reducing the pressure in the bottle, the displacement of the nitro-glycerine being thus accelerated.

* This paper must be carefully washed with distilled water in the first instance to remove any traces of bleaching matter, and dried.

The nitro-glycerine collects in the tube (c), and the operation is stopped before the water reaches the narrow part of the filtering tube.

If any water should have passed through with the nitro-glycerine, it should be removed with a piece of blotting paper and the nitro-glycerine, if necessary, filtered through a dry paper filter.

Application of the test.

The thermometer is fixed so as to be inserted through the lid of the glass globe into the water (which is to be steadily maintained at a temperature of 160° F.) to a depth of 2½ inches. 50 grains of nitro-glycerine to be tested are weighed into a test-tube in such a way as not to soil the sides of the tube. A test-paper is fixed on the hook of the glass rod, so that when inserted into the tube it will be in a vertical position. A sufficient amount of a mixture of half distilled water and half glycerine is now applied to the upper edge of the test-paper by means of a camel's-hair pencil to half of the narrow end of the cover, the rod and of the paper on the tube: . . . . . rations of the cover to such a depth that the lower edge of the test-paper is just above the surface of the cover. The test is complete when the faint brown line which after a time makes its appearance at the line of boundary between the dry and moist part of the paper equals in tint the brown line of the standard tint-paper.

The nitro-glycerine under examination will be considered as "thoroughly purified" within the terms of the license, whenever the time necessary to produce the standard tint as above described is not less than 15 minutes.

Fig. IV

Apparatus required.—1. A spherical glass vessel (Fig. I about 8 inches diameter (n), filled with water to within a quarter of an inch of the edge, having a loose cover of sheet tin or copper about 7 inches square (b), rests on a tripod stand about 14 inches high (c), covered with coarse iron-wire gauze (c), and surrounded with a screen of thin sheet copper (d). Within this is placed an argand burner (f) with glass chimney. Over the glass globe is placed a common green paper lamp (shade m, n). The cover (b) has five holes arranged as seen in Fig. II; No. 5 to receive the thermometer; No. 1 the regulator; No. 4, a small funnel; and Nos. 2 and 3, test-tubes containing the gun-cotton to be tested. Around holes 2 and 3, on the underside of the cover, are soldered three pieces of the brass wire with points slightly converging (Fig. III turned upside down); these acting as springs, allow the test tubes to be easily placed in position and removed.

2. Scheibler's temperature regulator.
3. Two cells of Le Clanche's battery No. 1.
4. A few yards of insulated copper-wire.
5. Test-tubes about  $\frac{3}{8}$  inch diameter, and not less than 5 inches long.
6. Glass-rod with a flat head—of sufficient length to reach to the bottom of test-tubes.
7. Corks, fitting the test-tubes and carrying an arrangement for holding the test-paper (a thin glass tube passing through the centre of the cork, drawn out and terminating in a platinum wire hook, Fig. IV).
8. A thermometer with range not less than from  $30^{\circ}$  to  $212^{\circ}$  Fahrenheit.
9. A minute clock.

Materials required.—The test-paper is prepared as follows:—45 grains of white starch are added to  $8\frac{1}{2}$  ounces of water, and the mixture is stirred and heated to boiling, 15 grains of iodide of potassium are dissolved in  $8\frac{1}{2}$  ounces of water. The two solutions are thoroughly mixed together. Strips or sheets of white Swedish filter paper are dipped in the solution thus prepared, they are then allowed to drain and dry. The dimensions of the pieces of test-paper used are about  $\frac{1}{2}$  inch by  $\frac{3}{4}$  inch. The paper should be preserved in a well-stoppered or corked bottle.

Preparation of samples for testing.—Half a cartridge of the material (or about 500 grains if it is not supplied in the form of cartridges) is thoroughly rubbed up together, so as to furnish a very uniform sample. If the material is frozen it should first be thawed.

Application of the test.—The thermometer is fixed so as to be inserted through the lid of the glass globe into the water (which is to be steadily maintained at a temperature of  $160^{\circ}$  Fahrenheit to a depth of  $2\frac{1}{2}$  inches). Fifty grains of the samples to be tested are inserted into the test-tube and gently pressed down to the bottom with a flat-headed glass rod. The test-tube is then inserted through the perforation in the cover, and is numbered in the hot water to the depth of  $2\frac{1}{2}$  inches, the tube being closed with a loosely-fitting cork. A test-paper is fixed on the lower extremity of the glass rod, so that, when inserted into the tube it will be in a vertical position. A drop of distilled water, containing 10 per cent. of pure glycerine, is applied to the upper edge of the test-paper, the quantity used being only sufficient to moisten about half of the paper; the first cork is then taken out of the test-tube and replaced by the cork holding the glass rod and test-paper, keeping the test-paper as near the top of the test-tube as possible until the tube has been immersed for about five or six minutes. A ring of moisture will about this time be deposited in the test-tube a little above the cover of the bath; the glass rod must then be lowered until the lower margin of the moistened part of the paper is on a level with the bottom of the ring of moisture in the tube; the paper is now closely watched. The test is complete when a very faint brown coloration makes its appearance at the line of boundary between the dry and moist part of the paper. The interval of time between the first insertion of the tube containing the sample in the water at  $160^{\circ}$  and the first appearance of discoloration on the paper constitutes the test.

HEAT TEST FOR BLASTING GELATINE AND GELATINE DYNAMITE.

Fifty grains of blasting gelatine are to be intimately incorporated with one hundred grains of French chalk. The mixture is to be gradually introduced into a test-tube of the dimensions prescribed in the dynamite heat-test, with the aid of gentle tapping upon the table between the introduction of successive portions of the mixture into the tube: so that, when the tube contains all the mixture, it shall be filled to the extent of  $1\frac{1}{2}$  inches (one inch and three-quarters) of its height. The test-paper is then to be inserted, and the heat is to be applied in the manner prescribed for the dynamite heat test, and the sample tested is to withstand exposure to  $160^{\circ}$  Fahrenheit for a period of ten minutes before producing a discoloration of the test-papers corresponding in tint to the standard colour test which is employed for governing the results of the dynamite heat test.

TEST FOR LIQUEFACTION OF BLASTING GELATINE AND GELATINE DYNAMITE.

A cylinder of blasting gelatine to be cut from the cartridge to be tested; the length of the cylinder to be about equal to its diameter, and the ends being cut flat.

The cylinder is to be placed on end on a flat surface without any wrapper, and secured by a pin passing vertically through its centre.

In this condition the cylinder is to be exposed for one hundred and forty-four consecutive hours (six days) to a temperature  $120^{\circ}$ ing from 85° to 90° Fahrenheit (inclusive), and during such exposure the cylinder shall not diminish in length by more than one-fourth, and the upper cut surface shall retain its flatness and the sharpness of its edge.

Note.—If the blasting gelatine, and gelatine dynamite to be tested be not made up in a cylindrical form, the above test is to be applied with the necessary modifications.

TEST FOR LIABILITY TO EXFUDATION OF BLASTING GELATINE AND GELATINE DYNAMITE.

There shall be no separation from the general mass of the blasting gelatine or gelatine dynamite of a substance of less consistency than the bulk of the remaining portion of the material under any conditions of storage, transport or use, or when the material is subjected three times in succession to alternate freezing and thawing, or when subjected to the liquefaction test hereinbefore described.

Proper License.

G. O. No. 4081 dated
VI—80B
22nd December 1892.

Rules under section 18
of Act XXI, 1879.

G. O. No. 31J., dated 12th March 1875 (Foreign), amended by G. O. No. 87J., dated 16th August 1876.

1. THE Political Agent shall not issue a warrant under section 11 of the Act in any case which is provided for by treaty if the native state expressly desires to abide by the procedure of the treaty, nor in any case in which application for surrender is made under section 14 to the Governor-General in Council or any Local Government.

2. The Political Agent shall not issue a warrant under section 11 except on a request preferred to him in writing by, or by the authority of, the person for the time being administering the executive government of the native state at which he is the British representative, and on the understanding that the provisions of Act XXI of 1879 and of these rules are to apply to the case.

3. If the accused be a British subject, the Political Agent shall, before issuing such a warrant, consider whether he ought not to certify the case as one for trial in British India; and he shall, instead of issuing a warrant, so certify the case if he is satisfied that the interests of justice and the convenience of witnesses can be better served by the trial being held in British India than in the native state.

4. The Political Agent shall in all cases, before issuing a warrant under section 11, satisfy himself by a preliminary inquiry that there is a prima facie case against the accused, and that the charge is not prompted by political motives.

5. If the person surrendered under the warrant of the Political Agent, issued under person being a Brit custom or by the Council, try native tion, and the Political Agent after hearing the statement, if any, of the accused, and making such further inquiry as he may deem necessary, is still satisfied that there is a prima facie case against the accused, the Political Agent may commit the accused to the ordinary courts of the state, provided that the courts of the state have, by custom or recognition as aforesaid, power to inflict the punishment which may be inflicted under the Indian Penal Code for the offence with which the accused is charged.

6. If the accused be a British subject, but the courts of the state do not, by custom or recognition as aforesaid, try native British subjects, the Political Agent shall dispose of the case himself.

7. If the punishment which may be awarded under the Indian Penal Code for any offence for which an accused person has been custom try the

8. Notwithstanding anything in the three preceding rules, the Political Agent shall try any such case himself, or make it over for trial by the ordinary courts of the state, if he be generally or especially instructed by the Governor-General in Council so to do.

9. In cases made over for trial by the courts of a native state under rules 5 and 7, the Political Agent shall satisfy himself that the accused receives a fair trial, and that the punishment inflicted by the courts of the native state is not less than that which he would receive if he were tried by the courts of the state.

10. A return of all persons made over for trial by the courts of a native state under rules 5 and 7 shall be submitted half-yearly by the Political Agent to the Government of India or the Governments of Madras or Bombay, as the case may be, in the following form:—

*Return of persons made over during the half-year ending on the—

in the same way as persons under trial for a similar offence would be treated under the Code of Criminal Procedure, or under the procedure in force in the presidency towns, if the arrest takes place within any presidency town.

12. Persons sentenced to imprisonment by the Political Agent shall, if British subjects, be conveyed to the most convenient jail in British territory, there to be dealt with as though the conviction had taken place in a court of British India; provided always that no appeal shall thereby be given other than is allowed by any rule for regulating appeals from the decisions of the Political Agent.

13. Nothing in rules 5 to 10 inclusive, which refer to cases under section 13 of the said Act, shall be deemed to apply to Political Agents immediately under the authority of the Governor in Council of the Presidency of Fort St. George or the Governor in Council of the Presidency of Bombay.

G. O. No. 149J., dated
8th October 1875 (Foreign).

The above rules under Act XXI of 1879 (the Foreign Jurisdiction and Extradition Act, 1879) shall not apply to native territory under the direct administration of the British Government in which the Code of Criminal Procedure (Act X of 1832) is in force.

Bail cannot be taken.
G. O. No. 55J., dated
6th May 1875 (Foreign Department).

When a prisoner has been arrested under a Political Agent's warrant (section 12), or under a warrant issued under section 14 by the Governor-General in Council or any Local Government, bail cannot be taken, and the person arrested must be removed in custody and delivered up at the place and to the person named in the warrant.

Extradition from native states of criminals charged with offences committed in British territory.
Circular No. 8, dated 18th April 1873 (Political Department).

The following procedure should be followed to obtain delivery from a native state of a subject of such state charged with an offence committed in British territory. Such cases are not governed by the extradition law (Act XXI of 1879), which relates only to the surrender to native states of their criminals taking refuge in British territory. That Act in no way affects the demands of the British Government on native states, whether extradition treaties exist with them or not. Magistrates should act promptly in the manner prescribed in the extract hereto appended in all cases where the surrender of criminals from native states may be necessary.

Extract from Resolution No. 159J., dated 8th August 1871, Foreign Department.

The offences for which the surrender of the subjects of native feudatory states is demanded should be limited to those for which authority may be given to British officers to surrender the subjects of native state. A larger catalogue of native states should be allowed. Demand is made, it should be made by British Magistrates, not to the state directly but to the Political Officer, where there is one; and the demand should invariably be accompanied by a copy of any deposition made, or where no evidence has yet been taken, by a statement of the information on which the arrest of the offender is deemed necessary. It should rest with the Political Agent, if necessary, to call on the Magistrate for further evidence; but if the Political Agent possesses the influence and weight he ought to have, he should seldom fail to obtain compliance with any reasonable demand made to the darbar to which he is accredited for the surrender of an absconded criminal.

The Deputy Commissioners of Kheri, Bahraich and Gonda are authorized to make their applications for the arrest and extradition of accused British subjects who have absconded into Nepalese territory, direct to the Resident.

Extradition of absconded offenders from Nepal.
No. 103, dated 20th July 1870

No. 1202, dated 8th October 1870.

Where an offence seems, prima facie, to come within the definition of murder in section 390 of the Indian Penal Code, the demand for extradition should be made under the head of murder, although there may be some chance that on trial the offence may be found to fall under some of the exceptions to the section. Where the case is clearly one of culpable homicide not amounting to murder, no demand should be made.

No. 600, dated 22nd May 1880.

A case recently occurred in which the Nepal Darbar applied for the extradition of a Nepalese subject charged with the treaty offence of cattle-theft, although the accused had already been tried in British territory for the dishonest possession of the cattle in question and sentenced to two years' rigorous imprisonment.

India's No. 1831 E.P., dated 12th August 1881.

In such cases extradition cannot be refused, and in future, persons suspected of having committed such offences should be detained; and if, upon reference to the darbar, it is ascertained that the accused is a Nepalese subject, and that he has apparently committed the offence complained of in Nepalese territory, he can, upon suitable requisition made, be surrendered at once to that Government for trial.

The following arrangements should be observed in regard to extradition and prevention of crime on the Nepal frontier.

The darbar have issued orders that in cases where the surrender of a Nepalese subject who is charged with having committed a crime in Nepal and has fled into British territory, is desired, the local officials will give to the nearest Magistrate in British territory such information of the accused's place of refuge as may lead to his arrest, and such evidence as will justify his detention for a reasonable period. They will, without delay, furnish copies of the information and evidence to the Prime Minister for communication to the Resident. The Resident will then either issue a warrant for the accused, or, if a reference to Government is first needed, will take steps to ensure his detention.

to the local authorities of the British Indian subject of the crime with which he is charged. An accurate description of the accused's personal appearance and the names of the thána or pargana, the village and the owner of the house where he has taken refuge, should, if possible, be given. As full an account as circumstances will allow of the offence with which he is charged should be drawn up from the police papers or from depositions made before the Magistrate, and should be authenticated and forwarded with the information and the request for the detention of the accused. Copies of these documents should at the same time be sent to the Resident for communication to the darbár.

His Honor desires to remind Magistrates of the necessity for furnishing with requests for surrender as complete a prima facie record of guilt as they can. The efforts of Government and the darbár to keep down crime on the frontier can only be successful when the local authorities give and receive the fullest information possible.

Extradition between the French and British possessions in India. Foreign Department No. 12341., dated 20th May 1884.

THE returns prescribed by the tenth of the rules made under the Act (p. 114) should be submitted for the half-yearly periods ending on the 30th June and the 31st December. They should be submitted to the Local Government only.

UNDER the stipulations of article IX of the Treaty of 7th March 1815, between Great Britain and France, which relates exclusively to the Indian possessions of the two countries, it has been customary to surrender persons accused of non-political offences of a grave character by a warrant and a summary of the case being required; and it has not been the more stringent provisions of section 14 of the Indian Extradition Act, XXI of 1879, and sections 8 and 10 of Acts XXXIII and XXXIV, Vic., cap. 52, relating to extradition.

In the opinion of Her Majesty's Government, section 1 of Act XXI of 1879 affords sufficient legal authority for the carrying out of the treaty in accordance with the existing practice.

FINES.

The following instructions have been issued regarding the realization of fines:—

(1) It is the duty of the police to demand payment of fines imposed by criminal courts, and for the realization of which a warrant is issued. Magistrates, in issuing warrants for the levy of fines under section 386, Act X of 1882, will direct them to the police.

(2) If payment is made on demand, the money so received will be forwarded to the Magistrate's court, and the warrant returned with the execution that has taken place endorsed on its reverse.

(3) If payment is not made at once, the police officer bearing the warrant will attach the movable property of the person fined to an amount that may be sufficient to liquidate the fine.

(4) He will then return the warrant to the Magistrate, after endorsing on it the execution that has taken place.

(5) Such warrants shall ordinarily be directed through the Court Inspector to the police officer in charge of the station within which the property of the offender is situated, and may be endorsed by him to any police officer subordinate to him.

(6) If it be necessary to sell the property so attached, this duty shall, under the orders of the Magistrate, be performed as follows:—

(i) At the headquarters of the district, by the Magistrate's nazir.

(ii) In other places, by the kurk amin, or, where there is no kurk amin, by the person who ordinarily performs the duties of kurk amin.

They will without delay furnish copies of the information and evidence to the Resident. The accused, or, if a reference to Government is first needed, will take steps to ensure his detention.

Similarly, Magistrates will give information to the local authorities of the darbár of the place of hiding of a British Indian subject who has absconded into Nipal, with an account of the crime with which he is charged. An accurate description of the accused's personal appearance and the names of the thána or pargana, the village and the owner of the house where he has taken refuge, should, if possible, be given. Copies of these documents should at the same time be sent to the Resident for communication to the darbár.

The efforts of Government and the darbár to keep down crime on the frontier can only be successful when the local authorities give and receive the fullest information possible.

THE returns prescribed by the tenth of the rules made under the Act (p. 114) should be submitted for the half-yearly periods ending on the 30th June and the 31st December. They should be submitted to the Local Government only.

UNDER the stipulations of article IX of the Treaty of 7th March 1815, between Great Britain and France, which relates exclusively to the Indian possessions of the two countries, it has been customary to surrender persons accused of non-political offences of a grave character upon application supported by a warrant and a summary of the charges, witnesses being required; and it has been customary to observe the more stringent provisions of section 14 of the Indian Extradition Act, XXI of 1879, and sections 3 and 10 of Acts XXXIII and XXXIV, Vic., cap. 52, relating to extradition.

* An Act to give the Government certain powers with respect to foreigners.

- (1) The frontier provinces are responsible that gangs of foreign vagrants are not allowed to pass into India.
- (2) In any province where such a gang commits any depredations, no effort should be spared in bringing the chief offenders to justice for specific crimes, or treating them, as the law allows, under Chapter VIII of the Criminal Procedure Code.
- (3) On no account should such gangs be passed on under police or if descriptive-rolls of the deported persons, with photographs of the leaders, being taken and forwarded to the frontier Governments; and
- (4) On no account should safe-conduct passes or licenses to carry arms be granted to gangs of this type, or to any members of such gang; and if arms or ammunition are found in their possession, they should be at once disarmed in accordance with the provisions of the Arms Act.

It may be true that in some cases these people possess money and jewels, but none the less do they harry the country and live on the people; and therefore they must, when they conduct themselves as marauders, be treated accordingly. Careful effort on the part of the local and police authorities to enforce the existing laws in course of time deter them from molesting the quiet Indian provinces. The fact that in many of our British provinces the people possess few weapons, and are unfitted by nature and habit to resist, with any degree of success, the aggressive proceedings of gangs of these Asiatic foreigners, renders it the more incumbent on magisterial and police officers to make every effort to protect the people.

It has been found that the foregoing instructions regarding wandering gangs of foreigners are liable to misconstruction. It should therefore be understood that deportation, if resorted to at all, must be carried out strictly in accordance with Act III of 1864, and only under the orders of the Local Government, as directed by section 3 of that Act.

In continuation of the above, attention is directed to the following orders of the Government of India:—

Resolution dated 25th November 1886.

Instances have recently come under the notice of the Government of India in which the instructions of 20th May 1879, have in certain respects been overlooked by local officers.

Government of India
No. <sup>29</sup> 1889-1000, dated 20th
May 1879.

July 1875.

G. O. No. <sup>2520</sup> 11-87, dated 17th December 1886.

The practice of furnishing wandering gangs with police escorts, officers in the several provinces should be directed to those orders, a strict observance of which should at the same time be enjoined. It must also be understood that such gangs must under no circumstances be passed on from British territory into native states. His Excellency in Council would furthermore point out that the treatment of these foreign vagrants is a matter which requires the exercise of a careful discretion, and which cannot be regulated by hard-and-fast rules.

The Government of India also concurs in the suggestions made by the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces and the Bengal Government, namely—

- (1) that an order of deportation, if issued by any Local Government, should be made effective, and should not merely require the removal of the persons concerned from a particular presidency or province, but beyond the limits of British India (section 3, Act III of 1864), and that the route for removal should be always specified in the order, warning being at the same time given to the Local Governments and Administrations through whose territories the gang will pass; and
- (2) that whenever a license to carry arms is given to any person who may appear to be travelling bona fide for the purpose of trade, a note should be made on the license of the number of persons accompanying such person, and that he should be given distinctly to understand that should his followers be augmented at any time, or should he join any other company or gang, his license would be at once liable to cancellation.

In conclusion, the Governor-General in Council wishes it to be clearly understood that the object of calling renewed attention to the matter is not to interfere with the movements of persons who are bona fide engaged in trade, but to protect the peaceable inhabitants of the country from the depredations of wandering gangs whose real object is rather larceny or plunder than legitimate trade.

Deportation of Baories and Pathans convicted in British India.
Home Department No. 273, dated 20th July 1883.

WITH a view to the removal from British India, on the expiry of their sentences, of Baories of Rájputána and of Pathans convicted in British India, the following instructions are laid down for guidance:—

The prisoners concerned should, shortly before the expiry of their sentence, be transferred to a jail in British India near the foreign territory to which they belong, the sanction of the Government of India being obtained to such transfer where necessary, that is, when a prisoner has to be transferred from one province to another. The Local Government within whose jurisdiction the jail to which the transfer is made is situated, can issue the necessary order of deportation under section 3, Act III of 1864, on the termination of the prisoner's sentence.

Procedure to be followed by the officer conducting the prosecution on behalf of the Government in cases of—

dated 29th September 1884.

IN prosecuting cases in which persons convicted are charged with stamp or other frauds, involving a pecuniary loss to Government, the Government Pleader, Court Inspector or other officer conducting or watching the prosecution on behalf of Government, should, at the close of the trial, and prior to the announcement of the court's decision, submit for the court's consideration the propriety of imposing, in case of conviction, a fine corresponding to the amount of pecuniary loss incurred or said to be incurred by Government.

This course should, however, only be adopted under the orders of the Magistrate of the district in cases where inquiry has shown that the prisoner possesses sufficient property to secure the realization of the desired fine.

HANDCUFFS.

MAGISTRATES are requested to see that the following instructions of the Police Department are carefully observed :—

"As a rule, all persons accused of non-bailable offences may be handcuffed when arrested, and when in transit from one place to another; handcuffs should, however, only be imposed when, from the heinous nature of the crime, or the character or behaviour of the accused, a fair presumption arises that such restraint is necessary to prevent escape or violence.

"When an arrest is made by any police officer subordinate to the officer in charge of a station, the consent of the latter must, if possible, be obtained to the imposition of handcuffs, and must, in all cases be obtained before transit to the courts.

"N.B.—The person arrested shall not be subjected to more restraint than is necessary to prevent his escape."

JAILS.***

Inspection of—
Circular No. 1, dated 10th
January 1878.

Visitors of jails, when they believe that a change is advisable in any branch of the sanctioned system of jail administration, should refer their opinions to the Government, either directly or (as will probably be found preferable in most cases) through the Inspector-General of Prisons. Remarks with regard to the internal arrangements of the jail, or the state of discipline maintained therein, should alone be recorded in the visitors' book.

Prosecution of—officials.
30th June 1877.

Prison officials who are believed to have committed offences under the Prisons Act (IX of 1894) should not be prosecuted before a Magistrate until a reference has been made to the Inspector-General of Prisons in order that he, as head of the Department, may determine whether the offender should be punished departmentally or prosecuted criminally.

Relations of Magistrates and Superintendents of jails.
Circular No. 68, dated 6th
October 1877 (General Department)
G. O. No. 1, dated 13th
January 1864, and No. 126
dated 6th September 1879.

The following are the rules regulating the relations of Magistrates and Superintendents of district jails, and regarding the appointment and duties of official visitors of central prisons and district jails :—

The Magistrate of the district shall, in the absence of any officer specially ordered by Government to do so, assume charge of the jail. This control he may immediately exercise himself, or he may appoint any salaried Magistrate under him or the Superintendent of Police or an Assistant Surgeon (of not less than 10 years' standing in the service) in civil medical charge of the district, to assume charge of the jail, reporting his action at once through the Inspector-General of Prisons for the sanction of Government.

Circular No. 25, dated 3rd
May 1880.

The power of placing the Superintendent of Police in charge of the jail is to be exercised as a last resort only, when no other arrangement is practicable. When such an arrangement is made, the circumstances which rendered it unavoidable should be fully explained at the time the transfer of the charge is reported. As a rule, the charge of the jail, failing the Civil Surgeon, should be held by one of the magisterial staff.

Sections 8 and 50 of Prisons Act.

The Magistrate of the district shall personally visit the district jail at least once a month: in his absence from the station he may depute the Joint Magistrate to visit in his stead.

The date of these visits shall be recorded in the visitors' book, and any orders, remarks or suggestions made shall be entered therein.

The Superintendent of a district jail is bound to carry out all orders of the Magistrate or the Deputy Commissioner, reporting the instructions he has received, with such remarks as he considers necesent of the jail.

The Magistrate of the district, in all matters affecting the discipline and management of the jail, shall report to the Inspector-General of Prisons any important step he may consider it necessary to take.

Commissioners of Divisions and District and Sessions Judges are ex officio visitors of all jails and lock-ups within their respective jurisdictions. The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals is ex officio visitor of all jails and lock-ups in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

Official and non-official visitors.

The Magistrate or the Deputy Commissioner of the district is also ex officio a visitor of any central prison situated in his district.

G. O. No. 2500
VI—2153, Dtd.
ed 15th September 1923.

The senior resident officer shall be the chairman of the visitors or as may be necessary, with reference to the following minimum number

Central Prisons.

- (1) By Commissioners—three visits, except in the case of Fatehgarh Central Prison, which shall be visited by the Commissioner whenever he visits Fatehgarh.
- (2) By Judges and Magistrates—three visits each.

District Jails and Lock-ups.

- (1) To jails and lock-ups at headquarters of Commissioners and Judges—three visits shall be paid by each officer to each jail and lock-up.
- (2) At other places the jails and lock-ups shall be visited by the Commissioner and Judge whenever those officers visit the outstations at which they are situated.

The Magistrate has not been appointed a visitor of the district jail because, as the head of the district, his responsibility in respect of that jail is much more direct. By the present rules he is required to visit the jails at least once a month. If he takes a real interest in his work, he will visit it much oftener. By parading the under-trial prisoners and examining the warrants of men admitted to jail, he can keep himself acquainted with the action of the subordinate Magistrates with little trouble to himself.

The visitors may call for all books, papers and records of every department of the jail; they shall visit every ward, yard and cell and see every prisoner in confinement, and they shall ascertain whether the rules and orders are attended to.

The official visitors shall record their visit and any remarks or suggestions they have to make in the visitors' book; and the Superintendent shall at once forward a copy of such record to the Inspector-General of Prisons for the issue of suitable orders. Where the remarks of the official visitors require explanation, such explanation shall invariably accompany the copy.

G. O. Nos. 2480 and 1096
VI—994B,
dated 27th September 1892
and 6th May 1893.

Non-official visitors may be appointed to the central prisons of these provinces: the number of non-official visitors so appointed to each central prison shall not exceed six. Their term of office is two years. A retiring visitor is eligible for reappointment.

Visitors to—Admission
of—
G. O. No. 1675, dated 21st
June 1891.

In the matter of the admission of visitors to the jail, the authority of a high officer of Government, such as the Commissioner, should be fully recognised. With him should ordinarily rest the final authority. In this view, a day and persons who may to the jail; and a notice should be posted in conspicuous places declaring that persons will not be admitted on any other occasions, except under the orders of the chairman of the visiting committee, whose designation and address should also be notified. This restriction is not intended to prohibit the Superintendent from admitting persons whom he may wish to show round the prison at any other time. Should he, however, refuse admission to any person so demanding it, he should at once inform the chairman of the visiting committee, or record the matter prominently in the jail records, over which the visitors are at any time entitled to look.

Escapes.
No 775, dated 31st May 1879.

In every case of an escape from inside a jail, the Magistrate of the district (or, in charge at headquarters), immediately shall himself make a record of the occurrence, and submit a report to the Inspector-General of Prisons, with such recommendations as he may think fit to make in regard to the jail officials concerned. The report, if not prepared by the Magistrate of the district, should be sent through him.

LOCK-UPS.

EVERY lock-up which is separate from the jail should be placed under the supervision of the medical officer who has charge of the jails (central and district), but such officer will not exercise magisterial powers in the lock-up. Notification of appointment is not necessary.

Charge of—to be under medical officers as Superintendents of jails. Circular No. 9A, dated 28th July 1898.

MAGISTRATES of districts are ex officio Superintendents of lock-ups. The Magistrate of the district shall visit each such lock-up situated at headquarters of the district by the officer in charge.

Lock-ups. Visiting of—

H. O. No. 2590 VI—216C, dated 16th September 1893.

Commissioners of Divisions are requested to see that lock-ups are properly managed, and that Magistrates duly visit and take an interest in the jails of their division.

LOTTERIES.

Advertisements of—in newspapers to be reported to Government. Circular No. 5A, dated 15th March 1876.

THE publication by advertisements in newspapers of any proposals relating to lotteries which have not been authorized by the Government, is an offence punishable under section 294A of the Indian Penal Code. Magistrates should therefore take steps to make the Government acquainted with any such cases occurring in their districts, in order that sanction to the prosecution of offenders may be obtained under the provisions of section 196 of the Criminal Procedure Code.

Nos 4330-345, dated 1st November 1877.

THE following orders by the Government of India, Home Department, are published for general information :—

On the 13th September last the Bengal Government forwarded a letter from the Commissioner of Police at Calcutta, reporting that advertisements of lotteries and race-sweeps printed beyond the limits of Lower Bengal are sent in large numbers to hotels and other places of public resort in Bengal, in contravention of section 294A of the Indian Penal Code, and that the proprietors of newspapers and other periodicals in Bengal complain bitterly that their columns are closed to notices and advertisements which are freely permitted elsewhere. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal considers that the present treatment of lotteries by the different Local Governments is exceedingly unsatisfactory: in Bengal the law is strictly enforced, while in the Panjáb and elsewhere it is habitually broken with impunity, and newspapers are allowed to advertise and circulate proposals directly opposed to the provisions of the section of the Code cited. His Honor is of opinion that if these lotteries and race-sweeps are mischievous, they should be put down by law, instead of being allowed to develop themselves year by year; but that if they are considered to be a harmless amusement, the prohibitory clause in the Penal Code should be repealed, and lotteries should not be discouraged. His Honor himself considers them exceedingly mischievous.

2. The Government of India concur with His Honor's opinion as to the mischievous character of the lotteries and race-sweeps advertised, and believe that the mischief is year by year assuming greater dimensions. As the intention of the law on the subject is clear, and as its provisions were intended to operate in one province as much as in another, the Government of India consider that the law should be uniformly enforced. Local Governments and Administrations are therefore requested to enforce the law after giving due notice thereof by publication of the resolution in their several official Gazettes.

The attention of the Governor-General in Council has recently again been dra Department Resolution No. 329 of the 1st November 1877. The Government of India retain the opinion there expressed, that the practice in question is distinctly mischievous, and one to which no encouragement of any kind should be given by Government. I am accordingly directed to request that all applications for permission to hold lotteries may be in future invariably refused.

The publication in British India of proposals relating to lotteries to be held beyond British India constitutes an offence within the meaning of section 294A of the Indian Penal Code.

G. O. No. <sup>2082</sup> VI—400B, dated 9th August 1892.

1. THE following are the places of detention for supposed lunatics detained under section 6A, clause (3) of Act XXXVI of 1853, as inserted by Act XVIII of 1886 :—

- (1) the lunatic asylum in the districts of Agra, Bareilly Benares and Lucknow ;
- (2) the district jail in all other districts, except (a) Ballia, (b) Garhwál, (c) Pilibhít and (d) Taráí ;
- (3) the Gházipur district jail, for lunatics from the Ballia district ;
- (4) the Bareilly lunatic asylum, for lunatics from Pilibhít and the Taráí in the Naini Tal district.
- (5) the dispensary at Srinagar for lunatics from the Garhwál district.

teen days from the date on tention for that purpose is made.

3. When a supposed lunatic is detained in a jail, the Superintendent will make the best arrangement possible for his care and treatment. He will keep him apart from the prisoners.

4. The above rules 1 and 3 apply to accused persons who are believed to be of unsound mind and incapable of making their defence.

5. At the time of arrest of any lunatic, and prior to, or as shortly after, his despatch to an asylum or jail for observation as is practicable, the Magistrate should cause a local inquiry to be made through the police, or such other agency as may be available, in regard to the past history of the lunatic, so far as this can be ascertained ; as to the capability and willingness of his relatives or friends to take charge of him ; and in the case of a lunatic detained under Act XXXVI of 1853, or accused of one of the offences under the Penal Code noted on the margin, as to the capability of his

6. Whenever a lunatic is handed over to the Superintendent of a lunatic asylum or to the Superintendent of a jail by the Magistrate, the Magistrate should ascertain the above-mentioned facts of his mental condition, and make an inquiry into the same, before handing over. If the inquiry has not been full and complete, he should cause a full inquiry to be instituted, and communicate its results to the officer to whom he was handed over, with as little delay as possible, in a supplementary report.

7. The lunatic should be considered a dangerous lunatic, until the officer to whom he was handed over (or in cases where the Superintendent of the jail is not a medical officer, the medical officer in charge of the jail) gives an opinion that he is harmless.

8. The officer to whom he is handed over is expected from time to time to give such directions as may be necessary for appropriately guarding him, and to give the necessary warning of any symptoms which indicate the approach of a violent fit, or otherwise render needful greater watchfulness. In case the Superintendent of the jail is not a medical officer, the medical officer in charge will be expected to perform the latter duty.

9. It is the Magistrate's duty to see that the period of detention of the lunatic under observation is made as short as possible.

10. In cases where the Magistrate is not a medical officer, the Magistrate should cause the above-mentioned lunatics to be examined by the police, and if necessary, for observation and examination by that officer, the above rules shall, so far as possible, be observed.

Lunatics. Weekly report on—
Circular No. 2, dated 20th January 1884.

G. O. No. 1273
VI—1884, dated
11th June 1885.

The Government of India have laid down, in orders of 25th March 1876, that (1) persons suffering from the temporary results of sickness, intemperance, or debauchery; and (2) those whom their friends can and ought to support, should not be admitted into public lunatic asylums: and also that persons partially insane and harmless, had, as a rule, better be left alone. The asylums in these provinces have now but a small margin of accommodation; and it is necessary that, so far as is consistent with a sufficient regard to the public safety, the principles above-mentioned should be carefully acted on by Magistrates of districts.

Circular No. 1578A, dated
5th June 1862 (General).
Circular No. 12A, dated
5th May 1864 (General).

UNDER section 475B of the Code of Criminal Procedure [Act X of 1882, as amended by Act X of 1886 (section 12)], Superintendents of Central prisons in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh are empowered to discharge all the functions of the Inspector-General of Prisons under sections 472, 473 and 474 of the said Code.

Superintendents of Central Prisons. Powers under sections 472, 473 and 474 of the Criminal Procedure Code.

G.O. No. 1192
VI-576H, dated
23rd May 1890.

THE principal occasions on which the papers of a criminal lunatic may come up for the orders of Government are—

For the first time—

- (1) Under section 466, Criminal Procedure Code, when he is charged with an offence, but found incapable of defending himself.
- (2) Under section 471, Criminal Procedure Code, when he is sane at the time when he came up for trial, but was found by the court to have been insane when he committed the offence.
- (3) Under section 31, Act V of 1871, when a prisoner who was sane when sent to jail becomes insane during the period of his confinement.

On subsequent occasions—

- (4) When a lunatic detained under section 466, Criminal Procedure Code, is reported to be able to stand his trial.

Criminal Lunatics. Report to Government.

G.O. No. 1192
VI-576H, dated
15th January 1890.

- (5) When he is reported by the Visitors of an Asylum or the Inspector-General of Prisons as far recovered that he may be discharged or made over to his friends without risk.
- (6) When, in the same way, he is reported for further detention.
- (7) When, after having been confined under section 466, Criminal Procedure Code, he is sent up for trial in the circumstances described above (4), and is reported by the court under section 471, Criminal Procedure Code.
- (8) When he is reported again, under the second clause of section 31, Act V of 1871, as recovered, and fit either to be remanded to jail or to be discharged.

It is of the highest consequence, both to the lunatic and to the public generally, that, in forming a decision on such occasions, the information laid before Government should be as full and accurate as possible.

It is with the object of securing this that the following rules have been drafted. Of the three papers forming the lunatic's record, the Magistrate's summary will be in some respects the most important, as it will be nearest in point of time to the date of the commission of the offence. The mere fact that, because the decision is under section 466, Criminal Procedure Code, the Magistrate does not formally find that the lunatic has committed the offence, will not render superfluous such an account of the circumstances under which it was said to have been committed as can be found from the public papers, or other trustworthy sources.

1. The complete record for every criminal lunatic shall consist of three papers: (1) the Magistrate's summary; (2) the medical history sheet; (3) the abstract from the case-book maintained at the institution in which he is detained.

2. The Magistrate's summary shall be submitted to Government direct (through the District Magistrate if the Magistrate trying the case is not himself the District Magistrate) when the case is first sent up for orders under section 466 or section 471 of the Criminal Procedure Code, and shall contain the following particulars, as far as they can be ascertained:—

- (1) The name and sex.
- (2) The village and district in which born.
- (3) Crime with which he was charged.

- (4) The section (456 or 471) under which the reference is made.
- (5) Present age.
- (6) Physical state.
- (7) Type of insanity, harmless or dangerous, and probable cause.
- (8) Duration of insanity, and has it been continuous?
- (9) Is the person capable (a) of taking care of himself; (b) of earning a livelihood?
- (10) Whether sufficient security is obtainable, and whether there are relatives able and willing to take care of him.

Two notes will be added:—

In the first the Magistrate will give a short abstract from the evidence which has come before him and from the police throw light on his frame of mind, and the ideas with which he was possessed at the time when he committed it, and any facts in his past history which may be of value in deciding on the course which should be adopted in regard to him.

In the second the Civil Surgeon will certify the facts that may have come to his notice while the lunatic was under observation, bearing on the nature and probable causes of his insanity.

3. When a prisoner is reported for transfer to an asylum under section 31, Act V of 1871, the Superintendent of the jail should furnish the statement prescribed in paragraph 5 of these rules.

4. The Magistrate's summary will be retained in the Secretariat, and a copy of it will, unless the lunatic be discharged, be sent with the orders of Government directing his detention, and will form a part of his record.

5. Whenever, on any subsequent occasion, the papers of a criminal lunatic are sent up to Government for orders, they will be accompanied by a medical history-sheet prepared by the officer in charge of the institution at which the lunatic is confined. It shall be in the following form:—

- (1) Name and sex.
- (2) Crime.
- (3) Present age.

- (4) Physical health.
- (5) Probable cause of insanity.
- (6) Type of insanity.
- (7) Duration of insanity, and has it been continuous, giving dates?
- (8) Has he at any time shown aggressive symptoms?
- (9) If so, when and of what kind?
- (10) If reported safe, how long since last manifestation of insanity?
- (11) Is he subject to relapses? If so, give dates.
- (12) Is he capable (a) of taking care of himself; (b) of earning a livelihood?
- (13) How has he been employed while in asylum?

6. In every place where criminal lunatics are detained under the orders of Government, a case-book shall be kept up with one or more pages for each lunatic, in which the officer shall record from day to day as they occur, any points of interest in the history of the lunatic while he is under his charge. An abstract from this book detailing the chief events of his history while in detention, recorded opinions with dates regarding his mental condition while under observation, together with the opinion and recommendations of the officer in charge, shall form the third part of his record, and shall be submitted to Government with the medical history-sheet:

G. O. No. 3123, dated
VI—274,
8th December 1891.

Provided that when the half-yearly returns of lunatics confined in asylums or . . . . . to Government it shall not be necessary for the . . . . . of any lunatic unless . . . . . him or unless it is specially called for by Government.

7. Whenever a criminal lunatic is transferred from one place of detention to another, the Magistrate's summary shall be sent with him and it shall be accompanied by a medical history-sheet and abstract of the case-book, prepared by the officer in charge of the institution which he is leaving. But the fact that no such papers accompany him shall be no reason for refusing to receive him at the institution to which he has been transferred.

8. When a remand to jail under section 31 of Act V of 1871 is recommended, the Superintendent of the asylum will give specific reasons for thinking that this procedure is a safe one, having due regard to the medical history and length of unexpired sentence to run before final release from jail.

9. When further detained under Act XXXVI of 1858, and the case is brought before the visitors under section 9, or the Magistrate under section 10 of that Act, it will be the duty of the Superintendent of the asylum to furnish in writing all the details required in rule 5 for the information of the said Visitors or Magistrate, together with his own opinion of the safety of releasing the lunatic.

10. In the event of the lunatic having at any time exhibited a tendency to violence, it will be the duty of the Visitors or Magistrates, as the case may be, to satisfy themselves that a sufficient length of time has elapsed since such manifestation to render a recurrence improbable, and that the sureties are in a position to control the actions of the lunatic should it recur.

11. When a criminal lunatic has never exhibited any tendency to violence, and his crime has not been an offence against the person, or, if so, if it was of a trivial nature and not evincing a decided homicidal tendency, the Local Government will be mainly guided in passing orders under section 474, by the recommendations of the Visitors and of the Superintendent of the asylum, or of the Inspector-General of Prisons and Superintendent of jail if he is confined in a jail.

12. In any case when a lunatic who has been detained under section 466, is subsequently sent up for trial, a copy of his record shall be sent to the Magistrate or Court of Sessions by whom he is to be tried.

bound to support the lunatic, an order for release will usually be passed by the Government. It will then be open to the Magistrate, if he thinks it necessary, to deal with the case under Act XXXVI of 1858. In order that Government may be in a position to pass suitable orders in the cases of lunatics charged with petty non-bailable offences as above detailed, careful inquiry should invariably be made, and the following question, to be numbered 5(b) in form IA above, should be answered on that form :—

“Is there any person who is legally bound to maintain the lunatic and who has the means of maintaining him?”

Lunatics. Confinement of—

G. O. No. 360
VI—222B, dated
22nd February 1899.

Dangerous criminal lunatics cannot be kept in jails: and such lunatics, therefore, will on report being made of their cases under section 466 or 471 of the Criminal Procedure Code or under section 31 of Act V of 1871 be ordered by Government to be sent to asylums for confinement in suitable wards.

Harmless criminal lunatics will be confined in Central Prisons. Report under section 31, Act V of 1871, should be made if the lunatic is in a District Jail, in view to his transfer to a Central Prison: and only in cases where special reasons exist should transfer to an asylum be asked for by the Superintendent. In cases of harmless lunatics reported by a Magistrate or court under section 466 or 471, Criminal Procedure Code, Government will (if necessary) order their confinement in the nearest Central Prison.

G. O. No. 3380
VI—222B, dated
5th December 1891.

Female lunatics, who would under this rule be confined in the Bareilly Central Prison, will be sent to the Bareilly District Jail, as there is no accommodation for them in the Central Prison.

Criminal lunatics.

Speedy disposal of—
Circular No. 2, dated 30th
January 1894.

INSTANCES were recently observed in which criminal lunatics had been brought before the courts and orders had been passed by the Magistrate under section 466 or section 471 of the Code of Criminal Procedure for reporting the cases to Government; but these orders had not been carried out, and the lunatics had in consequence been left long in confinement. The responsibility for such neglect of duty rests with the presiding Magistrate and his subordinate officials: and care should be taken to prevent the recurrence of such cases.

Resolution No. 404, dated 6th August 1874, as amended by No. 671
VI—579, dated
8th April 1896.

Criminal lunatics confined under section 466 should, as soon as they are certified by the Inspector-General of Prisons, or Victoria, to be capable of making their defence, be brought to trial as provided in section 473 of the Act, and no orders are required from Government before doing this.

In the event of a criminal lunatic confined under section 31, Act V of 1871, becoming sane at any time before the expiry of his sentence, report should be made to Government with a view to his being remanded to prison. But if still insane when his sentence has expired, he should, although liable to be detained under medical care and treatment, cease to be shown as a criminal lunatic.

MAGISTRATES and Deputy Commissioners are to co-operate with Visitors in getting the relatives of non-criminal lunatics to contribute, when possible, to their support. The scale of payment has been fixed at Rs. 4 per mensem, but when a lunatic's relatives cannot contribute the full amount, they should be called upon to give half or even a quarter of it. These orders do not affect criminal lunatics. Section 15 of Act XXXVI of 1858 empowers the Magistrate who sends a lunatic to an asylum to compel, with the aid of the civil court, any one legally bound to maintain him, to pay for his maintenance in the asylum, or to realize the necessary sum from any estate possessed by the lunatic himself.

THE Government of India has directed that civil English lunatics should be in future despatched to Europe in June each year.

The fullest and most accurate information regarding the medical history and relations of every insane patient sent to England should be transmitted with him.

A statement showing the number of civil lunatics to be sent to England in the ensuing troping season, for whom accommodation will be required, is submitted annually by the 1st June, by the Local Government to the Government of India in the Military Department.

IN supersession of all previous orders on the subject, and under the provisions of section 2, Act XXXVI of 1858, the following officers are appointed Visitors of the four lunatic asylums at Agra, Bareilly, Benares and Lucknow:—

1. The Commissioner.
2. The District Judge.
3. The District Magistrate.
4. The Superintendent of the Central Prison as Medical Officer.

Under the above section of the Act, the Inspector-General of Prisons, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, is also a Visitor ex-officio of all four asylums.

Lunatics. Disposal of—
Resolution No. 178
dated 24th January 1890.

SECTION 9 of Act XXXVI of 1858 empowers three of the Visitors of any lunatic asylum, one of whom must be a medical Officer, to order the discharge of any person in the asylum; and it is desirable that this power, which provides a remedy for any mistaken action on the part of local authorities, should be put in action by the Visitors when cases which call for its exercise are brought to their notice. The attention of the Visitors of asylums is called to their responsibility in the matter.

MAGISTERIAL WORK.

Part I.

MANNER OF RECORDING DYING DECLARATIONS.

[N.B.—This Part does not apply to declarations recorded by a Magistrate under the provisions of section 164, Criminal Procedure Code.]

Dying declarations.
 Rules for recording—
 G. O. No. <sup>405</sup> VI—831B, dated
 22nd February 1892.

DYING declarations should, if possible, be written by the person making them. Such statements should be signed or marked by the declarant and attested by respectable witnesses.

Where a dying declaration is recorded by a police or medical officer, it should be recorded in full detail in the vernacular in the words of the declarant in the form of question and answer, and in the presence of respectable witnesses. It should then be read over to the declarant, who should affix his signature or mark to it. The accused or his pleader if present should be allowed to put questions to the declarant. The declaration when concluded should be signed by the police or medical officer recording it, who should also obtain the signatures of respectable witnesses. It should then be forwarded in a sealed envelope direct to the Magistrate who would ordinarily inquire into the case. If it can be avoided, no police officer who is engaged in the investigation into the case should be present when the dying declaration is recorded.

Part II.

PROCEDURE TO BE OBSERVED IN RECORDING DYING DECLARATIONS.

For the Police.—The officer investigating a case in which a person has been seriously injured should, if there is any probability of his dying before he can reach a dispensary where his dying declaration can be recorded, at once himself record the declaration in the presence of two respectable witnesses, obtaining the signature of the declarant at the foot of the declaration. He should then, if a Magistrate is nearer than the nearest dispensary, call on him, preference being given to a stipendiary Magistrate to record the declaration, in the presence of the accused if possible. The injured person should then be removed to the dispensary.

The Court Inspector, on being warned that a dying declaration is to be taken, should at once go to the hospital with the police papers of the case, and, if possible, arrange for the attendance of the accused and his pleader.

For Magistrates.—The District Magistrate, or senior Magistrate present in the station, on receiving notice that a dying declaration is necessary, should at once himself proceed to take it, or delegate some stipendiary Magistrate, if possible above the rank of tahsildar, to take it. He should at the same time cause the Court Inspector to attend with the police papers of the case.

Every Magistrate on receiving an order or requisition to take a dying declaration from the District Magistrate or medical authority, respectively, must at once proceed to the hospital or dispensary to record the dying declaration. At the sadar he should wait for the Court Inspector, if there be time, before commencing to record the declaration.

For the Medical Authorities.—(A) At the sadar.—The Civil Surgeon, or the Assistant Surgeon in charge of the hospital, should at once call on the District Magistrate, or, in his absence, the senior Magistrate present at the station, to arrange for the record of the dying declaration of such persons as are likely to die and are in a fit state to make a statement.

If, in the opinion of the Civil Surgeon or Assistant Surgeon, there is no time to call on the District Magistrate or the senior Magistrate present at the station, the nearest Magistrate may be sent for to take the dying declaration, a stipendiary Magistrate being called if possible.

If, in the opinion of the Civil Surgeon or Assistant Surgeon, there is no time to call any Magistrate, he may himself record the declaration.

In cases where there is no time to call on the District Magistrate or senior Magistrate present at the sadar, he should be informed of the action taken.

(B) At outlying dispensaries.—The Hospital Assistant in charge of an outlying dispensary should at once call on the Tahsildar, or, in his absence or when he has no magisterial powers, the nearest Honorary Magistrate, to record the dying declarations of such persons as are likely to die and are in a fit state to make a statement.

If there is, in his opinion, no time to call on the Tahsildar or an Honorary Magistrate, he may record the dying declaration himself.

The attention of all District Officers in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh is invited to section 164 of the Criminal Procedure Code, and it is requested that they will impress upon the Magistrates subordinate to them the necessity for a careful and intelligent examination in all cases with the provisions of the Code with Confessions and statements made by accused persons. Recording of—under section 164 of the Criminal Procedure Code

G O No. 412
V. 1738
dated 22 March 1904

the subordinate Magistracy has been frequently annulled upon by the High Court, and is one of the causes which has led to the discredit of confessions recorded immediately after the arrest of persons accused or suspected of offences.

Section 164 requires that no Magistrate shall record a confession unless, upon questioning the person making it, he has reason to believe that it will be made voluntarily. The obligation thus laid upon the Magistrate before whom an accused person is brought it been subjected to improper influences of any kind, and that the statement he is about to make will be his own free and spontaneous statement. It frequently happens that the recording Magistrate, though he may have duly questioned the prisoner for the above purpose, makes no memorandum of the fact. His Honor therefore desires that, in addition to the memorandum prescribed by the section, the Magistrate will in future record this fact, and also briefly state his reasons for believing the confession to have been made voluntarily. It is also very desirable that the police who are concerned in the investigation, or who have arrested the court while the latter is down. A note that this precaution has been observed should also be made on the record.

G. O. No. 3308
dated 31st August 1891.

It has been brought to the notice of the Government that in recording confessions under section 164, Criminal Procedure Code, Magistrates occasionally fail to make the memorandum required by that section. The requirements of the Code in this respect should be strictly complied with by all Magistrates.

The printed form (in English and Vernacular) prescribed by the High Court for recording confessions under section 164 should, whenever practicable, be used.

Remands.
G. O. No. 412
VI—172B
dated 23d March 1892.

SECTION 167 of the Criminal Procedure Code, provides that a Magistrate to whom an accused person is forwarded under the circumstances therein mentioned may authorize his detention in such custody as he thinks fit for a term not exceeding 15 days; but it clearly contemplates that he should not exercise the discretionary powers so given him, and authorize the detention of an accused person by the section is reasonable and necessary in terms by the Code. Judging from the frequent cases in which the subordinate Magistrates under this section, His Honor cannot but that that the detention of accused persons by the police is often authorized on insufficient grounds, and that the duty of requiring the police to show good and sufficient reasons why the accused should be returned to their custody is not properly exercised. For example, a remand for the purpose of enabling the accused to point out the place where stolen property is concealed is reasonable if the accused has voluntarily before the Magistrate offered to conduct the police to the spot. But it is unreasonable if no such offer has been made, and if the object of the police is really to induce him to make discovery. Remand, again, for the purpose of allowing the police to compare the prisoner's footprints with suspicious tracks, or under some circumstances of having him identified, would be reasonable. But remand for the purpose of enabling the police to take a fingerprint from him than In general terms, exception, and not when the Magistrate believes that certain points in the case cannot be properly investigated unless the police are allowed the custody of the accused. In reference to the above remarks, His Honor desires to remind Magistrates that the primary place of custody of an accused person ordered to be detained under section 167 is the Magistrate's lock-up, and not with the police.

THE provisions of Act
X of 18 . . . issued by Government. . . applied with the utmost care . . . investigation which may be considered necessary under the provisions of section 202, Criminal Procedure Code, should be held by an experienced native Magistrate.

It is not probable that in these provinces complaints under the Act will be otherwise than rare. When such a complaint, however, is instituted, the provisions of sections 202 and 203, Criminal Procedure Code, should be carefully observed. These sections of the Code empower Magistrates to dismiss the complaint without issue of process against the accused, if after examining the complainant they find that no offence has been committed, or if they are not satisfied with the result of the examination. The law should not, therefore, be put in motion against the accused, unless there are strong grounds for believing that the complaint is a bona fide one, and that it has not been instituted merely with the view of causing annoyance to the person accused.

Age of Consent Act.
Working of—
G. O. No. 1676
VI-7508
dated 18th June 1901.

Attention is drawn to the ruling of the High Court of Calcutta in the case of Queen-Empress vs. Guru Charan Dasadh. It was in that case held that no court or Magistrate had any right to order the medical examination of a witness without her consent, and that such an examination was an illegal and unjustifiable assault, for which damages might be recovered. Attention is also drawn to Circulars No. 17, dated 5th July 1889, and No. 18, dated 3rd September 1889, from the Inspector-General of Police, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, on the subject of the medical examination of persons in criminal cases. In cases, therefore, under Act X, 1891, in which the medical examination of the wife of the accused is considered necessary, her consent must first be obtained. The examination should then be invariably conducted by a qualified female practitioner where such practitioner is available.

Under section 352, Criminal Procedure Code, a Magistrate has the discretionary power of inquiring into, or trying, any particular case in camera. This power should be freely exercised in the above class of cases, whenever the position of the parties or other circumstances connected with the case render this course desirable.

Crime. Investigation of non-cognizable—

dated 15th September 1902.

In order to check the inconsiderate action of subordinate Magistrates in ordering the police to investigate non-cognizable cases, it should be a general rule in all districts that no orders should be issued to the police for the investigation of non-cognizable cases except through District Magistrates.

Check over delay in disposal of cases

G.O. Nos. <sup>3308, 3552 and 3545</sup> VI—1110, dated 23rd August 1900,
25th October 1902 and
19th September 1903.

The cases dealt with by a Magistrate in which delay at some stage of the proceedings is likely to occur may be enumerated as follows:—

- (1) Cases actually sent to a Magistrate (chaldas) by the police under section 170, Criminal Procedure Code, for trial or inquiry.
- (2) Cases of which a Magistrate takes cognizance—
  - (a) on a police report, or
  - (b) on complaint or suo motu.

The Magistrate may or may not send these to the police for investigation.

- (3) Cognizable cases of which the investigation has been undertaken by the police, and which may eventually end in a chaldas or in the submission of form B to a Magistrate.

- (4) Final reports by the police in cases in which form II is submitted owing to there being no sufficient evidence or reasonable ground of suspicion to justify the forwarding of the accused to a Magistrate.

In order to enable the District Magistrate to check delays in these cases, the following statements should be laid before him :—

Statement A.—A daily statement prepared by the Court Inspector to enable him to check the detention of under-trial prisoners and of witnesses, the duration of cases, the adequacy of sentences inflicted, and the propriety of discharges and acquittals.

Statement B.—A weekly statement prepared by the Judicial pending file of each subordinate court.

Cases in classes (1), (2) and (4) should invariably be entered in statement B. Cases of class (2) should be considered as pending from the date on which cognizance is taken of them by the Magistrate.

Specimen forms which may be modified if desired, are appended. Commissioners should examine the statements from time to time as occasion offers, in order to keep themselves acquainted with the state of criminal administration in each district.

In cases of class (3), the District Superintendent of Police is primarily responsible for any delay which may occur. District Magistrates should from time to time examine the English register of crime kept up by the District Superintendent. A column (5A) has been added to that register by which the date of the termination of the police proceedings can be seen at a glance. The District Superintendent of Police should also submit to the District

19th September 1893.

THE Government holds Magistrates of districts responsible for instructing subordinate Magistrates in their duty. When repeated failures of justice occur owing to mistakes in procedure or to the inability of the Magistrate to realize his position and functions, it is the Magistrate of the district who is to blame. A merely judicial attitude is often too readily assumed by junior European Magistrates. A Magistrate who sits in court to hold the balance, as it were, between two parties and to listen to, and record the substance of, the evidence on behalf of the complainant and that on behalf of the accused, reduces himself to the level of a reporter and entirely fails in his duty. A Magistrate is bound to use every endeavour to ascertain the guilt or innocence of the accused, to see that all necessary evidence bearing on the point is produced, and that the necessary questions are put to witnesses: the mere fact that counsel are employed in a case does not relieve the Magistrate from the obligation imposed upon him by sections 252 and 510 of the Criminal Procedure Code. A Magistrate has to satisfy himself before acquitting for want of proof that the sources of evidence have been exhausted, and to take all reasonable precautions that guilt does not go unpunished. This is just as much part of his duty as it is to take care that the innocent are not convicted. A Magistrate is bound to ascertain the truth, and this end will not be achieved by a Magistrate who leaves himself in the hands of the police or of the counsel on either side.

Inability to appreciate the relative heinousness of crime is a most serious fault in a Magistrate and one which, if not remedied, would render the withdrawal of all but third class powers necessary. The returns from many districts show that very inadequate punishments have been inflicted by Magistrates for the offences of false evidence, grievous hurt, rioting, cattle-theft, burglary by night, and unlawful possession of arms. The failure to award whipping for petty theft is a matter of common complaint, and sentences of simple imprisonment are commonly imposed by some Magistrates unchecked in cases in which the infliction of such a punishment is entirely inappropriate.

The reluctance of native Magistrates to make use of the provisions of section 349, Criminal Procedure Code, in the case of adult offenders has recently been brought to the notice of the Government. These Magistrates, when not empowered to pass sentences of whipping, should be instructed to bear in mind the discretion given them by section 349, and to refer all cases which call for punishment different in kind from, or more severe than, that which they are themselves empowered to inflict.

In examining the work of subordinate Magistrates, District Magistrates will note and report whether they do use the discretion given them by section 349 or fail to realise the responsibility imposed on them that crime shall be adequately punished.

In a case that came before the High Court on appeal the following remarks were recorded by the presiding Judge:—

"I am constrained to animadvert upon a practice which is becoming far too common in these provinces by which the preliminary inquiry in cases of the most grave and serious nature is frequently entrusted to, or left in the hands of, Magistrates of little or no experience, knowledge or training."

The Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner desires to draw the attention of all District Magistrates to these remarks, and he requests that care may be taken not to leave the investigation and by exercising the power of transferring particular cases to other Magistrates than those who would ordinarily try them, when the importance of the cases or their nature seems to render such a transfer desirable.

MAGISTRATES should give their most serious attention to the necessity of treating habitual criminals with as much severity as the law permits, due regard being paid to the character of the offences for which the previous convictions were obtained.

Enquiry into important Sessions cases to be made by competent Magistrates—Circular No. 19, dated 29th May 1883.

Treatment of habitual criminals—
Circular No. CIA, dated 10th June 1879, and No. 1, dated 10th February 1879.

Extract paragraph 11, Chapter IV of Report of the Jail Conference, 1877.

11. We believe that Magistrates err in their manner of dealing with habitual offenders, partly from judicial timidity and partly because they do not perceive the immense difference which exists between a first and second conviction. In a very large proportion of cases the lesson taught by a first conviction is taken to heart; the sentence may not have been severe, but the ordeal through which the offender has to pass as he goes through the hands of the police officer, the Magistrate, and the jailor, terrifies and deters. But let there be but one further conviction, and the criminal is at once marked as one of the minority whom the ordinary terrors of the law do not deter, and as one who has given evidence of a disposition to live a life of crime. However light the character of the second offence may be, the reconvicted prisoner ought, we think, to stand in the eye of the Magistrate on a criminal level widely different from that of the offender sentenced for the first time. And the inference against the reconvicted criminal rises in a geometrical ratio with every conviction. But this is not the principle on which reconvicted offenders are dealt with. What does not seem to follow one with a timid hand, naturally treats the criminal to endure a jail existence. We could give any number of instances of the inadequate sentences on which we animadvert. All jail officers who take any interest in their work could supply some. But we feel that the matter is one for judicial authorities to deal with, and that we shall have discharged our duty by pointing out this chief weakness in the machinery of our criminal law. Still we would venture to express our hope—

(1) that steps may be taken to make the police machinery, by which previous convictions are made known to trying officers or courts, more effective; at present it often happens that an old offender is not recognized till he reaches the jail;

(2) that it may be inquired whether the sections* quoted in the margin receive due attention at the hands of judicial authorities, and whether we have or have not good grounds for our belief that offenders convicted more than once are too often quite inadequately

dated 15th September 1892.

It is frequently the case that insufficient attention is paid by subordinate courts to the provisions of section 348, Criminal Procedure Code, which requires habitual offenders to be ordinarily committed for trial to the Sessions Courts. The fault is as much that of the Magistrate of the district, who fails to supervise and control the action of his subordinates, as of the subordinate magistrates. . . . . required invariably . . . . . non-convicted by them and liable to punishment under section 75, Indian Penal Code, is not an habitual offender, or to explain why, being an habitual offender, he has not been committed to the Court of Sessions for trial [or (in Oudh) placed on his trial before the Magistrate of the district].

B. O. No. 4A, dated 16th
January 1875.

All Superintendents of Jails should furnish Magistrates with monthly returns of criminals convicted during the month who have been punished before. The objects of the memo. are: (1) to enable Magistrates to see that the order regarding the endorsement of previous convictions on the warrant is properly carried out; (2) to furnish them with data sufficient to show that proper care is taken before conviction to identify habitual criminals; and (3) to show whether habitual criminals are properly punished or not.

The return ought to show the name of the convicting Court, amount of punishment, and date of decision in each conviction as far as these particulars can be traced in the jail records.

Sentences of simple imprisonment.

1. In connection with this subject it has been brought to notice that in one province at least it is a common practice for the courts to pass a sentence of simple imprisonment, not because a minor degree of moral turpitude is involved in the crime committed, but in view of the prisoner's presumed unfitness for labour. The Government of India believe that it is not the usual practice for the courts to take into consideration any question of the physical fitness of a convict to labour. It is for the jail authorities to ascertain what labour is appropriate to a prisoner's strength and to put him to that only, the courts have merely to consider the amount and nature of the imprisonment appropriate to the offence and the character and status of the offender, and they should realize that by selecting simple instead of rigorous imprisonment they make a very essential difference in the way in which a prisoner will be treated on his admission to jail.

G. O. No. <sup>1163</sup>
dated 11th May 1903.

2. The cases in which persons are sentenced to simple imprisonment for offences involving no moral turpitude must, the Government of India conceive, be very rare, as a fine is usually regarded as sufficient punishment for such offences. The only particular in which prisoners of this class might suitably receive special treatment—in addition to the indulgences which will, under the recommendations of the Conference of 1877, be granted generally to all persons sentenced to simple imprisonment—is the provision of separate accommodation in certain cases where confinement in association with other prisoners would be felt as a painful indignity. The Government of India think it reasonable that the Inspector-General of Jails in each province, acting on the advice of the District Magistrate, should have authority to direct that any particular person sentenced to imprisonment for an offence to which no moral stigma attaches, should, if he so desires, be provided with separate accommodation, apart from other prisoners.

Cases of this kind are likely to be few in number, and those to the knowledge of the District Magistrate India will be glad if instructions providing that any District Magistrate who becomes aware of such a case, either by petition or otherwise and considers that exceptional treatment in the matter of separate accommodation is desirable, shall refer the matter to the Inspector-General of Jails with his recommendation. If both these officers agree, it might be left to the Inspector-General to pass the necessary orders, if they differ, the Inspector-General should submit the case for the orders of the Local Government.

MARK RULES.

Mark rules.

Notification No <sup>2975</sup>
dated 20th July 1894.

THE following rules for the award of marks to convicted prisoners and for the shortening of sentences have been made by the Governor-General in Council in exercise of the powers conferred by section 59(5) of the Prisons Act of 1894 :—

1. For the purposes of these rules convicted prisoners shall be divided into three classes, viz—

I—thugs, robbers by administration of poisonous drugs, and professional, hereditary or specially dangerous criminals convicted of heinous organised crime, such as dakaiti ;

II—dakaitis and other persons convicted of heinous organised crime who are not professional, hereditary or specially dangerous criminals ;

III—all other prisoners.

2. Every convicted prisoner whose sentence or aggregate of sentences, exclusive of any period awarded in default of payment of fine, amounts to one year or upwards, shall be eligible for marks under these rules : provided that, if such prisoner is under sentence of simple imprisonment, he shall not receive marks unless he voluntarily labours throughout the term of such imprisonment.

3. For the purpose of these rules a life-sentence shall mean—
25 years' imprisonment in the case of prisoners included in classes I and II ;

20 years' imprisonment in the case of all other prisoners.

4. The remission earned under these rules shall have the following effects, viz.—

(a) In the case of a prisoner included in class I—if under life sentence, the period of remission shall shorten pro tanto the term of 25 years which must otherwise elapse before he becomes eligible for a self-supporter's ticket at the Andamans ;

if under sentence for a term of years, the period of remission earned shall be passed under such pro surveillance as the Local Government may prescribe.

Explanation.—A prisoner included in class I and under sentence for life shall, at the expiry of 25 years, be eligible for remission earned, if he desires and is capable of earning his livelihood, be transferred to the Andamans irrespective of his age.

- (3) special excellence of work ;
- (4) protecting jail officers from attack ;
- (5) assisting jail officers in case of outbreak, fire, &c. ;
- (6) economy in the wearing of clothing.

12. The Superintendent of a District Jail may award to the same prisoner not more than one hundred special marks for any one service or in any one quarter. The Superintendent of a Central Jail may in like manner award not more than five hundred special marks. When any number of special marks is awarded under this rule, a report thereof shall be made to the Inspector-General setting forth the grounds of the award. All proposals for the award of more than the number of marks above indicated must be referred to the Inspector-General, who will submit for the orders of Government any case in which he proposes to award more than one thousand marks.

13. Marks and remissions may be forfeited for misconduct, and prisoners may be temporarily or permanently removed from the mark system in accordance with the law for the time being in force regulating jail offences and punishments: provided that no prisoner shall receive marks for the day on which any offence is committed, and that the Superintendent may restore to the benefits of the mark system any prisoner removed therefrom.

14. The award of ordinary marks shall be made either by the Superintendent himself or, subject to his control and supervision, by the Deputy Superintendent, Jailor, Deputy Jailor, or any other officer specially empowered in that behalf by the Inspector-General. The award of special mark shall be made only by the Superintendent or Inspector-General.

17. Remission being thus earned in days shall be recorded in days in the Mark Register, and shall not be converted into months or years: provided that remission on account of the Queen's Proclamation or Jubilee, which was granted in months, shall be separately shown in months and not converted into days.

18. In converting marks into quarterly remission, any balance of marks which remains after dividing by 24 shall be carried forward to the next quarter. In converting marks into remission at the end of a prisoner's sentence, if there is a balance of 12 and upwards remaining after dividing by 24, it shall be considered equivalent to one day's remission; any smaller balance shall be disregarded.

19. In the first week of each month a list shall be made out of those prisoners who, on the supposition that they will earn their full ordinary marks during the intervening period, will be entitled to release in the course of the month next ensuing. This list shall be submitted to the Superintendent, signed by him and filed in the office. If the prisoner fails to earn the number of marks assumed in the list, or if from bad conduct he forfeits any of the marks already earned, the date of his release will be proportionately deferred; while if, on the other hand, he earns an additional number of marks, the date of his release will be proportionately advanced. As soon as he has earned such number of marks as entitles him to release, he shall, if otherwise eligible, be released by the Superintendent without further sanction or reference. The amount of remission finally earned shall be endorsed on the prisoner's warrant and the endorsement signed by the Superintendent.

20. When a prisoner is transferred from one jail to another, a record shall be sent with him showing the amount of remission and the number of marks which stand to his credit. Prisoners transferred from one jail to another, shall be awarded marks for conduct during the period spent in transit, but not for industry, by the receiving jail.

The following subsidiary rules made by the Local Government are published for general information:—

(A)—Explanatory of the mark rules.

POISONING.

Cattle.— Suggestions for suppression of—
G. O. No. 1102, dated 7th September 1881.

ZAMINDARS should be urged to withhold from the chamars skins of cattle which die under circumstances justifying suspicion of poison.

Magistrates should keep a vigilant lookout when deaths of cattle appear to be numerous—a circumstance which the chaukidar should be required to report.

The course by which the poison was procured should be traced. Severe sentences should be imposed in cases of conviction.

Cattle poisoning:
G. O. No. <sup>1430</sup>VI—1880, dated 1st June 1898.

The attention of Magistrates and police officers is invited to the following communication from the Chemical Examiner for the North-Western Provinces and Oudh as to a mode of poisoning cattle:—

“I wish to draw the attention of the police to a form of cattle poisoning that I believe has hitherto been unexplained.

“The other day a piece of dirty rag was sent me that was stated to have been placed in the rectum of a buffalo and to have caused its death. I was so fortunate as to find out that it was impregnated with snake poison. Since then I have met with several similar cases, and I hope that the police, when investigating cases of cattle poisoning, will kindly keep a lookout for objects of this nature, and in their reports state whether it was administered by the mouth or the anus. The latter seems to be the more general method. A piece of rag three or four inches square, smeared with a thin layer of a greasy substance like putty and of a dirty white colour, should be regarded as a suspicious substance when found in the house of the accused. In Chevers' Indian Medico-Legal Jurisprudence it is stated that several strange superstitions exist with regard to cattle poisoning; for instance, a piece of dirty rag has often been stated to have caused the death of the animal. In one case a piece of cleft bamboo was found in the rectum of a cow, and was stated to have been swallowed and, in passing through it, to have deranged its digestive system and so to have killed the animal. I think that in view of the above observation it is at least possible that the split bamboo had been used to aid the insertion of the poisoned rag. It should also be noted that snake poison is destroyed by the alcohol in which viscera sent to me for examination are packed; consequently I am unlikely to be able to discover the poison unless the rag itself is sent to me.”

POSTMORTEM EXAMINATIONS.

THE High Court having brought to the notice of the Government a case in which there was confusion in the evidence, as to which of two dead bodies presented for postmortem examination at the same time was that of the person whose murder was charged against the accused: to prevent similar mistakes in future, the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner is pleased to issue procedure to be observed in body to the civil medical officer for the conduct of such examination by that officer:—

I.—Every dead body sent in for examination shall be accompanied by a police constable and a chaukidār from the thāna nearest the spot where the inquiry has taken place. If the thāna is over 20 miles distant from headquarters, the constable and chaukidār may be relieved at one or more intermediate stations; but the number of reliefs should be kept as low as possible.

II.—The name of the police constable and of the chaukidār and of the relieving constables and chaukidārs, if any, shall be always entered in Police Form No. 33.

III.—They shall be instructed by the thānadār sending in the body to make it over, on arrival at the police headquarters, to the civil medical officer after despatch of the usual requisition, but will remain in charge of the body until the medical officer has completed the examination.

IV.—Before commencing the examination, the medical officer shall ask the police constable and the chaukidār whether the body to be examined is the body which they accompanied from the police station, and their replies shall form part of the civil medical officer's declaration.

V.—After the formal identification by the police constable and the chaukidār, the medical officer shall compare the body with the kulīa or descriptive-roll sent from the police station, and he shall certify that the body about to be examined agrees with the descriptive-roll forwarded with it.

VI.—The greatest care and precision is enjoined on all police officers in describing the body; any marks or natural conditions by which it may be readily identified should be noted; and this descriptive-roll should contain particulars for identification distinct from any injuries that may be apparent.

May 1885, as amended by

24th September 1885,

VII.—The officer in charge of the station from which the body is despatched, instead of, as at present, sending both copies of the descriptive-roll with the police constable who accompanies the body, will send only one copy of the roll by the constable and forward the other by post to the officer in charge of the police headquarters.

VIII.—The medical officer shall be furnished with a, detailed translation of the police officer's report on the appearance and situation of the body when it was first discovered.

PRISONERS.

Procedure in despatch of—

G. O. No. 2211, dated 9th May 1854.

WHEN Magistrates have occasion to forward a prisoner from their own to another district, they should invariably transmit, either by dāk or with the chālān, a rubkār or letter containing a distinct statement of the order in furtherance of which the despatch is made.

Support of children of convict mothers.

Circular No. 9A, dated 16th April 1864 (General).

CHILDREN in arms and under two years of age should remain with their mothers. Children of or beyond that age should not under any circumstances be allowed to accompany their mothers to jail or remain with their mothers in confinement. The Magistrate of the district of which the prisoner is a resident is charged with the duty of arranging for the proper care of such children. If any relative be willing to take them, they should of course be made over to him; and if the father can provide for the child he should be compelled to do so under section 488 of the Criminal the child in some institution or by entrusting it to some person to bring up. Charges on this account, countersigned by the Commissioner, should be included in the judicial contingent bill of the Magistrate.

Promises not to be held out to—without authority.

Circular No. 6A, dated 19th February 1866.

No Magistrate has the right to bind Government to a remission of sentence, as he virtually does by promising representation in the favour of a prisoner, without authority specially obtained beforehand.

Subsequent convictions of charged—

Circular No. 6A, dated 18th March 1870.

IN all cases of convictions, Magistrates should note on the warrant committing a prisoner to jail whether he has been previously convicted; and, if so, of what offence. In many cases the fact of previous conviction can be ascertained without much difficulty; and as habitual criminals form a distinct class, and are subjected to special treatment, it is important that every facility should be afforded to the jail authorities of recognizing such offenders as come under the definition of habituals.

Dangerous characters.
No. 63, dated 30th May 1870.

WHENEVER a Magistrate forwards any convict or under-trial prisoner of desperate character or notorious criminality to the Superintendent for confinement in jail, he should not fail to draw his particular attention to the prisoner's antecedents, and to the expediency of providing special measures for his secure custody.

At least a fortnight before the date of the release of a female prisoner, the Superintendent of the jail should send intimation to the Magistrate, who should summon some one or more relatives of the woman to receive her at the jail door. If no one is present to receive her on the day of her release, the Superintendent shall, if she wishes it, retain her at the jail for a few days till her relatives come. In making these arrangements the Superintendent must exercise a careful discretion according to the age and appearance, as well as family and respectability of the woman in each case.

Rules for release of female—Resolution No 537A, dated 2nd April 1873.

Every female prisoner transferred to a central jail shall, on the expiry of the period, be released at the gate of the prison and sent in charge of a jail official to the railway station, from which she will be conveyed by train to the station nearest her home; a free ticket and the usual subsistence allowance being given to her. Timely information shall also be sent, by the Superintendent of the jail to the Magistrate of the district in which she resides, in order that he may inform her relatives beforehand of the date of her release.

Resolution No 840, dated 2nd July 1875.

In cases where there is no railway communication to the prisoner's home, or where the nearest station is at a considerable distance from her home, it is left to the discretion of the Jail Superintendent. This should be ascertained in advance, and when it will be found that the usual subsistence money being allowed her and due intimation being given.

The following extracts from the rules under Act XV of 1869 are here reproduced for the guidance of the courts :—

II.—The strength of the escort will be as follows on ordinary occasions :—

One prisoner	...	2 constables.

All charges of every kind arising from the conveyance of the prisoner to and from the courts will be defrayed by the Government. The Government may be in the competency of any court to summon any prisoner if the court is not satisfied that his evidence is necessary in the interest of public justice, and if the complainant or defendant applying for the said prisoner's examination before the court fail to deposit the estimated costs of conveying the prisoner to and from the court. These costs shall be calculated on the scale hereinafter laid down in the case of civil suits; and if on examination of the evidence was not re-deposited costs shall, the hand and seal of the court, be forwarded to the District Superintendent of Police of the district in which the court is held, and the money will be credited according to instructions to be issued by the Inspector-General with the sanction of the Local Government.

VIII.—In civil suits (including also all rent suits and all proceedings arising in the execution of decrees) the court shall require any party to the suit, who may apply for the summoning of any prisoner under this Act, to deposit prior to issue of the summons, a sum sufficient to defray the estimated costs of conveyance, diet and escort of the prisoner whose testimony is required :

Provided that no costs shall be demanded from pauper judgment-debtors in jail who have applied to be declared insolvent under section 344 of Act XIV of 1882, and whose attendance is required in the civil court in accordance with section 350 of that Act, when the court is satisfied that they are absolutely unable to pay.

Exemption.

XI.—His Excellency the Governor-General in Council exempts from the application of the Act all state prisoners confined by order of Government.

The above rules shall, so far as they may be applicable, be observed in the cases of prisoners who are sent for to answer charges made against them, as well as in the cases of prisoners who are sent for to give evidence in criminal trials.

No. 362, dated 2nd April 1880.

In both classes of cases the Police Department must bear the cost of detaining the prisoners and of conveying them to and from the court which requires their presence.

As prisoners summoned to answer charges are sent for in the interests of public justice, the provisions of section 7, which authorize the court to require in certain cases a deposit to cover the expenses of procuring the attendance of the prisoners, do not apply to the cases of prisoners sent for to answer charges.

“For the purposes of jail discipline, the words ‘habitual criminal’ shall mean a prisoner so classed—

(1) by Court or Magistrate that heard the case—

(a) because he has been convicted of an offence punishable under chapter XII or XVII of the Indian Penal Code with three years’ imprisonment or upwards, and has been previously punished on conviction for an offence under either of these chapters and similarly punishable; or

(b) because, from the circumstances of the case, the Sessions Judge or Magistrate believes the prisoner to depend on crime as a means of livelihood, or to have attained such an eminence in crime as to warrant his being classed with habitual or class II criminals.

- (3) Subject to the control of the District Magistrate by the officer in charge of the jail, when the prisoner is—
- (a) sentenced or believed to be liable to punishment under section 75 of the Indian Penal Code;
  - (b) under sentence enhanced by reason of more than one previous conviction; or
  - (c) known to be repeatedly imprisoned for similar offences; or
  - (d) a member of a criminal tribe.

Provided that—

- (1) any such court or Magistrate as is mentioned above may direct that a prisoner shall not be classed as a habitual criminal, and
- (2) when there is room for doubt whether a prisoner should be so classed or not, the officer in charge of the jail shall refer the case for the orders of any such court or Magistrate.

Explanation.—The classification when made by the convicting court shall be final. If the courts omit to classify a prisoner as a habitual, the District Magistrate or any Magistrate empowered by him may do so. In case of omission on the part of the court and of the Magistrate, the officer in charge of the jail may make the classification, subject to the general control and supervision of the District Magistrate.

The conveyance of such convicts in troopships is not permissible, but the entire expenditure incurred on account of conveyance will be treated as a charge against the Military Department.

The following are the rules for regulating the procedure to be adopted in providing outfits and a free passage to England for discharged military convicts in accordance with the above orders :—

1. If the Superintendent of the jail, where a European military convict is confined, has not already received information as to whether the convict (a) was enlisted out of this country, (b) has or has not been discharged from the Army, he should, at least two months before the date of release, make inquiries on these points from the officer commanding the corps to which the convict belonged.

6. The released convict shall be put into the train for Bombay and warned of the penalty (six months' imprisonment) to which he is liable (under section 21, Act IX of 1874) if he fails to embark at Bombay. In order to ensure his arrival at Bombay and to bring back the clothes that were provided for the journey, he will be accompanied by a jail official, though he will not be in the custody of that officer.

7. The cost of conveyance by railway from the place of release to Bombay, including the subsistence allowance for the journey, will be debited by the Magistrate of the district in the separate schedule of payments on account of the Military Department: vide chapter 25, article 505 and form 67, Civil Account Code.

8. Nothing shall be paid by the Magistrate to the ex-military convict in respect of his outfit or passage money, for which arrangements will be made by the Bombay Government, which will also give him on behalf of this Government a gratuity of £1.

PRISONERS UNDER TRIAL.

At every place other than the sadar station where prisoners are produced before a Magistrate it is the duty of that Magistrate to see that proper arrangements are made for the diet of the prisoners, for their protection from inclement weather, and for their conveyance to the next lock-up or to the jail, as the case may be. This is a matter that can easily be arranged by the Magistrates with the police officer who has charge of the prisoners.

Diet, &c., of—
No. 673, dated 25th
March 1882.

Magistrates and District Superintendents of Police should see that prisoners confined in the lock-ups of police stations are properly fed and tended. At all station lock-ups blankets should be supplied during the cold season for the use of insufficiently clad prisoners, and the officer in charge of prisoners who are in attendance in a Magistrate's camp should also have blankets supplied to him for the same purpose.

Prisoners in fair health will not suffer by marching on foot for the same condition if supplied with food and clothing secured in camp and on the road. The state of health may not be so good, and are likely to suffer from cold, and are likely to suffer from the want of food, and are likely to suffer from the want of clothing. It may be necessary to provide such prisoners* with a carriage and to give them food and clothing on the road. There need be no difficulty for this, and the Magistrate must see that they are made when necessary.

Any expenditure that may be incurred in carrying out these instructions can be adjusted in the ordinary manner; and all judicial and police officers should exercise a proper supervision over the treatment of under-trial and other prisoners who have not yet been committed to jail. It is occasionally necessary that

The "kicheri" should consist of—

Rice	...	...	...	...	6 chittacks.
Dal	...	...	...	...	1 ditto.
Ghi	...	...	...	...	1 chittack.
Salt	...	...	...	...	100 grains or 1 tola.

The milk given should be pure and fresh, and the dal and rice or "kicheri" must be thoroughly cooked.

prisoners should be sent out to a camp and that they should follow the marches of a judicial officer. But this should not be done simply with the object of disposing of cases expeditiously. The convenience of the witnesses and the condition of the accused when possible, it is preferable ing them while the Magistrate day, subject the accused to hardships and exposure.

Ration to be given to under-trial prisoners. Circular No. 1040, dated 22nd October 1878.

Diet should invariably be given to under-trial prisoners, whether detained in the sadar lock-ups or in the lock-ups of police stations or elsewhere, in accordance with the scale laid down for non-labouring prisoners in paragraph 826 of the Jail Manual.

This paragraph should be thoroughly explained to police officers and others who have charge of these prisoners.

Wheat flour may be given daily when the cereals cannot be varied in accordance with the scale without inconvenience.

The instructions contained in the following letter of the Commissioner, Fyzabad, are also approved :—

Circular No. 1100, dated 19th December 1878.

I do not see any objection to this practice, or that it is really at variance with the rule laid down. The district officer should periodically fix what cash allowance is sufficient to cover the price of—it be given;

they should certainly be allowed to do so, and I do not see, considering the small number of prisoners that are usually in mufassil lock-ups at the same time, that their being allowed to cook their own food need increase the risks of escape.

IN future under-trial prisoners released on discharge or acquittal at long distances from their homes shall, if destitute of means, receive diet money on the following scale :—

Diet money to indigent under-trial prisoners on release.

- (a) six pies per diem for distances up to 40 miles from the place of release, 20 miles being considered a day's march; and
- (b) one anna per diem where the distance is greater, 15 miles being considered a day's march;
- (c) females will receive double the above rates;
- (d) nothing should be allowed if the distance is five miles only.

G. O. No. VI-932B
dated 30th July 1892.

Distancer officers should take steps to secure, as far as possible, that under-trial prisoners shall not be kept at the courts subordinate to them so late as to necessitate their admission to jails and lock-ups after lock-up time.

PROCESSES.

An impression prevailing at some places has been brought to notice that section 72 of the Code of Criminal Procedure justifies any person employed in the public or the railway service in refusing, under all circumstances, to attend a court unless he has received a summons through the head of his department.

It should be observed that there are two different processes by which attendance at the criminal courts may be enforced. Section 170 of the Code applies to cases in which the police have power to investigate, and provides that a police officer, when he forwards an accused person to a Magistrate, or takes security for his appearance before such Magistrate, is to require the complainant, if any, and so many of the persons who appear to him to be acquainted with the circumstances of the case, to execute a bond to appear before the Magistrate and prosecute or give evidence. In this case no reference to the head of the department, in which the person from whom the bond is taken serves, is either required by the law, or, ordinarily possible.

Section 72 of the Code, on the other hand, applies only to a summons, properly so called, issued by a Magistrate; and in no way justifies a person in Government or railway employment in neglecting to attend when required to do so by the police under section 170 of the Criminal Procedure Code.

Subordinate employes should be instructed to this effect, and should be ordered in all cases, where their attendance is required under section 170 by the police, at once to give intimation of the fact to their superior, so that the steps necessary for the despatch of business during their absence may be taken.

1.—No head of a department is authorized, without the sanction of the Legal Remembrancer, to engage any legal practitioner for the conduct of any criminal case in which his department may be concerned.

2.—In the event of the head of a department considering it desirable in the interests of the department that the services of a special legal practitioner be retained for the conduct of any such case, he shall first refer the matter to the Legal Remembrancer, stating the nature of the case, the reasons for the application, and the number of days the case is likely to last.

3.—The Legal Remembrancer shall, in the event of his not being present, be replaced by a person appointed by the Government.

4.—In the event of the application being sanctioned, the legal practitioner to be appointed shall not be deputed to conduct the case until the amount of remuneration to be paid to him shall first have been settled by the Legal Remembrancer in communication with him.

Prosecutions, Survey
Department.

G. O. Nos 921 & 2691
VI-170C. dated 25th April 1893
and 21st August 1894.

The following procedure is to be observed when criminal prosecutions are instituted by the Survey Department in the North-Western Provinces and O. P. The charge is of a cognizable direct the Government Pleader to prosecute, or report to the Remembrancer what other arrangement he has to propose.

Of officers of standing.
U. O. No.  $\frac{2511}{VI-452C}$  dated 6th June 1834.

WHENEVER an officer of standing, such as a Tahsildar or Naib Tahsildar, is accused of a serious offence, the trial or inquiry should be conducted by the District Magistrate himself, unless there are reasons why he should not himself take up the case. In such cases the case should be tried by an officer with at least six years' experience of judicial work, unless it is one that can be committed to the sessions.

RAILWAYS.

THE question of jurisdiction on the railway line may be divided into three parts: (a) jurisdiction in respect of accidents; (b) jurisdiction in respect of offences committed by or upon persons stationary (that is, not travelling) on the line, or in respect of things stationary on the line; and (c) jurisdiction in respect of offences committed by persons travelling in trains, or in respect of persons and property being conveyed in trains.

(a) and (b)—ACCIDENTS AND STATIONARY OFFENCES.

In all cases of accidents or of offences committed on the railway (other than offences by travellers, which are provided for by section 182 of the Criminal Procedure Code), all reports or complaints must be made to the Magistrate of the district within which that portion of the railway lies, or to his subordinates, and all inquiries must be instituted and carried on by his or their orders.

(c)—OFFENCES COMMITTED IN TRAINS.

By section 182, Criminal Procedure Code, an offence committed on or in respect of any property or person in any conveyance employed in a journey, which expression would clearly include a railway train, may be inquired into or determined in any district through any part of which such conveyance shall have passed in the course of the journey. Every Magistrate to whom a complaint is made has jurisdiction to hear and try the case, no matter at what part of the line the offence was committed. The railway police should take such cases reported to them to the nearest Magistrate on the line of rail.

In regard to stationary offences, they will generally be instituted by police report or complaint, in which cases they may be heard by any Magistrate duly empowered under the Criminal Procedure Code.

THE following are the rules prescribed by the Governor-General in Council for inquiring into and reporting on serious accidents on Indian railways, whether open for public traffic or under construction. :—

1. Serious accidents are accidents attended with loss of human life or serious injury to person or property, or accidents of a description usually attended with such loss or injury.

2. In the case of any railway passing through native states, the Government of India will from time to time direct what official shall, for the purposes of these rules, be regarded as the Magistrate of the district in respect of the portions of the railway situate in each such state.

3. Throughout these rules the words "District Superintendent of Police" of the district in which the occurrence takes place shall be substituted for the words "Railway Police Superintendent" in respect of railways whereon a Railway Police Superintendship has not been established. The word "Manager" shall include the agent of a Guaranteed or other Railway Company or other officer in charge; and the Chairman of the Corporation in the case of the Calcutta Municipal Railway, and the Vice-Chairman of the Calcutta Port Commissioners in the case of railways belonging to that body, and also the Chief Engineer or Engineer-in-Chief or other officer in charge of any railway.

The officer authorized by Government to investigate and report on accidents is called the "Government Inspector;" and his address and official designation will be notified to Managers from time to time by Local Governments or Administrations or by the Government of India.

SECTION I.

Duties of managers and railway officers.

4. On the occurrence of any serious railway accident, it shall be the duty of the nearest station-master, or where there is no station-master, the officer in charge of the section of the railway on which the accident occurs, to give immediate notice thereof in writing, or by telegraph when possible:—

In the case of railways belonging to the Calcutta Municipal Corporation or to the Calcutta Port Commissioners, the officer referred to in the rule as "the officer in charge of the section of the railway" will be the Engineer in immediate charge of the line.

(a) to the nearest Magistrate in the district in which the accident occurred;

(b) to the Railway Police Superintendent;

(c) to the officer in charge of the police station in the jurisdiction of which the accident occurred, and

(d) to the senior policeman present at his station.

5. It shall be the duty of the manager to give notice of the accident—

(a) without delay to the Government Inspector, who has been authorized by Government to investigate and report on such accidents.

(b) to the Secretary to the Local Government in the Judicial Department within forty-eight hours after the occurrence in order that the Local Government may, if necessary, watch over the investigation.

6. The manager shall, in cases of serious personal injury, afford medical aid to the sufferers, and see that they are properly and carefully attended to till removed to their homes or handed over to the care of their relatives or friends.

7. The manager shall cause departmental inquiry to be held promptly for the thorough investigation of the causes of every serious accident, and shall, if he considers it expedient, invite the Superintendent of Railway Police to be present at the inquiry, if possible; in his unavoidable absence, an officer of police should be present. Also, he shall communicate the conclusion at which he has arrived as the result of the inquiries to the Magistrate mentioned in rule 4; and, if on open line, to the Government Inspector, with a statement of the persons, if any, whom the railway authorities intend to prosecute, unless the matter should form the subject of a magisterial inquiry under rule 8.

8. It shall be the duty of the manager or of the officer or officers to whom the duty is delegated by him to bring to justice, wherever sufficient evidence is forthcoming, all railway subordinates guilty of crime or of breaches of the Indian Railway Act, or of the general rules, calculated to cause serious accident; and to request the Superintendent of Railway Police to make a report of all cases in which there appears to be ground for suspecting railway subordinates of such misconduct. Also, he shall request the Superintendent of Railway Police to prosecute all persons who it may be decided should be prosecuted.

9. The manager and all heads of departments shall facilitate the movements of the medical officers, the police, the Magistrate, the Government Inspector, and others concerned in reaching promptly the scene of the accident; and they shall assist these

10. In cases in which it is the duty of the railway officers to arrest any offender under sections 48 and 49 of Act IV of 1819, the manager or officer or officers nominated by him as responsible in the locality shall instruct the Railway Police Superintendent or the senior police officer or policeman present, or in the event of there being no member of the police force present, a railway servant, to at once arrest the offender; or when such offender is himself a railway officer whose removal would cause danger or grave inconvenience, to see that precautions are taken to prevent his escape pending the arrival of a substitute.

11. He or they shall arrange for the attendance as long as needful at the court or place of inquiry of any officer or servant of the railway, upon the requisition of the Magistrate or other civil officer.

12. The manager shall maintain at each railway station, or, in the case of lines under construction, in each divisional office, a list of Magistrates or other officers (such list to be furnished by the Magistrate having jurisdiction over the place where the station is situate), to whom reports of accidents should be made; and he shall furnish Magistrates with a list of railway officers to whom any summons may be sent for service on subordinate railway servants.

13. In the case of judicial inquiries, he shall report the result to the Government Inspector and forward copy of the decision of the court.

14. He shall issue such detailed instructions as will give effect to the foregoing rules, and furnish the Government Inspector with copy of all such detailed instructions as issued.

SECTION II.

Duties of the railway and district police.

15. An investigation may be made by the railway police in case of any railway accident.

16. Where there is no railway police, the duties imposed by these rules on railway police or the Railway Police Superintendent must be discharged by the district police or the District Police Superintendent, in addition to their duties as such.

17. In the case of serious accidents, the Railway Police Superintendent, if any, or the District Superintendent of Police, shall at once advise the Local Administration and proceed without delay to the scene of the accident. If either officer be himself unable so to proceed, he shall depute a subordinate, who, in the case of the district police, shall be an Assistant Superintendent of Police where there is one, or where there is no such officer, an Inspector (a European where possible). The officer (of any rank) unable to proceed shall also at once inform his departmental superior and the district, or Magistrate headquarters; name of the officer deputed.

18. Such accident shall forthwith be investigated by the railway police, and if the police officer is of opinion that sufficient grounds exist for a judicial investigation, he will bind all parties to appear before a Magistrate on a date to be fixed by that officer. If the investigation be made by the railway police, immediate information shall be given to the district police, either direct or through the Magistrate of the district. The result of the police investigation prescribed by this rule shall be reported to the manager of the railway and to the Magistrate of the district.

19. When the investigation is made by the railway police, and the assistance of the officers of the district police is called for, the latter shall afford all necessary assistance, and shall, if occasion arise, carry the investigation beyond the limits of the railway premises. But the Railway Police Superintendent is primarily entrusted with the duty of investigation within such limits. Subject to any provisions elsewhere contained in these rules, the further prosecution of the case on the conclusion of the preliminary local police investigation shall rest with the railway police.

SECTION III.

Duties of civil officers.

20. It shall be in . . . . . of the district or of the Subdiv . . . . . information of the occurrence of . . . . . means of rule 1, either—

- (a) himself to proceed to the scene of such accident and make any inquiry ;
- (b) to depute a subordinate Magistrate to make inquiry ; or
- (c) to direct investigation to be made by the Government railway or district police, as the case may be,
- (d) to report to the Local Government serious accidents involving considerable loss of human life or indicating defective administration.

21. The Magistrate or other officer shall summon any servant of the railway, and all other persons whose presence he may think necessary, and after taking the evidence and completing this inquiry, shall, if he consider there are sufficient grounds for judicial investigation, take the requisite steps to bring to trial any person he may consider criminally liable for the accident.

22. The manager or the Magistrate of the district or the District Superintendent of Police may require the Civil Surgeon of the district or any district medical officer to proceed to the scene of any railway accident . . . . . pose of rendering . . . . . ing authorities, and . . . . . and it shall be the duty of such Civil or Police Surgeon or medical officer to proceed accordingly.

23. In cases where technical points are involved, the Magistrate or other officer should be careful to call for and take the opinion of professional persons.

24. The result of this preliminary local inquiry will invariably be communicated by the Magistrate to the manager of the railway and to the Government Inspector.*

25. Should the Magistrate have delayed judicial action until receipt of the railway departmental report, he will then decide whether to discharge the persons accused or to proceed with the case.

26. If the manager of the railway do not prosecute the persons considered liable by the civil officer, the Magistrate will arrange for their prosecution.

27. If, in the course of the judicial inquiry, the Magistrate wishes for the assistance of the Government Inspector or manager of the railway, or for the attendance of any officer of the railway, to explain or give evidence upon any matter relating to railway supervision, management or working, he will issue a requisition to such officers to attend the court.

28. On the conclusion of the judicial inquiry, the Magistrate will, if necessary, report the result for the information of the Local Government; and he will send a copy of his decision to the manager of the railway.

29. Magistrates through whose jurisdiction a railway passes shall maintain a list of railway officers (such list to be furnished by the manager) to whom summonses may be sent for service on subordinate railway servants, and shall furnish the manager with a list of Magistrates or other officers to whom reports of accidents should be made.

SECTION IV.

Government inspector's duties.

30. On receiving notice of a serious accident to a train, arising from defects of road or works or machinery, or from obstructions, or in any case, on requisition from the officer charged with the inquiry, the Government Inspector shall proceed himself, or by deputy, to the scene of the accident; shall note the facts; watch the proceedings of the departmental or magisterial inquiry; and make such inquiries and investigations as he may think fit, calling upon the manager or officer in charge of the line for any assistance needed, and shall form his own conclusions.

* Under a strict interpretation of the rules, the information to be supplied to the Railway Administration would be limited to the result of the inquiry; and the Government-General in Council has no doubt that the communication of the information to the railway authorities will be sufficient in the great majority of cases. His Excellency in Council is, however, of opinion that the process of inquiry might also be communicated to the railway authorities in any case in which the Local Government or any authority to whom it may delegate discretion in the matter is satisfied of the necessity for such action (G. G. O. No. 63, dated 25th February 1883).

31. He shall submit his report, with any notes he may desire to record, to the Government concerned, forwarding copy to the manager of the railway or to the Magistrate having jurisdiction in British or in native territory, as the case may be.

32. He shall assist the Magistrate so far as he can in person or by deputy in the judicial inquiry whenever called upon to do so.

33. In important cases, where a remedy or change of system appears necessary, the Government or Administration concerned should be informed what steps have been, or are proposed to be taken, by the railway to prevent a recurrence of similar accidents, and whether, in his opinion, further action in the matter is desirable.

THE following are the orders of the Government of India on the subject of the inspection of railways. In supercession of previous orders, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct that the circles in which the different Consulting Engineers exercise jurisdiction as Inspecting Officers under Acts IV, 1879, and IV, 1883, shall be constituted as exhibited in the accompanying schedule.

2. His Excellency in Council is also pleased, under section 5A of Act IV of 1883, to appoint all Consulting Engineers for Railways, as well as the officer in each circle who is, for the time being the Senior Deputy Consulting Engineer in that circle, to be, by virtue of their office, Inspecting Officers, with effect from the 1st January 1889.

3. His Exce hereby vested in within those circ
India, may have g way system.

4. In cases where a Consulting Engineer has his headquarters in one place and his Deputies in others, it is left to the Consulting Engineer to arrange the particular office to which applications for inspection prior to the opening should be addressed by any Railway Administration.

5. The Government of India also desires that Consulting Engineers or Deputy Consulting Engineers, in their capacity as Inspecting Officers, shall be styled Government Inspectors.

In addition to the officers already appointed in Circular No. XV (Railway) of 1888 (above), the Governor-General in Council is pleased to appoint every Deputy Consulting Engineer for Railways, whether permanent or officiating, who holds the rank of an Executive Engineer (permanent or sub. pro tem.) in the Public Works Department, to be, by virtue of his office, an Inspector of Railways, under section 4(1) of the Indian Railways Act, 1890.

Government Inspectors.
India's Public Works Department Circular No. XV, dated 4th December 1888.

India's Public Works Department No. VIII, Railway, dated 10th May 1891, and G. O. No. 1664-GS, dated 15th June VI-501B, dated 15th June 1891.

2. In the absence of any express order to the contrary, an officer who has once become an Inspector by virtue of his office and rank shall not, while he remains in the Consulting Engineer's Department, vacate his appointment as Inspector on account of any temporary reversion to a lower departmental rank than that of Executive Engineer, sub. pro tem.

3. Every Deputy Consulting Engineer exercising the powers of an Inspector is to be considered in all respects as under the general control of the Senior Inspector, i.e., the Consulting Engineer of the circle to which he is attached; and his reports should be submitted to the Senior Inspector for such action as he may consider desirable.

4. In cases of urgency, the Senior Inspector may authorize telegraphic reports being made direct to the Government of India.

India's Public Works Department Circular No. XXVIII (Railways), dated 10th March 1891, and G. O. Nos. 1437-37, VI-807H, dated 25th May 1891.

The Governor-General in Council has directed that, with effect from the 1st April 1891, the distribution of charges for the investigation of accidents by Government Inspectors, without reference to their other duties, shall be constituted as exhibited in the accompanying schedules.

2. It should be understood that if the Consulting Engineer, in general control of a line, desires to be present at the investigation of an accident which has occurred on that line, at a place outside of the circle in which he is Government Inspector for accidents, he should take no part whatever in the proceedings, but he may be examined as a witness.

G. O. No. 2559
VI-792H dated

INSTRUCTIONS.

District officers will observe that by section 83, Act IX of 1890, it is the duty of the Railway Administration to give notice of accidents to Government, while by rule 21 the Magistrate only reports the result of the judicial investigation, if any, held in consequence of the accident.

Government has furnished the Railway Administrations in these provinces with a list of Magistrates to whom, and of police stations at which, the reports ordered by section 83, Act IX of 1890, should be made. With reference to rule 20, a list of railway officers through whom railway employes should be summoned is to be found in Appendix B to the High Court's Rules and Orders, Civil. The Commissioner of Kumaun arranges the list for his division. Magistrates should be careful, after making a judicial inquiry, to send a copy of their decision to the manager of the railway in accordance with rule 21.

It is unnecessary to direct that separate reports of accidents should be sent to the Tahsildar and the District Superintendent of Police. The Magistrate of the district can inform these officers if he thinks fit.

In regard to the relative duties of the Railway and District Police, the following directions are laid down :—

Under the orders of Government, No. <sup>2470</sup>~~VI-3728~~, dated 24th August 1891, as amended,* reports of accidents are ordinarily made to the nearest railway police station, and by rule 13(1) the Railway Police are primarily entrusted with the duty of investigation. But in cases where an officer in charge of a district police station receives a report of an accident, he should go to the spot and see what is being done. If there are any Railway Police present, he should leave the case to them; but till they arrive he should take measures to see that no persons abscond, and should give assistance to sufferers, if necessary. In cases where there are no Railway Police appointed for the line, the duties imposed by the rules are performed by the District Police.

[The rules regarding the relative duties of the Railway and District Police with respect to offences are contained in Circular No. 3, dated 30th April 1895, issued by the Inspector-General of Police.]

The Inspector to be deputed under rule 11(2) should, if possible, be a European Inspector.

In cases where the officer in charge of the Railway Police deposes an officer to conduct an inquiry, he should inform the Magistrate to whom the report of the accident was made of the fact and the name of the officer deputed. Ordinarily, the Magistrate would not order a magisterial inquiry under rule 16 if he knew that a superior officer was inquiring into the accident; otherwise he might feel it his duty to do so.

No hard-and-fast rule can be laid down as to the exact extent to which the Railway Police are subordinate to the Magistrate. The general principle, however, which should guide all concerned should be as follows:—

The Magistrate, as the executive officer in general charge of, and responsible to Government for, everything that affects his disorders to the Railway Police direct, but should communicate with the Railway Police authority concerned, or (in case of emergency) with the senior officer of the department who may be on the spot. If an investigation made by the Railway Police appears to the Magistrate to be perfunctory, incomplete, or in any way unsatisfactory, he should at once send the case back and call for further investigation, and, if necessary, direct the District Police to co-operate with the Railway Police in the matter. In matters of punishment, discipline, &c, the Magistrate should not primarily interfere, except in the way of bringing any misconduct to notice.

It is the duty of the Magistrate to see that the law is observed; if, therefore, the manager of the railway has not prosecuted any person whom the civil officer considers should be prosecuted, the Magistrate concerned should arrange for the prosecution.

Civil Surgeons to whom a communication is made in accordance with rule 9 must at once proceed to the scene of the accident and render every assistance in their power.

The officer who has been appointed by the Local Government under rules 5(1) and 14 is the Magistrate of the district, to whom reports of accidents are made under G. O. No. <sup>2406</sup> 71-372B, dated 24th August 1891, as amended.

MAGISTRATES should take care to satisfy themselves in each case in which railway servants are convicted of an offence under the Railway Act and Rules that the penalty imposed is not in excess of what the circumstances absolutely demand in the interest of the public safety. In all cases of conviction a copy of the judgment should be forwarded at once to the Consulting Engineer.

Railway servants. Punishment of—
G. O. No. 1059, dated 2nd September 1891.

It is the duty of the Magistrate to punish the offence of stealing spikes from the line of rail with the utmost severity, not looking to the value of the property stolen, but to the risk that it causes of loss of life to travellers on the railway. Steps should be taken to make it known in all the villages bordering on the railway that the crime is a most serious one, being not simply theft—this is a secondary and smaller consideration—but an offence endangering the safety of the line and affecting human life. As such it should, when brought home to the offenders, be treated as a crime of the first degree. It is possible to put a stop to such theft and to the placing of obstructions on the line.

Circular No. 9A, dated 19th April 1875 (issued by Inspector-General of Police).

In Gházipur the following procedure has been attended with success:—The Magistrate in the first place called together all the zamindárs and headmen of the villages bordering on the line of railway and severely cautioned them as to their responsibility, and the advisability of their using all their influence to prevent those means equally efficacious, and of satisfying the Government by every means which the law puts within his reach, and which his own vigilance can ensure, are employed in the repression of the offence and the detection and punishment of those concerned in it.

Objection has been raised to the plan resorted to by the Magistrate of Gházipur, on the ground that chaukidárs are entrusted exclusively for the watch and ward of villages. But it is to be observed that if on any part of the line there is reason to believe that the inhabitants of the villages through whose area the line runs habitually commit an offence prejudicial to life and safety, it is as much the business of the chaukidár to do all he can to prevent it as to prevent any other offence, the commission of which within the limits of his village he may have reason to suspect.

line. If the practice is clearly brought home to a number of adjacent villages, warning should be given that, if the crime continues, extra police, under section 15, Act V of 1861, will be quartered on them. In the event of the warning given having no effect, steps should be at once taken to obtain the sanction of the Government to the quartering upon the guilty villages of such a force of extra police as may appear to be required.

Railway engines. Fire caused by sparks from—Circular No. 111A, dated 15th December 1873.

SEVERAL cases having occurred of the destruction by fire of a village ignited by sparks emitted from a passing engine of a railway, Collectors and Deputy Commissioners are requested to impress upon villagers the risk they run in building houses near the line. It would be well to remove existing habitations to a safe distance, whenever circumstances permit of their doing so.

THE following suggestions, made by the Consulting Engineer, Calcutta, have been circulated for the information of Magistrates who may require the evidence of experts in railway cases, but may be uncertain as to the particular officer who should be summoned.

When a Magistrate who is conducting a judicial inquiry into a serious railway accident wishes for the advice of professional persons, but does not know what railway officer or officers to summon, he should telegraph to the office of the Consulting Engineer week's clear notice, and the with the agent or manager competent officers or subordinates at the Magistrate's court on the day fixed to explain technical points connected with railway working, &c.

The Magistrate should, if possible, state beforehand in what particular department of the railway he may want advice—whether in the engineering, maintenance, locomotive, carriage and wagon, traffic or general departments.

Magistrates should only have recourse to this procedure in cases in which professional evidence is really required, and a doubt that cannot be cleared up by local inquiry or in a more expeditious manner exists as to the official or officials whom it would be most advisable to summon.

The following list gives the correct address of the agent or manager of each line in these provinces, and the Consulting Engineer under whose supervision it is :—

RECORDS.

of criminal—
Circular No. 5, dated 14th
March 1882.

WITH reference to rule 24 of High Court's Circular No. 5, dated the 10th October 1881, records selected for destruction should be disposed of as follows:—

All stamps shall first be removed and burnt in the presence of the Magistrate or one of his assistants.

The papers shall then be torn up and sold to the best advantage, and the sale proceeds credited to the record fund.

of—

G. O. No. 308
VI—12, dated
16th February 1880.

The following rules, supplementary to those already issued by the High Court and Board of Revenue, have been issued for the destruction of records in Magistrates' offices:—

I.—In all correspondence, reminders, explanations of delay, and dockets on mere matters of routine should be destroyed when the file is closed, and before it is finally consigned to the record-room. The originals of papers, of which printed copies have been received, may be destroyed on receipt of the printed copies.

II.—Applications for copies may be destroyed after one year.

III.—Circulars, &c., should be destroyed when they are cancelled or superseded.

IV.—Papers not destroyed under the above rule shall be destroyed after the expiry of three or twelve years, or retained permanently, according as they fall within the first, second or third of the lists given below. The first list refers merely to routine statements, or to miscellaneous correspondence of no permanent value; no important correspondence should be destroyed after three years even though it comes under one of the subjects included in the list. Annual reports shall ordinarily be retained for twelve years.

V.—In calculating the time fixed for the destruction of records the computation will be made from the commencement of the calendar year succeeding that in which the correspondence took place. Thus a document to be destroyed after three years, if received in February 1883, must be kept for three years from 1st January 1884.

VI.—All papers to be destroyed shall be selected by the record-keeper and head-clerk, and submitted for the inspection of the Magistrate or an assistant deputed by him for the duty; and no papers should be destroyed without the orders of that officer, who will satisfy himself that they are not of sufficient importance to be preserved. The duties of the record-keeper and head-clerk in this respect should be clearly explained to them. In all cases of doubt special reference is to be made to the Magistrate.

VII.—Annual clearances of useless papers, except such as are made under rule 1, should be effected between May and September in each year.

VIII.—These rules do not affect those issued by the High High Court's Rules and Orders, Criminal, page 55. Board's Extant Circulars, Part IX, pages 9, 23, 113—16.

REFORMATORY SCHOOLS.

THE Reformatory Schools Act (V of 1876) being in force in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, section 399 of the Criminal Procedure Code is repealed in those provinces (see section 3, Act V of 1876, and section 3 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1882).

IN exercise of the power conferred by section 22 of the Reformatory Schools Act (V 1876), the Governor-General in Council has been pleased to make the following rule for regulating the periods for which courts and Magistrates in the territories administered by the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces and Chief Commissioner of Oudh may send youthful offenders to reformatory schools in the said territories:—

"No boy shall be sent to a reformatory school, if under 10 years of age, for a less period than seven years; if over 10 years of age, for a less period than five years, unless he shall sooner attain the age of 18 years."

THE question having been raised whether juvenile offenders who had already undergone a portion of their sentence in a jail can be consigned to a reformatory school for a term exceeding the remainder of their sentence or not, it is ruled that the legal period of detention in a reformatory is not affected by the length of time which may have already been passed in jail. This is clear from section 8, Act V of 1876, which lays down that when any youthful offender under 16 years of age has been sentenced to imprisonment, the officer in charge of the jail in which such offender is confined may bring him before the Magistrate within whose jurisdiction such jail is situate, and the Magistrate may direct him to be sent to a reformatory school and there to be detained for a period which shall not be less than two, and not more than seven years, notwithstanding the fact that the substantive sentence of imprisonment may have only been for two or three months or even less

THE Committee of Visitors of the Reformatory School at Bareilly having brought to the notice of Government several instances in which Magistrates have ordered the confinement of youthful offenders in the Reformatory School without passing any substantive sentence of imprisonment on them, the attention of Magistrates is directed to the provisions of section 7 of Act V of 1876, and it is pointed out that it is not until a youthful offender has been sentenced to imprisonment that the court may direct that such offender, instead of being imprisoned in a criminal jail and undergoing his sentence, shall be sent to a reformatory school. The sentence of confinement in a reformatory is alternative to a purely penal sentence; but this latter must first in every case be passed.

Periods of detention.

Home Department Notification No 173, dated 14th March 1889.

G. O's Nos. 1403
VI--40B' and 1073
VI--10B, dated 22nd June and 23rd July 1889.

Passing of substantive sentences on youthful offenders

G. O No 1929
VI--40B, dated
20th August 1889.

Passing of substantial sentences on youthful offenders.

G. O. No.  $\frac{257}{VI-40B}$ , dated
11th October 1892.

WITH reference to the above orders, the substantive sentence passed on a boy who is to be detained in a reformatory should also be substantial, and such as the offence would have deserved if the boy had not been sent to the reformatory; otherwise it is possible that in case the boy has for any reason to be discharged from the reformatory by the Local Government, in the exercise of its power under section 11(6) of Act V of 1878, and is sent to jail, he may escape with an inadequate punishment.

Particulars to accompany youthful offenders.

G. O. No.  $\frac{332}{VI-501B-1}$ , dated
15th February 1890.

WITH each boy committed to the reformatory school a copy should be sent of the judgment of the criminal court, together with a short history, showing any crime for which he may have been previously punished, the position and character of his parents, and any other facts known to the police which might be useful in dealing with him.

Class of boys to be sent.

Resolution No.  $\frac{612}{VI-40B}$ , dated 21st March 1889.

THE principles that courts and Magistrates, subject to the discretion given them by the Reformatory Schools Act, should observe in deciding whether a youthful offender is a proper person to be an inmate of a reformatory school are the following:—

- (1) The most proper subjects for reformatory treatment are those boys who are without proper parental or other control, and who have committed an offence or offences against property.
- (2) As a rule, no boy should be sent to a reformatory on a first conviction, unless there is reasonable cause for supposing that he is being trained up to, or likely again to lapse into, crime.
- (3) As a rule, it is not desirable to send boys to reformatories before they have completed their 9th, or after they have completed their 13th, or at most their 14th year of age.
- (4) For the present, no boy belonging to a proclaimed habitual criminal tribe* in these provinces should be sent to a reformatory, the question of the treatment of these tribes being under separate consideration. Other boys who appear to be habitual offenders, should be committed (if at all) at an early stage in their career, being less amenable to reforming influences as they approach the age of 16.

*The Sanasirials of Lahitpur.
The Barwars of Gondia.

The Sanasirials also known as— } of Khambarpur
The Gidhwas } Muradpur
The Kangars } and Khatia
The Radhwa Kangars }

- (5) No boy should be sent to a reformatory who has been convicted of an unnatural offence, or of gross indecency indicative of habitual immorality.

CASES have come before Government in which there were considerable differences in the age of juvenile offenders as estimated by Magistrates and by the visitors of the Bareilly Reformatory School, and therefore in case of doubt as to whether a boy is excluded from the reformatory by rule 3 above, the Civil Surgeon should invariably be called upon for an expression of opinion as to his probable age.

Verification of age.
G. O. No <sup>2380</sup> VI—40 B, dated
14th September 1892.

Boys whose detention in the reformatory is directed under section 7, Act V of 1876, should be sent direct to the school. After the order of detention in the reformatory has been passed, the police should make the boy over to the Magistrate of the district, who should arrange for sending him in charge of a tahsil chaprasi, with the necessary papers, to the Reformatory School at Bareilly. In cases which fall under section 8, Act V of 1876, the Jail Department should arrange for the transfer.

Despatch of boys to the reformatory.

REWARDS.

Rewards for the apprehension of criminals.

G.O. No.  $\frac{234}{VIII-40A}$ , dated 15th April 1890.

Circular No. 1415A, dated 10th August 1854.

COMMISSIONERS are authorized (subject to divisional budget allotment) to grant rewards for the apprehension of criminals to an amount not exceeding Rs. 500 for each criminal, without reference to Government for sanction. All applications for the grant of rewards by Government in excess of that amount should be submitted by District Magistrates through Commissioners. In no case should an application for the grant of a reward be made to Government direct.

The rewards authorized by Commissioners within the above limit should be carefully apportioned according to the gravity and the special circumstances of the case.

Full reports of the particulars of all offences for the apprehension of the perpetrators of which the offer of rewards exceeding Rs. 100 is sanctioned by Commissioners will be made without delay for the information of Government.

A sum is provided in the yearly police budget for each division on account of rewards for the apprehension of proclaimed offenders. If a Commissioner exceeds the amount allotted to his division, he has to apply for an additional grant.

In drawing up a notification offering a reward for the capture of an offender the words "dead or alive" must not be used, as they are liable to misconstruction.

THE rewards sanctioned by the above circular may also be granted for information leading to the discovery of treasure.

SOLDIERS.

IN the event of the arrest by the police of soldiers, British or native, charged with the commission of an offence, District officers should give as early intimation as possible of the fact to the officer commanding the regiment to which the men arrested may belong, so as to enable him to adopt in time any measures he may think necessary for their defence.

July 1880, for North-West-

Commissioner's Circular
No. 1K, dated 16th June
1880, for Oudh.

THE following rules have been made by the Governor-General in Council, under section 519 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, respecting the delivery to the military authorities of persons charged with offences under section 41 of the Army Act, 1881, for which they are liable to be tried by court-martial held under that Act:—

Offenders triable by court martial.
Home Department Notification No. 1221, dated 27th
July 1887

I.—(1) When a person subject to military law is accused of an offence for which he is liable under the Army Act, 1881, section 41, he shall proceed to try old an inquiry and the Magistrate or the High Court, unless he is moved to do so by the military authorities, or is of opinion, for reasons to be recorded in writing, that he ought so to proceed without being moved thereto by those authorities.

(2) When the Magistrate is of opinion that he ought so to proceed without being moved thereto by the military authorities, he shall give notice of his intention to do so to an officer to whose command the accused person is subject, and shall not, till the expiration of fifteen days from the date of the service of the notice on the officer—

(a) in a summons case, acquit or convict the accused under section 243, section 245, section 247, or section 249 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, or hear him in his defence under section 244 of the Code, or

(b) in a warrant case, frame a charge against the accused under section 251 of the Code, or

(c) issue an order for the trial of the accused by a jury under section 451A, sub-section (2), of the Code; or

(d) make an order committing the accused for trial by the Court of Session or the High Court under section 213 or section 214 of the Code.

(3) If within the fifteen days, or at any time thereafter before the Magistrate has done or made an act or order specified in clause (2), sub-clause (a), sub-clause (b), sub-clause (c) or sub-clause (d) of this rule, an officer to whose command the accused is subject notifies to the Magistrate that, in the opinion of the military authorities, the accused should be tried by a court-martial, the Magistrate shall stay the proceedings before himself, and, if the accused is in his power, deliver him, together with the statement mentioned in section 519 of the Code, to the authority prescribed in that section.

II.—If, after a Magistrate has been moved by the military authorities to proceed against a person subject to military law for an offence for which that person is liable, under the Army Act, 1951, section 41, to be tried by court-martial, an officer to whose command the person is subject notifies to the Magistrate that, in the opinion of the military authorities, the accused should be tried by a court-martial, the Magistrate, if he has not, before receiving the notice, done or made an act or order specified in clause (2), sub-clause (a), sub-clause (b), sub-clause (c) or sub-clause (d) of rule I, shall stay the proceedings before himself, and, if the accused is in his power, deliver him, together with the statement mentioned in section 519 of the Code, to the authority prescribed in that section.

III.—If a person who has been delivered by a Magistrate to a commanding officer, under rule I, clause (3), or under rule II, for the purpose of being tried by court-martial, is not brought to trial before a court-martial for the offence of which he is accused or effectual proceedings have not been taken, or have not been ordered to be taken against him, the Magistrate shall report the circumstance—

(a) in cases occurring within the territories administered by the Governor of Fort St. George in Council or by the Governor of Bombay in Council, for the information and orders of the Governor in Council of Fort St. George or of Bombay, as the case may be; and

(b) in other cases through the Local Government, for the information and orders of the Government in Council.

THE above rules do not apply to native officers or soldiers or followers in Her Majesty's Indian Army. These are subject to the Indian Articles of War (Act V of 1869), and these Articles in effect provide (Article 170) that when a person subject to them is accused of a non-military offence, he shall be delivered over to the nearest Magistrate to be proceeded against according to law.

It having been found that the orders printed above requiring that immediate intimation of the arrest of soldiers should be given to their commanding officer, had not been complied with in a certain case owing in some measure to the fact that the soldier on arrest was sent up direct to the court of the Subordinate Magistrate, and timely information was not given to the District Magistrate, it was directed, in order to secure that such an irregularity shall not in future occur and—what is very desirable—that cases of this description shall be tried only by experienced Magistrates, that all charges against soldiers should, subject to the provisions of section 549 of the Code of Criminal Procedure and the rules made thereunder (see above), be laid in the court of the District Magistrate, who will either try the case himself or make it over to be tried by a selected subordinate.

It is requested that the following orders of the Government of India be carefully observed:—

The attention of the Government of India has recently been drawn to the unsatisfactory termination of certain trials resulting from affrays which have taken place between European soldiers and native villagers. These affrays have usually originated in disputes between the villagers and soldiers when the latter have been out on shooting expeditions, passes for which are granted under the Regulations contained in Home Department letter No. <sup>30</sup> 1012 1025, dated 31st July 1883.* Renewed instructions have recently been issued by the military authorities for the enforcement of absolute obedience to these regulations; but the Government of India thinks it also essential that no effort should be spared by the civil authorities to bring home punishment to all, whether soldiers or villagers, who commit a breach of the law on such occasions. In considering the cases recently before him, the Governor-General in Council was much struck by the fact that the issues involved were obscured by the absence of such reliable evidence as would have been elicited by a full and exhaustive inquiry made on the spot immediately after the occurrence. To such an investigation His Excellency in Council attaches the utmost importance; and I am therefore desirous to request that, with the permission of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner, instructions may be issued that, on the occurrence of a serious

SPECIAL MAGISTRATES AND BENCHES.

THE Code of Criminal Procedure (section 14) gives the Local Government power to appoint Special Magistrates, who may be invested with all or any of the powers of the Magistrate of the 1st, 2nd or 3rd class in respect to particular offences or to a particular class or classes of offences or in regard to offences generally, in any part of a district or in any one or more districts. This section meets the case of officers in charge of jails, Town Magistrates, Railway Magistrates, Forest and Canal Officers, &c, and is specially commended to the attention of Magistrates, of the Inspector-General of Prisons, and of the Public Works Department and Irrigation Branch. Many Honorary Magistrates might also be specially invested under this section with local powers to try classes of offences.

Benchs of Magistrates appointed under section 15 will also probably be found a useful institution in many municipalities and other large towns.

THE following rules for the conduct of business by benches of Special Magistrates are recommended for general adoption by the Government (N.B.—The issue of such rules is left to the Magistrates concerned under section 16 of the Criminal Procedure Code.)

Rules for the guidance of Benches of Magistrates under section 14 of the Criminal Procedure Code.

II.—The bench shall sit on the days hereunder appointed at A.M. It shall not consist of more than three members, and two of these shall form a quorum. The sittings shall be held in the municipal office or other public office appointed.

III.—The bench may hold one or more adjourned sittings, if this be found necessary, for the disposal of business or of particular cases: Provided that if any case is adjourned, and the members at the adjourned sessions are not the same as sat at the first hearing of the case, the provisions of section 350 of the Criminal Procedure Code will be held to apply to the case.

IV.—The chairman of the bench for the time being shall be the Magistrate of highest powers present at the sitting. Where all present are of equal powers, the Magistrate of oldest standing shall be the chairman, provided always that it shall be in the discretion of the Magistrate of the district to appoint the chairman for each time of sitting, or generally.

V.—The chairman shall conduct the proceedings of the court and shall exercise all the functions in that behalf usually exercised by a Magistrate when sitting alone. He shall decide upon the admissibility of evidence and maintain order in the court; but it shall be open to any member of the bench to put any question to the parties or witnesses, either direct or through the chairman, as the latter may deem advisable, and to suggest any matter for the chairman's consideration.

VII.—Each member of the bench shall have a voice in the finding and sentence, which shall be signed by the chairman and by the members present.

In regard to the finding, when the number of members is uneven, the opinion of the majority shall prevail; when the number is even and the members are equally divided, the accused shall get the benefit of the doubt.

In regard to the sentence, the opinion of the majority shall prevail; when the members are equally divided, the chairman shall have the casting vote; when the opinions of members are all different (as in a full bench of three members), the opinion of the chairman shall prevail.

VIII.—No Bench

police officers and policemen are concerned.

The following conclusions have been adopted by Government regarding the powers with which Honorary Magistrates may now safely be invested :—

- (a) that in the more important towns, where benches have been for some time established with success, the benches may now be invested in their corporate capacity with the powers of a Magistrate of the second class;
- (b) that the benches may further be invested with the power of summary trial specified in section 261 of the Code of Criminal Procedure;

Powers of—

Resolution No. 2223
VI-336
dated 10th December 1885.

- (c) that they may also be invested with authority to take direct cognizance upon complaint or police report of the offences specified in section 261, clause (b);
- (d) that selected Honorary Magistrates may be invested with the powers of a Magistrate of the first class for the disposal, when sitting as benches, of cases under chapter X of the Criminal Procedure Code (public nuisances) and chapter XXXVI (maintenance of wives and children).

In many districts the Magistrates have, under the powers given them by section 191 of the Criminal Procedure Code, voluntarily invested benches of the 3rd class with power to take cognizance of most of the classes of offences which are within their jurisdiction, and, especially where benches have their sittings in outlying municipalities, the Lieutenant-Governor is of opinion this authority may be conferred with advantage.

ALLOWANCES are granted to Honorary Magistrates for muharrirs only if they perform a fair amount of criminal judicial work. No rigid rule is laid down as to the amount of work that should be done, but Honorary Magistrates will be considered entitled to the allowance of a muharrir only if their work closely approximates to the standard originally laid down for Oudh, viz, the disposal of 120 cases per annum.

Commissioners should, after the close of each calendar year, ascertain whether the amount of work done during the year by each Honorary Magistrate or Honorary Assistant Commissioner, for whom an allowance has been sanctioned, warrants the continuance of the allowance, and submit a report to the Government in the event of their being of opinion that the allowance should cease.

On the occurrence of the death of any Special or Honorary Magistrate in a district, the fact should at once be reported by the District Magistrate for the information of Government.

STAGE CARRIAGES.

Rules for grant of licenses for—
Circular No. 1936A,
dated 27th July 1861
(General).

THE following instructions are to be observed by Magistrates in regard to the provisions of Act XVI of 1861 (an Act for licensing and regulating stage carriages):—

Under the provisions of the Act, it is unlawful for any carriage answering to the "definition" given in section 1 of the Act to be used as a stage carriage, unless it shall have been licensed by a Magistrate.

G. O. No. 1383, dated
8th August 1883.

All Magistrates of districts in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh are authorized to grant licenses under Act XVI of 1861, as amended by Act XVI of 1876.

The offences for which penalties may be imposed under the Act, No. XVI of 1861, are—1st—The letting for hire of a stage carriage without the particulars of the license being painted upon a conspicuous part of such stage carriage—sections 5, 6 and 11.

2nd—The letting for hire of a stage carriage without the same being licensed—section 7.

3rd—The permitting of a stage carriage to be drawn by a less number of passengers or a by license—section 8.

4th—The ill-treating of any horse* employed in drawing or harnessed to any stage carriage—section 9.

5th—Misconduct of drivers—section 12.

It is particularly necessary to enforce the penalties allowed by the law in all cases of neglect to conform to the provisions of section 5 of the Act, and to this end the District Superintendent of Police should bring to the notice of the Magistrate of the district, or to the nearest Magistrate, every case of the kind, even though the circumstances should not be such as to justify seizure of the carriage, &c., under section 11.

In the execution of Act No. XVI of 1861, a distinction is to be made between a "Magistrate" as interpreted in section 21 and the "Magistrate of a district" as defined in section 1 of Act V of 1861.

Whenever a complaint or information may be laid before any Magistrate of an infringement of any of the provisions contained in sections 6, 7 and 8 of the Act, he should call upon the person having care of the stage carriage, the driver, the proprietor or the proprietor's agent, as may be, to produce the license or copy of the license authenticated by the Magistrate issuing the same. If the license or copy thereof should be produced, and there should be no reason to doubt the genuineness of it, the Magistrate will proceed to pass such order as, according to the circumstances of the case, may seem to him fit. If for any reason the license should not be produced, an application should be forwarded to the Magistrate, who may be known or ascertained to have issued the license, for an extract from his register, showing the particulars of the license in question, or for information as to whether a license was granted or not, or as to any other circumstances calculated to throw light on the case at issue.

It may be left to passengers to prefer complaints of the misconduct of drivers under section 12, but it is the duty of the police to report all cases of ill treatment of animals under section 9 of the Act.

The process for the recovery of penalties imposed under the Act is clearly laid down in sections 16 to 19.

Under section 21 it is not necessary to prove that an offence under this Act was committed within the local limits of the Magistrate to whom the complaint of such offence may be preferred.

G. O. No. 1938A, dated 27th July 1861 (General).

The following instructions are particularly for the guidance of Magistrates authorized to grant licenses —

The Act does "not apply to carriages not ordinarily used for journeys of a greater distance than 20 miles."

Licenses are to be drawn in the form hereunder (A), of which printed copies should be kept in readiness.

A register will be kept up in the licensing Magistrate's office in the form (B) hereunder, and the particulars of every license granted will be entered in this register before delivery to the applicant.

A separate license is required for each carriage used as a stage carriage, and for each such license a separate payment of five rupees must be demanded and enforced before delivery of license. It is not sufficient, for instance, that a horse-drawn company having ten or more stage carriages in use should take out one license. A license must be obtained for every such stage carriage.

Neglect to conform to the requirements of section 5, or any evasion thereof must be promptly punished.

Each license will be in force for one year only from the date thereof, and any proprietor of a stage carriage who shall let such stage carriage for hire after the expiry of that period without renewing the license will be liable to the penalties prescribed in section 7 of the Act. And if, having renewed the license, he should let such stage carriage for hire without having conformed to the provisions of section 5, he will be liable to the penalties laid down in section 6 of the same.

The following rules are presented by Government for enforcing the provisions of Act XVI of 1861, as amended by Act XVI of 1876, in the North-Western Provinces:—

Rules for enforcing the provisions of the Act.

Circular No. 33, dated 30th July 1877.

I.—No four-wheeled vehicle to be used as a stage carriage shall be licensed to be drawn by less than two horses, ponies, mules or bullocks, but a license may be given for a carriage drawn by one camel.

II.—No such carriage shall be licensed to carry more than four adult passengers and four maunds of luggage, if drawn by horses, ponies or mules, or more than 12 adult passengers and 3 maunds of luggage, if drawn by a camel or by bullocks. Two children will be considered as equivalent to one adult if they are both over six years of age.

III.—Every person, other than the coachman and one syco, who is conveyed on a carriage is considered to be a passenger.

IV. Every stage carriage shall, before being licensed, be inspected by the Magistrate who grants the license, or other officer appointed to inspect such carriages; and if the wheels, doors, windows, or any other part of such carriage are found to be in a weak or dilapidated condition, or the cushions or linings in a carriage drawn by horses, ponies or mules, dirty or torn, it shall be considered unfit for use, and license shall be refused. Every camel carriage shall, on pain of the like penalty, be provided with a high seat for the driver, enabling him to see the way clearly before him over the camel's back.

V.—If a carriage is found at any subsequent time defective in any of the above particulars, and after due notice is not put into thorough order, the license will be withdrawn.

VI.—Any person who drives, or causes to be driven, any horse, pony, mule or bullock, in any licensed carriage, for a longer distance than two stages of six miles each, or any camel for a longer distance than two stages of eight miles each, within 24 hours, shall be considered to have overdriven such animal.

As amended by
G. O. No. <sup>1670</sup>
VI—320
1st July 1892.

VII.—No animal with galled shoulder or other open wound, or which goes lame, or is weak, broken-winded, or otherwise in bad condition, will be considered serviceable and fit for public use, and any person driving, or causing to be driven, any such animal before it has been certified by competent authority to be again fit for use, will be punishable under Act XVI of 1861.

The fees realized upon licenses are to be paid at once into the Government treasury, an acknowledgment being taken from the officer in charge of the treasury in the appropriate column of the register.

The amount of the license fees so paid into the Government treasury is to be credited to Government in the treasury accounts according to the instructions which the Accountant-General, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, may see fit to issue in that behalf.

The register is to be open to the inspection of any person who may apply to the licensing Magistrate for permission to refer to it.

Rules for enforcing the provisions of the Act.

Circular No 33, dated 30th July 1877.

I.—No four-wheeled vehicle to be used as a stage carriage shall be licensed to be drawn by less than two horses, ponies, mules or bullocks, but a license may be given for a carriage drawn by one camel.

II.—No such carriage shall be licensed to carry more than four adult passengers and four maunds of luggage, if drawn by horses, ponies or mules, or more than 12 adult passengers and 3 maunds of luggage if drawn by a camel or by bullocks. unfit for use, and license shall be refused. Every camel carriage shall, on pain of the like penalty, be provided with a high seat for the driver, enabling him to see the way clearly before him over the camel's back.

V.—If a carriage is found at any subsequent time defective in any particular, and after due notice is not put into repair, it shall be withdrawn.

VI.—Any person who drives, or causes to be driven, any horse, pony, mule or bullock, in any stage carriage, shall be liable to a fine of Rs. 10, if he is found to have overdriven such animal, or if he is found to have driven such animal for more than two stages of six miles each, or for more than two stages of eight miles each.

As amended by
G. O. No. 1676
VI—320
1st July 1892.

VII.—No animal with galled shoulder or other open wound, or which goes lame, or is weak, broken-winded, or otherwise in bad condition, will be considered serviceable and fit for public use; and any person driving, or causing to be driven, any such animal before it has been certified by competent authority to be again fit for use, will be punishable under Act XVI of 1861.

VIII.—Every horse, pony or mule employed in a licensed carriage must be provided with a properly fitting chest-band or collar. Every bullock or camel must be harnessed or yoked in such a manner as shall satisfy the Magistrate. Any animal not so fitted will be considered as used with unserviceable harness, and the proprietor of any stage carriage in which such animal is employed will be liable to cancelment of its license.

IX.—Magistrates will keep, or cause to be kept, a register showing the following details:—

- (1) Name and residence of any person or company running stage carriages in his district.

XI.—The roads or lines of traffic upon which stage carriages are to be used shall be specified in the license.

XII.—Stage carriages shall ordinarily be licensed only at the headquarters of the proprietor or company to whom they belong. # TEMPORARY BUILDINGS.

The following are extracts regarding the outbreak and fatal consequences of a fire which occurred in a temporary theatre within the military cantonment of Ahmaunagar. This Government concurs in the opinion expressed by the Commissioner in his 3rd paragraph. Paragraph 6 should be brought to the notice of the various municipal committees in these provinces.

1st.—The position of the "mandra" was ill-chosen. Being placed in an angle of a strong stone wall, there was absolutely no hope of egress on two sides.

2nd.—There was not sufficient doorway left for the persons occupying the 1st, 2nd and 3rd class seats. The confusion which resulted from the deficient means of egress has been graphically described by many witnesses whose evidence has been recorded. Had there been another entrance to the 3rd class seats, the mortality might not have occurred. As it was, people were trampled underfoot and huddled one upon the other in a seething mass, while burning cloth and rafters were falling on them.

3rd.—The very combustible nature of the materials with which the "mandra" was constructed. The whole building was burnt down in the course of a very few minutes. The old tent cloth used for the outside covering is very inflammable; bamboos burn almost quicker than any other wood; while the thin sheeting of which the ceiling was composed must have been consumed almost instantaneously.

4th.—The bamboos laid across the roof were tied to the main beams with thin rope. The consequence was that the ropes were soon burnt and the roof fell in. Had they been attached with nails, the calamity might have been considerably reduced.

5th.—The kerosine lamps were suspended from the roof by pieces of rope. The consequence was that the ropes were soon burnt through, and the lamps must have fallen, scattering the burning oil. The iron rods.

6th.—The 3rd class seats were ranged from side to side of the "mandra." There was no gangway left either down the middle or down the sides. This close packing without free space of any kind must have added greatly to the difficulty of egress and increased the confusion.

Extract paragraphs 3 and 4 of a Memorandum, No. 1011P, by the Commissioner, Customs Department, dated Poona, the 27th May 1878.

Paragraph 3.—The main lesson to be drawn from this sad accident is the necessity of not allowing any such places to be opened for public amusement till the authorities are satisfied that sufficient care has been taken to ensure the safety of the public, and that, in case of any accident, sufficient means of egress have been provided.

Temporary theatres.

4. I am glad to notice that the District Magistrate and Collector is referring this point to the municipality, in order that what is required may be inserted in the bye-laws of the municipality. In order that this important point may be attended to in other districts, I will specially address the different District Magistrates in my charge. I would, however, venture to suggest that it would be better were Government to issue a general order on the subject.

TRANSFER OF CRIMINAL CASES.

Every application to the High Court or to the Judicial Commissioner for the exercise of the power conferred by section 526 of the Code of Criminal Procedure must be made by motion supported by an affidavit or affirmation.

Any Sessions Judge or any Magistrate desiring to have an application made to the High Court or to the Judicial Commissioner under section 526, should send to the Government Pleader, High Court, or to the Government Pleader for Oudh, as the case may be, an affidavit setting forth the grounds which exist for the exercise of the power conferred by the section, and desire him to move the High Court or the Judicial Commissioner to exercise that power.

General instructions as to the mode of preparing affidavits will be found in the Civil Rules and Orders of the High Court of April 1894 and in the Rules, Orders, &c. for courts subordinate to the Judicial Commissioner of Oudh.

The additions made to section 526, Act X of 1882, by section 11, Act III of 1894, and the new section, numbered 526A, inserted after section 526 by the Act last named, should not be lost sight of in such cases.

TRANSMARINE CONVICTS.

Examination of—before deportation.

Circulars Nos 23A, dated 14th April 1868, and 50A, dated 10th December 1869.

G. O. No. <sup>466</sup> VI—494B, dated 1st March 1890.

G. O. No. <sup>2537</sup> VI—622B, dated 31st August 1893.

EVERY convict whose sentence of transportation it is intended to carry into effect shall, before he is sent to the port of embarkation, be examined by a committee consisting of one full-power Magistrate and the Superintendent and Medical Officer of the Prison, which shall meet at the Central Prison on the requisition of the Superintendent on the first day of each month, from October to March inclusive, and shall examine all prisoners confined in the prison under sentence of transportation for life, i.e., all males sentenced to transportation for life, and all females sentenced to transportation for seven years and upwards, who are either unmarried or widows, or who have been divorced or repudiated by their husbands, and who are thus free to marry.

If, on examination, the convict under sentence appears to have passed his 45th year, or is from infirmity or disease unfitted for hard labour, the committee will submit a report accordingly to the Inspector-General of Prisons for the orders of Government, and such convict shall not be sent from the jail in which he is confined until the orders of Government are received. The committee will specify in their report whether the infirmity or disease is of a chronic or temporary nature.

Escaped transmarine convicts.

Circular 20A, dated 21st August 1874.

THE following procedure should be observed upon the recapture of an escaped transmarine convict. The police who have arrested a person upon the charge of having escaped will apply to the Magistrate before whom the accused has been brought for an adjournment to enable them to ascertain whether a warrant has been received from Port Blair for his recapture. Enquiry should be made at the Home Department of the Government of India if no warrant has been received by the police of the province in which the convict has been arrested. In all cases of escape by a life-convict the Superintendent of Port Blair or other Magistrate having jurisdiction, as soon as the fact of escape is known, should issue a warrant charging him with having committed an offence under section 224, Penal Code, to the chief of the police of the province or administration in which the convict is known, or is likely to be found, and should also forward a warrant forthwith to the Home Department. If the warrant is forthcoming, the Magistrate by whom the case is being inquired into will decide whether there is any reason why the accused should not be removed in custody, under section 156, Criminal Procedure Code, to the Magistrate at the Andamans who issued the warrant. In the case of term-convicts if no warrant has been issued, the inquiry will be concluded and the prisoner will be tried on the mainland.

Any life-convict sentenced for dakaïti may be recommended for release by the officers in charge of the penal settlement after 25 years of transportation in the case of a convict at the Andamans, and after 30 years in the case of a convict in British Burma and the Straits Settlement; provided that the convict in whose behalf such a recommendation is made is considered to have earned a claim to the indulgence by a sustained course of good conduct in transportation. On receipt of the recommendation by the Government of India, the Local Government from whose jurisdiction the convict was transported, will be asked to report whether he belonged to any professional gang, or was known to be a hereditary dakaït; also whether any members of his family, or any of his descendants, are known to be engaged in the same trade. If the Local Government is satisfied that the convict is not a member of any such gang, and that he is not a hereditary dakaït, and that he is not known to be engaged in the same trade, he is sanctioned subject to the foregoing or such further conditions, if any, as the Local Government concerned may think fit to suggest, and as may commend themselves to the Governor-General's Council.

In the case of life-convicts under sentence for dakaïti whose health may have broken down at the penal settlements, it will be within the competence of the authorities in charge of the settlements to recommend release before the expiry of the periods specified in the preceding paragraph. In these cases the Governor-General in Council will be prepared to consider the question of releasing them, provided that there is no valid objection to this, and that they have friends or relatives who are able and willing to support them.

These orders may be held to apply to prisoners convicted of any other class of organized crime not being thagi or robbery by administering drugs. In the case of life-convicts other than the above, orders will in each case be passed by the Government of India without reference to the Local Government concerned.

UNCLAIMED AND IMPOUNDED PROPERTY.

The Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner is pleased to issue the following instructions for the guidance of District Officers regarding the disposal of property of the following kinds when such property is forwarded to the headquarters of a district:—

- (I)—Unclaimed property taken charge of under section 25 of the Police Act, 1861, including in Oudh the personal property of persons dying intestate, to which there is no claimant.
- (II)—Movable property seized under section 415 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.
- (III)—Weapons and other articles sent to a Magistrate under section 127 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.
- (IV)—Movable property seized as liable to confiscation or forfeiture, or confiscated or forfeited, under the Gambling, Indian Salt, Opium, Forest, Arms, Cantonments, Excise or other Act.
- (V)—Movable property belonging to an accused person or to a convict, including articles referred to in section 357 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.
- (VI)—Movable property attached under section 172 or 353 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

1. An abstract list of all property that is taken possession of by the police is made in the general diary, a duplicate of the entries in which is forwarded daily to the District Superintendent of Police.

Every entry relating to such property will be marked in the office of the District Superintendent, and when the duplicate of the general diary is sent to the Magistrate, a separate extract of each such entry will be prepared by the court police officer, and made over by him to the reader (peshkar). When the papers relating to the property come before the Magistrate, the extract will be filed by the reader with the record. If an extract is not disposed of within one week from the date on which it was prepared, or if a subsequent description of the property differ from that contained in the extract, the reader will lay the extract with a report before the Magistrate for orders.

2. Livestock and bulky property taken possession of, under section 25 of the Police Act, 1861, or attached, distrained or seized under section 172, 307, 353 or 415 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, &

3. Property forwarded to headquarters is sent direct to the Court Inspector, numbered and labelled, and accompanied by a full and accurate description in duplicate. If the property correspond with the description, the Court Inspector returns one copy to the officer who brought the property from the police station.

4. The Court Inspector will then, before sending the papers to the Magistrate, enter unclaimed property, or property seized under section 415 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, in his malkhana register of unclaimed (bidana) property, weapons and other articles sent under section 127 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and movable property seized as liable to confiscation or forfeiture, in his malkhaus register of impounded (mukaddamat) property, and movable property belonging to an accused person or to a convict, or attached under section 172 or 353 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, or distrained in default of payment of fines, penalties or fees, in his malkhasa register of miscellaneous property (mal-

5. Unless the Magistrate otherwise direct, property of every description will remain in the custody of the Court Inspector until it is restored, or is sent to the prison with the convict, or is sold, or, in the case of cash, is ordered to be credited to Government or to some fund.

Cash and articles of value will be kept by the Court Inspector in his safe. If cash be ordered to be credited to Government or to some fund, the departmental clerk will prepare an invoice in duplicate, and send the same, with a copy of the order, to the Court Inspector, who will thereupon pay the money into the treasury, sending with it his malkhana register and the two invoices. The Treasury Officer, on receipt of the money, will sign the register in the column provided for that purpose and one of the invoices, and return them to the Court Inspector. CASES have recently come under observation in which the language of section 25, Act V of 1861, has been misunderstood. The police are by law required to take charge and furnish an inventory of unclaimed property. But these provisions do not sanction interference where property is under lock and key, or other signs exist from which it may be inferred that such property is still the subject of possession by the original owner.

The police should be careful to abstain from interference in cases of this kind, and also in cases when property, though previously unclaimed, has passed into the hands of an innocent finder.

Police not to disturb Possession.

VAGRANTS.

Local charitable committees for relief of—
Circular No. 13A, dated
26th March 1866 (General).

AN account having been forwarded to the Government of India of the proceedings and management of a charitable association at Allahabad, the Government of India desire that endeavours might be made to induce local committees to attempt the introduction of similar measures wherever European vagrants were likely to be found. Orders were issued by the Government, North-Western Provinces, accordingly.

The plan on which the Honorary Secretary to the Allahabad Charitable Association proceeded is described by him as follows—

When a man has good certificates and could satisfy me that he had some chance of obtaining employment in Allahabad, but was altogether without the means of staying here or of going on, I give him admission to the Home (this was a small roughly fitted up as a rest-house) for a period varying from three to twenty days, when he was fed on a contract rate of six annas a day, his clothes washed, and his hair cut gratis. If there appeared some chance of his obtaining employment elsewhere, if he only had the means of transport, I gave a ticket per rail to the station to which he desired to go. If he had no certificate whatever, could give no satisfactory account of himself, or was a manifestly idle vagrant, I persuaded him to go down-country. In all cases being a nuisance to stations which could less easily take care of them or support them than we could; and as they could get no money at Allahabad, they were generally glad to take my pass and go down-country. In no case was money given for long journeys, as to Delhi or Calcutta. By an arrangement with Messrs. Kellner and Co. the vagrant was fed at the different second class refreshment rooms along the line. In order to know what way to benefit able workmen and others who were really deserving, I placed myself in communication with employers of labour in various parts of the country, and thus was able to say whether there was any likelihood of the applicant obtaining what he was in want of if he went up-country. Many obtained employment in Allahabad after waiting at the Strangers' Home for a short time.

And as the vagrants who did not want labour could get no money and would not be satisfied with the rough plain fare of the Home, they ceased to frequent Allahabad, or, having come, soon left it.

Free passes should under no circumstances be granted by Charitable Associations to vagrants, European or Eurasian, unless the applicant can satisfy the Secretary to the Committee that he has a reasonable prospect of employment and is bona fide only temporarily in distress. In doubtful cases a reference should be made to the Magistrate, and the pass only granted after that officer has satisfied himself, by inquiry, of the probability of the applicant obtaining employment. Magistrates should use their influence to discourage the granting of free passes to Allahabad or elsewhere to persons who have no reasonable prospect of finding employment there.

The following are rules framed by the Governor-General in Council for the guidance of officers in matters connected with the enforcement of Act IX of 1874 (the European Vagrancy Act):—

Legal measures effecting—in the N.-W. P. Circular No. 1, dated 23rd May 1871.

I.—The expression "person of European extraction" includes for the purposes of the Act and these rules (1) persons born in Europe, America, the West Indies, Australia, New Zealand, Tasmania, Natal and the Cape Colony; and (2) the sons and grandsons of such persons: but does not include persons commonly called Eurasians or East Indians.

II.—For the arrest and custody of vagrants, European or Eurasian police officers shall, whenever it may be practicable, be employed in preference to native police officers.

III.—Whenever any person, apparently a vagrant, refuses or fails to comply with any requisition made by a police officer under section 4 of the Act, whenever any person of European extraction commits an offence under section 23 of the Act in view of a police officer, and whenever any police officer has reason to think that such offence has been or is being committed, the person so refusing, failing or offending may be forthwith arrested without warrant by the police officer for the purpose of being produced in the usual manner before the officer empowered to deal with the case.

IV.—The "subsistence allowance" of the vagrant shall not ordinarily be made over to him, but shall be kept and disbursed on his account by the police or other officer in whose custody he is for the time being.

V.—No person shall be liable to be detained under section 9 unless there is a reasonable chance of obtaining it, and is of quiet and orderly behaviour.

VI.—The certificates shall be printed on parchment or paper of very durable character, and shall be in English, with translations in the two principal vernacular languages of the territories under the Local Government.

VII.—The time allowed under section 16 for search after employment shall not ordinarily exceed two months, and shall not in any case exceed six months.

VIII.—In the presidency towns the Commissioner of Police, and elsewhere Magistrates with full powers, being also Justices of the Peace, shall be competent to act on behalf of the Secretary of State in Council in making agreements under section 17.

IX.—All such agreements shall be executed in duplicate, and the officer executing on behalf of the Secretary of State in Council shall retain one of the copies.

X.—When an agreement has been entered into by a vagrant under section 17, he shall be forwarded, along with the original agreement, in the charge of a police officer to the officer at the port of embarkation who is empowered by the Local Government to receive vagrants; and thereafter and until his embarkation he shall remain in the custody of that officer, or of such other officer as the Local Government empowers in this behalf.

He shall during such time be entitled to subsistence allowance at eight annas per diem, to be disbursed as directed in rule IV.

XI.—Local Governments within whose jurisdiction ports are situated shall make all necessary arrangements for the reception and custody of vagrants sent for deportation by other Local Governments or authorities in the interior. They will from time to time, as may be necessary, give notice of such arrangements to the forwarding authorities.

XII.—Road expenses shall be provided by the forwarding authority. All further expenses incurred in proceedings under chapter IV of the Act shall be defrayed by the Local Government of the port of embarkation on account of the Secretary of State in Council.

XIII.—No agreement for deportation shall be entered into with any person of European extraction born in this country, and who has never been out of it, unless he satisfies the Local Government that he is likely to gain a livelihood in some place out of India.

XIV.—The officer empowered to direct the deportation of vagrants will see that no unnecessary time is lost for providing passage for those who have entered into agreements to be deported. As a rule, Europeans shall be sent to Europe, Americans to America, West Indians to the West Indies, Australians to Australia, and New Zealanders to New Zealand. But the local authorities will exercise their discretion in sending vagrants to other countries than their own when it appears that such a course will be for their advantage, and that they will be favourably received on arriving at their destination.

XV.—Descriptive rolls and, as far as possible, photographs of all persons deported shall be kept by the Local Governments or Administrations within whose territory the ports are situated.

The following are orders on minor points not provided for in the above rules:—

Section 8 of the Act, clause 3.—The subsistence allowance of eight annas per diem to each vagrant should be disbursed under the orders of the Magistrate, and may be charged for in his judicial contingent bill. Special provision to meet the charge is made in the budget.

Section 9 should be read with paragraphs 5 and 6 of the rules. Copies of certificates in English, Urdu and Hindi for use under rule 6 are supplied to Magistrates from the Government Press.

Section 11.—Magistrates should forward to Allahabad any vagrants from their districts whom they may order to be sent to a workhouse.

Section 16.—All cases in which employment cannot be found for a vagrant, and his deportation is thought necessary, should be reported to Government through the Commissioner of the Division.

Section 17.—The officers empowered to make agreements beyond the limits of the presidency towns are Magistrates with full powers, being Justices of the Peace. No agreement must be made without the Lieutenant-Governor's sanction on a report which should be forwarded through the Commissioner of the Division.

Note.—By G. O. No. 850, dated 5th July 1875, the powers and duties conferred and imposed by sections 16 and 18 of the Act on the Local Government were delegated to the Commissioner of the Allahabad Division.

Section 27.—Prosecutions should be conducted by the District and Assistant Superintendents of Police.

In the event of the provisions of the Act having been applied in any district, a concise report of the results is to be submitted by the Magistrate for the information of Government, through the Commissioner, at the end of the calendar year.

Under the terms of section 6, the transfer of European vagrants from the North-Western Provinces to the other provinces is con-

Vagrants not deported may be sent to Bombay.

G. O. No.  $\frac{1131}{VI-215}$ , dated 24th June 1885.

THE Bombay Government are willing to make arrangements to procure employment for vagrants or to arrange for vagrants working their passage home in cases in which the vagrants have been induced by the offer of a free pass to transfer themselves from these Provinces to Bombay, but the arrangements should be on the part of the vagrants and therefore, vagrants who are will . . . . . should be sent down under a free pass, . . . . . them under police escort without any deportation agreement should be discontinued. The vagrants should be subject to no restraint in such cases, but information should be sent to the Commissioner of Police, Bombay, of the probable time of arrival of the vagrants there, and particulars of the case should be communicated to that officer.

EXAMINATION.

Training of Junior Civilian for the departmental examination. Circular No. 64, dated 24th December 1897.

Young Assistants after arrival in India should each be provided with a printed copy of the "rules for the examination of Junior Officers," and until they are able to undertake the trial of cases themselves, they should be required to sit in Court with the Magistrate or an experienced Joint Magistrate, so as to observe the procedure; they should take notes of cases, and after a time should be employed in preparing cases for the Magistrate and Collector. They should also be occasionally employed in aiding the officer in charge of the Treasury, so as to become conversant with that part of their duty.

It is not advisable, however, that at first, and while studying for examination, they should be burdened with much case-work; but they should be put in the way of obtaining an insight into the various duties, judicial, revenue, financial and administrative, which they will be called upon to undertake.

1. Judicial, including Judicial for Covenanted Officers and dates who have passed the pleadership examination. Police Officers, and candidates for Caste-Test Magistrates (English and Vernacular).

The Government will, on the recommendation of the Board, admit to this examination in the subject of treasury and accounts only any head clerks or other similar ministerial officers whom the Board consider fitted for treasury work. Success in such examination confers no claim to be nominated hereafter for a Deputy Collectorship or to be admitted to the other subjects of the examination. Officiating Tahsildars and selected nominees for Tahsildarships referred to in paragraph 9 of Board's Circular No. 16—IX will alone be permitted to attend the examination for Tahsildars. Investiture of powers on passing Home Department No. 379 of 24th January 1871, and No. 270, re-issued by No. 1245, dated 6th September 1881.

Officers passing the lower or higher standard of examination shall, as a rule, be at once invested respectively with the powers of a Magistrate of the second or the first class; and they shall accordingly be entitled to the higher rates of pay from the date of their passing the examination. But if in the case of any officer subordinate to him, the Magistrate of a district shows to the satisfaction of the Local Government that investiture with higher powers ought to be deferred, then the mere passing of the examination will not establish a title to higher pay, nor shall such higher pay be granted until the investiture with higher powers takes place. Powers of a Magistrate of the second class are not to be conferred upon an officer until he has exercised the powers of a Magistrate of the third class for six months, and full Magisterial powers are not to be conferred upon an officer until he has exercised the powers of a Magistrate of the 2nd class for the same period. No officer shall be entitled to a higher rate of pay by reason of exercising higher powers, unless he has passed in all the subjects of examination by the lower or higher standard, as the case may be.

UNCLAIMED PROPERTY.

Unclaimed Property.
Interference of police with—

■ O. No. <sup>211</sup>
VII—328, dated
11th March 1887.

Cases have recently come under observation in which the language of section 25, Act V of 1861, has been misunderstood.

The police are by law required to take charge and furnish an inventory of unclaimed property. But these provisions do not sanction interference where property is under lock and key, or other signs exist from which it may be inferred that such property is still the subject of possession by the original owner.

The police should be careful to abstain from interference in cases of this kind and also in cases when property, though previously unclaimed, has passed into the hands of an innocent finder.

Intestate property.

G. O. No. <sup>1073</sup>
VII—855 B, dated
25th October 1894.

REGULATION V of 1799, section 7, empowers District Judges to deal with the personal property of persons dying intestate. The High Court has issued rules for the guidance of District Judges in the North-Western Provinces in this matter (Civil Court Circular Orders, 1894, rules 362—375). The following rules have been made by the Government for the guidance of Magistrates and the police in the North-Western Provinces in reporting cases of intestate property to District Judges. As Regulation V of 1799 is not in force in Oudh, the personal property of persons dying intestate is dealt with in Oudh under the ordinary rules regarding the disposal of unclaimed property (see Manual of Government Orders, Department VI) :—

1. Ordinarily the movable property of a person dying intestate, to which there is no claimant, is taken possession of by, or delivered into the custody of, the police.

2. In taking possession of such property, arranging for its temporary custody when it consists of livestock or bulky articles, making and transmitting an inventory of it, and forwarding it to the Court Inspector, the Police Officer in charge of the station shall observe the rules in section X-27 of Police Regulations and Orders regarding unclaimed (la-dāwa) property.

3. In receiving and taking charge of such property, granting a receipt for the same, entering a description of it in his register of intestate (la-wāris) property and reporting to the Magistrate, the Court Inspector similarly shall observe the abovementioned rules.

4. The Magistrate on receipt of information under rule 3 shall cause a report to be made to the District Judge.

5. The Court Inspector shall then forward a copy of the list of his own report, and of the Magistrate's order, to the District Judge for orders.

6. When the property consists of cash the District Judge will order it to be credited as a Civil Court deposit.

7. When the property is subject to speedy and natural decay, or when the expense of keeping it in custody or of conveying it to the District Court will exceed its value, or when its estimated value does not exceed Rs. 5, the District Judge will direct that it be sold under the orders of the Magistrate at the nearest lazár town to the place where the property is. The Magistrate shall then cause the property to be sold by his názir or by a kurk amin. No commission on the sale proceeds shall be allowed. The Magistrate shall immediately intimate to the District Judge the amount of the sale proceeds, and the District Judge will order the proceeds to be credited to Civil Court deposits.

8. In other cases the District Judge will order the property to be sent to the central názir. The Court Inspector thereupon shall, along with the property, send to the central názir his málkhána register, or, if the Judge's Court be in another district, an extract from it.

9. The central názir, after comparing the entries in the Court Inspector's málkhána register or in the extract therefrom with the articles, and with the copy of the list received from the police station, will enter the property in his register, and will give a receipt for the same (countersigned by the munsarim) in the Court Inspector's register or in the extract, noting in the receipt the date on which he received the property and the serial number of the corresponding entry in his own register.

10. The Magistrate will receive from the District Judge a copy of the report made by the munsarim to the District Judge regarding the receipt of the property, and of the Judge's order thereon. The Magistrate's record-keeper shall refuse to receive the record if such copy be wanting.

11. All expenses incurred in maintaining intestate property and in conveying it to the District Judge's Court are recoverable from that Court.

they are very important. He should also take the opportunity of inspecting as many police stations as he can during his cold weather tour. This is essential for the exercise of a proper supervision over the police of his district, and for the acquisition of a knowledge of their efficiency or the reverse, as regards the work of investigation and detection, especially of serious crime.

It is also essential to the exercise of due supervision that the records of all cases in which judicial comment has been made on the conduct of the police, whether favourable or unfavourable, should be promptly brought to the notice of the Court Inspector will be held this duty, and before steps are taken by the police concerned, the District Magistrate should be consulted. ## ARREST OF PERSONS AT ADEN.

THE Government of Bombay has lately laid down the following rules to be observed when application is made for the arrest at Aden of persons on their way to Europe:—

Arrest of accused persons at Aden.
Circular No. 40, dated 22nd November 1883.

provided that the application for arrest is made in the name of the Government of the Presidency or Province within whose jurisdiction the offence has been committed. If the application is made by an officer subordinate to another Government, the Bombay Government will consult their legal advisers as to the propriety of complying with the application.

District officers should, therefore, be guided by the following principles in cases of this nature:—

- (1) If application is made for the arrest of a person supposed to have left Bombay by sea, no steps to effect an arrest should be taken unless it is clear that the case is bond fide a criminal one, and not a matter for which a civil action might be brought, and to which a criminal colouring has been given by the complainants for motives of their own.
- (2) If it is desired to arrest a person at Aden, application should, as a rule, be made to this Government, which will communicate with the Government of Bombay.
- (3) If for any reason it is not possible to apply to this Government, application should be made to the Commissioner of Police at Bombay, with explanation of the reasons necessitating a direct application.

DIETING AND CONVEYANCE OF WOUNDED AND ACCUSED PERSONS.

THE following are the rules in force in regard to the provision of funds for the dieting of prisoners and accused persons whilst in transit under charge of the police, and also to meet the cost of transporting corpses and wounded men.—

G. O. No. 324
VIII—2106 11
dated 25th October 1885.

1. The Magistrate will furnish to every police officer in charge of a divisional station Rs. 5, and to every officer in charge of a sub-division Rs. 3, as a permanent advance.

■ The officer in charge of the station, when forwarding prisoners or accused persons to the sadr station, will advance to the officer in charge of the party a sum sufficient to cover the expense of dieting the prisoners on the road, and will give a memorandum in the accompanying form, showing the number of persons to be dieted. The form will be issued in books of 200 forms each with counterfoil. There will be a serial number on each form and its counterfoil, and the office seal must be stamped on each form and its counterfoil before the book is issued from the office of the District Superintendent of Police. The form and its counterfoil will contain the same information, and both will bear the signature of the officer in charge of the station.

3 In the same manner, in despatching a corpse or wounded person, the officer in charge of the station will advance to the accompanying officer a sum sufficient to pay the bearers or coolies from station to station, with a memorandum in the same form, showing the number of bearers or coolies employed.

4. On arrival at the sadr station the officer in charge will take the form to the Court Inspector (or in Oudh to the Headquarters Inspector) who, after checking it with the papers in the case, will enter on the back the date of arrival at the sadr, the amount to be refunded to the police officer in charge, and the name of that officer, and sign it. The cheque will then be laid before the Magistrate for signature, and, that obtained, will be taken by the police officer in charge himself to the Magistrate's nazir for payment. The nazir will be careful to pay only to the police officer whose name is on the cheque; and on payment being made, he will obtain that officer's signature, or in the event of his being illiterate, his seal, on the cheque and in his register. The cheque will be filed in the nazir's office. On his return to the station the officer will repay to the officer in charge of the station the full sum he received in advance.

18    DIETING AND CONVEYANCE OF WOUNDED AND [111].—Police.
ACCUSED PERSONS.

5. Officers in charge of stations will thus always have in hand the permanent advance of Rs. 5 and Rs. 3, and need keep no accounts.

6. The nazir will keep up a register by stations in which he will record the cheques when paid. This register will show the number of the cheque, its date, date of payment, purpose for which payment is made, person to whom paid, amount paid, signature or seal of payee. The cost of dieting prisoners, &c., will be charged at the end of the month in the Magistrate's contingent bill.

7. The diet-money shall not exceed one anna per head per diem. The rate of payment for kahárs and coolies will be fixed by the Magistrate.

8. On the 2nd or 3rd of each month each officer in charge of a station will submit to the District Superintendent of Police a memorandum for the previous month of the cheques issued by him during the month. The memo. will give the number and all the information given on the cheque. The District Superintendent will check this memorandum with the Nazir's register and the cheques in the nazir's office.

9. In the case of prisoners or accused persons sent to either divisional or Honorary Magistrates, or of corpses or wounded persons sent to branch dispensaries, the police officer of the court, or, in the event of there being none, the officer in charge of the police station, will record on the back of the cheque the date of receipt, the amount due, the name of the police officer in charge, and his own signature. He will then send the cheque through the Court Inspector to the nazir, who will remit the amount to the despatching station, through the office of the District Superintendent of Police.

10. On receipt by the District Superintendent of Police of the Magistrate's written order to despatch accused persons, criminal lunatics, &c., to another district, an English memorandum in duplicate of charges for the railway fare and diet of such persons will be sent to the Magistrate, who will return the duplicate memorandum with the money required to the District Superintendent of Police. No officer under the rank of Reserve Inspector shall sign such memorandum or receive the money sent by the Magistrate.

Printed forms can be obtained from the Superintendent of the Government Press on an indent submitted through the office of the Inspector-General of Police.

The following are the rules in force for dieting patients detained in dispensaries on account of injuries which have formed the subject of police inquiry :—

The District Superintendent of Police should send with each patient or as soon after his admission as possible, a requisition in writing for his admission, and it will be the duty of the officer in charge of the dispensary to see that these requisitions are duly received.

As it would be very difficult to lay down a scale of dietary suitable for all patients suffering from the different kinds of injuries which form the subject of police inquiry, the following three money rates will be allowed for dieting patients of this class :—

2nd "	"	...	12 "
3rd "	"	...	10 "

All bills for dieting patients of the above classes to be prepared in the form hereunder and submitted to the Magistrate for payment, with the admission tickets attached as vouchers

The bills must be signed by the officer in immediate charge of the dispensary and countersigned by the Superintendent.

All patients who can afford to pay for their own food should be required to do so at the foregoing rates, or be allowed to make their own arrangements, at the discretion of the Superintendent.

No charge for medicine or attendance should ever be made.

WOUNDED men are not to be sent from police outstations to the sadr station in the doolies used for the conveyance of dead bodies.

Commissioners are authorized to sanction, where necessary, the expenditure required for the construction of a second dooly for 1st and 2nd class stations in the different districts, to be used for the conveyance of the wounded only.

Doolies which may be required for the conveyance of corpses or wounded persons should be constructed on the following plan, or in some similarly light and inexpensive manner, unless there be good reasons to the contrary :—

They should be common country charpâis, with dooly pole attached in the usual way, and the blanket thrown over the pole for shade. When the patient is brought into hospital the dooly pole should be removed and the patient left in situ in his bed as he arrived.

DUTIES OF POLICE.

THE Magistrate of a district will invariably, when receiving the indent for supplies for a body of troops about to march through his district, notify the fact of the approaching arrival of the detachment or regiment, as the case may be, to his District Superintendent of Police, intimating to him at the same time the names of the places at which the troops will encamp on their route and the date on which they may be expected to arrive at those places.

amended by No. 16, dated
27th November 1876.

In referring complaints of non-cognizable offences to the police for investigation, Magistrates might adopt the following procedure:—

1. Before issue of orders to the police to investigate any complaint, the complainant should be examined and the substance of his statement recorded on the back of his petition.

2. In no case should the original petition be made over to the police. Should it appear necessary or advisable, for the proper understanding of the points which require local investigation, to communicate the terms of the petition to the police, a copy of the petition should be sent.

3. The point or points requiring local inquiry should be definitely and specifically stated in the order sent to the police.

4. Only such complaints should be referred to the police for investigation as the Magistrate considers cannot be properly decided without such inquiry, and he should in all cases record on the original petition his reasons for ordering the inquiry.

No orders should be issued to the police for the investigation of non-cognizable crime except through the District Magistrate:—
